Manager's report

Economic environment

The global economy was quite robust in the second half of 2017, but weakened somewhat in early 2018, apart from the United States, where indicators remained very solid. Worldwide, with economic activity surveys not showing any signs of improvement, the second half of 2018 was marked by the rise of uncertainties and downward revisions in global growth forecasts, which nonetheless held up rather well. Political issues played a big role, as did fears over the solidity of global growth. After the US customs tariffs hike on new Chinese products came into effect in September, the protectionist threat continued to be closely monitored by observers. Central bankers took a cautious view of the global economy. While sticking to its tightening stance, the Fed shifted its language late in the year to a more flexible approach to the monetary policy that it intends to implement in 2019. The ECB began to very gingerly to phase out quantitative easing (QE) very late in the year and reiterated that it would not raise its key rates until autumn 2019. After rising to more than USD 75/bbl. (in the case of WTI), oil pulled back sharply, on 24 December hitting a low since mid-2017 at USD 42. It ended the year down 25%, at USD 45, as US output just kept expanding.

United States

After rising by 2.3% in the fourth quarter of 2017 and by 2.2% in the first quarter 2018, US GDP accelerated in 2018 to 4.2% in the second quarter and to 3.4% in the third. For the full year, it is likely to come in at about 3.0%, before falling back to 2.3% in 2019, which is still above potential. The job market is still quite solid, as seen in the unemployment rate, which fell to its lowest point since December 1969 (3.7%). Wages are beginning to show signs of accelerating. Against this backdrop, household consumption was strong late in the year. However, there was some disappointment in investment and durable goods orders, as well as in regional manufacturing surveys. The increase in consumer prices is still under control. After showing signs of acceleration during the summer, core inflation (ex-food and energy) levelled off below 2%. Some companies (in all sectors) expressed concerns that the Trump administration's hike in customs tariffs would hit their business activity going forward. The Democratic Party won back a majority in the House of Representatives in the 6 November mid-term elections. The disagreement on funding the building of a wall on the Mexican border triggered a partial federal government shutdown.

Europe

After the very strong expansion of the second half of 2017, which had raised year-on-year GDP growth to a high since early 2011 (at 2.8%, then 2.7% in the third and fourth quarters of 2017) and with 2018 appearing to have begun on the same trend, growth forecasts had to be revised downward due to the slowdown that had actually occurred and to highly disappointing indicators. And, indeed, after GDP growth of 0.2% in the third quarter of 2018 (0.4% in the first and second), economic activity surveys pointed to an ongoing slowdown. The composite PMI (purchasing manager index) in manufacturing and services fell to a four-year low in December after having hit an almost 12-year high in January. Moreover, national accounts pointed to weak domestic end demand in the third quarter. However, several factors do look encouraging, including the steady improvement in employment (with the jobless rate at 8.1%, a 10-year low), which is beginning to flow into far stronger wage increases and continued strength in credit distribution to the private sector. The rise of uncertainties (over protectionism and the situation in Italy) is a risk for the coming quarters. Inflation rose from 1.3% in January 2018 to 1.6% in December, while core inflation (i.e., ex-food and ex-energy) continued to hover directionless around 1% year-on-year.

United Kingdom

In response to the decision of the United Kingdom (UK) to trigger Article 50 of the Treaty of the European Union (EU) leading to its withdrawal from the European Union at the currently planned date of 29 March 2019, BNPP AM has set up a comprehensive contingency plan in order to continue to serve its clients without interruption, in all cases including the event of an exit without the ratification of a withdrawal agreement. In particular, the investment policy has been reviewed and any reference to the EU or the EEA (European Economic Area) has been assessed in order to adapt accordingly all related documentation and if necessary, in a limited number of occurrences, to adapt the product composition. For the funds distributed in France and eligible to PEA (Plan d'Épargne en Actions or share savings plan) a French tax investment scheme, an impact analysis has been made, appropriate measures have been set up and will be communicated to holders concerned when the exit date is confirmed. For the funds currently distributed in the UK, a notification is being submitted to the FCA - Financial Conduct Authority, the UK regulator to benefit from the TPR Temporary Permission Regime to continue to market temporarily in the UK.

