A sub-fund of FOURPOINTS Funds RH class (acc) LU0288052094

This sub-fund is managed by: Degroof Gestion Institutionnelle - Luxembourg

Objectives and investment policy

Objectives The sub-fund aims to increase the value of your investment over the long term.

Investment portfolio Under normal market conditions, the sub-fund invests at least 60% of its assets in a portfolio of international shares of companies active in the field of information technology. In order to take advantage of or hedge against market fluctuations, or for effective portfolio management, the sub-fund uses derivative instruments. The sub-fund also uses forward foreign exchange contracts in order to hedge against foreign exchange risk in relation to the US dollar (USD).

Investment process The manager selects the most promising themes from the information technology industry throughout the world. On the basis of qualitative and quantitative models, it selects high-quality companies and/or companies with high growth potential.

Investor profile This sub-fund is designed for investors who understand the risks of the sub-fund and wish to invest for a minimum of 5 years.

Reference currency of the sub-fund EUR

You may buy or sell shares of the sub-fund every working day in Luxembourg.

This sub-fund issues capitalisation shares (shares for which any income is reinvested in the sub-fund) and distribution shares (shares that pay the holder an income).

Terms to be understood

Share Financial security corresponding to a portion of a company's capital which is generally eligible for dividends.

Futures contract (Derivative instrument) contract giving the right to buy or sell an amount of underlying assets at a specified price and on a specified date on an organised market.

Derivative instrument Any financial security whose value is related to one or more interest rates, indices, shares, currencies, commodities or other underlying values.

Risk and reward profile

Does not mean a risk-free investment

The value of an investment in a sub-fund increases or decreases over time. At the time of resale, the price of your shares may be less than the original price and would therefore result in a loss. If you invest in a sub-fund expressed in a different currency to your own, changes in exchange rates may also reduce your profits or increase your losses.

The above risk level is calculated on the basis of the mid-term volatility of the sub-fund (i.e. on the basis of the actual changes in its value during the last five years or a simulation, if the sub-fund was created within this period). The volatility of the sub-fund may increase or decrease over time, and its risk level may therefore change.

The sub-fund's risk level reflects the following factor(s):

- Investments in shares show a high level of volatility and a high degree of risk.

The risk level does not reflect the possible effects of unusual market conditions or unforeseeable events which may accentuate the risks or trigger other risks such as:

Concentration risk When the sub-fund concentrates its investments in a country (or a region or a sector) affected by an adverse event, its value may fall.

Counterparty risk The sub-fund may lose money following the failure of a market participant with which it has dealings.

Liquidity risk Certain financial securities may turn out to be impossible to sell quickly at a given time or may be sold at a discount.

Management risk Under abnormal market conditions, common management techniques may turn out to be ineffective or disadvantageous.

Derivatives risk Certain derivatives may increase the volatility of the sub-fund or expose it to losses which are greater than the price of these derivatives.

Operational risks In any market, and notably in emerging markets, the sub-fund may lose some or all of its money in the event of failure in the safekeeping of assets, fraud, corruption, political actions or any other adverse event.

Charges

The charges and fees paid are to cover the costs of running the sub-fund, including the costs of marketing and distributing units. These charges reduce the potential growth of your investments.

The entry and exit charges shown are maximum charges. In some cases, the charges paid may be less. Further information may be obtained from your financial adviser.

Ongoing charges exclude performance fees and intermediation costs (at the time of the purchase or sale of financial securities by the sub-fund), with the exception of entry and exit charges paid by the sub-fund when it buys or sells units of another fund.
