In order to achieve its investment objective, the Fund will use a tactical asset allocation strategy which has no formal limitations on exposure to any specific asset class, sector, country or region, including emerging markets. In this regard, the Investment Manager will seek to actively allocate the Fund's portfolio of investments across asset classes to diversify returns, manage risk and achieve the investment objective. The asset allocation model will be adjusted dynamically in anticipation of and in response to changes in economic and market conditions. Allocations will be made at the Investment Manager's discretion, based upon analysis of investment returns primarily from asset allocation but also from sector and security selection. Investments within each asset class are then selected by analysing the profitability, cash flow, earnings and valuations to determine their attractiveness.

Please refer to the Prospectus for the full investment objective and policy of all the Funds.

How the Funds are managed

The Manager of the Company, Baring International Fund Managers (Ireland) Limited, has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of Barings China Select Fund. In turn, Baring Asset Management Limited has appointed Baring Asset Management (Asia) Limited as Sub-Investment Manager of the Fund.

The Fund is managed using a "Growth at a Reasonable Price" ("GARP") approach. This means that when researching candidates for the portfolio, just as much emphasis is placed on the likely growth in corporate earnings of a company as is placed on the share price valuation before deciding whether to invest or not. This approach combines the best features of both "growth" and "value" investment styles, to the benefit of investors. A significant emphasis is placed on fundamental research, looking for companies which have the potential to deliver better-than-expected earnings growth. Over the long term, the Investment Manager aims to deliver the majority of returns through active stock picking and expects to achieve most of the added value from stock selection.

The Manager of the Company, has also appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of Barings Europe Select Fund, Barings European Opportunities Fund, Barings Frontier Markets Fund and Barings German Growth Fund.

At Barings, our equity investment teams share the philosophy of quality "Growth at a Reasonable Price" or GARP. We believe that earnings growth is the principal driver of equity market performance over the medium to long term, and favour high-quality companies for their ability to outperform the market on a risk-adjusted basis. In particular, we believe that structured fundamental research and a disciplined investment process combining quality, growth and upside disciplines can allow us to identify attractively priced, long-term growth companies which will outperform the market. Our approach emphasises quality criteria when looking at companies and a three-to five-year time horizon when forecasting company earnings. In determining upside, we use consistent and transparent methods to place emphasis on discounted earnings models.

The Manager of the Company, has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of Barings Global Dividend Champions Fund.

Our investment process is predominantly "bottom-up". To find the exceptional businesses that make up the strategy, we use a broad range of research inputs: Barings' internal analytical resources, industry experts, company meetings, quantitative research and company reports, among others. We are natural sceptics – rather than buying into a "story", we seek proof of a company's excellence. Only our highest-conviction ideas make it into the strategy, so robust debate and close analysis of fundamentals are key.

We evaluate candidate companies using the following three-stage process:

- Quality: we scrutinise a company's business model, looking for a range of features and competitive advantages, including network effects, benefits to incumbency, large installed bases, leading brands or a sustainable research and development ("R&D") edge. Upon inspection, companies must earn attractive returns on capital, possess excellent financial profiles and have a management team committed to its role as the steward of shareholder wealth.
- 2. Growth: we assess our candidate companies' ability to deliver long-term profit growth. Sustained growth of both capital and dividends can only be achieved if the underlying business is flourishing. Our process leads us to firms with stable and visible growth profiles rather than companies with more speculative growth ambitions, or those businesses whose fortunes are heavily linked to unpredictable external forces. The ideal investment is a growing company with meaningful control of its own destiny.

3. Valuation and scenario analysis: financial statements are "cleaned" of any accounting distortions (such as off balance-sheet liabilities) which may obscure the true financial position of a business, and companies are put through a series of business-specific stress tests. The aim is to ascertain the underlying risk that an investment presents, and to gauge the scale of profit and dividend progression we can reasonably expect under various circumstances. Many companies "fail" this stage of the process – businesses are often found to present too much risk once their underlying fundamentals are "tested". If a company does pass this stage, we then ascertain the long-term value of the business using a highly consistent and cash-based set of valuation techniques.

The Manager of the Company, has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund.

The Investment Manager adopts a top-down approach to investing in this Fund. For Global equities, this means that the Investment Manager dynamically allocates to countries, sectors, currencies and styles. This approach incorporates the Investment Manager's views on macroeconomic trends such as economic growth and interest rate levels. The investment strategy is implemented using passive stock selection via a portfolio which consists of directly held equities that are constituents of the reference index. This portfolio will normally hold between 400 and 500 stocks.