Manager's report

Japan

GDP contracted in the first quarter of 2018 (by -1.3% at an annualised pace), driven by weaker consumption and a sharp slowdown in exports. It rebounded in the second quarter (to +2.8%), then contracted once again in the third quarter (-2.5%), driven by exceptional natural factors, including typhoons and an earthquake. Although activity indices slipped slightly in the third quarter, the Tankan economic survey reflected still-solid domestic demand and a shift in growth. After falling to a 26-year low (at 2.2%), the unemployment rate remained very low (at 2.5% in November). A slight acceleration in wages began. On the political front, the decline in Shinzo Abe's popularity raised some concerns but did not keep him from being re-elected as the head of the Liberal Democratic Party in September 2018, thus ensuring he would stay on as prime minister and, from investors' point of view, that the government would stick to its proactive economic policy. Total inflation rose from 0.6% in November 2017 to 0.8% one year later but the ex-fresh food/ex-energy index moved directionless at a level (+0.3% in November) that was far below the objective. Despite this unflattering number, the Bank of Japan (BoJ) gradually reduced its securities purchases and, in late July, adjusted its yield curve control policy. The target range of 10-year JGB yields still revolves around 0%, but may now extend as far as 0.20% vs. 0.10% previously. However, in response to expectations that emerged in late 2018 of a more rapid normalisation in its monetary policy, the governor of the Bank of Japan reiterated that the inflation target remains the priority.

Emerging markets

In 2018, emerging economies experienced various fortunes, with structural weaknesses specific to certain countries (such as Argentina, which was forced to request IMF assistance, and Turkey) and political turmoil in others (in Brazil, for example). Meanwhile, higher US interest rates pushed investors to doubt the outlook in emerging markets. The lack of contagion to currencies backed by better fundamentals and the rally of the Turkish lira and the Argentine peso in the fourth quarter are encouraging signs. Purchasing manager surveys showed a shift in the manufacturing sector with an aggregate index for emerging markets approaching the threshold of contraction (from 52.2 at the end of 2017 to 50.3 at end-2018). However, keep in mind that world trade has held up and that dip in survey data may have been exacerbated by "trade war concerns". Surveys in the services sector rebounded late in the year. In China the economy slowed gradually (from 6.8% at end-2017 to 6.5% in the third quarter of 2018), driven by the impact of the deliberate limitation of credit. It hit its slowest pace since 2009, leading monetary authorities during the autumn to announce monetary and fiscal stimulus measures. Indicators released late in the year (exports, retail sales, industrial output and business surveys) confirmed that a slowdown is in progress, but one that Chinese officials themselves acknowledge is not yet due to higher US customs duties.

Monetary policy

The European Central Bank (ECB) has made no change to its interest rates (with its main refinancing rate at 0%, its marginal lending facility at 0.25%, and its deposit facility of -0.40%) since March 2016. Several moves were made to recalibrate non-conventional measures in 2018. In March, the "downward bias" language that had been introduced in 2016 and pointed to a possible prolongation or expansion in securities purchases, was removed. It had already ceased to be a key item in ECB forward guidance. The markets focused more on the QE (quantitative easing) exit strategy, as economic activity showed some signs of slowdown and inflation remained moderate. Following the 14 June Governing Council meeting, the ECB proposed a very precise roadmap: net purchases under the Public Sector Purchase Programme (PSPP), which had been at EUR 30 billion per month since January, would be reduced to EUR 15 billion after September and halted entirely in December; reinvestments of proceeds from maturing securities would continue, thus helping to stabilise the balance sheet beginning in January 2019. Meanwhile, key rates would "remain at their present levels at least through the summer of 2019". The ECB then devoted its official guidance to confirming this announcement of QE normalisation and guiding expectations toward a first rate increase in autumn 2019. Mario Draghi became more cautious late in the year on the economic outlook, pointing out external risks (a slowdown in global growth, protectionism, and financial market conditions) and domestic ones. However, the ECB still believes that economic activity will continue to expand and that the squeeze in production capacities and jobs will lead to an acceleration of core inflation in the medium term.

In 2018, the US Federal Reserve raised its interest rates in March, June, September and December. Each time, the decision had been fully priced in. Since the 18-19 December FOMC meeting, the federal funds target rate has ranged between 2.25% and 2.50%. This is the ninth increase since the tightening cycle began, in December 2015. Meanwhile, in October 2017 the Fed began to shrink its balance sheet by limiting reinvestments of proceeds of maturing securities (T-Notes and MBS). Since then, USD 385 billion have not been reinvested. According to the Fed, these operations have gone smoothly and have required no adjustments. The transition at the chair of the Fed in February 2018 went off well after having raised some concerns. The new chairman, Jerome Powell, had already sat on the FOMC and seemed to be picking up where Janet Yellen left off. For example, in May, the Fed began stating officially that its inflation target was “symmetric” at about 2%. Meanwhile, Powell pointed out the difficulty of estimating potential growth and the related variables, thus justifying a pragmatic approach to monetary policy. Based on the strength of the US economy, FOMC members said they were confident of the need to continue raising key rates but stepped somewhat away from this position late in the year. In reaction to burgeoning risks to global growth and financial market turmoil in the fourth quarter, the Fed said it would henceforth take a more data-based and flexible approach to monetary policy. In December, it appeared that the Fed had lowered the federal funds rate considered neutral compared to the rate it had indicated in September (from 2.90% to 2.75%) and was now planning just two rate increases in 2019 (down from three previously) and one in 2020. The Fed continued to forecast GDP growth above its potential, but Powell has taken a more cautious line and seems to be hesitating about pushing monetary policy into restrictive territory.

