Attribution results are calculated over a trailing 12 month period or since inception (if data is less than 12 months). Attribution is intended to demonstrate trends in performance due to security selection and sector/country allocation and is calculated from the underlying segregated asset positions and may not add up to the total portfolio return calculated using the NAV of the fund. Fund sector/country weights in the attribution table are based on beginning market values, adjusted for purchases and sales activities during the year.

Value added chart

Value added calculation is based on performance of Class O (acc) USD shares.

Important Risk Considerations:

Currency Risk:	Sub-Funds are invested in securities denominated in different currencies other than the Reference currency. As a result, changes in the value of the Reference Currency compared to other currencies will affect the value in the Reference Currency of any securities denominated in another currency.
Currency Hedging Risk:	Hedging currency risks may protect investors against a decrease in the value of the Reference Currency relative to the Hedged Share Class, but it may also preclude investors from benefiting from an increase in the value of such currencies. All costs and gains/losses of hedging transactions are borne by the relevant Hedged Share Classes.
Derivative Risk:	Derivative instruments are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the underlying asset that they are based on. Certain derivatives may result in losses greater than the amount originally invested.
Large Shareholder Risk:	Investors holding a large portion of issued and outstanding shares of a Sub-Fund are likely to incur transaction costs in case of redemptions.
Market Risk:	The market value of a Sub-Fund's investments will fluctuate based on specific company developments, broader equity or fixed-income market conditions, economic and financial conditions.
Securities Lending Risk:	The risk that the Sub-Fund may be left holding the collateral delivered by the other party to secure securities lending transactions.
Small Cap Risk:	Securities of small cap companies are typically traded less frequently and in smaller volumes relative to large cap companies, leading to less stable prices and difficulty to trade.
Specialization Risk:	Sub-Funds specializing in a particular sector may lead to underperformance relative to less specialized investments.

As a result, at the time of redemption, Sub-Fund Shares may be worth more or less than the original purchase price. There can be a number of risk factors that impact the value of an investment in a Sub-Fund. Investors should refer to the section called "Risk Factors" in the Prospectus before investing.