The Manager of the Company, has appointed Baring Asset Management Limited as the Investment Manager of Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund.

The Manager uses the ideas generated by the Strategic Policy Group, our global macro research asset allocation group, to choose what we believe are the best investments to achieve the investment objectives of the Fund. This means we construct a portfolio of stocks or bonds from a mix of companies, countries and sectors to suit our current asset allocation policy at that point in time.

We believe that asset allocation is the most important driver of returns. It is important to be in the right market at the right time, and to be able to retreat to a more defensive position to help manage risk. We follow a two-stage investment process that accesses both long-term return opportunities, driven by slowly evolving macroeconomic factors, and shorter-term opportunities generated by market volatility. We maintain a forward-looking approach and are conscious that what proved to be a defensive asset in a previous downturn may not always be suitable. We use our wide investment universe to ensure that we avoid over diversification and focus on assets that we believe are appropriate for the prevailing economic and market cycle.

Risk profile

Please see detailed below some of the key risks applicable to the Funds:

- Changes in exchange rates between the currency of the Fund and the currencies in which the assets of the Fund are valued can have the effect of increasing or decreasing the value of the Fund and any income generated.
- Derivative instruments can make a profit or a loss and there is no guarantee that a financial derivative contract will achieve its intended outcome. The use of derivatives can increase the amount by which the Fund's value rises and falls and could expose the Fund to losses that are significantly greater than the cost of the derivative as a relatively small movement may have a larger impact on derivatives than the underlying assets.
- Emerging market countries may have less developed regulation and face more political, economic or structural challenges than developed countries. This means your money was at greater risk. (Risk not applicable to Barings China Select Fund, Barings Europe Select Fund and Barings German Growth Fund).
- Investment in frontier markets tends to involve similar risks to those in emerging markets but to an even greater extent as they tend to be smaller, less developed and have less liquidity and can be less accessible than emerging markets.
- The Funds can hold smaller company shares, which can be more difficult to buy and sell as they may trade infrequently and in small volumes, so their share prices may fluctuate more than those of larger companies. (Not applicable to Barings German Growth Fund, Barings Global Dividend Champions Fund and Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund).
- Regional and country-specific funds have a narrower focus than those which invest broadly across markets and are therefore considered to be more risky. (Risk is applicable to Barings China Select Fund, Barings Europe Select Fund and Barings German Growth Fund).
- Losses may occur if an organisation through which we buy an asset (such as a bank) fails to meet its obligations.

Please see detailed below some of the key risks applicable to Barings China Select Fund only:

• China may face more political, economic or structural challenges than developed countries. Coupled with less developed regulation, this means your money is at greater risk.

Please see detailed below some of the key risks applicable to Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund only:

• The rating of a bond can change. There is no guarantee that a bond issuer will pay the interest due or repay the loan. Bond values are likely to fall if interest rates rise.

Please refer to the Prospectus for the full risk profile for each of the Funds. Investors should read the Prospectus and carefully consider the potential risk factors as well as reward factors before investing.

Investment Managers' Report

For the financial period ended 31 October 2019

Barings China Select Fund

Performance

Barings China Select Fund (the "Fund") registered a gross return of -1.06% on the Class A USD Inc share class but outperformed the performance comparator with a return of -5.93%* during the six month period to 31 October 2019. The Chinese equities retreated on the market volatilities driven by re-escalated trade friction between the US and China, coupled with the Chinese renminbi descending below the psychological threshold of 7.0 against US dollar and subdue macro data which further weighed on equity performance.

On stock level, sportswear brand Li Ning was a notable contributor to the Fund on the back of strong quarterly retail sales and new store openings. We believe increasing brand awareness of its products and efficiency improvements will help company deliver better than peer business performance in coming year. Hansoh Pharmaceutical also contributed to relative performance thanks to its resilient 1H19 interim earnings result and positive progress on one of its key novel drugs in the pipeline.

On the other hand, holdings in small-cap Chinese restaurant operator Tai Hing was a notable detractor from relative performance, given market concerns on the overall Hong Kong consumption growth outlook weighed by prolonged political unrest in Hong Kong from Anti-Extradition Bill protests that led to a de-rating since its IPO in early June. CIMC Enric also dragged relative performance, largely resulted from weak oil prices and potentially decreasing demand for chemical tankers which weighed on share price performance, despite solid earnings fundamentals.

