Performance

Indexed value (until 29-02-2024) - Source: Robeco

Performance

Based on transaction prices, the fund's return was 6.22%.

The portfolio outperformed global markets by more than 150 basis points last month. Most of the outperformance was driven by the Digital Transformation of Consumption theme. Our Emerging Middle Class theme showed a small positive contribution, while our Health and Wellbeing theme underperformed the market, despite showing a positive absolute return.

Portfolio changes

We added two new positions to the portfolio last month. We initiated an investment in Coloplast to further expand our exposure to consumer health. Coloplast is the market leader in ostomy care, a stable growth market with organic growth in the high single digits. We also welcomed back long-lost friend Inditex. Inditex is a Spanish apparel retailer (known for the Zara apparel and while retail has been a tough neighborhood, we think the relative maturity of e-commerce and the company's successful omnichannel strategy means the company can regain its long-term growth model.

Market development

Corporate earnings took center stage during the month of February. After last quarter broke a string of year-over-year earnings declines, this earnings season investors specifically focused on what companies could sustain the positive top-line momentum. Now that the pace of inflation has moderated, the impact on profit margins was also closely scrutinized. With more than 90% of US companies having reported, we can look back on a successful earnings season, as earnings growth averaged roughly 8%. Sectors like technology and consumer discretionary registered the fastest earnings growth, while healthcare and energy earnings declined. In terms of stock market responses to the reported earnings, forward earnings guidance is always crucial. Most companies tend to err on the conservative side when providing guidance for the full year, and therefore it is always very insightful to see the initial reaction of the market. Across the board, we are very pleased with the overall results for our portfolio companies.

Expectation of fund manager

From a macro perspective, we have reached the end of interest rate hikes by central banks, and investors still expect the first rate cuts in the first half of 2024, even though they have been pushed out towards the second quarter. Given the uncertain macro and geopolitical environment, a quality growth investment style seems well suited for the current investment climate. Our balanced approach should provide protection to the downside, while also providing enough structural growth to participate in the upside.

Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating

The Portfolio Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating chart displays the portfolio's ESG Risk Rating. This is calculated by multiplying each portfolio component's Sustainalytics ESG Risk Rating by its respective portfolio weight. The Distribution across Sustainalytics ESG Risk levels chart shows the portfolio allocations broken into Sustainalytics' five ESG risk levels: negligible (0-10), low (10-20), medium (20-30), high (30-40) and severe (40+), providing an overview of portfolio exposure to the different ESG risk levels. Index scores are provided alongside the portfolio scores, highlighting the portfolio's ESG risk level compared to the index.

Environmental Footprint

Environmental footprint expresses the total resource consumption of the portfolio per mUSD invested. Each assessed company's footprint is calculated by normalizing resources consumed by the company's enterprise value including cash (EVIC). We aggregate these figures to portfolio level using a weighted average, multiplying each assessed portfolio constituent's footprint by its respective position weight. For comparison, index footprints are shown besides that of the portfolio. The equivalent factors that are used for comparison between the portfolio and index represent European averages and are based on third-party sources combined with own estimates. As such, the figures presented are intended for illustrative purposes and are purely an indication. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

SDG Impact Alignment

This distribution across SDG scores shows the portfolio weight allocated to companies with a positive, negative and neutral impact alignment with the Sustainable Development Goals (SDG) based on Robeco's SDG Framework. The framework utilizes a three-step approach to assess a company's impact alignment with the relevant SDGs and assign a total SDG score. The score ranges from positive to negative impact alignment with levels from high, medium or low impact alignment. This results in a 7-step scale from -3 to +3. For comparison, index figures are provided alongside that of the portfolio. Only holdings mapped as corporates are included in the figures.

Engagement

Robeco distinguishes between three types of engagement. Value Engagement focuses on long-term issues that are financially material and/or are causing adverse sustainability impacts. The themes can be broken into Environmental, Social, Governance, or Voting-related. SDG Engagement aims to drive a clear and measurable improvement in a company's SDG contribution. Enhanced engagement is triggered by misconduct and focuses on companies severely breaching international standards. The report is based on all companies in the portfolio for which engagement activities have taken place during the past 12 months. Note that companies may be under engagement in multiple categories simultaneously. While the total portfolio exposure excludes double counting, it may not equal the sum of individual category exposures.

	Portfolio exposure	# companies engaged with	# activities with companies engaged with
Total (* excluding double counting)	47.15%	19	74
Environmental	4.00%	2	6
Social	3.52%	2	8
Governance	12.33%	5	21
