OBJECTIVES AND INVESTMENT POLICY

The Sub-Fund's objective is to provide absolute returns for investors over the medium term irrespective of market conditions.

The Sub-Fund shall trade in world currencies through Financial Derivative Instruments ('FDIs') with the aim of generating absolute returns. It may take both long and short positions to allow it to benefit from price movements in either direction.

The Sub-Fund shall adopt a technical approach which allows it to develop short term opportunities, in both directions of the market (long and short) to capture profits from inefficiencies in the market. This is achieved by using automated models that use robust algorithms that utilise technical analysis systematically to take advantage of these opportunities. The methodology focuses on the most liquid currencies, which may include exposure to currencies both developed and emerging markets. This will result in varying degrees of leverage in the Sub-Fund.

The Sub-Fund shall trade principally in the following currencies: USD, EUR, GBP and CAD however it may be exposed to other currencies (both in developed and emerging markets).

Leverage shall be restricted to 15 times the net asset value of the Sub-Fund. The Sub-Fund may employ FDIs for hedging in addition to investment purposes. Such FDIs may include but not limited to over-the-counter and/or exchange traded options, futures, warrants, forward contracts, contracts for difference, margined trading contracts and/or a combination of the above.

The following risks are materially relevant to the UCITS but are not adequately captured by the synthetic indicator and may cause additional loss:

- Counterparty risk: A counterpart may fail paying the proceeds related to the sale of securities by the Sub-Fund or may fail delivering the securities purchased by the Sub-Fund.
- Event risk: Unforeseeable events such as devaluations, political events, etc.
- Operational risk: Failures or delays in operational processes may negatively affect the Sub-Fund.
- FDIs exposure risk: For a Sub-Fund that uses FDIs to meet its specific investment objective, there is no guarantee that the performance of the FDIs will result in a positive effect for the Sub-Fund. The use of FDIs increases leverage in the Sub-Fund and any price movement in the underlying asset is amplified.

- Currency risk: Investment in the currency market can fluctuate suddenly which may result in significant losses during a relatively short period of time.
- Concentration risk: The Sub-Fund shall invest principally in a selected pool of currencies which may result in returns being highly correlated to such currencies.

This Risk and Reward section is not a guarantee that it will remain unchanged.
