Note:

With effect from 17 October 2011, the Fund (formerly known as "DBS Global Property Securities Fund") has been renamed as Nikko AM Shenton Global Property Securities Fund.

The following changes were made to the Fund with effect from 24 August 2015:

- the sub-manager of the Fund was changed from CenterSquare Investment Management, Inc ("CSIM") to Adelante Capital Management LLC ("ACM");
- the base currency of the Fund was changed from the Singapore dollar ("SGD") to United States dollar ("USD")

With effect from 30 September 2016, the Fund had ceased to accept new or further subscriptions for units of the Fund using CPF monies.

With effect from 1 December 2017, the benchmark has been removed and there is no longer any benchmark for the Fund. This is because in the Managers' view, the benchmark imposes unnecessary costs on the Fund, and the benchmark is not necessary in order for the Managers to achieve the Fund's stated investment objective. Prior to 1 April 2015, benchmark was UBS Global Real Estate Investors Total Return Index without reference to the yield component. Prior to 1 Mar 2010, the benchmark was Yield Component of UBS Global Real Estate Investors Total Return Index. Prior to 1 April 2006, the benchmark was UBS Global Real Estate Investors Total Return Index.

Portfolio Review

Fund gained 5.28% during the review period

The Nikko AM Shenton Global Property Securities Fund (the "Fund") gained 5.28% (in SGD terms, on a NAV-NAV basis) over the six months ended 31 December 2019.

The Fund's European holdings delivered the best returns for the period. Our holdings in the UK were the biggest contributor to performance. Improving UK optimism beginning in late summer of a path to resolving the Brexit impasse and a decisive victory by Boris Johnson and the Conservative Party in the UK's December snap elections collectively helped push UK property securities higher. All six of our UK holdings were significant contributors with the most significant being Unite Group, SEGRO, Safestore Holdings and Grainger. During the period, Unite Group closed on its £1.4 billion acquisition of the second-largest operator of UK student accommodations (Liberty Living) and further solidified its position as the top operator in the niche sector. The Fund also received a favourable contribution from its lone French holding, Gecina SA. Notwithstanding a modest growth outlook in France, Gecina continues to experience improving performance in its Paris focused office and residential portfolio. German property stocks also helped performance during the period. The biggest contributions came from Alstria Office REIT-AG and Deutsche Wohnen. Alstria continues to benefit from healthy leasing activity across its office portfolio, while Deutsche Wohnen benefitted from a slight improvement in optimism late in the year that the proposed Berlin rent freeze that continues to be discussed by the Berlin Senate may not be as severe as was originally feared.

The Fund also received a favourable contribution in North America for the period from both its US holdings and its lone holding in Mexico. Although worries over China-US trade negotiations and slowing global growth persisted throughout the period with sentiment shifting back and forth between optimism and pessimism, US property stocks continued to move higher over the second half of the year, but at a more moderate pace than experienced in the first half of the year. US holdings returned 7.24% in USD terms in the period. Performance in the US varied both across and within the various property sectors, but with sectors producing the best earnings growth such as cell towers, data centres, industrial and manufactured housing generally producing the best returns. Among the biggest contributors in those sectors in the US were American Tower, Equinix, Interxion Holdings, ProLogis, Sun Communities and Terreno Realty with each producing double digit returns in the period. The Fund also got a favourable contribution from holdings in the office sector. Companies with market exposure to demand from tech and life science tenancy did particularly well. Contributors within the Fund's office sector holdings included Alexandria Real Estate, Hudson Pacific Properties and Kilroy Realty. Performance for holdings in the retail sector mostly detracted from performance with many having negative returns in the period, however, Kimco Realty stood out in the retail sector as it continued to benefit from an improved portfolio quality following a number of years of dispositions of lower quality assets. Performance in the health care sector was also mixed with Healthpeak Properties contributing positively, while Ventas detracted from performance. Prologis Property Mexico, the Fund's lone holding in Mexico, helped performance. Late in the period, House Democrats in the US reached a deal with the Trump administration on a revised version of the US Mexico Canada Agreement (USMCA), getting a trade deal with all parties closer to fruition.

