KEY RISKS

WHAT ARE THE KEY RISKS OF THIS INVESTMENT?

The value of the product and its distributions (if any) may rise or fall. These risk factors may cause you to lose some or all of your investment:

Refer to "Risks" of the Singapore Prospectus for further information on risks of the product.

Market and Credit Risks

- You are exposed to market risks in Asian markets. The value of your investments may go up and down due to normal market fluctuations in the bond markets in Asia that the Sub-Fund invests in.
- You are exposed to emerging markets risks. The Sub-Fund may invest in emerging markets which involve a greater risk of loss and are more volatile than investing in more developed markets due to, among other factors, greater political, tax, economic, foreign exchange, liquidity, volatility and regulatory risks.
- You are exposed to interest rate and credit risks as this is a bond fund. Bonds are subject to interest rate fluctuations and credit risks, such as risk of default by issuers.
- You are exposed to currency risks. As the Sub-Fund's investments may be denominated in currencies that differ from the currency of the share class held by you, fluctuations in the exchange rates of these foreign currencies may affect the income and value of your shares. If you are invested in a share class that is not denominated in SGD and your reference currency is SGD, you may be exposed to additional exchange rate risks.
- You are exposed to the risks of currency hedging transactions for a hedged share class. The hedging strategy is to reduce but not eliminate currency risk. If these hedging transactions are imperfect or are only placed over a portion of the foreign exchange exposure, such share class will bear the resulting benefit or loss. It is important to note that currency hedging transactions for one share class may in extreme cases adversely affect the NAV of the other share classes within the Sub-Fund.

- You are exposed to counterparty risks. The Sub-Fund will be exposed to the credit risk on counterparties with which it trades and any default by such counterparty (for example, due to insolvency) could result in substantial losses to the Sub-Fund.
- You are exposed to liquidity risks of the Sub-Fund's investments. The Sub-Fund may have investments which have high liquidity risks (for example, low trading volumes) and may incur substantial losses if it is unable to sell these investments at opportune times or prices.

Liquidity Risks

- The Sub-Fund is not listed and you can redeem your shares only on Business Days. There is no ready secondary market for the Sub-Fund. All redemption requests should be submitted in the manner set out in the Singapore Prospectus.
- Your redemption request may be deferred or suspended. There may be a 10% limit on the number of shares that can be redeemed and converted on a Valuation Day. Therefore, your redemption request may be deferred to the next Valuation Day (which is subject to the same limit) if redemptions exceed the limit on that day. Your right to redeem shares may also be temporarily suspended under certain circumstances as described in the Singapore Prospectus.

Product-Specific Risks

- You are exposed to derivatives risks. The Sub-Fund may use derivative instruments, such as options, swaps, forward contracts and futures contracts, for efficient portfolio management and/or hedging purposes. Derivatives involve risks different from, and, in some cases, greater than, the risks presented by more traditional securities investments. Some of the risks associated with derivatives are market risk, management risk, credit risk, liquidity risk, operational risk and leverage risk.
- You are exposed to the risks of high yield bonds the Sub-Fund may invest in. Compared to investment grade bonds, high yield bonds are normally lower-rated securities usually offering higher yields to compensate for the reduced creditworthiness or increased risk of default that these securities carry.
- You are exposed to Distressed and Defaulted Securities risks. Investments in Distressed Securities and Defaulted Securities are faced with limited information on the condition of the issuer, take considerable time, and involve substantial financial business risks that can result in substantial or total losses. The market prices of such securities are also subject to abrupt and erratic market movements and above-average price volatility.

 - If you submit your redemption form after 3.00 p.m. Singapore time or on a day which is not a Business Day, you will be paid a price based on the NAV per share of the Sub-Fund determined on the next Business Day (or if such Business Day is not a Valuation Day, the next Valuation Day).
 - The NAV may be adjusted in accordance with the “Price Adjustment Policy” in section 2.4 of the Luxembourg Prospectus.
- You will normally receive the redemption proceeds within ten Business Days (or if any Business Day within such period is not a Valuation Day, such period as extended accordingly) following the Singapore Representative’s receipt of the redemption request, subject to it being in order.
- The redemption proceeds that you will receive will be the redemption price multiplied by the number of shares redeemed, less any charge. There is currently no redemption charge applied to the redemptions. An example is as follows:
