What is this product?

This sub-fund is a fund constituted in the form of a mutual fund. It is incorporated under Luxembourg law and regulated by the Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier (CSSF).

Objective and Investment Strategy

Objective

To increase the value of its assets over the medium term.

Strategy

The sub-fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in equities or securities treated as equivalent to equities issued by companies that have their registered office in, and/or conduct a significant proportion of their business in, Russia, and also in derivatives on this type of asset.

The remainder, namely one-third of its assets maximum, may be invested in any other securities, money market instruments, derivatives and/or cash, and also, within a limit of 15% of the assets, in debt securities of any kind and, within a limit of 10% of the assets, in collective investment schemes.

PARVEST Equity Russia Opportunity

Some of these markets are not currently considered to be regulated markets (regulated market means a market regulated by government appointed bodies to control trades and ensure that fair services are offered to customers) and direct investments on these markets will be limited to 10% of the net assets. Russia is one such “unregulated” market, with the exception of Russian Trading System Stock Exchange (“RTS Stock Exchange”) and the Moscow Interbank Currency Exchange (“MICEX”), which are considered to be regulated Russian markets and on which direct investments may exceed 10% of the net assets.

The sub-fund may invest in sovereign debt securities but it does not contemplate to invest more than 10% of its net asset value in securities issued by or guaranteed by any single country (including its government, a public or local authority of that country) with a credit rating below investment grade and/or unrated.

This sub-fund may use financial derivative instruments (such as futures and options, swaps and derivative contracts) extensively for investment purpose and/or hedging purpose. No specific strategy relating to financial derivative instruments is adopted by the Management Company and the Fund Managers of the sub-fund. The maximum level of leverage is 100% of the net asset value of the sub-fund calculated using the commitment methodology.

What are the key risks?

Investment involves risks. Please refer to the offering document for details including the risk factors.

Derivative Risk

- The sub-fund may enter into financial derivative instruments (“FDIs”) extensively for investment and hedging purposes. The use of FDIs may involve risks including:
 - the counterparty to the derivative transaction is unable to meet or defaults on its obligations;
 - high volatility of derivatives;
 - the incorrect valuation or pricing of derivatives;
 - the degree of leverage inherent in trading of derivatives. Accordingly, a relatively small price movement in derivatives may result in an immediate and substantial loss to the sub-fund; and
 - the possible absence of a liquid market for any particular instrument at any particular time.
- Should the use of FDIs be ineffective or unsuccessful, the sub-fund may suffer a substantial loss, having an adverse effect on its net asset value.

Geographical Concentration Risk

- The sub-fund’s investments are concentrated in Russia. This may result in greater volatility than funds which comprise broad-based global investments. The sub-fund may be more susceptible to adverse fluctuations in value resulting from adverse condition in Russia and the sub-fund’s value may be adversely affected.

Risk related to Investments in Russia

- The sub-fund’s investments are concentrated in Russia and will be subject to market, political, legal, regulatory, economic, taxation and capital control risks of Russia.
- The relative infancy of the Russian governmental and regulatory framework may expose the sub-fund to various political and economic risks. The Russian securities market from time to time may also suffer from a lack of market efficiency and liquidity which may cause higher price volatility and market disruptions. There is a risk that investments and the sub-fund’s value may be adversely affected.

Emerging Market Risk

- The sub-fund invests in emerging market (i.e. Russia). Investing in emerging markets is likely to be subject to a higher than average volatility, less liquidity and greater sensitivity than investing in more developed markets due to, among other factors, greater uncertainty, greater political, tax, economic, social, foreign exchange, liquidity and regulatory risks. The price fluctuations of the investments are often amplified in the short term and the value of investments of the sub-fund may go down.

PARVEST Equity Russia Opportunity

Risk linked to Equity Market

- Investments in equity include significant fluctuations in prices, negative information about the issuer or market. Moreover, these fluctuations are often amplified in the short term and may have a negative impact on the performance of the overall portfolio at a given time. There is no guarantee that investors will see an appreciation in value. The value of investments of the sub-fund may go down and it is possible that investors will not recover their initial investment.

Liquidity Risk

- Investments made by the sub-fund may become illiquid. It may not be possible to sell or buy these investments quickly enough to prevent or minimize a loss in the sub-fund.

Currency Exchange Risk

- The sub-fund may hold assets denominated in currencies that differ from the base currency, and may be affected by exchange rate fluctuations between the base currency and the other currencies and by changes in exchange rate controls. A depreciation of the denomination currency will lead to a depreciation in the exchange value of the security. When the manager is willing to hedge the currency exchange risk of a transaction, there is no guarantee that such operation will be completely effective and the sub-fund's value may be adversely affected.

Operational & Custody Risk

- Some markets are less regulated than most of the international markets; hence, the services related to custody and liquidation for the sub-fund on such markets could be more risky. In the event of a custodian default, the sub-fund may suffer a delay in recovering its assets, pending the resolution of the relevant default or bankruptcy proceedings.

Risk in connection with Dividend Payment

- The Management Company may at its discretion pay dividends out of the capital of the sub-fund. Payment of dividends out of capital amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of an investor's original investment or from any capital gains attributable to that original investment. Any distributions involving payment of dividends out of the sub-fund's capital may result in an immediate reduction of net asset value per share. The Management Company may amend the dividend policy subject to the SFC's prior approval and by giving not less than one month's notice to investors.

Investment Risk

- When investing in a fund, there is a risk that the final outcome may deviate from the initial expectations. The sub-fund's investment portfolio may fall in value and therefore may suffer losses. In addition, there is no guarantee of principal repayment.

Is there any guarantee?

This sub-fund does not have any guarantees. You may not get back the full amount of money you invest.
