Objectives and Investment Policy

Objective: Seeks to achieve a positive return in all types of market conditions over the recommended holding period.

Portfolio securities: The Sub-Fund invests, directly or indirectly, in equities of companies that are based in, or do most of their business in, Asia. The Sub-Fund may also invest in bonds and money market securities that are either denominated in euro or in other currencies, provided that these are principally hedged back to the euro. The Sub-Fund may use derivatives to reduce various risks, for efficient portfolio management and as a way to gain exposure (either long or short) to various assets, markets or income streams.

Risk and Reward Profile

Lower Risk (not-risk free)

Lower Potential Reward

Higher Risk
Higher Potential Reward

What does this risk indicator mean?

The above risk indicator ranks potential risk and reward and is consistent with the risk limits set for the Sub-Fund. Historical data, such as that used in calculating this synthetic indicator, may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Sub-Fund. The lowest category does not mean a 'risk-free' investment. The Sub-Fund's risk indicator is not guaranteed and may change over time. The Sub-Fund's risk category reflects the fact that the Sub-Fund seeks positive returns in all market conditions. For un-hedged currency classes, exchange rate movements may affect the risk indicator where the currency of the underlying investments differs from the currency of the unit class.

Additional key risks:

The risk indicator may not adequately capture the following additional key risks of the Sub-Fund:

Counterparty risk: Contract parties may default on their obligations under derivatives contracts entered into with the Sub-Fund.

Credit risk: The issuers of bonds held by the Sub-Fund may fail to pay principal or interest due.

Liquidity risk: In adverse market conditions, securities that are liquid may become difficult to value, buy or sell, which could affect the Sub-Fund's ability to process redemption requests.

Operational risk: Losses may occur due to human error or omission, process errors, system disruptions or external events.

Derivatives risk: Derivatives create leverage in the Sub-Fund and may cause movements in the value of the underlying investments to amplify gains or losses to the Sub-Fund.

Emerging market risk: Some of the countries invested in may carry higher political, legal, economic and liquidity risks than investments in more developed countries.

On the 16/02/2018 Pioneer Funds – Absolute Return Asian Equity was renamed Amundi Funds II – Absolute Return Asian Equity.

This Sub-Fund uses derivatives. Derivatives exposure is not reflected in portfolio breakdowns in this document unless otherwise stated.

Investment Strategy

Investment Strategy: The variable bias strategy combines a technically-driven opportunistic trading portfolio with a fundamentally-driven core portfolio with the objective of generating returns with a strong focus on alpha. Long and short positions are primarily managed synthetically using single name swaps (also called Contract for Difference or CFDs) although direct investment in stocks may be used to gain long exposure when swaps are not available. Futures and options on indices and sectors may be used to increase or decrease exposure to regional markets or to hedge existing positions. Currency exposure is typically hedged.

Cash Management: Due to the nature of the instruments used to implement the long/short strategy, Pioneer Funds - Absolute Return Asian Equity has substantial cash available. This cash is managed by Amundi Asset Management's Fixed Income team and is invested predominantly in short dated European treasury bills. At all times, the long positions of the Sub-Fund will be sufficiently liquid in order to cover obligations arising from the short positions of the Sub-Fund. Please refer to the prospectus for the Investment Objective.