Market outlook

With the prolonged trade frictions between the US and China showing some temporary relief, markets have seen signs of bottoming-out, albeit in a relatively cautious manner anticipating a back-and-forth negotiation experiences. Focusing on China, we expect the Chinese government's policy to remain flexible and adaptive, and would focus more on addressing the structural issues of the economy, which should be supportive to the market as well as the economy in the longer run. China's GDP growth should stabilise towards the end of 2019, in our view, and corporate earnings could turnaround potentially in 2020 to further add positive catalysts to the gradual warm-up of the market.

We remain constructive on the onshore Chinese equities over the medium to longer term driven by bottom-up fundamentals. We are positive on companies that are well positioned to be the potential beneficiaries of continuing urbanization and consumption upgrade. As income growth continues while demand for higher quality goods and services increases in China, we remain constructive on leading domestic consumption plays with strong franchise and pricing power, as well as companies that manage to capture market shares and benefit from industry consolidation. We will keep closely monitoring the progress of the talks between China and the US, as well as the policy movement of the Chinese authorities. However, beneath it all, we do not see a structural deterioration in the overall sustainable growth trend within the Chinese equities space.

Barings Europe Select Fund

Performance

Barings Europe Select Fund (the "Fund") delivered a gross return of 2.87% on the Class J EUR Acc share class during the six month period to 31 October 2019, representing outperformance of 1.25% compared to the EMIX Smaller European Companies ex UK Index which returned 1.60%*.

Dutch spectacles and sun glasses retailer GrandVision was the most significant contributor to returns following a takeover proposal from EssilorLuxottica, their leading peer in the optical retail industry. At the country level, Dutch stocks were the most significant contributors to returns, as ASM International, the semiconductor production equipment company, experienced continued share price strength reflecting strong trends in order growth for their innovative tools for chemical deposition. Koninklijke Vopak, the Dutch operator of oil and chemical storage facilities, also performed well as the company continues with plans to improve capital allocation, and announced further progress in the disposal of old and non-core terminals and provided details on further development plans.

Partly offsetting these positive returns, shares in Hugo Boss underperformed following a Q3 profit warning which indicated that sales development in the US has been weaker than expected whilst ongoing protests in Hong Kong and disappointing German sales also impacted revenue. We subsequently met with management to discuss our concerns and we continue to monitor the company.

Market outlook

Following the positive returns generated by European Smaller companies during the first three quarters of the year, the valuation of the asset class has increased, despite recent profit-taking.

As forecasts for profits growth in 2019 are likely to face further downward revisions, indices of European Smaller Companies might find further progress more hard-won over the coming quarter, and volatility in equity markets is expected to remain more elevated. That said, whilst the valuation of European Smaller Companies is now in-line with the historic averages, at this level, the Smaller Companies asset class remains attractively valued relative to other asset classes, on a range of different measures.

In summary our outlook for the end of the year remains quite balanced: Central bank policies have become more accommodative, and very short term macro-economic and sentiment indicators could strengthen early in the quarter as comparison bases become easier. The global backdrop continues to include a range of political and policy challenges, however, and slow economic growth remains likely in Europe. Meanwhile, valuations have risen following the strength of equity markets in the first half of the year. In this environment, our bottom-up approach, and our focus on individual companies' ability to improve profitability and returns over the longer term, remains unchanged.

Barings European Opportunities Fund

Performance

Over the six month period to 31 October 2019, the Barings European Opportunities Fund (the "Fund") produced a gross return of 3.49% on the Class A EUR Acc share class against a performance comparator return of 1.18%*.

The Fund's performance during the period was primarily driven by stock selection, as is usually the case, with both country and sector allocation detracting slightly from performance. At country level the Fund's Italian and Dutch holdings delivered particularly strong positive contribution to performance. Within the Italian holdings Amplifon, the hearing solutions retailer, was the largest positive contributor, with the share price benefiting from positive trading updates, the most recent of which highlighted strong organic growth. Dutch spectacles and sun glasses retailer GrandVision was also a significant positive contributor to returns following a takeover proposal from EssilorLuxottica, their leading peer in the optical retail industry. The largest detractor from performance over the six month period was Hugo Boss, the German fashion designer and retailer, due to revenue growth failing to meet investor expectations.