Asia delivered the weakest returns for the period and detracted from performance. The Fund's Hong Kong holdings were the biggest detractor to performance, having been adversely impacted by the on-going protests and social unrest that started back in early June over a proposed extradition bill. Although the bill was formally withdrawn in September, the protests have continued, and investor sentiment remains negatively impacted. Although we have reduced the Fund's exposure to Hong Kong over the second half of the year, we have maintained some exposure to the region given the significant discounts to the underlying value of many property companies. The main detractor was Link REIT, which owns a high-quality portfolio of non-discretionary retail centres and parking garages. The Fund's holdings in Australia also detracted from performance. The primary detractor in Australia was Dexus. Although it benefitted from favourable operating fundamentals across the Australian office market in the first half of the year, some potential signs of a slowdown in leasing activity may have contributed to weaker performance in the stock in the second half of the year. Partially offsetting the weakness of the Fund's holdings in Australia and Hong Kong were our holdings in Japan and Singapore. Singapore listed Ascendas India Trust continued to benefit from a favourable operating environment for its office portfolio in India where 100% of its assets are concentrated. In Japan, Mitsubishi Estate and Mitsui Fudosan were the primary contributors to performance.

Market Review

Global property securities saw their returns diverge over the period

Global property securities experienced broad dispersion in returns in the last six months of the year with a range of macro-economic and political issues affecting investor sentiment and stock performance both positively and negatively over the period. Europe was the clear winner in the period with some progress resolving the impasse on Brexit, although the ultimate outcome remains uncertain with the outlook for growth across much of Europe likely to remain modest. Performance in US equity markets continued their upward move with news in December of an agreement in principal of a "Phase 1" trade deal between China and the US helping end the year on a positive note. Asia was the weakest region and although trade and social tensions may have eased some towards the end of the period, the economic outlook across the region remains mixed and uncertain. With recession fears having moderated in recent months, the backdrop of slow and steady growth that is coupled with lingering uncertainty on a variety of issues (i.e. trade, Brexit, Hong Kong, etc.) is keeping most global central banks accommodative. Investors appeared to be reducing risk and taking a pause until there is greater clarity on the many lingering issues that could impact economic conditions going forward and ultimately long-term tenant demand and valuations.

Market Outlook & Strategy

Commercial real estate outlook largely favourable, despite near term volatility

The outlook for global growth has improved slightly in recent months and near-term worries of a recession have receded. With limited signs of inflation, the major central banks appear to be in a global easing cycle and likely to be cautious regarding any tightening measures in the near term. Amid a backdrop of moderate economic growth, commercial real estate operating conditions have remained mostly stable across global markets, with some degree of variability across markets and property types. The retail property sector continues to face the most challenging operating conditions globally. The combination of modest growth and low interest rates remains a supportive combination for real estate. Absent a shock to the capital markets or a dramatic deterioration in the economic outlook, the environment for real estate owners should remain favourable provided the dynamics of supply and demand are in balance. Periods of volatility and uncertainty seem likely to persist, but those listed real estate companies that have used the current real estate cycle to rationalise their portfolios and solidify their capital structures should be well positioned to benefit over time and create value for investors.

Portfolio Review

Fund gained 6.56% during the review period

The Nikko AM Shenton Global Property Securities Fund (the "Fund") gained 6.56% (in SGD terms, on a NAV-NAV basis) over the year ended 30 June 2019.

