Distribution Policy

Distributions to holders of Redeemable Participating Shares are recorded in the Statement of Operations as finance costs. Distributions paid and proposed during the financial years ended 31 December 2019 and 31 December 2018 with respect to certain Share Classes are outlined in Note 10. All of the other sub-funds' income and capital gains were reinvested in accordance with the investment objective and policy of the sub-funds.

The Company will declare a dividend in respect of the Classes of Shares of the sub-funds as set out in the Prospectus of the Company. For all Classes of Shares that are not distributing, the sub-fund's income and capital gains will be reinvested in accordance with the investment objectives and investment policies of the sub-fund.

Dilution Adjustment

On any Dealing Day the Directors may determine when there are net inflows into a sub-fund or net outflows from a sub-fund to apply a dilution adjustment to the dealing Net Asset Value per Share so that the price of a Share in the sub-fund is above or below that which would have resulted from a latest available market valuation. This adjustment is intended to pass the estimated costs of underlying investment activity of the sub-fund to the active Shareholders by adjusting the Net Asset Value of the relevant classes of Shares and thus to protect the sub-fund's long-term Shareholders from costs associated with ongoing subscription and redemption activity. These costs may include dealing charges, commissions and the effects of dealing at prices other than the middle market price. The price of each Class of Share in a sub-fund will be calculated separately but any dilution adjustment will affect the price of Shares of each Class in a sub-fund in an identical manner.

Investment Risks

An investment in any sub-fund involves investment risks, including possible loss of the amount invested. Moreover, there can be no assurance that a sub-fund will achieve its investment objective.

Taxation

As an investment undertaking within the meaning of Section 739(B) of the Taxes Consolidation Act 1997, as amended, the Company is generally exempt from Irish tax on its income and gains and the Company will not be required to account for any tax in respect of Shareholders who are not Irish residents or exempt Irish residents provided that the signed necessary declarations are in place. The Company may be required to account for tax in respect of Shareholders who are Irish residents. Shareholders who are not Irish residents and have made the required declaration of non-residence will not be liable to Irish tax on income from their Shares or gains made on the disposal of their Shares, provided the Shares are not attributable to an Irish branch or agency of such shareholder. No stamp duty or other tax is generally payable in Ireland on the subscription, issue, holding, redemption, conversion or transfer of Shares.

Selling Restrictions

The Shares may not be purchased or held by US persons unless pursuant to an exemption under applicable US law and may not be offered or sold in any jurisdiction in which such offer or sale is not lawful or in which the person making such offer or sale is not qualified to do so or to anyone to whom it is unlawful to make such an offer or sale.

Dealing Days

A Dealing Day in respect of all of the sub-funds means every Business Day (as defined for each sub-fund in the Prospectus) or such other days as the Directors may determine provided that there shall be at least one Dealing Day each fortnight.

DIRECTORS' REPORT

The Directors submit their annual report together with the audited financial statements of Merian Global Investors Series Plc (the "Company") for the financial year ended 31 December 2019.

Principal Activities

The principal activity of the Company is the collective investment in transferable securities and/or other liquid financial assets. As at 31 December 2019, the Company consisted of 29 sub-funds (the "sub-funds") of which 21 are in operation at financial year end (2018: 29).

Business Review, Results and Future Development

A more comprehensive overview of the Company's investment activities and the analysis of the Company's key performance indicator ('KPIs'), such as the performance of the relevant sub-funds is detailed in the Investment Advisers' Reports.

The results for the financial year are set out in the Statement of Operations and the assets and liabilities are set out in the Statement of Financial Position. Details of the Company's share capital and changes during the financial year under review are disclosed in the Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Redeemable Participating Shareholders. Significant shareholders are disclosed in Note 5.

The Company intends to continue promoting and generating interest in its business in the future.

Effective 31 October 2019 Merian Global Investors (Europe) Limited ("MGIEL") was appointed as a UCITS management company of the Company. MGIEL is authorised by the Central Bank to act as a UCITS management company pursuant to the Regulations and an Alternative Investment Fund Manager (AIFM) pursuant to the European Communities (Alternative Investment Fund Managers) Regulations, 2013, as amended. As a result, the Company became an externally managed investment company and ceased to operate as a self-managed investment company. The appointment of the Manager ensured that the Company has an EU domiciled fund management company, thereby avoiding issues around the Company continuing to market within the EEA on a cross-border basis by the Manager once the United Kingdom left the EU.

The impact of the Brexit vote has resulted in some uncertainty for the financial industry. Britain leaving the EU still carries an element of uncertainty and with that comes an element of risk. While it is still too soon to judge the full impact of the UK leaving the EU, as Directors of the Company, we maintain that Europe is a core market for distribution of the Sub-Funds and will remain so.

There is a risk that Brexit, other political developments or developments otherwise affecting market confidence may result in outflows of assets from investment portfolios with exposure to the UK, which could include asset portfolios held by the Sub-Funds of the Company. Due to the size and importance of the UK economy in the global economy, particularly with respect to the UK financial services market, as well as the uncertainty and unpredictability concerning the UK's legal, political, financial and economic relationship with the EU after Brexit, there may continue to be instability in the national and international financial markets, significant currency fluctuations and otherwise adverse effects on consumer confidence for the foreseeable future, including beyond the date of the UK's withdrawal from the EU.

Dividends

Distributions paid and proposed during the financial years ended 31 December 2019 and 31 December 2018 are detailed in Note 10.

Principal Risks, Risk Management Objectives and Policies

The main risks arising from the Company's financial instruments are market risk (including market price risk, interest rate risk and currency risk), liquidity risk and credit risk. In order to manage such risks the Company shall comply with the investment restrictions and diversification limits provided for in the Prospectus and the UCITS Regulations. Securities Financing Transactions Regulation

Securities Financing Transactions Regulation (Regulation (EU) 2015/2365) ("SFTR") came into force on 12 January 2016 and, amongst other requirements, introduces new disclosure requirements in the Company's annual and semi-annual reports published after 13 January 2017 detailing the Companies use of securities financing transactions. As a result, additional disclosures have been included in the Supplemental Information (unaudited) to the annual financial statements.

Significant Events During the Financial Year

The significant events during the financial year are detailed on pages 421 to 423.

Subsequent Events

Jupiter Acquisition

On 17 February 2020, Jupiter Asset Management ("Jupiter"), a UK listed firm announced that it agreed to acquire Merian Global Investors Group. The proposed acquisition, which is subject to regulatory and Jupiter shareholder approval, is expected to complete in the second half of 2020.

COVID-19

In early 2020, after the end of the sub-funds' reporting period, health officials became aware of the existence of a new coronavirus, which subsequently became known as COVID-19. First detected in China, COVID-19 rapidly spread throughout a large number of countries worldwide. In order to stem, or at least to slow, the spread of the virus, many governments advised citizens to remain at home or reduce travel.

Given the inherent uncertainties and complexities, it is not practical at this stage to provide a sub-fund by sub-fund analysis of the investment impact of COVID-19. However, it is clear that the global economy has suffered a sharp, exogenous shock. Many national economies are expected to slow, though the depth and duration of that slowing is currently unclear.

Expectations of a substantial economic slowdown have been reflected in a fall in the prices of equities worldwide, as well as of emerging market currencies and higher-yielding bonds. The US dollar, in contrast, has rallied as investors sought a historically perceived 'safe haven'. It should also be noted that the response of central banks and governments to mitigate the knock-on economic effects of COVID-19 has already been significant, and there could be more support to come.

The managers of all the sub-funds of the Company have thoroughly reviewed their portfolios in the light of the coronavirus outbreak. They have taken the measures they consider prudent to protect long-term risk-adjusted returns and to ensure diversification. They continue to monitor the situation closely and to work with the risk departments to ensure that all sub-funds are managed within their investment and risk parameters. With regard to any outflows, the Company does not believe that they have had any material effect on the investment performance of the sub-funds.

As with any market event, the Company has robust procedures to support fund management teams in their ongoing investment activities. The Company is confident of its continued ability to meet our business and regulatory commitments during this period and envisage no disruption to fund management operations. Portfolio management teams have remote access to all systems and there is no change to our dealing, compliance and risk monitoring processes.

There were no employees of the Company during the financial year under review or during the prior financial year.

Segregated Liability of Sub-Funds

MERIAN CHINA EQUITY FUND

INVESTMENT ADVISER'S REPORT FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR ENDED 31 DECEMBER 2019

Investment Adviser – Ping An of China Asset Management (Hong Kong) Company Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund slightly underperformed its indicative benchmark after fees due to its relatively low beta position amid the strong performance of the general market. The largest positive active return attribution came from allocation. Overweights in health care and consumer staples and an underweight in materials contributed the most, while an overweight in consumer discretionary and the sub-fund's cash position dragged the most. In terms of stock attribution, overweights in CR Cement, CSPC and Hengrui contributed the most, while an overweight in CRCC and an underweight in New Oriental Education & Technology dragged the most. On the factor front, positive active average exposure in momentum contributed strongly while positive active average exposure in low volatility detracted.

Market and Outlook

China saw slower economic growth in 2019 on the back of the trade tensions with the US, but the slowdown is manageable. The “phase one” trade deal agreed in December partially alleviated market concerns of an escalation in trade tensions between the world's two largest economies and improved market confidence. In addition, China's policymakers adopted a more accommodative approach to counter-cyclical adjustments to help buffer economic cooling. These measures have come into effect, providing early signs of stabilization (based on the economic data in December), and are expected to continue to support economic growth.

In 2020, China will enter a new recovery phase and structural reforms will continue. The de-escalation of US-China trade tensions, a pick-up in construction completions and low inventory levels in the housing market should be the main drivers of the recovery. We believe the policy environment will be stable and we are unlikely to see strong stimulus unless unemployment numbers increase or the impact from the trade war worsens.

In terms of markets, we are positive on both onshore and offshore markets. As China's registration-based IPO system expands, the rules for equity offerings may be relaxed since regulators want to promote both the development of capital markets and the accessibility of direct financing channels. Such policy measures could revitalize the domestic equity financing market and improve sentiment in the onshore market. At the same time, offshore market valuations are low relative to historical levels. We expect improving fundamentals and a recovery in valuations to support the performance of the offshore market. In general, we are positive on China in the medium to long run. The quality of growth should improve based on all the reforms that are underway right now, such as reforms of state-owned enterprises and the tax system, market liberalisation and innovation initiatives. We will continue to closely monitor earnings recovery signals, monetary and credit data, and high frequency cyclical indicators. We intend to focus on high-quality names with strong fundamentals in the consumer, healthcare, utility and financials sectors, as well as opportunities in materials and industrial sectors.

MERIAN GLOBAL STRATEGIC BOND FUND (IRL)*

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The Q1 2019 risk rally was brought to an abrupt end in Q2 as trade tensions re-escalated on the continued lack of progress on a US-China trade deal. The rational response expected by the market was for the US Federal Reserve to ease US monetary policy and rates markets duly re-priced causing an aggressive decline in bond yields across the board.

This was supported by a collapse in the Q1 economic data as Europe, in particular, continued its descent on the back of declining global trade and the US faltered notably on the back of business uncertainty centred on geopolitical risk. The sub-fund duly positioned short of risk assets during this period and also instigated a long duration position in developed market rates. This led to decent performance in the portfolio over the early part of the quarter, as the markets waited the Fed to move to a more dovish setting.

Long positions in European peripheral government bond markets also added to the portfolio's performance, as further ECB action was gradually priced in and the carry trade for the higher yielding peripheral markets got into full swing in Europe. Towards the end of the period risk markets moved more positively as investors rotated back into risk. The portfolio captured these moves as it seemed to us that the US Fed would have to react to the weaker economic outlook and the concerns expressed in market pricing.

The sub-fund was closed on 25 April 2019.

MERIAN WORLD EQUITY FUND

INVESTMENT ADVISER'S REPORT FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR ENDED 31 DECEMBER 2019

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund underperformed its indicative benchmark during the calendar year. The disappointing returns were generated in an environment which continues to prove challenging for the sub-fund's investment process.