Market outlook

Following the positive returns generated by Pan-European Smaller companies over the year to date, the valuation of the asset class has increased, despite recent profit-taking. As forecasts for profits growth in 2019 are likely to face further downward revisions, indices of Pan-European Smaller Companies might find further progress more hard-won over the coming quarter, and volatility in equity markets is expected to remain more elevated. That said, whilst the valuation of Pan-European Smaller Companies is now inline with the historic averages, at this level, the Smaller Companies asset class remains attractively valued relative to other asset classes, on a range of different measures.

In summary our outlook for the end of the year remains quite balanced: Central bank policies have become more accommodative, and very short term macro-economic and sentiment indicators could strengthen early in the quarter as comparison bases become easier. Macro-economic and geo-political challenges remain unresolved, however, and valuations have risen following the strength of equity markets in the first half of the year. In this environment, our bottom-up approach, and our focus on individual companies' ability to improve profitability and returns over the longer term, remains unchanged.

Baring Asset Management Limited. November 2019

For the financial period ended 31 October 2019

Barings Frontier Markets Fund

Performance

The Barings Frontier Markets Fund (the "Fund") was closed effective 23 September 2019 by compulsory redemption. From 1 May 2019 to 23 September 2019, the Fund declined -1.80% (gross) whilst the MSCI Frontier Markets index returned 3.80%*.

Over the period equity markets globally remained focused on trade tensions, concerns regarding slowing global growth and a strong US dollar. Against this challenging backdrop, frontier markets proved to be resilient, advancing in absolute terms to deliver solid returns to investors.

Kuwait performed in line with the asset class over the period, helped by news that MSCI would be upgrading the country to EM status.

Elsewhere, Argentina was reclassified by MSCI from Frontier to Emerging Market status at the end of May, but performed strongly up until this point, helped by index related inflows. Post reclassification, Argentinian equities endured periods of volatility and ended the period as one of the weakest performers, owing primarily to heightened political uncertainty and currency depreciation.

Vietnam ended the period almost flat as the market waits to see if the country will reap the expected benefits of the US-China trade war.

Vietnamese IT service company FPT contributed meaningfully to relative returns, helped by consensus beating earnings. Elsewhere, our underweight position in Kuwait Finance House was another notable contributor after the stock price came under pressure in August, retracing gains from prior months. In contrast, Galicia Financial detracted over the period in line with broad based weakness across Argentinian equities.

The Directors of the Company resolved to terminate the Fund. The decision was taken in consideration of, amongst other things, the Fund's economic viability and ability to operate in a cost-efficient manner due to its small asset size. As at 29 July 2019, the net assets of the Fund were approximately US$ 30.5m. As a result, both the Investment Manager and the Directors, believed the termination of the Fund was in the best interest of Shareholders.

The costs relating to the termination will be borne by the Manager.

November 2019

For the financial period ended 31 October 2019

Barings German Growth Fund

Performance

Barings German Growth Fund (the "Fund") delivered a gross return of -1.95% on the Class J EUR Acc during the six month period to 31 October 2019, underperforming its performance comparator, the HDAX, which delivered a return of 3.47%^{*}. Stock selection among larger companies was the key detractor from returns, stemming from our decision not to hold shares in companies including Bayer, Adidas, Linde, Munich Reinsurance and Deutsche Boerse. These companies are not held in the portfolio because we do not feel they meet our Growth at a Reasonable Price investment criteria, or where we have higher conviction ideas elsewhere; however, these stocks performed strongly in the period under review, in some cases due to a broader market preference for defensive companies which were somewhat underrepresented in the Fund portfolio. At the stock level, the Fund was also impacted by weakness in electronic payments company Wirecard following news coverage alleging possible accounting irregularities; Wirecard continue to deny these allegations and we continue to believe in our investment thesis for this stock.

On the positive side, we did see some strong performance from some of the portfolio's holdings in Small Cap names, including isotope technology company Ekcert & Ziegler and laser technology company LPKF; however, as these stocks are relatively small positions in the portfolio (comprising on average 0.65% each) these positive performances were insufficient to offset the negative performance above.

Market outlook

The global backdrop continues to include a range of political and policy challenges, including lack of progress in US/China trade talks; that said, we are optimistic that a deal could be reached before next year's US election. Meanwhile the Chinese economy has slowed to such an extent that we may see the market rebound in 2020, with or without a deal. In Europe, we have seen some tentative progress in Brexit negotiations between the UK and the EU, although much certainty still remains.