The Fund's holdings in North America provided the highest returns globally for the period, with gains led by securities in the US. The top performing holdings in the US covered a broad range of property sectors, but were led by REITs/REOCs in sectors with secular growth themes such as cell towers, data centres and industrial/logistics. The leading contributors to performance within these sectors included American Tower Corporation, Americold Realty Trust, Equinix Inc., Interxion Holding, Prologis Inc. and Terreno Realty. Industrial REIT share prices got an added boost late in the period from the announcement that Blackstone Group had agreed to acquire the US logistics assets of Singapore-based Global Logistics Properties for USD18.7bn. Other holdings in the US that were significant contributors to performance in the period included residential focused REITs such as Equity Residential, Essex Property Trust and Sun Communities. While there was broader dispersion in returns for the period among holdings in some of the other property sectors, the Fund did get notable contributions from Alexandria Real Estate Equities (office), Kimco Realty (local retail) and Ventas, Inc. (healthcare). The biggest detractors to performance in the period were within the lodging sector with Pebblebrook Hotel Trust, Hilton Grand Vacations and DiamondRock Hospitality each having negative returns in the period. Simon Property Group, the lone holding among US regional retail REITs, was also a drag to performance with negative returns as investor demand for that sector remained weak globally. Lastly in North America, the Fund benefited from its lone holding in Mexico in Prologis Property Mexico.

Positive returns in Asia were driven by the Fund's holdings in Australia, Hong Kong and Singapore, while holdings in Japan lagged. While foreign exchange (FX) movements both hurt and helped in differing countries, the overall impact for the year was negligible. The Fund's holdings in Hong Kong were the greatest contributor. Link REIT and Sun Hung Kai Properties led the way, while Hysan Development detracted from performance. Link REIT continues to be somewhat of an outlier among retail REITs globally with investors attracted to its non-discretionary, mostly domestically focused retail portfolio that is less susceptible to the rising threat of e-commerce. The main contributor to performance in Australia was Dexus, the Fund's primary holding there. Dexus' office focused portfolio continues to benefit from favourable operating fundamentals in the major Australian cities where it is concentrated. In Singapore, the Fund's two holdings, Ascendas India Trust and CapitaLand Mall Trust both delivered strong returns for the period. Returns for the Fund's holdings in Japan lagged the other countries in the region, but were positive with a local currency return that was boosted by a stronger Yen versus the USD. The Fund's two largest holdings in Japan, Mitsubishi Estate and Mitsui Fudosan, saw healthy returns over the year. Mitsubishi's share price, in particular, benefitted later in the period when it announced certain shareholder initiatives aimed at improving corporate governance and improving shareholder returns. Measures taken by Mitsubishi included a share buyback programme, raising its target dividend payout ratio and not renewing takeover prevention measures.

The Fund's holdings in Europe were the clear laggard with negative local currency returns that were further impacted by a weaker Sterling and Euro. The region experienced fluctuating bouts of economic and political uncertainty throughout the period. With the terms and timing of the UK's exit from the European Union (EU) still unresolved and trade tensions between the US and Europe continuing to linger, the economic outlook for the region remains clouded with uncertainty. Despite Brexit's headwinds, the Fund did benefit from its holdings in select niche sectors in the UK that managed to deliver positive returns for the period with Safestore Holdings (self-storage), Segro Plc (logistics) and Unite Group Plc (student accommodation) delivering robust local currency returns. Unibail-Rodamco-Westfield (URW) detracted from performance during the period. Continued investor worries over the retail sector globally, as well as concerns over URW's now completed merger with Westfield Corp. have persisted despite a high quality portfolio and attractive 8% dividend yield. The Fund's German holdings delivered mixed results in the period with Alstria Office REIT and LEG Immobilien delivering positive returns, while Berlin focused Deutsche Wohnen declined. Deutsche Wohnen, which has been a strong performing holding for the Fund, was impacted late in the period by the surprise news that some members of the Berlin state senate were taking steps to move forward a proposal to be voted on in October for a five-year rent freeze on residential properties beginning in 2020. While likely to be challenged as being unconstitutional (if passed) since rent increases are already governed by Federal laws, the stock sold off sharply as legal challenges may take time to run their due course.