Performance across most of our stock selection techniques was weak during the calendar year 2019. It proved challenging to blend value with a series of our other factor sets. The nature of the relationship between value and momentum detracted from the sub-fund's returns during the period. This was evidenced by the weaker contribution from the market dynamics factor set. As price mechanisms within the broader market demonstrated further decoupling from fundamentals there were weaker returns from some of our more fundamental stock selection criteria.

In the case of dynamic valuation, we believe the latest model enhancements will better mitigate the downside risk in periods where both value and quality go out of favour, by decreasing the weights in both. Factor sets more dependent on fundamental inputs, such as sustainable growth, were negatively impacted by the decoupling between price mechanisms and fundamentals at the market level. The analyst sentiment component, which focuses on company level information, further detracted from performance. By contrast, the company management stock selection criterion, which evaluates the nature of the underlying corporate team responsible for running companies in our investment universe, contributed positively over 2019.

Market and Outlook

Investor exuberance around a combination of accommodative central bank policy and improved prospects for global trade explained most of the market returns through 2019. In the US, the S&P 500 returned in excess of 28% over the course of 2019, nearing the 29.6% growth achieved in 2013. The 2019 rally was not limited to US stocks. The Stoxx Europe 600 gained 23% this year, putting it on course for its best performance in a decade. China's Shanghai Composite was up 22%, while Japan's Nikkei 225 rose 18%. The turnaround was driven primarily by a shift in monetary policy at the Fed, which cut rates for the first time in a decade in July, lowering them again in September and October.

The US dollar weakened through late December as investors steered away from 'safe haven' assets. The main dollar index sank to levels close to the lows of July. More recently, markets were emboldened by the apparent thaw in trade tensions, culminating in the US and China announcing a 'mini' trade deal. Despite the seasonal boost to markets' spirits, there was little evidence, however, that the Trump administration was reversing its strategy of trade and technology protectionism as a means of achieving future substantive concessions. With an election year in 2020, the market may remain wary of further uncertainties ahead. Moreover, by year end, price mechanisms appeared to be further detached from market fundamentals. Compared with the sharp gains in US stock prices, companies in the S&P 500 have reported subpar growth in both earnings and revenue in 2019. Earnings per share growth will be just 1.4%, according to FactSet data, down from 22% in 2018. Profits are expected to grow 9.5% in 2020.

In an effort to meet the challenges described above, we have enhanced our dynamic weighting scheme with the introduction of conditional downside risk measures.

MERIAN PACIFIC EQUITY FUND

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund underperformed its indicative benchmark during the calendar year 2019. Performance across most of our stock selection techniques was weak during the calendar year 2019. The inversion of cross-sectional variables highlighted above was particularly pronounced in the market dynamics and dynamic valuation factor sets. This transitory effect has coincided with an extended period of deleveraging and capital outflows from a wide range of quantitative strategies. The underlying momentum strategies within market dynamics were further impacted by the effects of the broader factor unwind at the start of September. In the case of dynamic valuation, we believe the latest model enhancements will better mitigate the downside risk in periods where both value and quality go out of favour, by decreasing the weights in both. Factor sets more dependent on fundamental inputs, such as sustainable growth, were negatively impacted by the decoupling between price mechanisms and fundamentals at the market level. By contrast, the analyst sentiment component, which focuses on company level information, contributed positively to performance over the year. This is consistent with short term factors having demonstrated greater resilience against the backdrop of deleveraging and capital outflows referenced above. The company management criterion, which evaluates the nature of the underlying corporate team responsible for running companies in our investment universe, was little changed over 2019.

Market and Outlook

Investor exuberance around a combination of accommodative central bank policy and improved prospects for global trade explained most of the market returns through 2019. The Shanghai Composite climbed 22%. By contrast, Hong Kong equities lagged global indexes, with the Hang Seng ending the year up just 9% after months of clashes between anti-government demonstrators and police. More recently, markets were emboldened by the apparent thaw in trade tensions, culminating in the US and China announcing a 'mini' trade deal. Although details remain scant, market participants have looked favourably upon the general de-escalation of trade tensions, helping the shares of manufacturers, chip makers and other trade-sensitive companies to bounce off their lows for the year. Asian economies with large manufacturing sectors find themselves increasingly bound to China's real economic cycle. Against the backdrop of rising tariffs, China's exports are little changed from their level 12 months ago. On the other hand, imports are down by 5%. Less demand is expected to weigh on South Korea and Taiwan, both of which have large bilateral trade surpluses with China. Despite the seasonal boost to markets' spirits, there was little evidence, however, that the Trump administration was reversing its strategy of trade and technology protectionism as a means of achieving future substantive concessions. By year end, as with other regional indexes, price mechanisms appeared to be somewhat detached from market fundamentals. In an effort to meet these challenges, we have enhanced our dynamic weighting scheme with the introduction of conditional downside risk measures.

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund underperformed its indicative benchmark during the calendar year 2019. Performance across most of our stock selection techniques was weak during the year.

Stock-to-stock comparison analysis, which is used by the sub-fund's investment process to predict stock returns, continued to be abnormal. The inversion of cross-sectional variables was particularly pronounced in the dynamic valuation factor set. This transitory effect coincided with an extended period of deleveraging and capital outflows from a wide range of quantitative strategies. We believe the latest model enhancements will better mitigate the downside risk in periods where both value and quality go out of favour, by decreasing the weights in both. Market and Outlook

Investor exuberance around a combination of accommodative central bank policy and improved prospects for global trade explained most of the market returns through 2019. The Stoxx Europe 600 gained 23%, putting it on course for its best performance in a decade. However, despite the main European index setting recent records, several smaller country indexes, including Spain's IBEX 35, France's CAC 40 and Italy's FTSE MIB, were still below recent peaks set before the 2008 financial crisis, according to FactSet. With European Central Bank rates likely to remain negative for some time, investors are being drawn to hold riskier assets such as equities and corporate debt. More recently, markets were emboldened by the apparent thaw in trade tensions, culminating in the US and China announcing a 'mini' trade deal. Despite the seasonal boost to markets' spirits, there was little evidence, however, that the Trump administration was reversing its strategy of trade and technology protectionism as a means of achieving future substantive concessions. This could well lead to a renewed focus on trade between the US and Europe in the near term. Despite lacklustre European growth and government bond yields plunging into negative territory, the euro enjoyed its narrowest trading range against the US dollar since its inception in 1999. It never traded below US$1.09, or above US$1.15, all year. By year end, as with other regional indexes, price mechanisms appeared to be somewhat detached from market fundamentals. In an effort to meet these challenges, we have enhanced our dynamic weighting scheme with the introduction of conditional downside risk measures.

The analyst sentiment component, which focuses on company level information, further detracted from performance. By contrast, the company management criterion, which evaluates the nature of the underlying corporate team responsible for running companies in our investment universe, contributed positively over 2019.

Market and Outlook

The S&P 500 returned in excess of 28% over the course of 2019, nearing the 29.6% growth achieved in 2013. Adding to previous years with marked outperformance that saw valuations decouple from European and emerging market equities, US stocks again posted strong performance in both absolute and relative terms. The turnaround was driven primarily by a shift in monetary policy at the Fed, which cut rates for the first time in a decade in July, lowering them again in September and October. The tech sector led much of the advance in markets through 2019. The S&P 500's tech sector rose 47% during the year, by far the biggest gain among the index's 11 sectors. Nonetheless, gains were broadly distributed, with approximately 90% of the stocks in the S&P 500 having risen during the year. Improved sentiment and emboldened investor expectations followed the additional stimulus from major central banks, as demand for risk assets was boosted. By year end, price mechanisms appeared to be further detached from market fundamentals. Compared with the sharp gains in US stock prices, companies in the S&P 500 have reported subpar growth in both earnings and revenue in 2019. Earnings per share growth will be just 1.4%, according to FactSet data, down from 22% in 2018. Profits are expected to grow 9.5% in 2020.

The US administration has not necessarily reversed its strategy of trade and technology protectionism as a means of achieving future substantive concessions from global trading partners. The strong market returns appear to be predicated on investor expectations, or on the 'hope' that central bank liquidity and the de-escalation in trade tensions will lead to certain sequential near term outcomes. However, short term optimism does not necessarily resolve longer term uncertainties. The risks outlined above, whether economic, financial, political or social, could easily derail such expectations or 'hopes'.

In an effort to meet these challenges, we have enhanced our dynamic weighting scheme with the introduction of conditional downside risk measures.

US stocks again posted strong performance in both absolute and relative terms. The turnaround was driven primarily by a shift in monetary policy at the Fed, which cut rates for the first time in a decade in July, lowering them again in September and October. Since then, the stock market's gains have been broad. The S&P 500 set 35 record closes in 2019, the most since 2017. The tech sector led much of the advance in markets through 2019. The S&P 500's tech sector rose 47% during the year, by far the biggest gain among the index's 11 sectors. Nonetheless, gains were broadly distributed, with approximately 90% of the stocks in the S&P 500 having risen during the year. Improved sentiment and emboldened investor expectations followed the additional stimulus from major central banks, as demand for risk assets was boosted.

In an effort to meet the challenges described above, we have enhanced our dynamic weighting scheme with the introduction of conditional downside risk measures. By effectively considering the Sortino ratio of the factor sets, relative to the other factors we have in a specific region, there has been a change in the allocation between factor sets. Specifically, the allocation to our shorter term factor sets has increased. Medium term factor sets, such as market dynamics, have been reduced. Our dynamic valuation factor set will now also take account of the demand from investors for each individual style (value and quality). This will allow the investment process to better mitigate downside risk in periods where both fall from favour, by decreasing the weights in both. In addition, we have now adopted a statistical risk model into the portfolio construction process. Given its ability to capture periods of higher correlation between factors and other transitory risks informing equity pricing, we believe this will enhance risk adjusted returns going forward.

Performance of the sub-fund

Global growth remained in the doldrums in 2019 as the trade war weighed on business sentiment, but the strong response from central banks meant that financial assets have had an exceptional year.

The significant correction in equities and credit at the tail-end of 2018, together with an escalation in the Sino-US trade war, provoked a strong response from global monetary authorities with interest rates slashed and continued asset purchases. Most significantly, the US Federal Reserve (Fed) cut interest rates three times, ended quantitative tightening and started expanding its balance sheet via T-bill purchases. This led to a powerful rally in global bonds which was accompanied by credit spread tightening and steeper yield curves, and probably prevented a recession.

Market and Outlook

Fed policy is critical to the outlook for 2020. With two-thirds of global liabilities denominated in US dollars, economic and monetary divergence has negative consequences for global growth – high US interest rates and a strong dollar constrains corporate balance sheets, while high T-bill yields keep capital in the US. If geopolitical tensions persist and China continues to focus on financial stability over growth, then Fed policy is probably too tight and US dollar strength would result in flatter curves, lower corporate profits and weaker equity markets. Therefore, while the Fed may have averted a recession in 2019, we believe they'll be forced to ease further in the year ahead if dollar strength tightens financial conditions.

Portfolio construction has generally been centred around two core frameworks. Given the importance we place on the dollar, these frameworks largely revolve around whether US monetary policy is suitable (or not) for dollar borrowers outside the US.

As the Fed eased policy at the start of the year following a terrible Q4 2018 for risk assets, the portfolio was long inflation, long credit and short US dollars. We rotated into long duration positions as the trade war escalated and ex-US growth failed to recover in the middle of the year, before moving short core duration and US dollar again in Q3/Q4 as the Fed expanded its balance sheet. At present, we believe that Fed policy is accommodative. Money growth, however, has rebounded and is starting to feed through to interest-rate sensitive parts of the economy such as housing – if this continues and the Fed turns more hawkish before the rest of the world has found its feet again, then we'll take risk off the table.

