Calamos Global Convertible Fund

A sub-fund of Calamos Global Funds plc (the "Company") Class Z GBP Accumulating IE00BKRJVH58

Objectives and Investment Policy

The Fund seeks a high long-term gain on the amount invested from a rise in the value or the income made from the investments.

Usually at least 70% of the Fund's assets will be invested in Convertibles and other convertible instruments including synthetic convertibles (a debt instrument purchased separately but combined with an Option to create the effect of a Convertible). The remaining assets may be invested in Equities, Debt Securities (including Rule 144A Securities) of investment grade or below investment grade credit rating, Structured Notes, other investment funds, cash and cash-like securities such as commercial paper, certificates of deposit, etc.

The Fund's assets may be from issuers located anywhere in the world; however, no more than 30% of the Fund's assets at any given time may be from issuers in emerging market countries.

When selecting securities, Calamos Advisors, LLC (the "Investment Manager"), looks for securities with investment value and growth potential. The Investment Manager analyses securities using macroeconomic factors such as interest rates, monetary and fiscal policy and other similar considerations. The Investment Manager also focuses on global cycles that indicate long-term growth such as demographic shifts in the middle class globally, accessibility to data and productivity enhancements.

The Fund may use Derivatives to achieve the investment objective, to hedge against currency exposure, to reduce risk or manage the Fund more effectively.

For Accumulating classes, any income or gains of the Fund net of expenses will be accumulated and reinvested into the net assets of the Fund. For Distributing classes, any income less expenses earned will be distributed in accordance with the distribution policy in the Prospectus.

For full investment objective and policy details as well as subscription and redemption policies please refer to the prospectus.

Investors can redeem shares in the Fund on a weekday that is not a public holiday in Ireland or New York.

Risk and Reward Profile

The Fund is in category 4 as it mostly invests in Convertibles, Equities and Debt Securities, the combination of which may lead to higher levels of price fluctuation than if the Fund invested solely in Debt Securities. The categorisation is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indicator of the future.

The risk profile of the Fund may change due to unusual market conditions or unpredicted events which could result in losses or fluctuations in price significantly greater than the rating may indicate.

In pursuing its investment objective, the Fund will be exposed to additional risks including without limitation:

> there may be insufficient buyers or sellers to allow the Fund to sell or buy certain types of securities readily;

Recommendation: investment in the Fund may not be appropriate for investors planning to withdraw their money within 3 to 5 years.

Convertibles: Debt Securities and preferred stock (shares that provide a higher claim on the assets and earning of the issuing company than common stock) that can be exchanged at a predetermined price for the issuing company's common stock. Some Convertibles may include an underlying Derivative, warrant (no more than 5%) or Structured Note.

Debt Securities: securities that provide money to the issuer in exchange for set terms of the timing of repayment and interest payments (which may be fixed or variable) made to the purchaser.

Equity(ies): securities that represent an ownership stake in a company (e.g. stocks).

Derivatives: instruments whose value is based on the performance of another financial asset, index or investment such as forward contracts (agreeing to buy or sell an asset at certain dates and prices) and Options.

Rule 144A Securities: securities that are not registered for retail sale with the US authorities that can only be traded between qualified institutions.

Structured Note: a security whose value on expiry or interest rate is linked to the performance of a currency, interest rate, Equity, financial index or other financial performance indicator.

Options: A Derivative that represents a contract sold by one party to another. The contract offers the buyer the right, but not the obligation to buy or sell a security or other financial asset at an agreed upon price during a certain period of time.

> Convertibles expose the Fund to the risk the issuer of the Debt Security portion of the security may fail to meet its obligations as well as the performance of the underlying stock into which it can be converted;

> investments in emerging markets may expose the Fund to more social, political, regulatory and currency risks than securities in developed markets;

> Derivatives may fluctuate in value rapidly and certain derivatives may introduce leverage which may result in losses that are greater than the original amount invested;

> a party with whom the Fund contracts for securities may fail to meet its obligations or become bankrupt which may expose the Fund to a financial loss; and > Structured Notes expose the Fund to the market risk of the underlying security and Counterparty Risk.

For more information in relation to these other risks, please refer to the "Investment Risks" section of the prospectus.

For non-US Dollar classes, including those set out below in the "Representative Share Classes" section, while the Fund may attempt to hedge against currency fluctuations, there can be no guarantee that the value of such classes will not be affected by the fluctuations in the US Dollar against the relevant currency.