Market Review

Global property securities gained in the period despite significant volatility

Global property securities have experienced some volatility over the twelve-month period to end-June 2019, as macro issues such as global trade, interest rates, monetary policy, geopolitical events and their collective impact on global economic growth have continued to dominate headlines and affect investor sentiment. While the global economy has clearly slowed over the period, most sovereign bond yields have declined significantly and the tone from most major central banks has shifted towards becoming more accommodative in order to attempt to prevent any major deterioration in their respective economies and maintain the current expansion cycle. Within this environment, property fundamentals across most global markets have generally held steady, albeit with some variability across property sectors and geographies. In general, sectors benefitting from secular tailwinds to their demand outlooks such as logistics and data centres performed the best globally. In contrast, the retail sector continued to face structural headwinds from the growth of e-commerce and performed the weakest. With some exceptions, global property securities continue to trade at discounts to private market valuations despite comparable properties that should otherwise be similarly valued in public and private hands. While not widespread, mergers and acquisitions and privatisation activities have helped create some support for valuations and in some cases provided a boost to share performance for public companies where operating fundamentals otherwise remain healthy. Although it has varied at different points in time over the past twelve months, returns for property securities for period have exceeded general equities with some variability by region.

Market Outlook & Strategy

Commercial real estate outlook largely favourable, despite near term volatility

While expectations for global growth have moderated in recent months, most economists do not believe that a recession is on the near term horizon. With no signs of inflation and growth worries persisting, the major central banks appear to be in a global easing cycle with investors now expecting one or two rate cuts from the US Federal Open Market Committee in the balance of the year. Amid a slowing economic backdrop, commercial real estate operating conditions have remained mostly stable across global markets, with some degree of variability across markets and property types. The retail property sector does however continue to face the most challenging operating conditions globally. The combination of modest growth and low interest rates remains a supportive combination for real estate. Absent a shock to the capital markets or a dramatic deterioration in the economic outlook, the environment for real estate owners should remain favourable provided the dynamics of supply and demand are in balance. Periods of volatility and uncertainty seem likely to persist, but those listed real estate companies that have used the current real estate cycle to rationalise their portfolios and solidify their capital structures should be well positioned to benefit over time and create value for investors.

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with Singapore Standards on Auditing ("SSAs"). Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.

We are independent of the Fund in accordance with the Accounting and Corporate Regulatory Authority Code of Professional Conduct and Ethics for Public Accountants and Accounting Entities ("ACRA Code") together with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in Singapore, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements and the ACRA Code.

Other Information

The Fund's Manager (the "Manager") is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises all sections of the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT
TO THE UNITHOLDERS OF NIKKO AM SHENTON GLOBAL PROERITY SECURTIES FUND
(Constituted under a Trust Deed registered in the Republic of Singapore)

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of this other information, we are required to report that fact. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Responsibilities of the Manager for the Financial Statements

The Manager is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of these financial statements in accordance with the recommendations of Statement of Recommended Accounting Practice 7 "Reporting Framework for Unit Trusts" issued by the Institute of Singapore Chartered Accountants and for such internal control as the Manager determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Manager is responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Manager either intends to terminate the Fund or to cease the Fund's operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

The Manager's responsibilities include overseeing the Fund's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with SSAs will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with SSAs, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT
TO THE UNITHOLDERS OF NIKKO AM SHENTON GLOBAL PROERITY SECURTIES FUND
(Constituted under a Trust Deed registered in the Republic of Singapore)

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Manager.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of the Manager's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with the Manager regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Interest income is recognised on a time-proportion basis using the effective interest rate method.

(c) Distributions

The Manager has the absolute discretion to determine whether a distribution is to be made. In such an event, an appropriate amount will be transferred to a distribution account to be paid on the distribution date. The amount shall not be treated as part of the property of the Fund. Distributions are accrued for at the reporting date if the necessary approvals have been obtained and a legal constructive obligation has been created.

(iii) Derecognition

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the financial year ended 30 June 2019

2. Significant accounting policies (continued)

(e) Basis of valuation of investments

The fair value of financial assets and liabilities traded in active markets is based on quoted market prices at the close of trading on the reporting date. The quoted market price used for investments held by the Fund is the last traded market price for both financial assets and financial liabilities where the last traded price falls within the bid-ask spread. In circumstances where the last traded price is not within the bid-ask spread, the Manager will determine the point within the bid-ask spread that is most representative of fair value.

