Absolute Insight Equity Market Neutral Fund

The Fund returned -0.53% (net of fees) over the period, compared to a three-month sterling Libid return of 0.23%.*

The Fund's performance was driven by contributions across a range of positions. Over the period, equity market performance was dominated by changing views with regard to macro factors and central bank policy. We reduced gross exposure over the period in response to uncertainty and in anticipation of increased equity market volatility.

After weak performance in late 2015, equity markets made a poor start to the year in January as emerging market weakness spilled over to developed markets, and China and the oil price dominated sentiment. From the end of January, equity markets reacted to the weak US dollar – causing a rotation away from well-established prior trends. Dollar weakness fed through to rallies in commodities which in turn led to strength in emerging markets. A weak dollar, and sharply rallying emerging markets and commodity prices, gave the impression of an inflationary backdrop. However, bond markets had not reacted at all, and implied levels of inflation barely moved.

Our inclination is that the bond market is right, and any equity market moves that anticipate a marked acceleration in global growth and sustained pick-up in inflation will be short-lived. Either way, we have witnessed a period of very low equity market volatility, but high levels of macro uncertainty with large moves in many currencies, commodities and bond markets. We regard these moves as difficult to forecast, hence have spent considerable time trying to minimise the Fund's exposure to these factors through tighter hedging.

A weak US dollar has been helpful to emerging markets and to the Chinese economy in the short term. Nonetheless, while currency reserve pressure may have lifted, there is increased concern around debt levels, and potential impairments. This simply illustrates the degree to which policy makers are boxed in – while weakening the dollar takes the pressure off emerging market currencies, growth and stability concerns in the emerging markets remain. Again equity markets have been telling a different story, with all things emerging market-related performing well through the rotation.

The impending Brexit vote has clearly exacerbated the fragile market environment. For many actively managed funds, the only real protection from the investment impact of a potential leave outcome is to reduce gross exposure or active position sizes and to wait for the event to pass.

The Fund's gross exposure has continued to reduce to low levels and at the margin we have reduced some industrial shorts linked to the commodities food chain reflecting our conviction that now is the time to minimise losses and preserve capital. When conditions improve we will be in a strong position to use this capital to rebuild Fund exposure.

Absolute Insight Currency Fund

The Fund returned -3.11% (net of fees) over the period, compared to a three-month sterling Libid return of 0.23%.*

Sentiment during the period under review was dominated by central bank announcements and commentary from policymakers was closely followed to garner clues about central bank thinking. Economic data releases were also keenly watched to help gauge the health of the global economy and offer further insight into the future direction of policy rates.

Early during the period under, the Federal Reserve (Fed) suggested that it remained on course to lift interest rates at its policy meeting in December. Conversely, commentary from the European Central Bank (ECB) suggested it was likely to ease policy in December, citing worries that an extended period of low inflation could become entrenched in inflation expectations. This raised hopes that the ECB would increase the size and/or pace of its monthly bond purchase programme and potentially cut the deposit rate further.

In the event, the ECB did ease policy in December, However, expectations ahead of the policy meeting were high and investors were left underwhelmed by the announcement. In contrast, the reaction to the Fed's policy announcement was more muted as the Fed raised the benchmark federal funds rate for the first time since 2006 as indicated.

Expectations grew that the ECB was set to announce further policy easing measures. In March, the ECB surprised investors by unveiling an aggressive packing of measures that included an expansion to its quantitative easing programme to include non-bank corporate debt. The Fed also surprised markets by issuing dovish comments, leading to a weakening in the US dollar (USD).

The Bank of Japan refrained from easing monetary policy in April, contrary to market expectations for further stimulus, driving the Japanese yen higher.