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund outperformed the indicative benchmark significantly in 2019. High yield credits performed very well despite large declines in idiosyncratic names such as Argentina, Venezuela and Lebanon. Top performers were Ukraine, Senegal, Kenya and Costa Rica. The sub-fund started the year with overweight positions in Sub-Saharan Africa, and Ecuador, which we thought were oversold. Our overweights in Egypt, Ukraine and Nigeria (in local and hard currency bonds) were among the biggest contributors to performance. Overweights in Indonesia, Russia, Kazakhstan, and Angola also contributed to performance. Venezuela was the largest detractor from performance as the country dropped out of index over the year. Our underweight positions in investment grade Philippines, Peru and Chile also retracted from performance.

Market and Outlook

Emerging market debt had a stellar year in 2019. After enduring the bear market in 2018, the asset class staged a strong rebound in the first quarter as cheap valuation attracted strong inflows. The US Federal Reserve also signalled a pause in its hiking cycle, adding more support to the emerging market rally. The risk rally hit pause in May, when Trump escalated the US-China trade war by threatening additional tariffs and putting Huawei on a trade blacklist. Consequently, the prospect of lower global growth became investors' focus for much of second and third quarter. US 10-year Treasury bond yield tightened sharply by 100 bps between May and September as investors priced in three Fed rate cuts for the year. Investment grade credits performed well in this context while portfolio continued flowing into EM debt. Argentina briefly shocked the market in August when the primary election showed incumbent president Macri would lose by a big margin to the Peronist candidate Fernandez. Fearing a return of Cristina Kirchner, investors were quick to price in debt restructuring and bond prices dropped 40% in a few days. However, there was very limited contagion to the broader market. The EM debt asset class showed maturity and resilience, particularly in the aftermath of on Saudi Arabia oil facilities. Towards fourth quarter, we saw a series of unexpected protests in Ecuador, Lebanon, Chile and Colombia as volatility returned. Investors embraced risk again in December after "phase one" of US-China trade deal was announced in early December. High yield credits, where valuations have cheapened a lot despite having decent fundamentals, notably outperformed investment grade.

This assets of the sub-fund were transferred into the Merian European Equity Fund on 30 August 2019, which is reflected in the commentary.

Market and Outlook

At the start of the period under review, fears of a US recession had taken hold, stoked by an occurrence in the US government bond market where yields on longer-term bonds fell below yields on short-term bonds. The yields on US 10-year Treasuries dropped to 2.12 per cent at the end of May, only to fall below 2 per cent in June for the first time since 2016.

In comparison, the first part of the period saw US equity markets on a much firmer footing, reassured by an announcement from the US Federal Reserve (Fed) that interest rates would likely remain where they are. In the six months to the end of June 2019, the Dow Jones Industrial Average index was 15.07% higher in sterling terms.

Emerging market equities also reacted positively to the Fed's less confrontational monetary policy. The MSCI Emerging Markets index grew 10.6% during the period in sterling terms. This growth came in spite of a difficult period for the largest emerging market, China, which has experienced considerable volatility as a result of the trade dispute with the US. Towards the end of the period the MSCI China index had fallen almost 5% in sterling terms, although for the six months to the end of June, the MSCI China index returned 13.04% in sterling terms.

There was positive economic data from the eurozone, including the news that Italy recorded GDP growth in the first quarter of 2019 to steer it out of recession. In the period the MSCI Europe ex UK index surged 16.9% in sterling terms. Meanwhile, the UK's equity markets reacted positively to a six-month delay to Brexit to 31 October, although uncertainty continued throughout the period, as Theresa May failed to get Parliament's approval for her withdrawal Bill, leading to her resignation and appointment of Boris Johnson as prime minister in July.

Performance of the sub-fund

In the first half of the year the performance of the portfolio was slightly behind its comparator, as stock specific issues weighed on performance. The portfolio's underweight positioning in larger cap companies was a drag on performance, however this was partially offset by our exposure to growth-orientated managers, which produced a generally positive performance across the first six months.

Overall the only underperforming manager in the first half, was Odey Asset Management, which suffered through its UK domestic exposure to the likes of car retailer Pendragon, as well as Dixons and Barclays. In contrast, Merian Global Investors was one of the stronger outperformers in the first half of the period, as it generated strong returns driven by stocks including 3i, Ashtead and Homeserve.

Performance of the sub-fund

After considerable market pain in 2018 Q4, the U-turn by both US and Chinese central banks and the fiscal authorities in China supported a strong Q1 risk rally from cheap valuations that the sub-fund captured through adding exposure in new issues and gradually reducing hedges.

This Q1 risk rally was brought to an abrupt end in May as the trade war re-escalated on the failure for a US-China deal. The rational response in markets was for extra Fed easing to be re-priced causing an aggressive decline in bond yields across the board. This was supported by a collapse in the Q1 'greenshoots' in the data as Europe continued its descent and the US faltered notably on the back of business uncertainty centred around the geopolitics.

Using credit index hedging and buying duration led to gains in the sub-fund in the middle of the second quarter. In the latter end of the quarter, risk markets moved more positively and the swing back into risk in the sub-fund captured these moves – this was once again achieved by taking profits on credit hedges and adding exposure through the primary market.

The sub-fund closed on 31 July 2019.

MERIAN GLOBAL EMERGING MARKETS FUND

INVESTMENT ADVISER'S REPORT FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR ENDED 31 DECEMBER 2019

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund outperformed its indicative benchmark during the calendar year 2019. The year was positive for the sub-fund and for emerging markets in general. It was also a year of two halves for relative performance, with the first half better than the second. The weakness in the second half was largely concentrated in December. As a reminder, our conviction focus on high quality cash-generative businesses can sometimes lead to short term underperformance, relative to the index, if markets go off on a tear as they did in December.

What was most pleasing about 2019 was that our high conviction stock picks, backed in size, worked extremely well. China consumer names were strong, for example Kweichow Moutai and Anta Sports. Brazilian stocks were also solid performers, and among the sub-fund's top five contributors were YDUQS (formerly Estacio), which is a leading private provider of tertiary education in Brazil, and Localiza, the Brazilian car rental company. The sub-fund's financials holdings, for example HDFC Bank, Sberbank and Bank Central Asia, all continued to compound their returns given their impressively high return on equity ratios (in stark contrast to developed market banks).

The top five detractors to relative returns in 2019 were Medy-Tox, Matahari, Ternium, Nexteer Automotive and Godrej Consumer. New stocks in the portfolio during the year were Bank of Georgia, Inversiones La Construccion, Sinbon Electronics, Mr Price, Odontoprev, Creditcorp, L&T Technology and Union Medical Healthcare. Mr Price is an apparel retailer in South Africa. The stock fell heavily in the summer on a profit warning, opening up a gap between the share price and our estimate of the company's intrinsic value. Union Medical Healthcare is a healthcare provider based in Hong Kong and mainland China: the protests in Hong Kong have dampened business prospects in the very short term but we feel the market is being overly pessimistic. Stocks which we cut entirely were Baidu, China Construction Bank, KB Financial, Matahari, Ternium, Ayala, Indiabulls Housing Finance, and Gruma.

Market and Outlook

The tug of war between slowing global growth, on the one hand, and central bank easing and liquidity provision on the other was the dominant theme of 2019, with the latter driving most asset markets higher. We expect this environment to persist going into 2020. The current US environment of modest growth and low interest rates should be supportive for emerging markets by taking some of the strength out of the US dollar and ensuring markets have plentiful liquidity. For much of 2019, sentiment towards the asset class has been weak, seemingly because of concerns about what might be, whether geopolitically or from the deceleration of the Chinese economy. In our opinion, Roosevelt's famous quote, "the only thing we have to fear is...fear itself", applies to investing in global emerging markets into 2020.

MERIAN ASIAN EQUITY INCOME FUND

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund underperformed its indicative benchmark during the calendar year 2019. Performance across most of our stock selection techniques was weak during the year. Stock-to-stock comparison analysis, which is used by the sub-fund's investment process to predict stock returns, continued to be abnormal. The inversion of cross-sectional variables was particularly pronounced in the market dynamics and dynamic valuation factor sets. The underlying momentum strategies within market dynamics were further impacted by the effects of the broader factor unwind at the start of September. Factor sets more dependent on fundamental inputs, such as sustainable growth, were negatively impacted by the decoupling between price mechanisms and fundamentals at the market level.

By contrast, the analyst sentiment component, which focuses on company level information, contributed positively to performance over the year. This is consistent with short term factors having demonstrated greater resilience against the backdrop of deleveraging and capital outflows referenced above. The company management criterion, which evaluates the nature of the underlying corporate team responsible for running companies in our investment universe, also contributed positively over 2019.

Market and Outlook

Investor exuberance around a combination of accommodative central bank policy and improved prospects for global trade explained most of the market returns through 2019. The Shanghai Composite climbed 22%. By contrast, Hong Kong equities lagged global indexes, with the Hang Seng ending the year up just 9% after months of clashes between anti-government demonstrators and police. The turnaround was driven primarily by a shift in monetary policy at the Fed, which cut rates for the first time in a decade in July, lowering them again in September and October. Improved sentiment and emboldened investor expectations followed the additional stimulus from major central banks, as demand for risk assets was boosted. More recently, markets were emboldened by the apparent thaw in trade tensions, culminating in the US and China announcing a 'mini' trade deal. Although details remained scant, market participants have looked favourably upon the general de-escalation of trade tensions, helping the shares of manufacturers, chip makers and other trade-sensitive companies to bounce off their lows for the year. Asian economies with large manufacturing sectors find themselves increasingly bound to China's real economic cycle. Against the backdrop of rising tariffs, China's exports were little changed from their level 12 months ago. On the other hand, imports were down by 5%. Weaker demand is expected to weigh on South Korea and Taiwan, both of which have large bilateral trade surpluses with China. Despite the seasonal boost to markets' spirits, there was little evidence, however, that the Trump administration was reversing its strategy of trade and technology protectionism as a means of achieving future substantive concessions. By year end, as with other regional indexes, price mechanisms appeared to be somewhat detached from market fundamentals. In an effort to meet these challenges, we have enhanced our dynamic weighting scheme with the introduction of conditional downside risk measures.

MERIAN LOCAL CURRENCY EMERGING MARKET DEBT FUND

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund had a good year as the asset class made strong gains for the calendar year.

Market and Outlook

The sharp sell-off in risk assets globally in Q4 2018 pushed the US Federal Reserve into a complete about turn in monetary policy for the start of 2019 and a distinctly dovish outlook for the beginning of the year. This was exactly what emerging markets had been hoping for after the carnage of Q4 2018 and January started with a very strong performance. Emerging markets (EM) also benefited from a lower oil price, making the inflation and therefore rate outlook beneficial for EMD markets. High carry currencies (e.g. Mexico, Colombia and Indonesia) benefited particularly well in this environment. The sub-fund also benefited from exposure in frontier markets such as Egypt and Nigeria with this positive risk backdrop.

However after the January repricing, markets tracked sideways as the Fed's language did not turn into positive action and then the risk off perspective returned in May as US-China trade talks collapsed in an acrimonious manner. Understandably EM FX performed poorly as the US Dollar rallied sharply, particularly hard hit were China or commodity related currencies such as the Chilean and Colombian pesos. However as risk markets were hit hard rates rallied aggressively and this included EM rates. By the beginning of June the Fed were back on the easing rhetoric and signalled very clearly a rate cut that they finally delivered in July. The sub-fund benefited by being long of rates and initially short of FX.

The second half of 2019 saw the markets pulled in opposing directions, caught between President Trump's increasingly aggressive attitude to China trade talks and the imposition of a fresh round of tariffs and on the other hand an increasingly dovish US Federal Reserve. EM rates did well during this period supported by general monetary easing and disinflation trends in the global economy. However performance in local currency funds was hit by a difficult environment for EM FX rates, with Argentina the most notable casualty with that currency falling nearly 30% after the unexpected result from primary elections in August. The sub-fund continued to be positive EM rates given the supportive economic backdrop but still cautious FX. Performance for the sub-fund and the index was broadly flat for Q3.