If we see progress in US-China trade negotiations in the coming months this should, we believe, lead to a resurgence in earnings momentum. In this scenario, given the cyclicality of the German equity market, we believe earnings in Germany will grow at a faster rate than elsewhere. Additionally, further progress in Brexit negotiations should alleviate pressures on the trading environment for German exporters and lead to positive earnings revisions, in our view.

The Fund continues to be constructed on the basis of bottom-up stock selection, and in this environment our focus will remain on identifying companies with the ability to improve profitability and generate returns over the longer term. Taking a short to medium-term view, as the current Fund portfolio exhibits a cyclical bias, we believe this will allow the Fund to capture any positive movement in the broader German equity market.

Barings Global Dividend Champions Fund

Performance

Barings Global Dividend Champion Fund (the "Fund") posted a positive absolute gross return on the Class A USD Acc share class of 5.43%, outperforming the performance comparator's return of 3.55%*. The top five contributors to absolute performance over the period were Microsoft, PepsiCo, Mastercard, Zoetis, and Kone. The top five detractors were Henkel, Associated British Foods, Unibail-Rodamco-Westfield REITs, MARR, and 3M. The Fund seeks to be a cautious, long-term investor in a selection of high-quality businesses. Our focus is on identifying growing companies with consistent business models and powerful competitive advantages. We believe such companies are very rare indeed. Our approach is designed to: identify companies that are well placed to grow profits and dividends over the next decade; ensure that we do not overpay for the great businesses in which we invest; and to provide clients with an attractive income stream and strong total returns over the long run.

Market outlook

We continue to pay close attention to the intrinsic value of our investments, rather than fixate on near-term market price movements. The Fund is invested in a selection of companies with compelling microeconomic drivers, rather than in businesses excessively dependent on unpredictable external forces (such as commodity prices or the economic cycle). We retain our belief that by focusing on quality companies that can generate attractive, growing and resilient cash-flow streams, the more patient investor can earn excellent long-term returns versus a market enchanted by short-term outcomes.

Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund

Performance

The Barings Global Equity Allocation Fund (the "Fund") launched on 28 June 2019. The Fund had a gross return of 3.64% on the Class I USD Acc share class during the period from 28 June 2019 to 31 October 2019. This was ahead of its performance comparator which returned 2.71%* for the same period.

On a sector level the Fund outperformance was due to a small overweight to Information Technology which contributed positively to performance and the outperformance was centred around an improvement in the economic data releases and driven by encouraging earnings growth data.

On a country level the Fund outperformance was due to an overweight allocation to the United States. This area has continued to perform well throughout the year with the S&P500 climbing to an all-time high during October and our overweight position added to the positive performance for the period under review.

Market outlook

Investment markets are discounting mechanisms, always looking ahead to price future growth outcomes. The big moves were in the bond market, where bond yields fell all around the world in response to weaker economic data. As such, it comes as no surprise that the markets have reacted to the continuing softness in global economic data, and repriced bond yields significantly lower. Have some parts of the market over discounted and extrapolated the recent trend too much? We believe so.

Wrapped up inside the extreme bond market reaction is a truth: in our opinion, the global economy has been getting weaker. The bond market seems to believe a recession is just around the corner. We think it is more like a slowdown.

With sentiment seemingly skewed in one direction, it would not take much for risky assets to deliver decent returns from here. Indeed, it may not even require an improvement, stabilisation is probably enough.

The Global Equity Allocation Fund incepted on the 28th of June and was previously the Barings Themed Equity Component Fund.

Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund

Performance

Barings Global Flexible Allocation Fund (the "Fund") posted a gross return of 1.40% on the Class X EUR Acc share class during the six-month period ending 31 October 2019. This was slightly behind its performance comparator which returned 1.79%* during the same period.

The fixed income allocations were the standout performers over the period. Within this allocation, it was the exposure to emerging market hard currency bonds that delivered the largest contribution to returns, an area we are particularly positive on. Our exposure here is the focus on hard currency (US dollar) based instruments - core names such as Hungary, Mexico and Brazil - with a large portion of our exposure in this area. The rally in government bond yields provided the backbone of the move here, but the higher coupons on these instruments continues to add up in terms of the total return. Our view remains these areas should do well in a world of low growth, due to the higher coupons, and have slightly less risk in a world where the fixed income, in our view, generally sells off if growth comes in faster than expected. It is very good to see these non-consensus positions delivering.