The main theme in the Fund was a long USD position against a number of currencies and this was a significant driver of negative performance over the period. Our short euro (EUR) position also detracted from returns. Our short EUR position generated a significant loss in December as the currency rose sharply following the ECB announcement caught investors by surprise. The ECB announcement left investors underwhelmed and the currency rallied sharply as investors exited crowded short positions. At the start of 2016, a weakening USD also hurt performance. We began to cautiously build short positions in emerging market and commodity-linked currencies against the USD. These initially gained value, but subsequently turned negative as the USD weakened and commodity prices recovered. In addition, the Fed also surprised markets by issuing dovish comments, leading to a further weakening in the USD as investors pushed out expectations for rate rises in the US this year.

The Fed's dovishness has weighed on the USD but, at the same time, it is difficult to see how rate hike expectations could be pushed out further. If US jobs growth continues at its recent pace and inflation continues to pick up, we would argue that at some point the Fed will likely consider raising rates again.

Absolute Insight Emerging Market Debt Fund

The Fund returned 2.38% (net of fees) over the period, compared to a three-month sterling Libid return of 0.23%.*

Increased expectations of an imminent rate hike from the Federal Reserve (Fed), new lows in commodity prices and heightened political risk in Brazil were the dominant drivers of emerging markets (EM) early in the period under review. Risk assets, including EM assets, remained on the back foot at the start of 2016 as global growth fears, confusion over monetary policy and a sustained drop in the oil price continued to weigh on sentiment into the new year.

Risk assets later rebounded strongly in the second half of February as sentiment improved on the back of better US economic data, a sharp bounce in oil prices, and soothing rhetoric from global central banks. Both the European Central Bank (ECB) and the People's Bank of China signalled that further monetary easing was likely, while the Fed suggested that it may be more cautious about raising rates after lifting policy rates in December for the first time since 2006.

The bounce in risk assets that began in mid-February turned into a strong rally in March and continued through into April as the Fed scaled back its projections for rate hikes in 2016 and as the ECB eased monetary policy further in more innovative ways. China pledging more fiscal stimulus and a continued rebound in commodity prices were also supportive. Favourable technical factors and attractive valuations also helped EM outperform relative to other risk assets during the latter half of the period under review. Positive political developments in Brazil, which notably underperformed in 2015, also helped EM overall.

Against this backdrop, our exposure to external and local currency sovereign debt were the strongest contributors to performance during the period under review. Quasi government and corporate debt, both local and external, were also positive contributors to performance.

We entered the new year with very defensive positioning but the sharpness of the sell-off prompted us to significantly alter the overall exposure of the Fund towards the end of January.

We think the drivers that have supported EM assets since February remain in place. There have also been signs of a stabilisation in EM growth as indicators such as global trade, balance of payments positions and purchasing managers' indices pointing to a widening differential between EM and developed market growth this year. Technical factors also remain supportive as issuance has fallen short of expectations and inflows into the asset class continue.

However, given the pace and scale of the rebound so far, we believe some consolidation should be expected. In the near term, a move lower in commodity prices and resumption in the US dollar's upward momentum could cause this. It could also be argued that seasonal trends do not bode well for EM assets over May and June.

Therefore, while we maintain our positive view on EM assets over the medium term, we are more cautious in the near term and, as such, have trimmed some risk, particularly in areas that have performed strongly such as EM FX.

^{*}Fund return is sterling, share class B1p and net of 1% annual management charge and 10% performance fee.

Absolute Insight Credit Fund

The Fund returned -4.15% (net of fees) over the period, compared to a three-month sterling Libid return of 0.23%.*

It was a volatile period for credit assets. Although markets experienced relative calm towards the end of 2015, spreads suddenly widened to three-year highs in 2016 before a wave of dovish central bank rhetoric and action led to a strong rally, which allowed markets to perform well from mid-February onwards. However, ABS lagged the rally in credit and Brexit risks continued to weigh on the sector.

The Fund held a defensive stance into the new year, with net long position during the final quarter of 2015. In December we reduced the Fund's credit risk sharply by selling some higher-beta ABS and some longer-dated high yield bonds. We retained our tail risk hedges in credit default swap indices and selective equity put options to protect the Fund from further sharp sell-offs.