The final three months of the year was universally good for risk assets as the US dollar weakened and the Fed continued to ease rates albeit at a very considered pace. Frontier EM markets did very well with the likes of Egypt seeing significant inflows. With the rates rally starting to slow during the quarter the sub-fund concentrated on those markets where further easing was likely (Turkey, Brazil and Indonesia). The weakness in the dollar created a positive environment for EM FX as well and concluded a very strong quarter for the market and the sub-fund.

MERIAN UK ALPHA FUND (IRL)

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The FTSE All Share index moved consistently higher during 2019, delivering a return of 19.2%. The US Federal Reserve signalled that it would cut interest rates early in the year, in response to the lacklustre global economy, allowing equity markets to bounce back sharply from a weak end to 2018. The European Central Bank and People's Bank of China also cut rates during the year as economic growth remained stubbornly subdued. Late in the period, progress on a US-China trade agreement and the surprisingly large Conservative party victory in the UK general election gave a further boost to equity markets.

The sub-fund outperformed the index with a return of 22.9%. Positive contributions came from Pets at Home, which delivered positive trading statements over the course of the year, Next, and gaming group GVC. Payment processing group Worldpay and Merlin Entertainments were both subject to takeovers and also contributed to the sub-fund return. Detractors included Aston Martin, on the back of significant downgrades to the profit outlook that highlighted the group's weak balance sheet. Power generator Drax fell on weak UK power prices while SPP and Micro Focus suffered from poorly received trading statements. Bribery investigations took their toll on miner Glencore.

Market and Outlook

Progress on the US-China trade deal and the general election result reduced some of the issues that have hung over the UK equity market for a while. However, in both cases risks remain.

With the UK leaving the European Union, attention turns to the trade deal negotiations. As with Brexit, there are a number of possible outcomes including a "Canada Plus" deal or no agreement being reached. And as with Brexit, developments in the negotiations will most likely be a driver of market volatility. More positively, the large Conservative party majority means that the government can at least pass legislation to boost the economy. We would expect an improvement in growth over the course of the year. The result of the December 2019 election kicked the threat of a hard Left Labour government into the long grass, and made the UK equity market more attractive to overseas investors, and this should continue to provide some support, notwithstanding the trade deal risk.

As the name suggests, the "phase one" deal agreed between the US and China is not the end of the story, with further negotiations to come. There is also a risk that the US will take a more hostile approach to trade arrangements with Europe. However, with an election looming, President Trump may postpone any action that dampens economic growth.

The economic outlook remains subdued but the trade deal may support a pickup in growth over the year. In spite of strong labour markets and wage growth, inflation remains becalmed. This allows central banks to provide support though the efficacy of policy action at current interest rate levels is limited. Fiscal support for growth would be welcome, with the UK likely to lead the way this year.

Against this background, we believe the UK equity market can make progress in 2020.

MERIAN UK SMALLER COMPANIES FOCUS FUND

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund rose strongly over the year, outperforming its reference index (Numis Smaller Companies Index excluding Investment Companies).

While the sub-fund performed well over the first five months of the year, as many of the oversold positions from the end of 2018 bounced, it gave much of this back by September. However, the big news of the year in the UK was the overwhelming Conservative election victory and a sense of some clarity emerging in domestic politics. This propelled the UK market (reference index) up by c14% over the fourth quarter.

Market and Outlook

Our stance since the back end of 2018 had been one of neutralising our UK domestic underweight, judging that risks over Brexit were finely balanced. This positioning was at odds with preceding years, which had been much more heavily weighted towards structural growth, often with an international bias. Such positioning implicitly inferred that a "successful" Brexit outcome, or other de-risking event in the UK was unlikely. Frankly, this was hard to know ex ante, but we felt such extreme bias was hard to justify.

As the risks of a Labour government faded, and a semblance of political direction returned, much of the UK domestic exposure we had taken on over the year performed strongly.

The sub-fund is overweight these UK domestic plays and we are now undertaking a review to assess which areas might be best placed, given what we know of the Boris Johnson's likely policies. We'd expect our UK exposure to probably moderate somewhat, while still looking out for strong, uncorrelated ideas to supplement. As ever, stock selection is likely to be key in determining performance for the coming year.

MERIAN UK DYNAMIC EQUITY FUND

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

UK equity markets moved consistently higher over the course of 2019. Early in the year, the US Federal Reserve signalled that it would cut interest rates and stop the withdrawal of quantitative easing in response to the weak global economy, allowing equity markets to bounce sharply from a weak end to 2018. The European Central Bank and People's Bank of China also cut rates over the year as economic growth remained stubbornly subdued. Late in the period progress on a US/China trade agreement and the surprisingly large Conservative victory in the General Election led to a further leg up for equity markets. The latter was particularly beneficial for UK small- and mid-cap companies.

The sub-fund performed well, finishing ahead of the FTSE 250 Index Excluding Investment Trusts and in the top decile of the UK All Companies peer group. Relative outperformance was evenly divided between stock selection and sector allocation. The best performers within the long book were boohoo.com, JD Sports, Future and TransferWise. The key detractors were Burford, Funding Circle and Ascential. The sub-fund benefited from having no exposure to oil and gas sectors and being overweight in retailers and software. The short book was flat over the year as gains from AG Barr, RHI Magnesita and The AA were offset by losses in Porvair.

Market and Outlook

We have continued to steadily add to the sub-fund's UK domestic cyclical stocks throughout the year. This has taken the sub-fund from a materially underweight position in the third quarter of 2018 to a modest overweight position by the end of the third quarter 2019. This shift has been funded through materially reducing cash balances and a steady reduction in exposure to the more highly rated growth stocks. The sub-fund remains overweight growth versus defensives and is modestly overweight UK cyclicals offset by a modest underweight in internationally exposed cyclicals.

Supportive monetary policy developments across the US, Europe and China in recent months coupled with more certainty surrounding US/China trade relations post the recent Phase I deal should support a recovery in the global industrial economy through 2020. Trump is most likely to focus on improving the US domestic economy in the run up to US elections rather than open new trade disputes. The UK domestic economy will benefit from increased government spending and a recovery in confidence post the election landslide. Collectively this backdrop should support improving global growth through 2020 and provides a good backdrop for further progress in equities.

MERIAN GLOBAL EQUITY ABSOLUTE RETURN FUND

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund had a negative return in the calendar year 2019, and underperformed its indicative benchmark. The disappointing returns were generated in an environment which continues to prove challenging for the investment process. Throughout the year, medium term factors in particular exhibited elevated correlation. In the main this was due to an extended episode of deleveraging and capital outflows, which negatively weighed on the returns of these factors.

Significant factor rotations persisted throughout the year. In the course of 2019, one such episode was characterised by a sharp increase in cheap 'value' stocks, while previously outperforming defensive and quality stocks retreated sharply. Factor rotations were particularly prevalent in both North America and Europe, despite their effects being somewhat more nuanced at the index level. The unwinding of crowded positions intensified the effects of these rotations across many factor-based investment strategies over the period. The rotations themselves were particularly impactful in quality- and momentum-type factors. As price mechanisms within the broader market demonstrated further decoupling from fundamentals, weaker returns were seen to our more fundamental stock selection criteria. Overall, the defensive nature of the portfolio has resulted in something of a negative correlation to broader peer group at this time.

Performance was weak across most of the sub-fund's stock selection criteria throughout the period. At a portfolio level it proved challenging to blend value with a series of our other factor sets. The nature of the relationship between value and quality, as well as value and momentum, detracted from the sub-fund's returns during the period. This was evidenced by the weaker contribution from both the dynamic valuation and the market dynamics factor sets. As price mechanisms within the broader market demonstrated further decoupling from fundamentals, weaker returns were seen to some of our more fundamental stock selection criteria.

Market and Outlook

Tangible risks and ongoing challenges to the sustainability and fundamental underpinnings of economic performance failed to impair equity returns throughout 2019. The global economy struggled for most of 2019, crimping business investment in many economies. Central banks capitulated in their efforts to normalise monetary policy. This signalled the prospect of ultralow rates remaining in place for longer and shifted focus towards fiscal expansion. Finally, the US administration has not necessarily reversed its strategy of trade and technology protectionism as a means of achieving future substantive concessions from global trading partners. The strong market returns appear to be predicated on investor expectations, or on the 'hope' that central bank liquidity and the de-escalation in trade tensions will lead to certain sequential near term outcomes. However, short term optimism does not necessarily resolve longer term uncertainties. The risks, whether economic, financial, political or social, could easily derail such expectations or hopes. In an effort to meet these challenges, we have enhanced our dynamic weighting scheme with the introduction of conditional downside risk measures.

MERIAN STRATEGIC ABSOLUTE RETURN BOND FUND

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

Global growth remained in the doldrums in 2019 as the trade war weighed on business sentiment, but the strong response from central banks meant that financial assets have had an exceptional year.

The significant correction in equities and credit at the tail-end of 2018, together with an escalation in the Sino-US trade war, provoked a strong response from global monetary authorities with interest rates slashed and continued asset purchases. Most significantly, the US Federal Reserve (Fed) cut interest rates three times, ended quantitative tightening and started expanding its balance sheet via T-bill purchases. This led to a powerful rally in global bonds which was accompanied by credit spread tightening and steeper yield curves, and probably prevented a recession.

Market and Outlook

Fed policy is critical to the outlook for 2020. With two-thirds of global liabilities denominated in US dollars, economic and monetary divergence has negative consequences for global growth – high US interest rates and a strong dollar constrains corporate balance sheets, while high T-bill yields keep capital in the US. If geopolitical tensions persist and China continues to focus on financial stability over growth, then Fed policy is probably too tight and US dollar strength would result in flatter curves, lower corporate profits and weaker equity markets. Therefore, while the Fed may have averted a recession in 2019, we believe they'll be forced to ease further in the year ahead if dollar strength tightens financial conditions.

Portfolio construction has generally been centred around two core frameworks. Given the importance we place on the dollar, these frameworks largely revolve around whether US monetary policy is suitable (or not) for dollar borrowers outside the US.

As the Fed eased policy at the start of the year following a terrible Q4 2018 for risk assets, the portfolio was long inflation, long credit and short US dollars. We rotated into long duration positions as the trade war escalated and ex-US growth failed to recover in the middle of the year, before moving short core duration and US dollar again in Q3/Q4 as the Fed expanded its balance sheet. At present, we believe that Fed policy is accommodative. Money growth, however, has rebounded and is starting to feed through to interest-rate sensitive parts of the economy such as housing – if this continues and the Fed turns more hawkish before the rest of the world has found its feet again, then we'll take risk off the table.

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

Performance of European small and mid-cap equities was strong in 2019.

The year can be divided into three distinct segments for market sentiment. The first third saw recovery from the lows of 2018 as the US Federal Reserve changed stance on interest rates which encouraged markets. After this in to the summer markets worried about slowing economic growth and the growing noise around trade wars. The autumn brought much more buoyant conditions as central banks once again increased liquidity and the US and China de-escalated their trade dispute.

Asset allocation has been slightly positive as the weighting towards IT and underweight staples helped while the cash position was a modest drag in a strong year. Sources of outperformance have been broad with the greatest successes coming in healthcare (Dermapharm), IT (Barco, BEI, Sopra, Compugroup, Vaisala), financials (Banca Generali, Euronext), media (Stroeer and Stillfront). The sub-fund also benefited from the takeover of two Dutch companies that it owned in spectacle retailer Grandvision, and construction group Volkerwessels. On the negative side came very small companies (Home24, EDAG), international companies with disappointing earnings trends (Prosegur, Brunel) and defensives that didn't excite investors in 2019 (NOS, Lagardere). The changes made to the sub-fund during the year have broadly resulted in it becoming less cyclical and more weighted towards structural growth companies.