Currency markets

From the very start of the year, the EUR/USD trended upward, quickly reaching 1.25, a high since late 2014. The euro was driven during this phase by expectations of a more rapid normalisation of ECB monetary policy and by very solid economic indicators. In late January, the US Treasury secretary’s language (“a weaker dollar is good for us”) pushed the euro momentarily above 1.25. It stabilised slightly below this level until mid-April, when the issues driving the EUR/USD reversed themselves, with more and more US economic data better than expected and a decline in indicators elsewhere. This scenario of a desynchronisation of growth between the US and the rest of the world led market participants to expect more aggressive Fed monetary policy, and this pushed US bond yields up and capital flows out of emerging markets. The turmoil experienced by several currencies (mainly the Argentinian peso and the Turkish lira), undermined by structural weaknesses, triggered a retreat into the currencies of developed economies traditionally considered safe havens (the Japanese yen, Swiss franc and, to a lesser extent, the US dollar). The EUR/USD quickly moved towards 1.15, even falling to 1.13 in mid-August. This moved the euro even further away from its fundamental value and led President Trump to state again that the dollar was too high. The EUR/USD then rallied, traded erratically and sunk again amid uncertainties over the political situation in Italy, hitting about 1.12 on 12 November, a low since mid-2017. Beginning in mid-November, it traded between 1.13 and 1.15, tracking monetary policy decisions and comments on both sides of the Atlantic. The EUR/USD ended down 4.6% on the year, at 1.1450.

The USD/JPY traded erratically in 2018 within a broad, 105-114 range. In March, it fell back to its lows since November 2016, at less than 105 vs. 112.65 at end-2017. Expectations of a monetary policy shift by the Bank of Japan (BoJ) contributed to this strengthening in the yen, despite denials by Governor Kuroda. These expectations were driven by the difficulties of Prime Minister Abe, who was indirectly implicated in an influence-peddling scandal. The yen’s safe haven status also played a part, in reaction to financial market turmoil triggered by US protectionist measures. Beginning in late April, the dollar’s across-the-board gains sent the exchange rate above 112, despite the slight less accommodative shift in BoJ monetary policy in July. Not until the second half of December did the yen move back up. Investors expect the reduction in securities purchases to continue and expect an increase in key rates to assist financial establishments, whose problems have been exacerbated by negative rates. The yen ended the year up 2.7%, at 109.72 per dollar.

Bond markets

From the very start of 2018, several factors triggered a steep decline on the US bond market, including fears of a glut of paper and expectations of a greater-than-expected toughening in monetary policies in major developed economies in general and the US in particular. In February, these pressures were exacerbated by expectations of an acceleration in inflation after the release of wages (average hourly earnings) that were far higher than forecast. This sent the 10-year T-note surging to 2.90% in February. It traded for some time between this level and 2.75% before spiking again, this time to 3.11% on 17 May (for a total year-to-date increase of 70bp). It then pulled back sharply amid a flight to safety in reaction to geopolitical and political fears and, from mid-May to mid-September, traded directionless between 2.80% and 3.00% before breaking firmly through the 3% threshold for the second time this year, reaching almost 3.25% on 5 October (a high since May 2011). This trend was driven by the Fed chairman’s highly optimistic language, which reinforced expectations of a more aggressive increase in key rates, the release of the jobs report, which revealed that the unemployment rate was at a near-50-year low, and a record ISM non-manufacturing number. Until mid-November, the 10-year T-Note yield traded between 3.25% and 3.05%, tracking inflation and wage figures and Fed comments. Yields then began to pull back, driven by equity market turmoil, global growth doubts, and a few disappointing US economic indicators. The 10-year T-Note yield ended the year at 2.68%, a low since late January and up just 27bp in 2018, despite the 100bp increase in key rates.

The 10-year Bund yield took a rocky path, ending the year at 0.24%, vs. 0.43% at the end of 2017, clearly outperforming the US market with a 19bp decline in twelve months. Driven by expectations of a more rapid normalisation in ECB monetary policy and upward pressures on US bond yields, it had risen as high as 0.75% in mid-February (a high since autumn 2015). Thereafter, it fell back to about 0.50% by the end of March on the ECB's renewed accommodative language, a slight decline in eurozone business surveys and still-low inflation, before experiencing new turmoil, particularly when the result of the 4 March Italian legislative elections brought back fears of the "eurozone risk". On 29 May, the 10-year Bund yield fell below 0.30% (something that had not happened since mid-2017), as some aspects of the 21 May agreement by the Five-Star Movement (M5S) and the League raised fears that Italy was taking a path that would inevitably lead it to a wider fiscal deficit. This is what drove most eurozone bond trends in the following months. After trading around 120bp until spring, the spread between 10-year Italian and German paper soared above 250bp (a high since mid-2013) and stayed around that level from May to October. Another spike to slightly above 325bp in mid-October was followed by pullback to 250bp on Rome's concessions.

