DERIVATIVES AND STRUCTURED PRODUCTS

The Compartment may use derivatives to reduce various risks (hedging) and for efficient portfolio management, and may use derivatives and structured products to gain exposure to portfolio assets.

INVESTMENT PROCESS

In actively managing the Compartment, the investment manager uses a combination of market analysis and research to build a multi-strategy portfolio that it believes offers an optimal, risk-adjusted return.

Terms to understand

Derivatives Financial instruments whose value is linked to one or more rates, indexes, share prices or other values.

Fixed income arbitrage A strategy that seeks to exploit inefficiencies in the pricing of bonds.

Long/short strategies Strategies that use both long and short positions. A long position (such as ownership) benefits from a rise in a security's value, a short position benefits from a decline in value.

Market neutral strategies Strategies that seek to capture only the underlying performance of a given set of investments by netting out the effects of overall market performance.

Structured products Securities similar to derivatives, but with defined risk or performance characteristics.

Other characteristics

Designed for investors who understand the risks of this Compartment and plan to invest for 5 year(s) or more. This is an accumulation share class, meaning any income earned is retained in the share price. It is also a hedged share class, which means that it is designed to reduce, but not cancel out, the currency risk between the Compartment currency and the Share Class currency. Orders to buy, switch or redeem shares are ordinarily processed every week.

Risk and reward profile

The Share Class is assigned to this risk category because of the price variations resulting from its currency and the nature of the Compartment's investments and strategy. The risk category shown is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication for the future risk profile of the Share Class. It is not a target or a guarantee and may change over time. The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment. The Compartment offers no capital guarantee or asset protection measures. The Compartment may be exposed to the following risks which are not adequately captured by the synthetic risk indicator and may negatively impact its value:

- Financial Derivatives risk: the leverage resulting from derivatives amplifies losses in certain market conditions.
- Liquidity risk: markets with low volumes result in difficulties valuing and/or trading some assets.
- Counterparty risk: losses occur when a counterparty does not honour its obligations related to contracts such as over-the-counter derivatives.
- Operational risk: losses resulting from human errors, system failures, incorrect valuation and safekeeping of assets.

Further information can be found in the prospectus.

Charges

The charges you pay are used to cover the costs of running the Compartment, including the costs of marketing and distributing it. These charges reduce the potential growth of your investment.

The entry, conversion and exit charges shown are maximum figures. In some cases you may pay less. You can find this out from your financial adviser or fund distributor.

The ongoing charges figure is based on expenses for the period ending on 31 December 2019. This figure may vary from year to year. It excludes performance fees and portfolio transaction costs, except in the case of an entry/exit charge paid by the Compartment when buying or selling units/shares in another collective investment undertaking.