Market and Outlook

Valuations are not obviously cheap at 16.8x earnings and 3% dividend yield which leads us to think that returns will be more modest in 2020. The biggest risk is that yet again year two estimates have been little changed even as 2019 numbers drifted down. This leaves consensus expecting a pretty heroic 17% rise in earnings this year. At the same time the Citi European surprise index is heading back towards the highs of 2017 meaning that at the very least, the much talked about recession looks very unlikely. Sub-fund positioning is slightly more towards quality and growth than at the start of the quarter, we remain positively positioned towards cyclical companies. It is overweight in consumer discretionary, energy, communication services and financials. The sub-fund remains underweight in healthcare and staples on valuation grounds. We remain more exposed to domestic sales than international ones as we expect acceleration in European growth this year driven by rising domestic incomes and some support from government.

MERIAN GLOBAL EQUITY INCOME FUND (IRL)

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund underperformed its indicative benchmark during the calendar year 2019. Performance across most of our stock selection techniques was weak during the year. Stock-to-stock comparison analysis, which is used by the sub-fund's investment process to predict stock returns, continued to be abnormal. The inversion of cross-sectional variables was particularly pronounced in the market dynamics and dynamic valuation factor sets. This transitory effect has coincided with an extended period of deleveraging and capital outflows from a wide range of quantitative strategies. The underlying momentum strategies within market dynamics were further impacted by the effects of the broader factor unwind at the start of September. In the case of dynamic valuation, we believe the latest model enhancements will better mitigate the downside risk in periods where both value and quality go out of favour, by decreasing the weights in both. Factor sets more dependent on fundamental inputs, such as sustainable growth, were negatively impacted by the decoupling between price mechanisms and fundamentals at the market level. The analyst sentiment component, which focuses on company level information, further detracted from performance. By contrast, the company management criterion, which evaluates the nature of the underlying corporate team responsible for running companies in our investment universe, contributed positively over 2019.

Market and Outlook

Investor exuberance around a combination of accommodative central bank policy and improved prospects for global trade explained most of the market returns through 2019. In the US, the S&P 500 returned in excess of 28% over the course of 2019, nearing the 29.6% growth achieved in 2013. The 2019 rally was not limited to US stocks. The Stoxx Europe 600 gained 23% this year, putting it on course for its best performance in a decade. China's Shanghai Composite was up 22%, while Japan's Nikkei 225 rose 18%. The turnaround was driven primarily by a shift in monetary policy at the Fed, which cut rates for the first time in a decade in July, lowering them again in September and October. More recently, markets were emboldened by the apparent thaw in trade tensions, culminating in the US and China announcing a 'mini' trade deal. Despite the seasonal boost to markets' spirits, there was little evidence, however, that the Trump administration was reversing its strategy of trade and technology protectionism as a means of achieving future substantive concessions. With an election year in 2020, the market may remain wary of further uncertainties ahead. Moreover, by year end, price mechanisms appeared to be further detached from market fundamentals. Compared with the sharp gains in US stock prices, companies in the S&P 500 have reported subpar growth in both earnings and revenue in 2019. Earnings per share growth will be just 1.4%, according to FactSet data, down from 22% in 2018. Profits are expected to grow 9.5% in 2020.

The strong market returns appear to be predicated on investor expectations, or on the 'hope' that central bank liquidity and the de-escalation in trade tensions will lead to certain sequential near term outcomes. However, short term optimism does not necessarily resolve longer term uncertainties. In an effort to meet these challenges, we have enhanced our dynamic weighting scheme with the introduction of conditional downside risk measures.

MERIAN GOLD & SILVER FUND

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

2019 was a good year for the sub-fund with strong performance and steady net inflows throughout the year leading to a doubling of assets under management through the course of the 12 months. Fundamentals for gold ownership centre on the direction of real yields. While we did see a bit of a bounce in early Q4 after the Fed only cut 25bps (rather than the anticipated 50bps) the year as a whole was the reverse of 2018 and saw a bias towards supportive and loose monetary policy. Interestingly the resumption of QE and the huge Repo programme have not yet bled into real yields and we see that theme as something to look out for in 2020.

In spite of the gold/silver ratio remaining elevated at 86:1 at year end, the sub-fund's relative performance was strong thanks to a stellar Q4 for global silver producers. The lower operating margins and faster rising spot prices during the summer led to impressive earnings growth in silver mining and some of the producers with strong balance sheets (like Pan American silver, the sub-fund's top holding) really caught a bid and decoupled from the rest of the sector in the final quarter. This outperformance led to the silver mining equity component to reach highs of around 47% of the portfolio at year end. Once genuine momentum towards the sector is generated we anticipate this allocation will remain elevated and range between 40 and 50% on an ongoing basis. Beyond that the portfolio blend has not changed materially during the past 12 months as the bullion allocation is still ranging between 16 and 19% and the geographic split of mining jurisdictions has also not altered much.

Market and Outlook

As flagged up in previous annual reviews, the M&A wave that actually started in 2018 and has been seen as something of a starter's gun for a powerful cyclical, move higher accelerated markedly in 2019 and likely yet more consolidation will be seen in 2020. While the deals we saw were a net win for the sub-fund we feel that the sizeable single-project deals that characterised 2019 will evolve into more a broader move with mid-caps and sub-sector/regional consolidation becoming the next style theme in corporate activity terms.

Investment Adviser – Quilter Investors Limited

The assets of Merian Compass Portfolio 2[^] were transferred into Quilter ICAV on 7 June 2019, which is reflected in the commentary.

Performance of the sub-fund

Overall the portfolio performed positively, driven by strong equity market performance as stock markets started the year in recovery mode. In the first few months the global equity allocation was by far the largest contributor to returns, a trend that continued throughout the six months. Although US, UK and European equities all also contributed positively in the second half of the period.

The environment that we find ourselves in is interesting, but also with elements of uncertainty as a variety of global geopolitical headwinds sit ready to affect markets in one way or another. The way we're reflecting that in the portfolio is by not taking too much of an active position, and so we are marginally underweight our strategic asset allocation by a couple of percentage points. This was a positive move in May, when increased trade war concerns saw markets stumble before eventually rebounding.

The fixed income allocation delivered modest positive returns in the period, with the alternative fixed income holdings proving the most rewarding in the first half of the period. Towards the end of the period one potential issue was that we probably didn't have enough duration exposure within the portfolio. That said, we did add to this position during April, which rewarded us during the May turbulence. Elsewhere, there were a few manager challenges on the fixed income side, in particular Quilter Investors Bond 3, a mandate run by JPMorgan. It is a multi-sector credit portfolio which has underperformed broader high-yield markets.

Within alternatives, the start of the year saw positive performance from some of the private equity holdings, in particular the Harbourvest Global Private Equity investment trust. As we moved into the second half of the period certain elements within the alternatives portfolio struggled, particularly the Merian STAR alternative beta fund, although this was partially offset by some positive returns from our private equity and event-driven strategies.

Market and Outlook

At the start of the period under review, fears of a US recession had taken hold, stoked by an occurrence in the US government bond market where yields on longer-term bonds fell below yields on short-term bonds. The yields on US 10-year Treasuries dropped to 2.12 per cent at the end of May, only to fall below 2 per cent in June for the first time since 2016.

In comparison, the first part of the period saw US equity markets on a much firmer footing, reassured by an announcement from the US Federal Reserve (Fed) that interest rates would likely remain where they are. In the six months to the end of June 2019, the Dow Jones Industrial Average index was 15.07% higher in sterling terms.

Emerging market equities also reacted positively to the Fed's less confrontational monetary policy. The MSCI Emerging Markets index grew 10.6% during the period in sterling terms. This growth came in spite of a difficult period for the largest emerging market, China, which has experienced considerable volatility as a result of the trade dispute with the US. In the last two months of the period the MSCI China index had fallen almost 5% in sterling terms, although for the six months to the end of June, the MSCI China index returned 13.04% in sterling terms.

There was positive economic data from the eurozone, including the news that Italy recorded GDP growth in the first quarter of 2019 to steer it out of recession. In the period the MSCI Europe ex UK index surged 16.9% in sterling terms. Meanwhile, the UK's equity markets reacted positively to a six-month delay to Brexit, which has yet to be significantly affected by the drama of finding a new resident for Number 10, with the FTSE All Share index rising 12.9% in sterling terms.

However, the Bank of England's prediction for zero, or potentially negative, growth in the UK economy from April to June, boosted UK government bond prices. During the six months to the end of June gilt yields continued to trend lower, with just a slight pick-up in April. In the latter part of the period, 10-year gilt yields fell to 0.83%.

MERIAN UK SPECIALIST EQUITY FUND

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund delivered a solid return over 2019. The long book outperformed the FTSE 250 ex-Investment Trusts index, while the active element of the short book underperformed the index, meaning that 'alpha' was generated from both sides of the portfolio. This came against a backdrop of strong equity markets worldwide and supportive monetary policy.

At a stock level, the strongest contributors from the long book were Boohoo Group, the fast fashion retailer, TransferWise, an unlisted holding which was sold from the sub-fund at the end of the year, Workspace, a London office company, Future, a magazine business transitioning to a digital business model, and OneSavings Bank, a specialist lending company. The biggest detractors were Funding Circle and Aston Martin, both businesses that failed to deliver on their IPO promises, and Burford Capital, which was the target of a negative report from a vocal short-selling fund. On the short book, the sub-fund benefited from a number of profit warnings, including a manufacturer of industrial tape, a soft drinks company, a bicycle retailer, a car breakdown business and an e-commerce retailer. Partially offsetting this were a number of highly-rated growth stocks that moved to yet higher valuation ratings over the year, as well as takeover bids for a short position in a logistics company and a hotel operator.

Market and Outlook

As we look into 2020, thematic tilts remain modest, and gross exposure is slightly below historic levels. Net exposure remains very close to zero, both in reported terms and adjusted for beta. The sub-fund is modestly net long UK domestic cyclical businesses, reflecting greater political clarity from the election result, set against continued uncertainty on Brexit. Exposure to international cyclicalities remains slightly net short, given a relatively sluggish economic backdrop, and generally full valuations. Structural growth remains a tilt on the long book, though has continued to reduce over the year, with further shorts in this area added over 2020. As ever, the focus remains on delivering returns through stock picking on the long and short books.

MERIAN STYLE PREMIA ABSOLUTE RETURN FUND

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

Markets were highly unpredictable in the first half of 2019, with a strong bounce back from the end of 2018. US-China trade discussions, and expectations of favourable monetary policy for markets, were the two main drivers of markets. Against this backdrop, for much of the period there was a large dispersion in returns to systematic styles.

The sub-fund continued its strategy of diversified exposure to style factors with a low correlation to equity and bond markets, by investing across five distinct and pervasive investment styles (value, momentum, quality, carry, and statistical arbitrage) and three liquid asset classes (equities, fixed income and FX).

The sub-fund was closed on 18 June 2019.

MERIAN FINANCIALS CONTINGENT CAPITAL FUND

INVESTMENT ADVISER'S REPORT FOR THE FINANCIAL YEAR ENDED 31 DECEMBER 2019

Investment Adviser – Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited

Performance of the sub-fund

The sub-fund outperformed its indicative benchmark during the calendar year 2019. After the relatively disappointing performance of the contingent capital asset class in 2018, 2019 turned out to be an exceptional year.

Early in 2019, the US Federal Reserve (Fed) backtracked on its rate hiking ambitions, given the slowdown in global growth, and this supported risk markets around the world leading to a recovery of the losses of Q4 2018. In February 2019 there was some market consternation when Santander became the first bank not to call one of its CoCos bonds at the first available date, but as this was an economic decision the market soon moved on. By the end of the first quarter, CoCos had returned over 6%, and Santander bonds were also trading well above earlier levels.

As the year progressed, worries over Brexit and the US-China trade war escalated. The Fed and the European Central Bank responded with more dovish rhetoric towards the end of the second quarter, and the weakness of the earlier part of the quarter was more than recovered by its end.

The trade war continued to dominate proceedings in the third quarter. A tentative truce struck at the G20 summit was soon undone as President Trump threatened more tariffs shortly thereafter. Paralysis in the UK government also brought Brexit risks back to the fore, with an increasing threat of a 'no-deal' outcome. These heightened tensions, however, did give rise to some opportunities in the asset class as issuers paid higher spreads than they might otherwise have done for their new issues.