We switched to a net short during the first quarter of 2016 which contributed negatively to returns as the index rallied strongly during the second half of the quarter, in part due to the European Central Bank's (ECB) announcement of policy easing measures, which included a corporate bond-buying programme. The Fund reverted to a net long position which contributed positively in March and April. Our investment grade holdings were the strongest contributor to returns.

We also continued to hold a strategic long position in asset-backed securities. This was positive towards the end of 2015, but overall it has a negative impact on returns as the sector lagged in 2016. High yield bonds were also negative overall. Looking ahead, the longer-term outlook for credit remains tricky and so we remain strategically cautious. We retain a long bias overall, preferring financials exposure to increased exposure elsewhere, such as high yield. We believe the outlook is improving for ABS and given that the UK makes up a substantial proportion of the market, we expect our ABS positions to catch up following the UK's vote on European Union membership. We do not anticipate material changes to our positioning in May.

Insight Broad Opportunities Fund

The Fund returned -0.26% (net of fees) over the period, compared to a three-month sterling Libid return of 0.23%.*

Of the Fund's four return components, equities and total return strategies detracted from returns, while fixed income and real assets contributed positively.

In November, commodity market weakness weighed on risk assets, but developed market equities and higher quality corporate bonds strengthened. The Fund performed positively against this backdrop, driven by equity market holdings, as markets rose in anticipation of additional policy easing by the European Central Bank (ECB). Total return strategies were also positive. However, the ECB's subsequent announcement in December was disappointing relative to expectations, and the resulting negative sentiment weighed on equity markets. The decision by the Federal Open Market Committee to raise rates in the US was initially viewed positively, and developed equity markets rallied, but this optimism proved short-lived as concerns grew over the impact of higher rates and a stronger US dollar on global growth. Against this backdrop, the Fund's equity and fixed income holdings detracted from performance, marginally offset by real asset returns. We reduced directional equity exposure over the month.

In early 2016, the Fund was initially negative, but later turned positive, over a period characterised by sharp gyrations in asset class performance. Risk assets were very weak at the start of the year as growth fears extended beyond China, and markets priced in a higher probability of a US recession. Global equities fell around 12% to mid-February lows, making their worst start to a year for a long time.

Having started the year with low exposure to risk assets and higher-than-average exposure to more defensive assets, the Fund held up relatively well through that period.

In February, risk assets rebounded aided by a rising oil price, supportive central bank policy/narrative, and early signs of stabilisation in forward-looking indicators. This led us to add back some risk asset exposures in equities, high yield and emerging market debt, which helped performance through March and April. Real assets performed well towards the end of the period under review due to positive company-specific news and a strong pipeline for new investments.

Looking ahead, though developments including recent economic data have made us a little more cautious, we still think 2016 will be a year of moderate growth in the key developed markets. We believe conditions in China should continue to improve, which should have a knock-on impact on domestic economic conditions in key economies around the world.

Absolute Insight Dynamic Opportunities Fund

The Fund returned 0.31% (net of fees) over the period, compared to a three-month sterling Libid return of 0.23%.*

Of the three elements of the portfolio, positions focused on generating stable returns drove positive performance, and relative value positions also supported returns. Non-linear derivative strategies detracted from performance. We managed positions over the period in response to changing market conditions and events.

Within positions focused on generating stable returns, infrastructure holdings and dividend futures gained value over the period. Infrastructure performed defensively in the January sell-off, and continued to perform well on the back of positive company-specific news.

Relative value positions recorded a positive return from fixed income positions, primarily due to Japanese and US curveflattening positions. However, these gains were largely offset by other relative value positions, including equity positions and currency positions.