Equity markets

2018 got off to a flying start on global equity markets. The rally that began in late 2017 with the passing of US tax cuts, spilled over into January 2018, with the MSCI AC World index achieving its 15th consecutive monthly gain. But then things took a turn for the worse. Between 26 January and 8 February, the MSCI AC World index (in dollars) lost 9% when inflationary fears emerged. Technical factors such as short-volatility financial products exacerbated the declines. This sudden drop was followed by a chaotic rally, driven by a solid macro and microeconomic environment, but the markets took something of a wait-and-see attitude until the end of the second quarter. Investor doubts were driven by several major risks, the first among these being the rise in protectionism and partial questioning of expectations of synchronised global growth. However, equities were driven most of all by President Trump's trade policy. Investors were reassured little by little when they saw that the "trade war" would probably remain a Sino-US matter and not become a global one. Even, so visibility did not improve in this area. Corporate results remained very solid, particularly in the US, as tax cuts boosted the economy. Against this backdrop, global equities were still in positive territory on the year to end-September 2017 (+2.2% by the MSCI AC World index), driven by a strong showing in the US (+9.1% by the MSCI USA index). However, everything changed in the fourth quarter. After its steepest decline since May 2012 (-7.6% in October) and a slight rise in November (+1.3%), the MSCI AC World index lost 7.2% in December, despite a post-Christmas rally. The full-year drop (-11.2%) was the steepest since 2008. Emerging markets lost 16.6% after performing poorly early in the summer amid massive capital outflows from several markets that had less solid fundamentals and were less able to withstand higher Fed interest rates and a stronger dollar. The swoon in global equities in October was triggered by upward pressure on US bond yields amid an acceleration in wages and expectations of a more rapid tightening in US monetary policy. These concerns faded quickly but the basic issue was left unresolved, as investors are having a hard time grasping the financial market impact of the normalisation of monetary policy in G4 countries – first and foremost the Fed's moves in the US – and are therefore especially jittery on this subject. Investor nervousness was driven by global growth fears, which were exacerbated by signs of slowdown in the Chinese economy. Investors also focused on political factors (particularly the worldwide rise in populism), which stoked rising volatility in equities compared to the very low levels of 2017. Here are the full-year performances of the main indices (in local currencies and without reinvested dividends) on the major developed markets: -6.2% by the S&P 500, -12.1% by the Nikkei 225, and -14.3% by the EuroStoxx 50.

The Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with Luxembourg legal and regulatory requirements relating to the preparation and presentation of the financial statements, and for such internal control as the Board of Directors of the Fund determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the Board of Directors of the Fund is responsible for assessing the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the Board of Directors of the Fund either intends to liquidate the Fund or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Responsibilities of the “Réviseur d’entreprises agréé” for the audit of the financial statements

The objectives of our audit are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an audit report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with the Law of 23 July 2016 and with ISAs as adopted for Luxembourg by the CSSF, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control;
- obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Fund's internal control;
- evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by the Board of Directors of the Fund;

- conclude on the appropriateness of the Board of Directors of the Fund's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Fund's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our audit report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our audit report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Fund to cease to continue as a going concern;
- evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Note 2 - Principal accounting methodsa) Net asset value

This annual report is prepared on the basis of the last net asset value as at 31 December 2018.

b) Presentation of the financial statements

The financial statements of the Company are presented in accordance with the legislation in force in Luxembourg on undertakings for collective investment. The consolidation currency of the Company is the euro (EUR).

The statement of operations and changes in net assets covers the financial year from 1 January 2018 to 31 December 2018.

c) Valuation of the securities portfolio

The valuation of all securities listed on a stock exchange or any other regulated market, which functions regularly, is recognised and accessible to the public, is based on the last known closing price on the Valuation Day, and, if the securities concerned are traded on several markets, on the basis of the last known closing price on the major market on which they are traded. If the last known closing price is not a true reflection, the valuation shall be based on the probable sale price estimated by the Board of Directors in a prudent and bona fide manner.

The Board of Directors use this possibility for the valuation of the securities listed on East Asia, South Asia, Southeast Asia, and Oceania markets. In these cases, the aforesaid last known closing price is adjusted by using a method monitored by the Management Company to reflect a fair value price of the concerned assets.