The year closed out with progress being made in the trade war, and also a landslide victory for Boris Johnson in the UK General Election. With a large majority he was able to break the deadlock that had plagued the UK all year and to enact legislation to take the UK out of the EU on 31 January 2020. The removal of uncertainty led to a very strong rally in both UK- and also sterling-denominated assets towards the year end.

Market and Outlook

The year offered opportunities to add alpha in the market. The sub-fund is typically run with an overweight position in assets denominated in sterling – this is due to a liquidity premium offered in sterling relative to the same issuers' bonds when denominated in US dollars or euros. During the first quarter this detracted slightly from performance as US dollar bonds performed better than the index.

As the year moved on the large value that had built up in sterling bonds began to be shown and this culminated in the fourth quarter rally with both UK assets, but especially sterling denominated assets, outperforming the index heavily.

The managers were able to use the opportunity offered by the insurance sector equivalent of AT1, the RT1 bond, to add significant value in the second half of the year with holdings in Pension Insurance Corp, Rothesay Life and Phoenix all performing very well.

As we look into 2020, spreads have tightened significantly from one year ago. This means that bonds being issued today have lower resets than those issued in the past. In the event that spreads were to widen again these new bonds would be more likely to move to being valued on a yield to perpetuity basis, which would greatly increase their duration. For this reason we currently see more attraction in the older bonds that the sub-fund already holds, and are being very selective in participating in any new issuance.

We do, however, still regard CoCos as being a relatively undervalued asset class. Its yield relative to the credit quality of the banks and insurers issuing the bonds is very high. While the bonds will always carry a premium for their perceived complexity, this is more than covered, in our view, by the yield available.

INDEPENDENT AUDITOR'S REPORT TO THE MEMBERS OF MERIAN GLOBAL INVESTORS SERIES PLC

Report on the audit of the financial statements

Opinion

We have audited the English language version financial statements of Merian Global Investors Series Plc ("the Company") for the financial year ended 31 December 2019 set out on pages 177 to 349, which comprise the Statement of Operations, Statement of Financial Position, Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Redeemable Participating Shareholders and related notes, including the summary of significant accounting policies set out in note 3. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is Irish Law and FRS 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland.

In our opinion, the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the assets, liabilities and financial position of the Company as at 31 December 2019 and of its decrease in net assets attributable to holders of redeemable participating shares for the financial year then ended;
- have been properly prepared in accordance with FRS 102 The Financial Reporting Standard applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland; and
- have been properly prepared in accordance with the requirements of the Companies Act 2014, the European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2011 and the Central Bank (Supervision and Enforcement) Act 2013 (Section 48(1)) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2019.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (Ireland) ("ISAs (Ireland)") and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of financial statements in Ireland, including the Ethical Standard issued by the Irish Auditing and Accounting Supervisory Authority ("IAASA"), and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

We have nothing to report on going concern

We are required to report to you if we have concluded that the use of the going concern basis of accounting is inappropriate or there is an undisclosed material uncertainty that may cast significant doubt over the use of that basis for a period of at least twelve months from the date of approval of the financial statements. We have nothing to report in these respects.

Other information

The directors are responsible for the other information presented in the Annual Report together with the financial statements. The other information comprises the information included in the directors' report, the directory, general information, depositary's report, investment advisers' reports, portfolio of investments, significant purchases and sales (unaudited), total expense ratios (unaudited), fund performance (unaudited), significant events during the financial year (unaudited), and supplementary information (unaudited). Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, accordingly, we do not express an audit opinion or, except as explicitly stated below, any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether, based on our financial statements audit work, the information therein is materially misstated or inconsistent with the financial statements or our audit knowledge. Based solely on that work we have not identified material misstatements in the other information.

Based solely on our work on the other information, we report that:

- we have not identified material misstatements in the directors' report or other accompanying information;
- in our opinion, the information given in the directors' report is consistent with the financial statements;
- in our opinion, the directors' report has been prepared in accordance with the Companies Act 2014.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the Companies Act 2014

We have obtained all the information and explanations which we consider necessary for the purposes of our audit.

In our opinion the accounting records of the Company were sufficient to permit the financial statements to be readily and properly audited and the financial statements are in agreement with the accounting records.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

The Companies Act 2014 requires us to report to you if, in our opinion, the disclosures of directors' remuneration and transactions required by Sections 305 to 312 of the Act are not made. We have nothing to report in this regard.

Respective responsibilities and restrictions on use

Responsibilities of directors for the financial statements

As explained more fully in the directors' responsibilities statement set out in pages 18 to 19, the directors are responsible for: the preparation of the financial statements including being satisfied that they give a true and fair view; such internal control as they determine is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the directors are responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern; and using the going concern basis of accounting unless they either intend to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or have no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (Ireland) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

A fuller description of our responsibilities is provided on IAASA's website at https://www.iaasa.ie/getmedia/b2389013-1cf6-458b-9b8f-a98202dc9c3a/Description_of_auditors_responsibilities_for_audit.pdf.

The purpose of our audit work and to whom we owe our responsibilities

Our report is made solely to the Company's members, as a body, in accordance with Section 391 of the Companies Act 2014. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Company's members those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Company and the Company's members, as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Merian Global Investors Series Plc

1. Reporting Entity

Merian Global Investors Series Plc (the "Company") is an open-ended investment company with variable capital organised under the laws of Ireland. The Company is organised in the form of an umbrella fund insofar as the share capital of the Company will be divided into different series of Shares with each series of Shares representing a portfolio of assets which will comprise a separate fund (each a "sub-fund"). As at 31 December 2019, the Company has 21 sub-funds in operation (2018: 29 sub-funds). Merian Global Strategic Bond Fund (IRL), Merian Investment Grade Corporate Bond Fund and Merian Style Premia Absolute Return Fund closed during the financial year. The assets of Merian Compass Portfolio 2^, Merian Compass Portfolio 3^, Merian Compass Portfolio 4^ and Merian Compass Portfolio 5^ were transferred into Quilter Investors ICAV. The assets of Merian European Best Ideas Fund^^ were transferred into Merian European Equity Fund during the financial year.

2. Basis of Preparation

The Company is incorporated in Ireland and authorised by the Central Bank of Ireland ("Central Bank"). The financial statements are prepared in accordance with Financial Reporting Standard 102 applicable in the UK and Republic of Ireland ("FRS 102") issued by the Financial Reporting Council ("FRC") in September 2015 and promulgated by the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Ireland ("ICAI"), Irish statute comprising the Companies Act 2014 (as amended) and the European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2011 (as amended) ("the UCITS Regulations") and the Central Bank (Supervision and Enforcement) Act 2013 (Section 48(1)) (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations 2019 (the "Central Bank UCITS Regulations").

The format and certain wordings of the financial statements have been adapted from those contained in the FRS 102 and the Companies Act 2014 so that, in the opinion of the Directors, they more appropriately reflect the nature of the Company's business as an investment fund.

The Company has availed of the exemption available to open-ended investment funds under FRS 102 and are not presenting a cash flow statement.

Measurement Convention

The financial statements are prepared under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss. The debt instruments are held in the financial statements at an amount that includes accrued interest.

Going Concern

The financial statements of the Company have been prepared on the going concern basis.

3. Significant Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies and estimates applied in the preparation of these financial statements are set out below. These policies have been consistently applied to all the periods presented, unless otherwise stated.

a. Estimates and Judgements

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with FRS 102 requires management to make judgements, estimates and assumptions that may affect the reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses.

The estimates and associated assumptions are based on historical experience and various other factors which are believed to be reasonable under the circumstances, the results of which form the basis of making the judgements about carrying values of assets and liabilities which are not readily apparent from others. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognised in the period in which the estimates are revised and in any future accounting periods affected. Information about assumptions and estimation uncertainties that have a significant risk of resulting in a material adjustment within the next financial year, as well as critical judgement in applying accounting policies that have the most significant effect on the amounts recognised in the financial statements are included in Note 11.

b. Foreign Currency Translation

Functional and Presentation Currency of the Company

The Company has adopted United States Dollar ("USD") as its presentation currency as a substantial part of the Company's assets and liabilities are denominated in USD.

Functional and Presentation Currency of the Sub-Funds

Items included in the Company's financial statements are measured using the currency of the primary economic environment in which the respective sub-funds operate (the "functional currency"). The functional currency, which is either Euro ("EUR"), United States Dollar ("USD") or Pound Sterling ("GBP"), is shown in the Statement of Financial Position for each sub-fund. The sub-funds also adopted these functional currencies as their presentation currency.

Transactions and Balances

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated to the sub-fund's functional currency at the foreign exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Assets and liabilities in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the rates prevailing at the financial year end date.

Translation of Sub-Funds for the purposes of calculating the Company values

For the purposes of calculating the overall value of the Company, for all sub-funds where USD is not the functional currency, all assets and liabilities in the Statement of Financial Position are translated to USD at financial year end exchange rates and all income and expenses are translated to USD using an average rate of exchange for the financial year.

c. Financial Instruments

The Company has chosen to implement the recognition and measurement provisions of IAS 39 and only the disclosure requirements of Sections 11 and 12 of FRS 102.

The majority of the Company's financial instruments are classified in categories that require measurement at fair value through profit or loss, with the basis for arriving at this position being set out below.

Classification

The Company classifies financial assets and financial liabilities into the following categories:

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss:

- Held for trading: transferable securities, investment funds and financial derivative instruments.

Financial assets at amortised cost:

- Loans and receivables: cash and cash equivalents, due from broker, collateral cash, deposits with credit institutions and other assets.

Financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss:

- Held for trading: financial derivative instruments.

Financial liabilities at amortised cost:

- Other liabilities: due to broker, bank overdraft and other liabilities and Net Assets Attributable to Redeemable Participating Shareholders.

A financial instrument is classified as held for trading if:

- it is acquired or incurred principally for the purpose of selling or repurchasing it in the near term;
- on initial recognition, it is part of a portfolio that is managed together and for which there is evidence of a recent pattern of short-term profit taking; or
- is a derivative, other than a designated and effective hedging instrument.

c. Financial Instruments (continued)

Recognition and Measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit or loss are recognised as of the day the transaction takes place (trade date), the date on which the sub-fund commits to purchase or sell the asset. Investments are initially recognised at fair value, and costs for all financial assets and financial liabilities carried at fair value through profit or loss are expensed as incurred. Other financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised on the date in which they originated.

Financial assets and financial liabilities not at fair value through profit or loss are initially recognised at fair value plus transaction costs that are directly attributable to their acquisition or issue.

Subsequent to initial recognition, all instruments classified at fair value through profit or loss are measured at fair value with changes in their fair value recognised in the Statement of Operations. Financial assets and liabilities, other than those at fair value through profit or loss, are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate, with other assets being measured using effective interest rate and less impairment losses, if any. Financial liabilities arising from the redeemable shares issued by the Company are carried at the redemption amount representing the investors' right to a residual interest in the Company's assets.

Fair Value Measurement

'Fair value' is the price that would be received to sell an asset or paid to transfer a liability in an orderly transaction between market participants at the measurement date in the principal or, in its absence, the most advantageous market to which the sub-fund has access at that date. The fair value of a liability reflects its non-performance risk.

i) Transferable Securities

When available, the sub-funds measure the fair value of an investment using the quoted price in an active market for that instrument. A market is regarded as 'active' if transactions for the asset or liability take place with sufficient frequency and volume to provide pricing information on an ongoing basis. Sub-funds measure instruments quoted in an active market at a last traded price, without any deduction for estimated future selling cost. The last traded price provides a reasonable approximation of exit price.