Within non-linear derivative strategies, breakout strategies, which are designed to profit when a market or asset breaks out of a trading range within a specified time frame, detracted from performance due largely to a Japanese equity downside position. Range-bound strategies, which are designed to profit when a market or asset trades within a range over a specified time frame, were also negative overall.

Looking ahead, though developments including recent economic data have made us a little more cautious, we still think 2016 will be a year of moderate growth in the key developed markets. We believe conditions in China should continue to improve, which should have a knock-on impact on domestic economic conditions in key economies around the world.

The Company is structured as an umbrella investment company with variable capital. A variety of Funds may be established from time to time by the Directors. Shares of more than one class may be issued in relation to a Fund. The Company has segregated liability between its Funds. A separate portfolio of assets shall be maintained for each Fund and shall be invested in accordance with the investment objective applicable to such Fund. As at 30 April 2016, the Company had six Funds in operation, namely Absolute Insight Equity Market Neutral Fund, Absolute Insight Currency Fund, Absolute Insight Emerging Market Debt Fund, Absolute Insight Credit Fund, Insight Broad Opportunities Fund and Absolute Insight Dynamic Opportunities Fund (the "Funds"). Other Funds may be established from time to time.

Absolute Insight Equity Market Neutral Fund

The investment objective of the Fund is to seek to provide attractive, positive absolute returns in all market conditions.

The Fund aims to achieve its objective on a rolling 12 month basis through discretionary management and may employ a range of hedging techniques. In addition the Fund aims to target 3 month LIBID + 3% on a rolling annualised 5 year basis gross of fees and expenses.

The Fund seeks to generate long-term capital growth, primarily from investing in a range of equity and equity-related securities and financial derivative instruments permitted by the regulations. The Fund will also invest in a broad range of liquid or near cash assets. This asset class will be held both as an absolute return producing asset class in its own right, and also to provide liquidity and cover for exposures generated through the use of financial derivative instruments.

A key feature of the Fund is that it is an absolute return fund in that it seeks to provide positive absolute returns in all market conditions. In addition to maintaining a portfolio of liquid or near cash assets, it will also generally seek to achieve this by minimising the market related risks usually associated with investing in equities (otherwise known as "beta"), whilst isolating the stock specific returns, (otherwise known as "alpha").

Absolute Insight Currency Fund

The investment objective of the Fund is to seek to provide attractive, positive absolute returns in all market conditions.

The Fund aims to achieve its objective on a rolling 12 month basis through discretionary management and may employ a range of hedging techniques. In addition the Fund aims to target at least 3 month LIBID + 4% on a rolling annualised 5 year basis gross of fees and expenses.

The Fund seeks to generate long-term capital growth, primarily through obtaining exposure to a range of global currencies. The Fund will maintain a portfolio of liquid or near cash assets. This asset class will be held both as an absolute return producing asset class in its own right, and also to provide liquidity and cover for exposures generated through the use of financial derivative instruments.

A key feature of the Fund is that it is an absolute return Fund in that it seeks to provide positive absolute returns in all market conditions. In addition to maintaining a portfolio of liquid or near cash assets, it will seek to achieve this by maintaining well diversified exposure across a number of currencies.

1. General information (continued)

Absolute Insight Emerging Market Debt Fund

The investment objective of the Fund is to seek to provide attractive, positive absolute returns in all market conditions.

The Fund aims to achieve its objective on a rolling 12 month basis through discretionary management and may employ a range of hedging techniques. In addition the Fund aims to target at least 3 month LIBID + 4% on a rolling annualised 5 year basis gross of fees and expenses.

The Fund aims to produce investment returns through direct holdings of debt and debt-related securities relating to emerging market countries which display low volatility and low correlation to other markets.

The Fund aims to augment these returns by generating long-term capital growth, primarily from investing in interest rate and exchange rate strategies across a range of emerging market bond markets, by using a full range of financial derivative instruments.