(f) Receivables

Receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market. Receivables are initially recognised at their fair value and subsequently carried at amortised cost using the effective interest method, less accumulated impairment losses.

(g) Sales and purchases awaiting settlement

Sales and purchases awaiting settlement represent receivables for securities sold and payables for securities purchased that have been contracted for but not yet settled or delivered on the Statement of Financial Position date respectively. These amounts are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost.

(h) Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprise cash at banks and on hand which are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value.

(i) Payables

Accrued expenses are recognised initially at fair value and subsequently stated at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

NIKKO AM SHENTON GLOBAL PROPERTY SECURITIES FUND

(Constituted under a Trust Deed registered in the Republic of Singapore)

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

For the financial year ended 30 June 2019

8. Financial risk management

The Fund's activities expose it to a variety of risk, including but not limited to market risk (including currency risk, interest rate risk and price risk), liquidity risk and credit risk. The Manager is responsible for the implementation of the overall risk management programme, which seeks to minimise potential adverse effects on the Fund's financial performance. Specific guidelines on exposures to individual securities and certain industries and/or countries are in place as part of the overall financial risk management to reduce the Fund's exposures to these risks.

The Fund's primary objective is to provide investors with medium to long term capital appreciation and to make regular income distributions during the investment period by investing in global listed real estate investment trusts ("REITS") (including business trusts) and the quoted securities of real estate companies or of those traded on a regulated exchange.

The financial instruments are held in accordance with the published investment policies of the Fund and managed accordingly to achieve the investment objectives.

(a) Market risk - Price risk

Price risk is the risk that arises from uncertainties about future prices of financial instruments.

The Fund's investment is substantially dependent on the changes in market prices. The Fund's overall market positions are monitored regularly so as to assess any changes in fundamentals and valuation. However, events beyond reasonable control of the Manager could affect the prices of the underlying investments and hence the net asset value of the Fund.

The Fund's market price risk is managed through diversification of the investment portfolio across various geographies globally.

The Manager is of the view that the FTSE EPRA/NAREIT Developed Index (the "Index"), which is a free-float adjusted, market capitalisation-weighted index designed to track the performance of listed real estate companies in developed countries worldwide, will provide a suitable analysis of reasonable possible shifts of the fair value of the Fund's investment.

8. Financial risk management (continued)

As at 30 June 2019, an increase/decrease of the index components within the Index by 11% (2018: 10%), with all other variables held constant, the net assets attributable to unitholders for the year would increase/decrease by approximately 11% (2018: 11%). The analysis was based on the assumption that the index components within the Index increased/decreased by a reasonable possible shift, with all other variables held constant and that the fair value of Fund's investments moved according to the beta. Reasonable possible changes in market index percentage are revised annually depending on management's current view on market volatility and other relevant factors.

(b) Market risk - Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in market interest rates (fair value risk).

Investment funds that invest in equity securities may be subject to interest rate risk as any interest rate change may affect the equity risk premium though at varying degrees. To manage this risk, the Manager analyses how interest rate changes may affect different industries and securities and then seeks to adjust the Fund's portfolio investments accordingly.

However, the effects of changes in interest rates on the Fund's portfolio may not be quantified as the relationship between the interest rates and the value of equity securities is indirect. Hence, no sensitivity analysis has been presented separately.

(c) Market risk - Currency risk

Currency risk is the risk that the value of financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates.

To minimise currency risk, the Fund mainly holds its excess cash in its functional currency. For hedging purposes, the Fund may also enter into forward foreign exchange contracts.

NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

Portfolio of investments, which is a significant item in the Statement of Financial Position, is exposed to currency risk and other price risk. The Manager has considered the impact of currency risk sensitivity on non-monetary assets as part of the price risk sensitivity analysis.