Notes to the financial statements at 31/12/2018

Unlisted securities or securities not traded on a stock exchange or another regulated market which functions in a regular manner, is recognised and accessible to the public, shall be valued on the basis of the probable sale price estimated in a prudent and bona fide manner by a qualified professional appointed for this purpose by the Board of Directors.

If permitted by market practice, liquid assets, money market instruments and all other instruments may be valued at their nominal value plus accrued interest or according to the linear amortisation method. Any decision to value the assets in the portfolio using the linear amortisation method must be approved by the Board of Directors, which will record the reasons for such a decision. The Board of Directors will put in place appropriate checks and controls concerning the valuation of the instruments.

Investments in open-ended UCIs are valued on the basis of the last net asset value of the units or shares of such UCIs available on the Valuation Day.

d) Net realised result on the securities portfolio

The net realised result on investment securities is calculated on the basis of the average cost of the securities sold.

e) Conversion of foreign currencies

Values expressed in a currency other than the currency in which the relevant sub-fund is denominated will be converted on the basis of the exchange rate applicable on the valuation day.

f) Valuation of forward foreign exchange contracts

Unexpired forward foreign exchange contracts are valued on the basis of the forward exchange rates applicable on the valuation date or the closing date, and the resulting unrealised profits or losses are recorded in the accounts.

g) Valuation of futures contracts

Unexpired futures contracts are valued at the last price known on the valuation date or closing date and the resulting unrealised profits or losses are accounted for.

Margin accounts to guarantee the liabilities on futures contracts are included in the “Cash at banks and time deposits” account in the statement of net assets.

h) Valuation of options

The liquidation value of options traded on stock markets is based on the closing prices published by the stock markets on which the Company traded the contracts in question. The liquidation value of options not traded on stock markets is determined in accordance with the rules defined by the Board of Directors, in accordance with uniform criteria for each category of contract.

i) Repurchase agreement

“Repurchase agreements” and “reverse repurchase agreements” consist of the purchase and sale of securities where the clauses of the agreement require the seller to repurchase from the buyer and the buyer to sell back to the seller the securities sold/bought at a price and for a duration stipulated by the two parties at the time the agreement is entered into. Such “repo” and “reverse repo” agreements imply a transfer of ownership. They are valued at the market value.

j) Income on investments

Dividends are recognised as income on the date on which they are declared and to the extent that the information in question is available to the Company. Interest is recognised on a daily basis.

k) Valuation of swaps

IRS (Interest Rate Swaps) shall be valued on the basis of the difference between the value of all future interest payable by the Company to its counterparty on the valuation date at the zero coupon swap rate corresponding to the maturity of these payments and the value of all future interest payable by the counterparty to the Company on the valuation date at the zero coupon swap rate corresponding to the maturity of these payments.

Notes to the financial statements at 31/12/2018

The internal model for valuing CDS (Credit Default Swaps) uses the yield curve of the CDS, the recovery rate and a discount rate (LIBOR or the market swap rate) to calculate the mark-to-market. This internal model also produces the default probability curve. In order to establish the CDS yield curve, data from a number of counterparties active in the CDS market are used. The fund manager compares the valuation of the counterparties' CDS to the values obtained via the internal model. The starting point for the construction of the internal model is the equality, at the time the CDS agreement is signed, of the floating leg and the fixed leg of the CDS.

A Total Return Swap (TRS) is a bilateral agreement in which each party agrees to exchange payments based on the performance of an underlying instrument represented by a security, commodity, basket or index thereof for a fixed or variable rate. One party pays out the total return of a specific reference asset, and in return, receives a regular stream of payments. The total performance will include gains and losses on the underlying, as well as any interest or dividends during the contract period according to the type of underlying. The cash flows to be exchanged are calculated by reference to an agreed upon notional amount or quantity.

Total return swaps are marked to market at each NAV calculation date. The unrealised appreciation/(depreciation) is disclosed in the Statement of net assets under "Net Unrealised gain on financial instruments" or "Net Unrealised loss on financial instruments". Realised gains/(losses) and change in unrealised appreciation/(depreciation) as a result thereof are included in the Statement of operations and changes in net assets respectively under "Net realised result on Financial instruments" and "Movement on net unrealised gain/(loss) on Financial instruments".

"Inflation swaps" are bilateral agreements which allow investors looking to hedge an investment to secure an inflation-linked return against an inflation index.

The inflation buyer (inflation receiver) pays a predetermined fixed or floating rate (minus a spread). In exchange, the inflation buyer receives from the inflation seller (inflation payer) one or more inflation-linked payments.

