The BofA Merrill Lynch Global High Yield Constrained Index tracks the performance of below-investment-grade corporate debt denominated in U.S. dollars, Canadian dollars, pounds and euros that are publicly issued in the major U.S. or eurobond markets.

The weighting of index constituents is limited to a maximum 2%. The BofA Merrill Lynch U.S. High Yield BB-B Index measures the performance of BB and B rated high yield bonds in the U.S. market. Unmanaged index returns assume reinvestment of any and all distributions and do not reflect any fees, expenses or sales charges.

Effective April 1, 2016, the Credit Suisse High Yield Index became the Credit Suisse US High Yield Index. The associated changes, which had only a modest impact to index results, included moving from daily to monthly index rebalancing and removing PIK bonds from the index. Also, bonds from Emerging Market-based issuers were no longer included in the index, and the decision to add or remove fallen angels and rising stars will now take into account Fitch ratings.

The Credit Suisse High Yield Index consists of US-denominated high yield issues of developed countries. Issues must be publicly registered in the U.S. or issued under Rule 144A with registration rights, must be rated "BB" or lower, and the minimum amount outstanding (par value) must be at least $75 Million.

Duration is the weighted average time to full recovery of principal and interest payments for a fixed income security; typically used to discuss interest rate sensitivity of an investment; duration is a less useful measure for equity and equity sensitive investments. Maturity of bonds is the date on which principal is due back to the borrower, in a portfolio.