As of 30 June 2019 and 2018 the Fund does not hold substantial monetary assets/liabilities. Changes in foreign exchange rates on monetary assets/liabilities will not result in a significant change in the net asset value of the Fund. Hence, no separate sensitivity analysis on foreign currency risk has been presented.

(d) Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk of loss arising from the inability of the Fund to meet its obligations as and when they fall due without incurring unacceptable cost or losses.

The Fund is exposed to daily cash redemptions from unitholders. However, in accordance with the Fund's prospectus, minimum holdings and minimum redemption size are set.

To manage the liquidity risk, a cash buffer is maintained in the Fund and monitored for minimum cash balances to prevent any extensive disposition of assets which may occur at lower prices and overdraft situations to meet trade settlements and obligations.

The Fund's securities are considered readily realisable, as all the securities are listed on the recognised stock exchanges.

The Fund's financial liabilities are analysed using contractual undiscounted cashflows for maturity groupings based on the remaining period at the Statement of Financial Position date to the contractual maturity date. As at 30 June 2019, all liabilities either payable on demand or are due in less than 3 months. The impact of discounting is not significant.

(e) Credit risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty will be unable to fulfil its obligations to the Fund in part or in full as and when they fall due.

Concentrations of credit risk are minimised primarily by:

- ensuring counterparties as well as the respective credit limits are approved;
- ensuring there are controls in place to identify and assess the creditworthiness of counterparties and review such controls on a semi-annual basis; and
- ensuring that transactions are undertaken with a large number of counterparties.

All trade settlement with approved counterparties are on Delivery versus Payment and/or Receipt versus Payment basis, with the exception of initial public offerings, new issues and placement transactions.

NIKKO AM SHENTON GLOBAL PROPERTY SECURITIES FUND*(Constituted under a Trust Deed registered in the Republic of Singapore)NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTSFor the financial year ended 30 June 20198. Financial risk management (continued)*(e) Credit risk (continued)

Credit risk arises from cash and bank balances and outstanding and committed transactions with brokers. The table below summarises the credit rating of banks and custodian in which the Fund's assets are held as at 30 June 2019 and 30 June 2018.

	Credit rating as at 30 June 2019	Credit rating as at 30 June 2018	Source of credit rating
Bank balance
- BNP Paribas Securities Services, operating through its Singapore Branch	A+	A	Standard & Poor's
Custodian
- BNP Paribas Securities Services, operating through its Singapore Branch	A+	A	Standard & Poor's

The credit ratings are based on Long-Term Local Issuer Ratings published by the rating agency.

The maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date is the carrying amount of the financial assets.

(f) Specific risk of real estate companies

Real estate companies are particularly vulnerable to, inter alia, the local and international economic climate, real estate market conditions such as oversupply or reduced demand for commercial and residential space, changes in market rental rates, depreciation of buildings over time, and increases in property taxes and interest rates.

As real estate investments are relatively illiquid, this affects the ability of a REIT to vary its investment portfolio or liquidate part of its assets in response to changes in economic, real estate market, interest rates or other conditions.

An increase in market interest rates may have an adverse impact on the market price of units in REITs if their annual yields give investors a lower return as compared to other investments.

To manage such risks, the Manager seeks to diversify its investments between asset class i.e. listed real estate companies and REITs, and between securities within each class i.e., residential versus commercial properties, properties situated in different geographical area etc.

NIKKO AM SHENTON GLOBAL PROPERTY SECURITIES FUND*(Constituted under a Trust Deed registered in the Republic of Singapore)NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTSFor the financial year ended 30 June 20198. Financial risk management (continued)*(g) Capital management

The Fund's capital is represented by the net assets attributable to unitholders. The Fund strives to invest the subscriptions of redeemable participating units in investments that meet the Fund's investment objectives while maintaining sufficient liquidity to meet unitholder redemptions.

(h) Fair value estimation

The Fund classifies fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities (Level 1).
- Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices) (Level 2).
- Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs) (Level 3).

