Risk and Reward Profile

Typically lower reward ← → Typically higher reward

Lower risk Higher risk

---	---	---	---	---	---	---

- This indicator shows how much a Fund has risen and fallen in the past, and therefore how much a Fund's returns have varied. It is a measure of a Fund's volatility. The higher a Fund's past volatility the higher the number on the scale and the greater the risk that investors in that Fund may have made losses as well as gains. The lowest number on the scale does not mean that a Fund is risk free.
- The Fund has been classed as 6 because its volatility has been measured as high.
- This indicator is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of this Fund. The risk and reward profile shown is not guaranteed to remain the same and may shift over time. Investors may not get back the amount originally invested and may lose money.

- Liquidity Risk: At times, some shares may trade infrequently which means it may be more difficult for the Fund to buy and sell them. Prices may also be subject to short term swings.
- Counterparty Risk: As the Fund may enter into derivative agreements there is a risk that other parties may fail to meet their obligations. This may lead to delays in receiving amounts due to the Fund, receiving less than is due or receiving nothing.
- Market risk: the value of investments and the income derived from them may fall as well as rise. There is no assurance that the investment objective of the Fund will be achieved.
- Fixed Income Security Risk: Fixed interest securities are affected by trends in interest rates and inflation. If interest rates go up the value of capital may fall and vice versa. Inflation will also decrease the real value of capital. The value of a fixed interest security is also affected by its credit rating.
- Currency Risk: At the portfolio level any currency hedging decisions with regards to non-base currency exposures are at the Fund manager's discretion. When the Fund is not hedged, as the Fund invests in overseas securities, any movements in exchange rates may cause the value of your investment to increase or decrease. At the share class level, this is a non base currency share class which is not hedged back to the base currency of the Fund and may cause the value of your investment to increase or decrease.
- Custody risk: there may be a risk of a loss where the assets of the Fund are held in custody that could result from insolvency, negligence or fraudulent action of the custodian or sub-custodian.
- Financial Techniques Impact: The Fund may invest in derivatives, which may cause the Fund to be leveraged, i.e. the Fund's exposure is greater than its net asset value. A relatively small movement in the value of the derivative's underlying investment may have a much larger impact, positive or negative, on the value of the Fund than if the Fund were to hold the underlying investment itself.
- For full details of the Fund's risks, please see the prospectus which may be obtained from the address in 'Practical Information' overleaf.
