² Launch date is the date as of which shares are first issued by a fund, and hence the date on which the fund or share class was first priced. Prior results back to the launch of the fund relate to the older share classes, adjusted where necessary to reflect the management fee of the recipient share class.

⁴ Shown for indicative purposes only.

⁵ Lifetime returns relate to a period of less than a year and are not annualised.

⁶ Lehman Brothers Global High Yield Bond Index until 31 July 2004, and JPM 50:50 EMBI Global Diversified & Global High Yield until 1 November 2009 and JPM 50:50 EMBI Global & Global High Yield until 31 January 2010.

⁷ Citigroup World Government Bond Total Return Index until 12 August 2009.

Why do different share classes have different returns?

Each share class is designed to support the needs of different investor types and has a different total expense ratio that affects the investment returns for that share class. For example:

- Class A, A2, A4, A7, C shares and their equivalent classes, where available, are only available to institutional investors who qualify for the reduced Luxembourg tax of 0.01% (rather than 0.05%).
- Class B, T, X shares and their equivalent classes, where available, are primarily designed for distribution to individual investors. The management fee for class B, T shares and their equivalent classes, where available, is higher than for the other share classes to allow for compensation to distributors and other intermediaries for day-to-day services to investors or similar services in relation to investments made with their assistance.
- The management fee for class C, Y shares and their equivalent classes, where available, is charged to shareholders outside the fund by specific separate agreement. Actual returns to shareholders of class C, Y and their equivalent classes, where available, will be lower than those published.
- In addition, the returns of hedged equivalent classes and dividend distributing hedged equivalent classes are impacted by the passive currency-hedging overlay programme (see note 7 to the financial statements).

Notes to the financial statements

As at 30 June 2012

1) Capital International Fund (CIF)

a. Legal structure

CIF is an investment company organised as a self-managed Société d'Investissement à Capital Variable (SICAV) in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg and is established as an undertaking for collective investment in transferable securities (UCITS) under Part I of the Luxembourg law of 17 December 2010. CIF commenced operations on 30 December 1969.

b. Funds

CIF has adopted a multiple-compartment (or “umbrella”) structure. CIF currently comprises the following funds (“the funds”): Capital International Global Equity; Capital International All Country Equity; Capital International European Equity; Capital International Japan Equity; Capital International Asia Pacific (All Countries) ex-Japan Equity; Capital International Global Growth and Income; Capital International European Growth and Income; Capital International US Growth and Income; Capital International Global High Income Opportunities; Capital International Global Bond; Capital International Euro Bond and Capital International Euro Credit.

c. Share classes and currencies

Each fund offers the following classes of shares: A, A2, A4, A7, B, C, T, X, Y and dividend-distributing equivalent classes (Ad, Bd, Cd, Xd and Yd). Capital International Global High Income Opportunities also offers class Tfd shares. In addition, Capital International Global Equity, Capital International All Country Equity, Capital International US Growth and Income, Capital International Global High Income Opportunities, Capital International Global Bond, Capital International Euro Bond and Capital International Euro Credit offer hedged equivalent classes, details of which can be found in the latest prospectus. Note 7 to the financial statements discloses all active hedged equivalent classes as at 30 June 2012.

The fund publishes net asset values (NAVs) and offers dealing and reporting in euros, US dollars, Swiss francs, pounds sterling and Japanese yen for all share classes except hedged equivalent and dividend-distributing hedged equivalent classes for which the fund publishes NAVs and offers dealing in the currency referred to in the relevant class's designation only. The base currency of all funds, i.e. the accounting currency in which the financial accounts are prepared, which may be different from the operating currency, is euro. The operating currency is the currency in which the fund holds cash for investment purposes.

d. Dividend policy

- Classes A, A2, A4, A7, B, C, T, X, Y and hedged equivalent classes, where available: it is not at present intended that dividends be distributed to shareholders of these classes in any fund.
- Dividend-distributing equivalent classes and dividend-distributing hedged equivalent classes. The Board of Directors intends to recommend that dividends be distributed to shareholders of all dividend-distributing equivalent classes and dividend-distributing hedged equivalent classes.