If there is no quoted price in an active market, then the sub-fund uses valuation techniques that maximise the use of relevant observable inputs and minimise the use of unobservable inputs. The chosen valuation technique incorporates all of the factors that market participants would take into account in pricing a transaction.

ii) Investment Funds

The fair value of investment funds is based on the underlying fund administrator's calculation of the net asset value per share (market value of the sub-fund's assets less liabilities divided by the number of shares) which will be the latest bid price published by the investment funds taking into account any adjustments that may be required to account for illiquidity, low trading volumes or any such factors that may indicate that the bid price may not be fair value. The fair value of any investments in closed-ended investment funds is based on the bid prices available on the principal market for such security at the valuation date taking into account any adjustments that may be required to account for illiquidity, low trading volumes or any such factors that may indicate that the bid price may not be fair value.

iii) Financial Derivative Instruments

Currency Exchange Contracts

The sub-funds may employ currency exchange contracts to purchase or sell a specific currency at a future date at a price set at the time of the contract. The base currency of each sub-fund is either GBP, EUR or USD but securities in a sub-fund may be denominated in a large range of currencies. Consequently, a sub-fund may enter into currency exchange contracts to hedge against exchange rate risk. Performance may be significantly influenced by movements in foreign exchange rates because currency positions held by a sub-fund may not correspond with the currency of the securities invested in. The unrealized gain or loss on open currency exchange contracts is calculated as the difference between the contract price and the spot price as at financial year end. Any changes in fair value are recognised in the Statement of Operations.

Futures contracts

Futures contracts are commitments either to purchase or sell a designated financial instrument, currency, commodity or an index at a specified future date for a specified price and may be settled in cash or another financial asset. Futures are standardised exchange-traded contracts. Initial margin requirements for futures are met in cash or other instruments, and changes in the futures contract values are settled daily. Daily fluctuations in the value of a futures contract are recorded for financial reporting purposes as unrealised gains or losses by the sub-funds and are recorded as a realised gain or loss when the position is closed.

Options

A sub-fund may purchase and sell (write) call and put options on securities, securities indices and foreign currencies traded on a national securities exchange or in an over-the-counter market.

When a sub-fund purchases a call or a put option, a premium is paid by the sub-fund. The premium on purchased put options exercised is subtracted from the proceeds of the sale of the underlying security or foreign currency in determining the realised gain or loss. The premium on purchased call options exercised is included in determining initial fair value of the securities or foreign currency purchased. Premiums paid on the purchase of options which expire unexercised are treated as realised losses. The option is subsequently marked-to-market to reflect the fair value of the option purchased, which is reported within financial assets at fair value through profit or loss on the Statement of Financial Position for each relevant sub-fund.

The over-the-counter options are valued at close of business on the dealing day at the settlement price as provided by the counterparty/broker and the values are independently valued, at a minimum, weekly. The fair value of exchange traded options are based upon their quoted daily settlement prices on the relevant exchange. In the event of it being impossible or incorrect to carry out a valuation of a specific investment in accordance with the valuation rules, or if such valuation is not representative of a security's fair market value, the Directors are entitled to use other generally recognised valuation methods in order to reach a proper valuation of that specific instrument, provided that such method of valuation has been approved by the Depositary.

Swap contracts

Swap contracts are carried at fair value based upon the fair value of the underlying assets, the risk associated with the underlying assets, and any additional provisions of the derivative contract.

Interest rate swaps ("IRSs") are measured initially at fair value on the date on which the derivative contract is entered into and subsequently remeasured at fair value. Fair values are obtained from counterparties or from quoted market prices in active markets, including recent market transactions, and from valuation techniques using discounted cash flow models and option pricing models as appropriate. IRSs are included in assets when the fair value is positive, and in liabilities when the fair value is negative, unless there is the legal ability and intention to settle the asset and liability on a net basis. Revenues/payments arising on IRSs are included in the net gain on investment activities in the Statement of Operations.

Credit default swap ("CDS") and Credit Default Index swap ("CDX") contracts are valued at fair value based on a pricing methodology utilising certain factors which include the credit risk of the reference obligations of the underlying issuers, as well as the specific terms of the contract. Certain CDS and CDX contracts entered into may include upfront fees that are paid by the buyer to the seller of the CDS and CDX contracts at the date of transaction.

Such fees are reported as unrealised gains or losses in the Statement of Financial Position and as net gains and losses in the Statement of Operations. These upfront payments represent the amounts paid or received when initially entering into the swap agreement to compensate for differences between the stated terms of the swap agreement and the prevailing market conditions and are included as realised gains or losses on the Statement of Operations upon termination or maturity of the swap.

Contracts for difference

Contracts for difference may be used either as a substitute for direct investment in the underlying equity or fixed income security or as an alternative to and for the same purposes as futures and options. Changes in the value of open contracts for difference are recognised as unrealised gains or losses on contracts for difference and are included in net gain/loss on financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit and loss in the Statement of Operations, until the contracts are terminated, at which time realised gains and losses are recognised as a realised gain or loss and included in net gain/loss on financial assets and financial liabilities at fair value through profit and loss in the Statement of Operations. Unrealised gains or losses on contracts for difference are shown in the Statement of Financial Position.

Amortised cost measurement

Financial asset and liabilities other than those classified at fair value through profit or loss are held at amortised cost. The amortised cost of the financial asset or financial liability is the amount at which the financial asset or financial liability is measured at initial recognition, minus principal repayments, plus or minus the accumulative amortisation using the effective interest method of any difference between the initial amount recognised and the maturity amount, minus any reduction for impairment.

i) Cash and Cash Equivalents/Due to/from Broker

Cash amounts held comprise of current deposits in banks which are readily available. Cash equivalents are short-term highly liquid investments that are readily convertible to known amounts of cash, are subject to an insignificant risk of changes in value and are held for the purpose of meeting short-term cash commitments rather than for investment or other purposes.

Due to/from Broker is an amount which is made up of margin cash, spot contracts and collateral pledged. The margin cash and cash collateral is held by or due to brokers for open futures contracts and represents the exchange traded futures contracts margin deposits. This amount is the minimum deemed by the brokers and counterparties for collateral requirements and is as such restricted and therefore reported separately to the unrestricted cash on the sub-fund's Statements of Financial Position.

Sub-Fund's assets may be deposited by or received by the sub-fund for collateral purposes with counterparties in respect of OTC financial derivative instruments held by the sub-fund. Such assets remain in the ownership of the relevant sub-fund and are recorded as an asset on the Statement of Financial Position. In relation to cash received as collateral this will be recorded as an asset and a related liability to repay the collateral will be recorded as a liability on the Statement of Financial Position.

i) Cash and Cash Equivalents/Due to/from Broker (continued)

Investments pledged by the sub-funds as collateral are recognised at fair value in the relevant sub-fund's Portfolio of Investments and are referenced accordingly at the base of the Portfolio of Investments. Securities received by the sub-funds as collateral from counterparties do not form part of the Net Asset Value of the sub-funds and are disclosed at the end of the relevant Portfolio of Investments.

ii) Other Assets and Other Liabilities

Other assets and liabilities represent amounts receivable and payable respectively, for transactions contracted for but not yet paid for by the end of the reporting period. These amounts held relate to subscription and redemption monies and dividend transactions. Other assets and liabilities are primarily non-interest bearing and short term in nature.

Fund asset cash balances, including an appropriate equal and opposing liability, are reflected at a sub-fund level on the Statement of Financial Position. The fund asset cash receivables are included in the Other Assets and fund asset cash payables are included in the Other Liabilities on the Statement of Financial Position respectively. They represent umbrella cash collection account balances attributable to the individual sub-funds of the Company. These amounts relate to subscription and redemption monies, including dividend money, that are due to an individual sub-fund, as sub-fund assets, and which are held in an umbrella cash collection account in the name of the Company.

Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the Statement of Financial Position when, and only when, the sub-fund has a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and it intends either to settle on a net basis or to realise the asset and settle the liability simultaneously. The Company's financial assets and financial liabilities are not subject to offsetting, enforceable master netting arrangements and similar agreements. Income and expenses are presented on a net basis for gains and losses from financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss and foreign exchange gains and losses.

Derecognition

Each sub-fund derecognises a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred or in which the sub-fund neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control of the financial asset.

On derecognition of a financial asset, the difference between the carrying amount of the asset (or the carrying amount allocated to the portion of the asset that is derecognised) and the consideration received (including any new asset obtained less any new liability assumed) is recognised in the Statement of Operations. Any interest in such transferred financial assets that is created or retained by the Company is recognised as a separate asset or liability.

The Company derecognises a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled, or expire.

i. Realised Gains and Losses

Net realised gains and losses from financial instruments at fair value through profit or loss include all realised gains and losses and coupon interest earned from debt securities held by the sub-funds. Realised gains and losses on sales of investments are calculated based on the average cost of the investment in local currency and are included in net gain/loss on financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit or loss in the Statement of Operations.

j. Unrealised Gains and Losses

Unrealised gains and losses on investments are the difference between the average cost of the investment and its value at the reporting period end and are included in net gain/loss on financial assets/liabilities at fair value through profit or loss in the Statement of Operations.

6. Share Capital

Subscriber Shares

The authorised share capital of the Company is EUR 38,082 represented by 30,000 Subscriber Shares of no par value and 500,000,000,000 redeemable participating shares of no par value. The Company has repurchased all but seven of the Subscriber Shares. The Subscriber Shares entitle the Shareholders holding them to attend and vote at all meetings of the Company. The Subscriber Shares entitles the Shareholder to participate equally on a pro rata basis in the dividends and net assets of the Company, this entitlement shall be limited to the amount subscribed and any accrued income thereon.

Redeemable Participating Shares

The creation of the various share classes is intended to offer greater flexibility to both retail and institutional clients. Each share class may also be distinguished by the Investment Management Fee, initial charge, contingent deferred sales charge and redemption charges applicable and the minimum subscription requirements. Each share class in each sub-fund has equal voting, distribution and liquidation rights in proportion to the number of the Shares held in that sub-fund.

The net assets attributable to holders of redeemable participating shares are at all times equal to the Net Asset Value of the Company. The redeemable participating shares can be redeemed at the option of the Shareholder.

Redeemable participating shares may be redeemed on each dealing date or such other date or dates as the Board of Directors shall from time to time determine (Valuation Day) at the Net Asset Value per Share.

Capital Management

Up to 31 October 2019, the Company was a self-managed UCITS and by taking into consideration Subscriber Shares, met minimum capital requirements, whereby the Company must at all times maintain a minimum capital requirement equivalent to €300,000.

Effective 31 October 2019, the Manager was appointed as a UCITS management company to the Company, therefore the Company became an externally managed UCITS. The Manager is subject to externally imposed minimum capital requirements by the CBI.

The Company considers redeemable participating shares as capital. Redeemable participating shares issued by each sub-fund provide a shareholder with the right to request redemption of their shares for cash, at a value proportionate to the total value of all redeemable participating shares, in a sub-fund at each redemption date and are classified as liabilities.

The Company's objective in managing redeemable participating shares is to ensure a stable base to maximise returns to shareholders and to manage liquidity risk arising from redemptions.

"The Index Performance" in respect of a Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund is the difference between the level of the Index calculated at the Valuation Point on the last Business Day of the previous Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund and the level of the Index calculated at the Valuation Point on the last Business Day of the relevant Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund, expressed as a percentage.

The "Sub-Fund Performance" in respect of the first Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund is the difference between the opening Net Asset Value per Share and the Net Asset Value per Share at the Valuation Point on the last Business Day of the Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund, expressed as a percentage. For each Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund thereafter, the Sub-Fund Performance is the difference between the Net Asset Value per Share at the Valuation Point on the last Business Day of the previous Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund and the Net Asset Value per Share at the Valuation Point on the last Business Day of the relevant Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund, expressed as a percentage.

Where a fair value adjustment has been made to the Net Asset Value per Share at the Valuation Point on the last Business Day of the previous Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund then this will be excluded for the purposes of the calculation of the Performance Fee.

For hedged Share Classes the Index will be the relevant hedged version of the Index, priced using the prevailing exchange rates at the Index valuation point. The exchange rates used in calculating the net asset values for hedged Share Classes will be the prevailing exchange rates at the Sub-Fund's Valuation Point.