The second largest contribution came from Government Bonds. Investment markets are discounting mechanisms, always looking ahead to price future growth outcomes. As such, it comes as no surprise that the markets have reacted to the continuing softness in global economic data, and repriced bond yields significantly lower, pushing prices up. We believe some parts of the market are over discounted and extrapolated the recent trend too much.

Emerging market equities were the lowlight, although our weight here is relatively small, as we are sceptical around the valuations on offer.

Market outlook

Our portfolio breakdown shows we have the largest fixed income allocation we have had in many years but the nature of this allocation is not conventional government bonds. In a world of low growth, we are taking an increasing part of our risk via economically sensitive fixed income exposures such as dollar based emerging debt and high yield credit. We have balanced this by running lower equity weights.

We believe the value offered in fixed income will serve long-term investors significantly better than core government bonds. These higher yielding allocations makes them a reasonable prospect in a world where low growth (rather than no growth) looks plausible. To date, we have already seen good gains from these positions. Even if yields move sideways from here we should benefit from the higher levels of income, something that can't be said for many government bond markets.

* The Fund return uses the midday prices, whereas the return of the comparator is calculated using global close prices.

8. Fair value hierarchy

FRS 102 requires the Funds to classify fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- Level 1: Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.
- Level 2: Inputs other than quoted prices included within level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices).
- Level 3: Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs).

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined on the basis of the lowest input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. For this purpose, the significance of an input is assessed against the fair value measurement in its entirety. If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on unobservable inputs, that measurement is a level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the asset or liability.

The determination of what constitutes 'observable' requires significant judgement by the Manager. The Manager considers observable data to be market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

The following tables analyses within the fair value hierarchy, the Funds financial assets and financial liabilities measured at fair value.

9. Efficient portfolio management

The Funds may use Financial Derivative Instruments ("FDIs") for efficient portfolio management. The efficient portfolio management purposes for which the Company intends to employ FDIs are reduction of risk, reduction of cost and the generation of additional capital or income for the relevant Fund with an appropriate level of risk, taking into account the risk profile of the Fund and the general provisions of the UCITS Regulations. The Company may use various types of derivatives for these purposes, including, without limitation, warrants, exchange traded futures and options, forward currency contracts, swap agreements, contracts for differences, index-linked notes and share and commodity index futures contracts for these purposes.

Risk Monitoring of Global Exposure

The Funds have been classified as a non-sophisticated user of FDI (Financial Derivative Instruments) and, as permitted by the Central Bank UCITS Regulations, the Company has adopted a commitment approach (the "Commitment Approach") in the calculation of global exposure for the fund during the financial period.

In accordance with the UCITS Regulations, the Commitment Approach has been calculated, in the case of forward currency contracts ("FCCTs"), by converting the FCCT position into an equivalent position based on the market value of the underlying asset. As the FDI are used for hedging purposes, the exposure of the FDI has been calculated and then netted against the instrument being hedged. The Global Exposure calculation is performed on a daily basis.

In no circumstances will the global exposure of the funds exceed 100% of its Net Asset Value.

12. Soft commission arrangements

The Investment Manager will pay for research from their own books in 2019, as commission paid on trades will be "execution only", which is the agreed cost for that broker to settle the trade (31 October 2018: same).

13. Contingent liabilities

There are no contingent liabilities at financial period-end 31 October 2019 and financial year-end 30 April 2019.

14. Transactions with connected persons

The UCITS Regulations require that any transaction carried out with the Company by a Promoter, Manager, Depositary, Investment Manager and/or associate of these ("connected persons") must be carried out as if negotiated at arm's length. Transactions must be in the best interests of the shareholders.

The Board of Directors of the Company are satisfied that there are arrangements (evidenced by written procedures) in place to ensure that the obligations set out in Regulation 43(1) of the Central Bank UCITS Regulations are applied to all transactions with connected persons, and are satisfied that transactions with connected persons entered into during the period complied with the obligations set out in Regulation 43(1) of the Central Bank UCITS Regulations.

15. Segregated liability of Funds

The Company is an umbrella fund with segregated liability between Funds. As a result, and as a matter of Irish law, any liability attributable to a particular Fund may only be discharged out of the assets of that Fund and the assets of other Funds may not be used to discharge that liability.