The dividend will generally represent all of the net investment income (i.e., investment income net of withholding taxes less expenses) of such classes. A given class may not actually pay a dividend in any given accounting period if it has no or no significant net investment income.

Dividend-distributing equivalent classes marked with a “fd”.

The dividend will generally represent a substantial part of the gross investment income (i.e. investment income net of withholding taxes but gross of expenses) of such classes. The Board of Directors intends to recommend that dividends be distributed every month to shareholders of such classes. The amount paid out as dividends may exceed that of their net investment income and may include capital gains, as well as partially be paid out of capital.

e. Accounting period

The accounting year of CIF begins on 1 January and ends on 31 December.

2) Significant accounting policies

a. General

These financial statements are prepared in accordance with the terms of the Articles of Incorporation, the Prospectus, Key Investor Information Document (KIID), written contractual agreements and Luxembourg laws, practices and regulatory requirements.

b. Valuation of investments

- i. Except as otherwise provided in (iv) below, securities which are listed on an official stock exchange or traded on any other regulated market are valued at the last traded or otherwise available price at the time the NAV is calculated on the principal market on which they are traded, as published by such market or furnished by a pricing service approved by the Board of Directors; and other securities are valued at prices furnished by, or yield equivalents obtained from, one or more dealers or such pricing service.
- ii. Securities issued by UCIs will be valued at their last available NAV on the relevant valuation date; they may be valued in accordance with item (i), where such securities are listed.
- iii. Money market instruments will be valued at nominal value plus any accrued interest or using an amortised cost method, provided that this method of valuation ensures that such assets will be valued at their fair value as determined in good faith pursuant to the procedures established by the Board of Directors.
- iv. If a price representative of a security's fair value is not readily available from the pricing sources described under (i) to (iii) above, or if the accuracy of a portfolio's valuation, as established pursuant to (i) above, is materially affected by events that occur prior to the NAV being calculated, the relevant security or securities will be valued at their fair value, as determined by or under the direction of the Board of Directors. Use of such fair valuation procedures is intended to result in more accurate NAVs and to eliminate or substantially reduce potential arbitrage opportunities that might otherwise be available to short-term investors.

c. Foreign currencies

Assets and liabilities in currencies other than euros have been translated into euros at the prevailing exchange rates as at 30 June 2012. Transactions during the period in currencies other than euros have been translated at rates prevailing at the time of the transaction. The variation of the net unrealised exchange gains or losses on open forward foreign exchange contracts and on other assets and liabilities between 31 December 2011 and 30 June 2012 is disclosed in “net change in unrealised appreciation/ (depreciation) on foreign currency transactions”. The net realised gains or losses on exchange, including on forward foreign exchange contracts expired during the period, are disclosed in “net realised gain/(loss) on foreign currency transactions”.

d. Income

Dividends are taken into income on the date upon which the relevant securities are first listed as ex-dividend. Interest income is accrued on a daily basis. Premiums and discounts are amortised on a straight-line basis for Capital International Global High Income Opportunities, Capital International Global Bond, Capital International Euro Bond and Capital International Euro Credit.

e. Realised gain or loss on sale of investments

The realised gain or loss on sale of investment securities is determined on the average cost basis.

3) Fees and expenses

a. Management fee

CIF pays the management fee at the annual rates specified below. The amount of management fee paid is used by CIF to compensate the Investment Adviser for its investment advisory services and may be used to compensate the distribution coordinator, distributors and other intermediaries for day-to-day services to investors or similar services in relation to investments made with their assistance.

Each share class is designed to support the needs of different investor types and has a different total expense ratio that affects the returns to shareholders. The CIF's Prospectus available on our website capitalinternational.com, explains further the differences between share classes.

Capital International Sàrl established a reimbursement threshold so that each fund's total expense ratio (excluding management fee) did not exceed:

- 0.39% per annum for class B, T, X and equivalent classes.
- 0.34% per annum for class Y and equivalent classes.
- 0.15% per annum for class A, A2, A4, A7, C and equivalent classes for all funds except Capital International Global Bond, Capital International Euro Bond and Capital International Euro Credit.