The following table analyses within the fair value hierarchy the Fund's financial assets and liabilities (by class) measured at fair value at 30 June 2019 and 2018:

As at 30 June 2019

Investments whose values are based on quoted market prices in active markets, and therefore classified within level 1, include active investment funds. The Fund does not adjust the quoted price for these instruments.

Except for cash and bank balances which are classified as level 1, the Fund's assets and liabilities not measured at fair value at 30 June 2019 and 2018 have been classified as level 2. The carrying amounts of these assets and liabilities approximate their fair values as at the Statement of Financial Position date.

Note:

With effect from 17 October 2011, the Fund (formerly known as "DBS Global Property Securities Fund") has been renamed as Nikko AM Shenton Global Property Securities Fund.

The following changes were made to the Fund with effect from 24 August 2015:

- the sub-manager of the Fund was changed from CenterSquare Investment Management, Inc ("CSIM") to Adelante Capital Management LLC ("ACM");
- the base currency of the Fund was changed from the Singapore dollar ("SGD") to United States dollar ("USD")

With effect from 30 September 2016, the Fund had ceased to accept new or further subscriptions for units of the Fund using CPF monies.

With effect from 1 December 2017, the benchmark has been removed and there is no longer any benchmark for the Fund. This is because in the Managers' view, the benchmark imposes unnecessary costs on the Fund, and the benchmark is not necessary in order for the Managers to achieve the Fund's stated investment objective. Prior to 1 April 2015, benchmark was UBS Global Real Estate Investors Total Return Index without reference to the yield component. Prior to 1 Mar 2010, the benchmark was Yield Component of UBS Global Real Estate Investors Total Return Index. Prior to 1 April 2006, the benchmark was UBS Global Real Estate Investors Total Return Index.

Portfolio Review

Fund declined 8.17% during the review period

The Nikko AM Shenton Global Property Securities Fund (the "Fund") declined 8.17% (in SGD terms, on NAV-NAV basis) over the six-month period ended 31 December 2018. Global property securities struggled in the second half of 2018 after delivering relatively flat returns in the first half of the year. Fears of a trade war between China and the US having broader implications on the global economy weighed on the market for much of the period. The theme of synchronised global growth that was so prevalent in 2017 seemed to fade over the course of 2018 as signs of slowing economies across the globe began to surface. By the year-end, worries of a synchronised global slowdown were becoming more prevalent. The challenge for investors was that the economic slowdown was occurring at a time when central banks around the world were in the midst of attempting to wind down the accommodative policies of the past with a gradual shift toward tighter monetary policy. Total returns were negative across each of the three regions on both a local currency and USD basis.

Asia delivered the best absolute returns for the period with positive returns in Australia and Singapore offset by negative returns in Hong Kong and Japan. The primary contributor in Australia was Dexus, which continues to benefit from mostly favourable operating conditions across its Australian office markets. That performance was partially offset by shopping centre REIT Scentre Group which continued to be impacted by weak investor sentiment globally for most retail oriented stocks. Singapore's positive contributions were driven by the Fund's holdings in both Ascendas India Trust and Capitaland Mall Trust. Hong Kong was a drag on performance with positive absolute returns from Link REIT more than offset by negative absolute returns from the Fund's other primary holdings – Hysan Development, Sun Hung Kai Properties and Wharf REIC. Link REIT announced a HKD 12bn (USD 1.5bn) portfolio sale at a 32% premium to its September 30th appraised value. Japan was also a drag on performance for the region during the period with global trade concerns and a stronger Japanese yen weighing on macro sentiment and the performance of the large Japanese developers. Within Japan, the primary detractors from performance were Mitsui Fudosan and Mitsubishi Estate Company.