The Fund will also maintain a portfolio of liquid or near cash assets. This asset class will be held both as an absolute return producing asset class in its own right, and also to provide liquidity and cover for exposures generated through the use of financial derivative instruments.

A key feature of the Fund is that it is an absolute return Fund in that it seeks to provide positive absolute returns in all market conditions. In addition to maintaining a portfolio of liquid or near cash assets, the Sub-Investment Manager will seek to achieve this by a combination of hedging out the market related interest rate and exchange rate risk that usually arises from direct holdings of emerging market debt securities, so that the Fund retains only the stock specific credit exposure and/or taking both "long" and "short" investment positions across a range of markets.

Absolute Insight Credit Fund

The investment objective of the Fund is to seek to provide attractive, positive absolute returns in all market conditions.

The Fund aims to achieve its objective on a rolling 12 month basis through discretionary management and may employ a range of hedging techniques. In addition the Fund aims to target at least 3 month LIBID + 5% on a rolling annualised 5 year basis gross of fees and expenses.

The Fund seeks to produce investment returns primarily through direct holdings of debt and debt-related securities including but not limited to debt securities, debt instruments, debt obligations, treasury bills, debentures, bonds, loan investments, structured financial instruments and certificates of deposit, floating rate notes, short and medium term obligations and commercial paper. Such debt and debt-related securities may be fixed or floating rate and are issued or guaranteed by any sovereign government or their agencies, local authority, supranational or public international bodies, banks, corporates or other commercial issuers. The Fund may invest on a worldwide basis and may, accordingly, invest in emerging markets.

The Fund aims to augment these returns by generating long-term capital growth, primarily from investing in a range of directional and non-directional strategies across a range of bond markets, by using a full range of financial derivative instruments.

The Fund will also generally maintain a portfolio of liquid or near cash assets. This asset class will be held both as an absolute return producing asset class in its own right, and also to provide liquidity and cover for exposures generated through the use of financial derivative instruments.

A key feature of the Fund is that it is an absolute return Fund in that it seeks to provide positive absolute returns in all market conditions. In addition to maintaining a portfolio of liquid or near cash assets, the Sub-Investment Manager will seek to achieve this by a combination of hedging out the market related interest rate and exchange rate risk that usually arises from direct holdings of emerging market debt securities, so that the Fund retains only the stock specific credit exposure and/or taking both "long" and "short" investment positions across a range of markets.

Insight Broad Opportunities Fund

The Fund aims to deliver attractive, positive long-term returns.

The Fund seeks to generate long-term capital growth through a dynamic asset allocation strategy involving several asset classes (namely equities, fixed income securities as well as commodities and property), primarily through an investment in investment funds and financial derivative instruments. The Fund will also make tactical asset allocations as and when appropriate opportunities arise.

The Fund will typically invest in a diversified and broad range of these asset classes subject to the investment restrictions outlined in the Prospectus.

The Fund will generally seek to achieve its investment objective through investing by reference to macroeconomic themes, rather than by individual stock picking.

The Fund shall also take directional views both on equity markets, equity sectors and themes, fixed income markets and, through the use of derivatives on indices, on commodities and property. The Sub-Investment Manager will seek to dynamically adjust the investments of the Fund according to the risk tolerances it will apply to the Fund. In so doing, it will seek to limit downside risk at the expense of some upside potential.

Absolute Insight Dynamic Opportunities Fund

The investment objective of the Fund is to deliver attractive, positive absolute returns in all market conditions.

The Fund aims to achieve its objective on a rolling 12 month basis through discretionary management and dynamic strategy allocation involving several asset classes and investment strategies. The Fund will make tactical asset allocations as and when appropriate opportunities arise. The Fund aims to target at least 3 month LIBID + 5% on a rolling annualised 5 year basis gross of fees and expenses.