The principal risk associated with an inflation swap lies in its sensitivity to interest rates and inflation: the inflation payer takes on the risk of inflation or, in other words, of changes likely to affect the inflation curve. The payer also bears a risk relating to interest rates or, in other words, to changes in the nominal yield curve. In order to value inflation swaps, a "forward zero coupon" swap curve (seasonally adjusted for inflation) is constructed, facilitating the calculation of future inflation cash flows.

In compliance with the obligations under CSSF circular 11/512, the Company employs the services of an independent pricing agency for the daily valuation of variance swaps. The valuation method consists in using a portfolio of European options to replicate the losses or profits on the variance swaps as they would occur under standard market conditions. The options replicate forward strike prices within a standard deviation range of plus or minus four points of the forward contract price for any given maturity. This valuation method is similar to the Black & Scholes method in that the price is derived from European options prices. The full details on each variance swap agreement are sent to the pricing agency, which in return provides a daily valuation validated by the OTC Pricing team.

l) Position on mortgage-backed securities (to be announced)

Mortgage-backed securities are subject to current commercial market practices in relation to securities guaranteed by bonds, according to which a security will buy/sell a basket of mortgage loans for a fixed price at a later date.

At the time of the purchase/sale, the exact security is not known but its principal features are. Even if a price is agreed at the time of purchase/sale, the final face value will not yet have been fixed.

The "To be Announced ("TBA") Mortgage Back Securities" positions are shown in the securities portfolios as at 31 December 2018.

At the closing date, the purchase/sale of these securities had not yet been settled. As a result, the amounts relating to payables/receivables on securities are included under "Other liabilities"/"Other assets" in the Statement of net assets.

Interest Rate Swaps

The Company has entered into interest rate swap agreements whereby it exchanges fixed income (sum of the notional amount and the fixed rate) for variable income (sum of the notional amount and the floating rate) and vice versa. These amounts are calculated and recognised at each calculation of the Net Asset Value; the receivable amount is stated under “Other assets” in the Statement of net assets, while the payable amount is given under “Other liabilities” in the Statement of net assets.

Total Return Swaps

A Total Return Swap (TRS) is an agreement to exchange the total performance of a bond or other underlying asset (share, index, etc.) for a benchmark rate plus a spread. The total performance includes the interest coupons, dividends and profits and losses on the underlying asset over the life of the agreement, depending on the type of underlying concerned. The risk in this type of agreement is linked to the fact that the benefit for each counterparty will depend on how the underlying asset performs over time, which is unknown at the time at which the agreement is entered into.

Swaptions

A type of option between two parties that can be exercised on a swap where the buyer of the swap has the right, but not obligation to, receive an agreed upon fixed interest rate. The buyer pays a premium for the right to swap at this fixed rate. Short for a call swap option, a call swaption can be used as a hedging tool to avoid risk if a bond issuer believes interest rates might decrease.

Note 18 - Transaction fees

Transaction fees incurred by the Fund relating to purchase or sale of transferable securities, money market instruments, derivatives or other eligible assets are mainly composed of standard fees, sundry fees on transaction, stamp fees, brokerage fees, custody fees, VAT fees, stock exchange fees and RTO (Reception and Transmission of Orders) fees.

In line with bond market practice, a bid-offer spread is applied when buying and selling these securities. Consequently, in any given transaction, there will be a difference between the purchase and sale prices quoted by the broker, which represents the broker's fee.

Note 19 - Tax reclaims as part of the Aberdeen/Fokus Bank Project

In several European Union member states, community law grants undertakings for collective investments (UCIs) the right to file claims with a view to recovering taxes they have been unjustly forced to pay. When one member state imposes a greater tax burden on a foreign UCI than on a resident UCI, this constitutes discrimination under community law.

Notes to the financial statements at 31/12/2018

This principle was confirmed by the ruling of the Court of Justice of the European Union (CJEU) in the “Aberdeen” case (18 June 2009). This ruling acknowledges that a non-resident UCI can be subject to discriminatory taxation, which constitutes an obstacle to freedom of establishment and/or the free movement of capital. Other CJEU rulings have subsequently confirmed this jurisprudence. Key examples are the rulings in the Santander (10 May 2010) and Emerging Markets (10 April 2014) cases regarding French and Polish tax legislation, respectively.

In light of this jurisprudence and in order to safeguard the right of UCIs to receive tax rebates, the management company has decided to file claims with the tax authorities in several member states whose discriminatory legislation fails to comply with community law. Preliminary studies will be carried out to determine whether or not the claims are viable, i.e. for which funds, in which member states and over what period of time it is necessary to request a rebate.

To date, there is no European legislation establishing a uniform framework for this type of claim. As a result, the time taken to receive a rebate and the complexity of the procedure vary depending on the member state in question. This means that it is necessary to constantly monitor developments in this regard.

Due to the uncertainty of the recoverability of the amounts, no accrual is recorded and it is booked under the caption “Income on investments and assets” when received.