After flat returns in the first half of the year, North America experienced negative returns in the second half of the year with the Fund's holdings in the US and Mexico both detracting from performance. US-China trade worries and concerns over tighter monetary policy in the face of signs of slowing growth seemed to increase over the period. A partial US government shutdown in December added to the list of investor worries and contributed to making December one of the worst months to end the year in quite a long time. Performance in the US varied widely with more defensive sectors such as apartment, health care and manufactured housing REITs among the better performing holdings that delivered positive absolute returns for the period. The main contributors included Equity Residential, Sun Communities, Ventas Inc. and Essex Property Trust. Cell tower REOC American Tower was the largest contributor in the US. Detractors for the period varied widely, but included data centre, office and lodging REITs. The list of companies that were the biggest drags on performance included Boston Properties, Kilroy Realty, Equinix, Coresite Realty, Interxion Holding, Marriott International, Hilton Grand Vacations and Pebblebrook Hotel

Trust. Prologis Property Mexico, the Fund's lone holding in Mexico, also detracted from performance, with a negative local return further eroded by a weaker peso to deliver a USD return of -21.99%.

The firm's European holdings delivered the weakest returns for the period. Signs of slowing growth in the region amidst global trade worries and the gradual unwinding of accommodative monetary policy by the European Central Bank and other central banks were among the many concerns for investors over the period. The added uncertainty surrounding the UK's planned exit from the EU in March 2019 and a deal not yet formally agreed to by both sides provided another headwind for all equities in the region. German property stocks proved to be the most defensive amidst all of the uncertainty with residential property stocks Deutsche Wohnen and LEG Immobilien delivering local currency returns of -1.48% and -2.13% respectively during the period. The Fund's UK holdings, which had seen positive local returns in the first half, could not overcome the uncertainty and had a local return of -8.88% during the period. Among the biggest detractors to performance in the UK were Derwent London, Safestore Holdings, Segro, and Shaftesbury. Elsewhere within Europe, the two main detractors to performance were Gecina and Unibail-Rodamco-Westfield. Gecina, which is focused on the Paris office market, was impacted by weaker investor sentiment across France as a result of ongoing protests over a number of President Macron's proposed economic reforms. Continuing negative investor sentiment towards retail and worries over the French protests impacting retail footfall during the important holiday shopping season negatively impacted Unibail's share performance in the period.

Market Review

Global property securities declined in the second half of 2018

Global property securities experienced a difficult six months to end 2018 as a number of macro issues continued to linger, creating uncertainty about the economic outlook going forward into 2019. Among the many headwinds that global equity markets faced were continuing worries about trade wars, tighter monetary policy from central banks and slowing global growth. In addition to the global headwinds, a host of geopolitical issues in Europe such as Brexit uncertainty, EU budget issues with Italy and civil unrest in France contributed to making Europe the worst performing region in the period. In a partial flight to safety by investors, most sovereign bond yields remained relatively flat or declined during the period as investors appeared to shift away from most risk assets. Investor caution, which had been building for months, appeared to reach a peak in December as the year ended with most equity markets selling off sharply. Investors appeared to be reducing risk and taking a pause until there is greater clarity on the many lingering issues that could impact economic conditions going forward and ultimately long term tenant demand and valuations.

Market Outlook & Strategy

Commercial real estate outlook largely favourable, despite near term volatility

Notwithstanding the downward pressure that equity markets have experienced, commercial real estate operating conditions have remained mostly stable across many global markets, although the retail property sector continues to face the most challenging operating conditions globally. Uncertainty regarding the outlook for the global economy has been on the rise at a time when central banks are shifting away from the accommodative monetary policies of the past. While interest rates remain supportive of real estate values, investors continue to monitor the outlook for economic growth and its impact on future demand. Absent a shock to the capital markets or a dramatic shift in the economic outlook, the environment for real estate owners should remain favourable provided the dynamics of supply and demand are in balance. Although periods of volatility and uncertainty seem likely to persist in the near term, those listed real estate companies that have used the current real estate cycle to rationalise their portfolios and solidify their capital structures should be well-positioned to benefit over time and create value for investors. The discount at which most global property securities continue to trade at relative to private market valuations for comparable properties provides some buffer for investors.