The Fund may invest in equities, debt and debt-related securities and currencies, through direct investment, financial derivative instruments and Investment Funds. The Fund may also invest in commodities, property and infrastructure through financial derivatives and investment funds. Investment in commodities will only be through financial derivative instruments and will be used to gain exposure to eligible commodity indices which have been cleared by the Central Bank. No direct investment will be made in commodities, property or infrastructure. The Fund may invest on a global basis and there is no geographical, industry or sector focus in relation to the equities or other asset classes to which exposure may be taken.

A key feature of the Fund is that it is an absolute return fund in that it seeks to provide positive absolute returns in all market conditions. In addition to maintaining a portfolio of liquid or near cash assets (as defined in the Prospectus) it will also generally seek to achieve this by combining long and short positions to achieve an enhanced risk/return profile compared to traditional long only funds.

7. Financial instruments and associated risks

The Company's financial risk management objectives and policies are consistent with those disclosed in the Company's audited Financial Statements as at 31 October 2015.

a. Fair value information

FRS 102 section on "Fair Value: Disclosure" requires disclosure relating to the fair value hierarchy in which fair value measurements are categorised for financial assets and financial liabilities. The disclosures are based on a three-level fair value hierarchy for the inputs used in valuation techniques to measure fair value. In March 2016, the Financial Reporting Council ("FRC") issued amendment to FRS 102 section on "Fair Value: Disclosure". In particular, paragraph 34.22 was amended to redefine levels A, B and C and rename the levels to the old convention 1, 2 & 3, effective for accounting periods beginning on or after 1 January 2017, with early application permitted. The Company has early adopted this amendment in preparing these financial statements for the six months ended 30 April 2016.

- Level 1 The unadjusted quoted price in an active market for identical assets or liabilities that the entity can access at the measurement date.
- ii) Level 2 Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable (i.e. developed using market data) for the asset or liability, either directly or indirectly.
- iii) Level 3 Inputs are unobservable (i.e. for which market data is unavailable) for the asset or liability.

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised is determined on the basis of the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on unobservable inputs, that measurement is a Level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the asset or liability.

The determination of what constitutes 'observable' requires significant judgement by the Company. The Company considers observable data to be that market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined based on the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

Investments whose values are based on quoted market prices in active markets, and therefore classified within Level 1, include active listed equities, investment funds, short-term deposits and exchange traded derivatives (futures). The Company does not adjust the quoted price for these instruments.

Financial instruments that trade in markets that are not considered to be active but are valued based on quoted market prices, dealer quotations or alternative pricing sources supported by observable inputs are classified within Level 2. These include bonds, investment funds without full listing and with no redemption restrictions, and over-the-counter derivatives (swaps, options, forward foreign currency exchange contracts and contracts for difference).

Notes forming part of the Financial Statements

for the period from 1 November 2015 to 30 April 2016 (continued)

7. Financial instruments and associated risks (continued)

a. Fair value information (continued)

Investments classified within Level 3 have significant unobservable inputs, as they trade infrequently.

The prior year comparatives have been restated to conform with current period presentation.

The tables below analyse each Fund's financial instruments measured at fair value through profit or loss at 30 April 2016 by the level in the fair value hierarchy into which the fair value measurement is categorised:

The Performance Fee is calculated for each individual share in issue at the end of the Performance Period (as defined below), and the total fee payable for a particular share class is the sum of all such individual calculations relating to that share class.

The Performance Fee in respect of a particular share in issue becomes due in the event that both of the conditions below are met:

- the percentage growth in the NAV per share over the Performance Period exceeds a target rate of growth being, the Hurdle Rate applicable to that particular share (as defined below), over the same period; and
- the NAV per share at the end of the Performance Period exceeds the High Water Mark for that particular share being the highest NAV per share at the end of any previous Performance Periods for the particular share (or the issue price where the share was issued in the current Performance Period).

The Performance Period shall normally run from 1 January to 31 December the following year but, in the case of the initial issue of shares in each class, the first performance period will run from the date of issue to the following 31 December. In the case of a redemption of shares, the Performance Period in respect of those shares will end on the redemption date of the shares, and a Performance Fee will become due and be payable within one month.

