Share Class: 1D (ISIN: LU0356592005), (WKN: DBX0A5), (Currency: USD)

Objectives & Investment Policy

The aim is for your investment to reflect the performance of the FED FUNDS EFFECTIVE RATE TOTAL RETURN INDEX® (Index).

The Index reflects the performance of a notional deposit earning the federal funds effective rate with interest being reinvested in the deposit daily. The federal funds effective rate is the interest rate that is charged by depository institutions, with excess reserves at a United States Federal Reserve District Bank, to lend money to other depository institutions overnight. The federal funds effective rate is the average interest rate charged in relation to such loans on a given day. The Federal Open Market Committee sets a target rate and the federal funds effective rate tends to be within a range of that target. The Index is calculated using a specific formula and published by Deutsche Bank on a daily basis on any business day in New York.

The Index is calculated on a gross total return basis which means that all coupons and distributions are reinvested in the tradeable debt (bonds) on a gross basis.

To achieve the aim, the Fund will buy bonds and/or invest in cash deposits and enter into financial contract(s) (derivative(s)) with Deutsche Bank relating to the bonds/deposits and the notional deposit earning the federal funds effective rate, in order to obtain the return on the Index.

Dividends may be paid on your shares.

You may redeem your investment on demand on a daily basis.

Risk and Reward Profile

The risk and reward category is calculated using historical data which may not be a reliable indicator of the Fund's future risk profile.

The risk and reward category may shift over time and is not a target or a guarantee.

The lowest category (i.e. Category 1) does not mean a risk-free investment.

The Fund is in Category 1 because of the low range and frequency of price movements (volatility) of the underlying investments referenced by the Fund.

The following are additional risks not covered by the risk and reward category.

The Fund does not invest directly in the components of the Index and its returns will be dependent on the performance of the bonds and/or cash deposits and the performance of the derivatives used.

The Fund will enter into a derivative with a counterparty (initially Deutsche Bank). If the counterparty fails to make payments (for example, it becomes insolvent) this may result in your investment suffering a loss.

Deutsche Bank and its related companies may act in several roles in relation to the Fund such as distributor, derivative counterparty and management company which may involve conflicts of interest.

The Fund may invest in bonds the value of which depends on the issuer being able to make its payments. There is always a risk that the issuer will fail to do so which may result in your investment suffering a loss.

The Fund is not guaranteed and your investment is at risk. The value of your investment may go down as well as up.

The Fund provides a notional exposure to interest rates, which may be volatile. Interest rates react to various economic, fiscal, monetary and political factors. This may result in your investment suffering a loss, up to a total loss.

The Index has exposure to a single country, which may be adversely affected by factors which have less effect on a fund investing more broadly.

Your investment is dependent on the performance of the Index less costs but your investment is not expected to match that performance precisely.

More information in relation to risks in general may be found in the "Risk Factors" section of the prospectus.