16. Taxation

Under current Irish law and practice, the Company qualifies as an investment undertaking as defined in Section 739B of the Taxes Consolidation Act, 1997, as amended (the "TCA"). On that basis, it is not chargeable to Irish tax on its income or gains.

However, Irish tax may arise if a "chargeable event" occurs. A chargeable event includes any distribution payments to shareholders or any encashment, redemption, cancellation, transfer or deemed disposal of shares for Irish tax purposes arising as a result of holding shares in the Company for a period of eight years or more, or the appropriation or cancellation of shares of a shareholder by the Company for the purposes of meeting the amount of tax payable on a gain arising on a transfer.

No Irish tax will arise on the Company in respect of chargeable events due to:

- (a) a shareholder who is neither Irish resident nor ordinarily resident in Ireland for tax purposes at the time of the chargeable event, provided that a relevant declaration is in place (in accordance with Schedule 2b of the TCA) and the Company is not in possession of any information which would reasonably suggest that the information contained therein is no longer materially correct; or
- (b) a shareholder who is an exempt Irish investor (as defined in Section 739D TCA).

Dividends, interest and capital gains (if any) received on investments made by the Company may be subject to withholding taxes imposed by the country from which the investment income/gains are received and such taxes may not be recoverable by the Company or its shareholders.

The Finance Act 2010 provides that the Revenue Commissioners may grant approval for Investment Companies marketed outside of Ireland to make payments to non-resident investors without deduction of Irish tax where no relevant declaration is in place, subject to meeting "equivalent measures". An Investment Company wishing to receive approval must apply in writing to the Revenue Commissioners, confirming compliance with the relevant conditions.

In this regard, Baring International Fund Managers (Ireland) Limited ("BIFMI"), will continue as the Manager of the Company and the Sub-Funds will continue to be registered for distribution into relevant jurisdictions in EU27 and elsewhere. Portfolio management in respect of European investments will continue to be delegated to Baring Asset Management Limited, a UK entity and portfolio management of US investments will continue to be conducted by Barings LLC, a US entity. The depositaries and administrators of the Funds are also EU27 entities. In addition, BIFMI has enhanced its presence in Dublin and recruited locally at all levels to staff its new office, reflecting the increased significance of BIFMI's role within the Barings business.

Whilst the medium to long-term consequences of the decision to leave the EU remain uncertain in any scenario, there could be short-term volatility which could have a negative impact on general economic conditions, business and consumer confidence in both the UK and EU, which may in turn have negative political, economic and market impacts more widely. The longer-term consequences may be affected by the terms of any future arrangements the UK has with the EU27. Among other things, the UK's decision to leave the EU could lead to changes in the law and tax treatment of funds, instability in the equity, debt and foreign exchange markets, including volatility in the value of sterling or the euro.

There have been no other significant events to the financial period-end which, in the opinion of the Directors of the Manager, may have had a material impact on the financial statements for the financial period ended 31 October 2019.

General information

For the financial period ended 31 October 2019

Market timing

Repeatedly purchasing and selling shares in the Funds in response to short-term market fluctuations – known as 'market timing' – can disrupt Baring Asset Management Limited's (the "Investment Manager's") investment strategy and increase the Funds' expenses to the prejudice of all shareholders. The Funds are not intended for market timing or excessive trading. To deter these activities, the Directors of the Company may refuse to accept an application for shares from persons that it reasonably believes are engaged in market timing or are otherwise excessive or potentially disruptive to the Funds.

The Directors of the Company reserve the right to redeem shares from a shareholder on the basis of the circumstances of the shareholder concerned, or if it has reasonable grounds to believe that the shareholder is engaging in any activity which might result in the Funds or their shareholders as a whole suffering any legal, regulatory, reputational or other material disadvantage which the Funds or their shareholders as a whole might not otherwise have suffered.

UK reporting fund status

UK taxable investors in UK reporting funds are subject to tax on their share of the UK reporting funds' income attributable to their holdings in the Funds, whether or not distributed, while typically any gains on disposal of their holdings are subject to capital gains tax.

Details of the share classes which currently have UK reporting fund status are available at the Her Majesty's Revenue and Customs ("HMRC") Investment Funds Centre website:

http://www.hmrc.gov.uk/cis/offshore-funds.htm.

As stated above, UK tax payers should note that for each share class with reporting fund status, their share of any amounts of income, if any, that have not been distributed will be subject to tax.

Further details will be made available on the Baring Asset Management Limited website: www.barings.com.