5) Taxation

a. Taxe d'abonnement

In Luxembourg, CIF is subject only to a tax (taxe d'abonnement) at the annual rate of 0.05% of the total net assets of each class of shares of each fund. However, as provided by the relevant Luxembourg laws in respect of share classes wholly held by institutional investors, a reduced tax rate of 0.01% per annum was applied in respect of class A, A4, A7, C and equivalent classes, where available, for the six months ended 30 June 2012. It should be noted that there can be no guarantee that the benefit of such reduced rate will not be denied or that, once obtained, it will continue to be available in the future. Such tax is accrued daily, payable quarterly and calculated on the total net asset value (NAV) of each class at the end of the relevant quarter.

b. Provision for foreign taxes

Capital gains and income on securities received from other countries may be subject to withholding or capital gains taxes imposed by such countries. It is CIF's policy to provide for any such significant potential liability for foreign capital gains and income taxes.

6) Forward foreign exchange contracts

For the purpose of efficient portfolio management and in order to achieve the most appropriate currency distribution, the funds enter into forward foreign exchange contracts aiming to reduce the risk of the depreciation in the value of specific currencies. The funds do not intend to systematically hedge currency exposures back to any currency, except in the case of hedged equivalent classes, as described in Note 7 to the financial statements.

Forward foreign exchange contracts are valued on the basis of forward foreign exchange rates prevailing on the relevant reporting date and the resulting net change in unrealised gain or loss is included in the statement of operations and changes in net assets.

As at 30 June 2012, CIF had the following outstanding forward foreign exchange contracts:

7) Hedged equivalent classes¹

The hedged equivalent classes seek to limit the exposure of their shareholders to currencies other than the currency referred to in the relevant class's designation, through a systematic passive currency-hedging overlay performed by JP Morgan Chase Bank, N.A. on a significant part of the assets of the relevant fund attributable to these classes.

In the case of a net asset flow to or from such a class or fluctuation in the net asset value of the class, the passive currency-hedging overlay may not, or not immediately, be adjusted, unless the flow or fluctuation is significant. Passive currency-hedging overlay will not completely eliminate the exposure to currency movements, and proxy hedging may, for instance, be used when the underlying currency is not liquid or is closely linked to another currency. Shareholders of hedged equivalent classes should note that returns of hedged equivalent classes may be significantly different over time than those of unhedged classes and that passive currency-hedging overlay may limit their ability to benefit from the currency diversification undertaken within the portfolio (including partially offsetting the currency hedging undertaken at the level of the fund's portfolio).

The cost of passive currency-overlay hedging and gains/losses from hedging transactions are borne by the relevant hedged equivalent class(es).

The actual passive currency-hedging overlay methodology varies from fund to fund, as described in the following pages.

The Investment Adviser disclosure

The Investment Advisers and Affiliates (the “Affiliates”) will place trades with brokers who they believe will provide best execution. For the accounting period ended 30 June 2012, there were no transactions through connected brokers and hence no commissions were paid to connected brokers since none of the Affiliates operate any brokerage activity. In accordance with market practice, Affiliates receive research, statistical and other similar services from brokers, all of which ultimately contribute to the efficient management of investment portfolios by Affiliates for the benefit of investors. Affiliates do not commit to any specific amount of business with these firms in exchange for such services, although they may take services received into account to select a broker among several who offer best execution. To reflect the current market practice whereby brokers expend substantial time and resources providing such services to investment managers, including Capital International, Affiliates attribute a nominal portion of trade commissions to such services. Affiliates also pay cash for third-party research they receive. In addition, Affiliates’ employees are governed by a global Code of Ethics, which includes rigorous personal investing and gifts and entertainment policies. Affiliates also provide fund administration, investor servicing, registration, compliance, quality control and similar administrative services to the Company, for which they receive a reasonable compensation.