Voting rights - Governance and voting policy

a) Introduction

BNP PARIBAS ASSET MANAGEMENT (BNPP AM) considers the promotion of sound corporate governance practices to be an essential part of its proprietary responsibility. Corporate governance has to do with the system by which a company is managed and controlled. It relates to its management, its supervision and control mechanisms, as well as its relationships with stakeholders. Sound corporate governance establishes the framework which ensures that the company is managed in accordance with the long-term interests of its shareholders. BNPP AM expects all companies in which it invests to conform to best corporate governance practices.

Voting at general meetings plays an important role in the dialogue with the companies in which we invest on behalf of our clients and is an integral part of the BNPP AM management processes.

BNPP AM ensures that it exercises its voting rights in consideration of the specific circumstances of the company. Our voting policy and guidelines are reviewed annually so as to take into account changes in governance codes and market practices and are approved by BNPP AM's Board of Directors.

Our voting policy applies to all of BNPP AM's management activities and to all BNPP AM entities that delegate the exercise of their voting rights to BNPP AM. The entities to which we delegate management duties are obliged to bear in mind our expectations and market practices when exercising their voting rights and to notify us regularly of the results achieved.

b) Governance and voting principles

The following principles describe BNPP AM's expectations of the listed companies in which it invests. They constitute a code of conduct guiding the execution of tasks on behalf of BNPP AM.

i. To act in the long-term interests of shareholders

The primary objective for companies should be to achieve long-term value for shareholders. Corporate governance practices should concentrate the attention of the Board of Directors on this objective. A clear strategy must be implemented to fulfill this objective, while considering all key stakeholders.

ii. To protect the rights of shareholders

All shareholders must be given the opportunity to vote on decisions pertaining to fundamental changes to the Company. Companies must ensure that investors' rights are protected and treated on an equal basis, in particular by respecting the principle of one share - one vote - one dividend.

Capital increases should be regulated in order to minimise dilution risk for existing shareholders. The mechanisms for averting takeover bids must not be deployed to unburden directors of their responsibilities.

iii. To ensure an independent, effective advisory structure

The Board of Directors and committees should maintain a strong presence of non-executive directors to ensure that management is effectively supervised. Directors must have the skills and involvement necessary to improve the efficiency of the Board of Directors. Finally, directors must be chosen in light of the need for the Board to be appropriately diverse.

iv. To align compensation structures with the long-term interest of shareholders Compensation must be aligned with the Company's long-term performance. Compensation schemes should in no way limit the Company's ability to attract and retain directors. They must be in line with best market practices and be clearly communicated to shareholders in detail.

Unaudited appendix

v. To disclose adequate information in a precise and timely manner

Companies should ensure that the financial and operating results as well as information on capital distribution and on environmental, social and governance performance are communicated in a precise and timely manner. Annual audits of the financial statements produced by independent external auditors should exist in all companies.

vi. To ensure sound environmental and social performance

Companies should behave responsibly towards all their stakeholders and respect best environmental, social and governance practices in order to protect the long-term interest of shareholders. Companies should supply information on their carbon emissions and their commitment to the fight against climate change.

c) Practical voting procedures

i. The client

BNPP AM advises its clients to delegate their voting rights to BNPP AM to allow the Company to preserve the interests of shareholders. BNPP AM votes solely in the interest of its clients and the ultimate beneficiaries of the funds for which it is responsible. BNPP AM must not subordinate the interests of its clients to other objectives.

For clients having delegated their voting rights to BNPP AM, BNPP AM will ensure that proxies are received and voted in accordance with BNPP AM guidelines. All BNPP AM clients are made aware that such policies and voting procedures are in place.

ii. Voting committee

BNPP AM has appointed a proxy voting committee (PVC), which draws up the voting policy and then monitors adherence to this policy and the procedures. As voting is considered an integral part of the investment process, ultimate voting responsibility falls to the fund manager.

iii. Voting perimeter

The selection of securities over which BNPP AM exercises voting rights is guided by a dual objective: to concentrate our efforts on positions that account for a major proportion of our assets under management and to attend the general meetings of shareholders of those companies in which our funds hold a significant share of the capital.

Our voting perimeter consists of companies in which the aggregated positions meet the following two criteria:

- They account for 90% of the accumulated total of our equity positions.
- They account for at least 1% of the company's stock exchange capitalisation.

iv. Voting procedure

The following points outline the key steps in the voting procedure by mail, from notification of the agenda for ordinary general meetings (OGM) or extraordinary general meetings (EGM) to execution of the vote:

- The company announces the OGM/EGM and its agenda.
- The custodian sends the ballot papers to the voting platform.
- Securities on loan are recalled or lending is restricted where it is deemed that the vote is important for the company or that too many securities are on loan.
- The SRI team and our voting service provider conduct an analysis of the agenda and make voting recommendations in accordance with our guidelines.
- Dialogue gets under way with issuers on an ad hoc basis.
- Voting instructions are issued by the fund manager or PVC and the vote is executed via our platform.