The Performance Fee in respect of each individual share is equal to 10% or 20%, where applicable, of the excess of the NAV per share at the end of a Performance Period over the target NAV per share. The target NAV per share is equal to the NAV per share at the end of the previous Performance Period (or the issue price where the share was issued in the current Performance Period) multiplied by the Hurdle Rate +1, or the High Water Mark for the particular share, which ever is the greater. The Performance Fee is payable one month after the end of the Performance Period.

On a redemption of shares, the redemption will be attributed to existing shares in issue in order to determine which particular shares are being redeemed on a reasonable and fair basis as agreed with the Depositary. The total Performance Fee payable will be the Performance Fee calculated as above attributable to the shares being redeemed on the same basis.

The Hurdle Rate for the Euro shares will be the 3-month EURIBID defined as 3-month EURIBOR (Euro Interbank Offered Rate as determined by the European Banking Federation), minus 0.1%.

The Hurdle Rate for the GBP shares will be the 3-month LIBID defined as 3-month LIBOR (London Interbank Offered Rate as determined by the British Banker's Association), minus 0.125%.

The Hurdle Rate for the USD shares will be the 3-month US LIBID defined as 3-month US LIBOR (US Dollar London Interbank Offered Rate as determined by the European Banking Federation), minus 0.1%.

The Hurdle Rate for the JPY shares will be the 3-month JPY LIBID defined as 3-month JPY LIBOR (Japanese Yen London Interbank Offered Rate as determined by the British Banker's Association), minus 0.1%.

The Hurdle Rate for SEK shares will be the 3-month STIBOR (Stockholm Interbank Offer Rate as determined by the Swedish Banker's Association) minus 0.125%.

11. Efficient Portfolio Management

A Fund may engage in derivative instruments transactions for investment purposes or for the purposes of the efficient portfolio management. The term "efficient portfolio management" refers to transactions that are entered into with the aim of reducing risk, reducing cost or generating additional capital for the Fund with an appropriate level of risk, taking into account the risk profile of the Fund as described in the relevant Supplement. The Funds may also engage in over the counter derivative transactions.

The Absolute Insight Equity Market Neutral Fund, the Absolute Insight Currency Fund, the Absolute Insight Emerging Market Debt Fund, the Absolute Insight Credit Fund, the Insight Broad Opportunities Fund and the Absolute Insight Dynamic Opportunities Fund enter into forward foreign currency exchange contracts for efficient portfolio management purposes both from a portfolio and share class hedging perspective. The Absolute Insight Currency Fund enters into forward foreign currency exchange contracts for efficient portfolio management purposes from a share class hedging perspective.

The gains/(losses) associated with each financial derivative instrument are disclosed in note 3, Net gains/(losses) on investments. The schedule of investment for each Fund provides details of any open financial derivative instruments contracts as at 30 April 2016 together with the unrealised gain/(loss) and the counterparty associated with each position. The Company recognises financial assets and financial liabilities held for trading on the date it commits to purchase or sell short the instruments. From this date any gains and losses arising from changes in fair value of the assets or liabilities are recognised.

Derivatives Risk

Derivatives (such as swaps) are highly specialised instruments that require investment techniques and risk analysis different from those associated with equities and debt securities. The use of a derivative requires an understanding not only of the underlying instrument but also of the derivative itself. In particular, the use and complexity of derivatives require the maintenance of adequate controls to monitor the transactions entered into and the ability to assess the risk that a derivative transaction adds to a portfolio. There can be no guarantee or assurance that the use of derivatives will meet or assist in meeting the investment objectives of a Fund. When engaging in derivative transactions the brokers or counterparties to such transactions will be credit institutions as described in the Prospectus which have a credit rating of at least A- as rated by a recognised rating agency, or lower where the credit institution posts initial margin.