Unaudited appendix

v. Conflicts of interest

The free exercise of voting rights by BNPP AM would most likely be put in jeopardy in the following situations:

- An employee has personal or professional ties with the company whose shares are subject to the vote;
- Commercial relationships exist between the company concerned by the vote and another entity of the BNP Paribas Group;
- The voting rights being exercised involve shares of the BNP Paribas Group or significant interests of the Group.

A number of mechanisms are aimed at preventing potential conflicts of interest:

- The voting policy stipulates that voting must be carried out “in the exclusive interest of our clients and principals” and stresses the independence of BNPP AM from the BNP Paribas Group and its business lines and subsidiaries;
- The voting guidelines, which provide a decision-making framework in relation to the exercise of the vote, are approved by the BNPP AM Board of Directors;
- Draft resolutions are assessed on the basis of analyses performed by independent external consultants;
- Employees have a duty to respect the procedures governing personal gifts and perquisites, and are obliged to declare any other professional activity;
- The “Chinese wall” separating BNPP AM from the other entities of the Group guarantees that BNPP AM employees remain independent in the conduct of their missions and responsibilities.

Files on all potential conflicts of interest and their resolution will be held with the minutes of the PVC.

Unavoidable conflicts of interest are resolved via an escalation mechanism involving the management of BNPP AM, namely:

- i. The fund manager
- ii. The compliance and internal audit officers
- iii. The Chairman

vi. Transparency and Reporting

BNPP AM is transparent as regards its voting policy and procedures:

- A copy of this policy can be viewed on the BNPP AM website;
- An annual report is published, which gives an overview of our voting activities;
- Details on our voting activity, resolution by resolution, can be obtained by our clients upon request.

d) Voting guidelines

These voting guidelines supplement the voting policy concerning voting at general meetings of shareholders of BNPP AM listed companies. The main types of resolution on which we are called to vote fall within four categories:

- i. Approval of financial statements
- ii. Financial operations
- iii. Appointment and compensation of directors and corporate officers
- iv. Other resolutions (e.g. regulated agreements)

For each type of resolution, the guidelines propose the best practices and indicate situations that may lead to objections or abstentions during the vote.

Voting decisions are taken in view of the following principles:

- “For”: the resolution reflects or is based on best practice and is in the long-term interest of shareholders.
- “Abstention”: the resolution raises an issue from the shareholders’ perspective.
- “Against”: the resolution is unacceptable and is not in the long-term interest of shareholders.

Global market risk exposure

The Management Company of the Fund, after a risk profile assessment, decides between the commitment approach and the VaR (99%, 1 Month) to determine the global market risk exposure.

The VaR limit use (minimum, maximum and average) is calculated by dividing the Daily VaR by the daily VaR limit (20% for absolute return VaR sub-funds and 2 times benchmark VaR for relative VaR sub-funds).

The global market risk exposure information for the year ending 31 December 2018, are as follows:

- Under the supervision of the BNP PARIBAS ASSET MANAGEMENT Holding’s remuneration committee and its board of directors, an independent and central audit of the Global BNP PARIBAS ASSET MANAGEMENT remuneration policy and its implementation over the 2017/2018 financial year was conducted between May and July 2018. The results of this audit, which covered BNP PARIBAS ASSET MANAGEMENT entities included in the integrated perimeter with an AIFM and/or UCITS licence, was rated “Generally satisfactory”. Indeed, no significant issues were found. However, in line with the BNP PARIBAS ASSET MANAGEMENT'S continuous improvement approach, a recommendation was issued, which aims to better align the deferred compensation terms of an executive of BNP PARIBAS ASSET MANAGEMENT, who is also subject to the remuneration framework stemming from by the French transposition of EU Directive CRD IV.
- In 2018, the remuneration policy was adapted, under the supervision of French AMF regulatory authority and in accordance with the requirements of the UCITS Directive, to improve the alignment of interest of identified staff through the award of new deferred instruments. In particular, the performance of the most representative funds of BNP PARIBAS ASSET MANAGEMENT has an increased weight in these new instruments.
- More information on the determination of the variable remuneration and in deferred instruments is set out in the qualitative disclosure on the remuneration policy, which is available on the website of the company.

² NB 2 : As a reminder, level 3 of UCITS V regulation (eg minimum deferred etc...) was published in March 2016 and applies for the first time in performance year 2017, ie to variable remuneration that was awarded in March 2018.

³ The identified staff is determined based on end of year review.

³ The amounts indicated take into account the master-feeder funds.