In calculating the Net Asset Value per Share of each Class for Performance Fee purposes no deduction is made on account of Performance Fees accrued in the Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund and any net income distributed to Shareholders in respect of the Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund is added back.

The "Percentage Outperformance" in respect of Performance Periods of the Merian North American Equity Fund where Sub-Fund Performance is greater than Index Performance is the arithmetical difference between Sub-Fund Performance and Index Performance, expressed as a percentage. In respect of Performance Periods of the Merian North American Equity Fund where Sub-Fund Performance is less than Index Performance, such underperformance, being the arithmetical difference between Sub-Fund Performance and Index Performance expressed in percentage points, will be carried forward and no Performance Fee will be payable in any subsequent Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund unless Sub-Fund Performance measured against Index Performance has recovered any accumulated percentage underperformance for previous periods. In the Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund in which any accumulated percentage underperformance is recovered, only that part of the Percentage Outperformance for such period as exceeds the accumulated percentage underperformance carried forward is taken into account for the purposes of calculating the performance fee payable for the Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund.

The amount of Performance Fee payable in respect of each Share is a US Dollar amount equivalent to the opening Net Asset Value per Share on the first Business Day of the Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund x Percentage Outperformance x 20%. and is payable on the average number of Shares in issue during the Performance Period of the Merian North American Equity Fund.

For the purposes of the first calculation of the Performance Fee, the initial offer price in respect of each Share Class was taken as the opening Net Asset Value.

10. Distributions

Shareholders should note that, where set out in the relevant Supplement, distributions may be payable out of the capital of each sub-fund. Fixed distribution classes are denoted by an "(F)" at the end of the Share Class name, as shown in Note 6. These Share Classes will distribute regardless of what income is available therefore any shortfall is paid out of capital.

It should also be noted that certain sub-funds and Share Classes including the fixed distribution Share Classes listed above may charge certain fees and expenses to capital rather than income, which may result in the erosion of capital and in an increased risk that Shareholders in these Share Classes may not receive back the full amount invested when redeeming their holding.

Distributions out of capital may have different tax implications from distributions of income and capital gains and if you propose to invest in one or more of the relevant Share Classes, you are recommended to seek advice in this regard.

The following tables detail the distributions per Share for the financial years ended 31 December 2019 and 31 December 2018.

11. Financial Instruments and Associated Risks

In pursuing its investment objectives, the Company holds financial derivative instruments. The Company's financial derivative instruments held at 31 December 2019 and at 31 December 2018 are disclosed in the Portfolio of Investments.

Efficient Portfolio Management ("EPM")

The Company may employ investment techniques and instruments for efficient portfolio management purposes and for hedging purposes, subject to the conditions and within the limits from time to time laid down by the Central Bank under the UCITS Regulations, 2011 and in the Prospectus. These techniques and instruments may be exchange-traded or over-the-counter derivatives and shall include futures (such as currency future contracts), options, options on futures, currency exchange contracts, convertible securities, hybrid securities, structured notes, credit default swaps and swap agreements. For financial derivative instruments that were entered into during the financial year which remained open at year end and the resulting amount of commitments/exposures, please refer to the Portfolio of Investments.

The Manager oversees the efficient portfolio management operations carried out by the Investment Manager. Efficient portfolio management transactions relating to the assets of a sub-fund may be entered into by the Investment Manager with one of the following aims:

- a) a reduction of risk;
- b) a reduction of cost with no increase or a minimal increase in risk;
- c) generation of additional capital or income with no, or an acceptably low level of risk (relative to the expected return) and the diversification requirements in accordance with the Central Bank's Regulations.

In relation to efficient portfolio management operations the Investment Manager will look to ensure that the techniques and instruments used are economically appropriate in that they will be realised in a cost-effective way. The use of efficient portfolio management techniques will only be used in line with the best interests of a sub-fund. The use of FDI ("Financial Derivative Instruments") and efficient portfolio management techniques for the purposes outlined above will expose the Company to the risks including, but not limited to, market risk, global derivative exposure as Value-at-Risk ("VaR") approach. Please refer to the Portfolio of Investments for range of FDIs which the sub-fund may have used for efficient portfolio management purposes during the period under review.

Where necessary, the Company will accept collateral from its counterparties in order to reduce counterparty risk exposure generated through the use of over the counter derivative instruments and EPM techniques. The type and amount of collateral received is outlined in Note 7.

For UCITS which have engaged in EPM techniques disclosures are required under the Central Bank UCITS Regulations. A UCITS is required to disclose the revenues arising from EPM techniques for the entire reporting period together with the direct and indirect operational costs and fees incurred, unless the costs associated with EPM techniques are embedded and not separately identifiable.

All revenues from EPM techniques, net of direct and indirect operational costs, will be returned to the relevant sub-fund. Any direct and indirect operational costs/fees arising from EPM techniques do not include hidden revenue. Any gains or losses arising from EPM techniques and investments are recognised in the Statement of Operations.

Repurchase, reverse repurchase and stock lending arrangements are EPM techniques. The sub-funds did not engage in any repurchase, reverse repurchase and stock lending arrangements during the financial year.

Futures contracts will be used to hedge against market risk or gain exposure to an underlying market. Currency exchange contracts will be used to hedge or gain exposure to an increase in the value of an asset, currency, or deposit. Options will be used to hedge or achieve exposure to a particular market instead of using a physical security. Swaps (including swaptions) will be used to achieve profit as well as to hedge existing long positions. Currency exchange contracts will be used to reduce the risk of adverse market changes in exchange rates or to increase exposure to foreign currencies or to shift exposure to foreign currency fluctuations from one country to another. Credit default swaps will be used to isolate and transfer the exposure to or transfer the credit risk associated with a reference asset or index of reference assets.

The Company may, for the purposes of efficient portfolio management, enter into futures contracts, currency exchange contracts, options, swaps, swaptions, convertible securities and structured notes, in order to hedge currency and market exposure and/or for investment purposes. Futures, swaps, options, swaptions and currency exchange contracts open as at 31 December 2019 are disclosed in the Portfolio of Investments.

Risk is inherent in the activities of each sub-fund but it is managed through a process of ongoing identification, measurement and monitoring, subject to risks limits and other controls. The main risks arising from the Company's financial instruments are market risk, liquidity risk and credit risk.

(a) Market Price Risk

Market price risk results mainly from uncertainty about the future prices of financial instruments held. It represents the potential loss a sub-fund may suffer through holding market positions in the face of market movements and changes in exchange rates.

The sub-funds manage the risk by ensuring careful selection of securities and other financial instruments within the specified limits detailed in the Prospectus. In practice, the actual trading results may differ from the sensitivity analysis below and the difference could be material.

Financial derivative instruments other than Contracts for Difference and Futures do not include market price risk.

If the price of each of these investments to which the sub-funds had exposure at financial year end had increased or decreased by 5% with all other variables held constant, this would have increased or decreased net assets attributable to holders of redeemable shares as below.

The above analysis is strictly a mathematical exercise and has many improbable assumptions including, (i) stocks of financial services companies perform exactly in line with the broad equities market (ii) both long and short positions in the portfolio perform exactly in line with stocks of financial services companies and (iii) the Investment Manager does not change the composition of the portfolio intra-period (Investors and prospective investors should not place any reliance on this analysis, as the actual effect of a 5% change in equity prices will differ materially from the effect described in the above). The Investment Manager does not believe this analysis should be used to assess the risk or potential performance of its strategy.

Adherence to the investment guidelines and to investment and borrowing powers set out in the instrument of incorporation, the Prospectus and the notices issued by the Central Bank mitigates the risk of excessive exposure per industry to any particular type of security or issuer.

Each sub-fund's market risk is managed on a daily basis by the Manager and the policies and processes are detailed in the Company's risk management process. Each sub-fund's overall market positions are advised on a regular basis to the Board of Directors.

Emerging markets provide new investment opportunities, such as elevated economic growth rates, higher expected returns and diversification benefits. Accordingly, these markets may be insufficiently liquid and levels of volatility in price movements may be greater than those experienced in more developed economies and markets. The value of the assets of a sub-fund investing in developing markets may be adversely affected by uncertainties. There can be no assurance that the sub-funds will achieve their investment objectives.

11. Financial Instruments and Associated Risks (continued)

(b) Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities. The Company's constitutional documents provides for the creation and cancellation of Shares on each Dealing Day and it is therefore exposed to the liquidity risk of meeting shareholder redemptions at any time. Assets from a sub-fund may need to be sold if insufficient cash is available to finance redemptions.

The sub-funds' listed securities are considered to be readily realisable as they are principally listed on major European, Asian and US stock exchanges.

In the case of transferable securities not traded on a Regulated Market liquidity is not automatically presumed. The sub-funds therefore assess the liquidity of such securities where this is necessary. If the security is assessed as insufficiently liquid to meet foreseeable redemption requests the security must only be bought or held if the other securities held in the portfolio are deemed sufficiently liquid so as to be able to ensure compliance with Regulation 104(1) of the UCITS Regulations.

Therefore before making an investment, the Investment Manager may consider in relation to liquidity risk:

1. The volume and turnover in the transferable security;
2. If price is determined by supply and demand in the market, the issue size and the portion of the issue that the investment manager plans to buy;
3. The opportunity and timeframe to buy or sell the transferable security; and
4. The quality of the secondary market in a transferable security and an analysis of the quality and number of intermediaries and market makers available for that security.

The risks associated with securities in which the sub-funds have invested are assessed on an ongoing basis.

The Company may temporarily suspend the repurchase of Shares in any sub-fund. No suspensions have taken place during the financial year. More information on this type of liquidity risk can be found in the Prospectus.

(c) Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk that a counterparty to a financial instrument will fail to discharge an obligation or commitment that it has entered into with the sub-fund. Credit risk is monitored in accordance with the UCITS Regulations.

This risk exists in relation to the transactions the Company enters into with brokers, banks and other third parties. However investments in equities are not exposed to credit risk except for exposure to the Depositary which is periodically monitored by the Company.

Credit risk arises from receivables from investee funds relating to redemptions or transactions awaiting settlement. Risk relating to unsettled receivables is considered small due to the short settlement period involved and the due diligence permitted on the investee funds. The maximum exposure related to unsettled is included in other assets and other liabilities in the Statement of Financial Position.

The Manager ensures that the ratings and limits for counterparties are adhered to.

Risk exposure may be reduced where the counterparty will provide the sub-fund with collateral, subject to certain conditions. The Manager is responsible for ensuring this collateral meets the relevant criteria set out in UCITS Regulations. Details of collateral pledged and received as at 31 December 2019 is disclosed in Note 7. Cash due from/to broker balances held with counterparties at 31 December 2019 are disclosed in Note 7. This amount is the minimum required by the brokers and counterparties for collateral requirements.

Credit default swaps will be used to isolate and transfer the exposure to or transfer the credit risk associated with a reference asset or index of reference assets. Credit default swaps provide a measure of protection against defaults of debt issuers. The sub-funds' use of credit default swaps does not assure their use will be effective or will have the desired result. If a sub-fund is the buyer of a credit default swap, it would be entitled to receive the agreed-upon value (or par) of a referenced debt obligation from the counterparty to the swap on the occurrence of certain credit events in relation to the relevant reference entity. In circumstances in which a sub-fund does not own the debt securities that are deliverable under a credit default swap, the sub-fund is exposed to the risk that deliverable securities will not be available in the market. The sub-fund may not be able to realise the full value of the credit default swap upon a default by the reference entity. As a seller of credit default swaps, a sub-fund incurs exposure to the credit of the reference entity and is subject to many of the same risks it would incur if it were holding debt securities issued by the reference entity. The notional amounts and counterparties for purchased and sold protection are disclosed in the Portfolio of Statements. The credit rating of the counterparties can be found below.

The Company minimises concentration of credit risk by undertaking transactions with a large number of customers and counterparties on recognised and reputable exchanges.

The table below shows the S&P long term credit ratings of the derivative counterparties and the financial institutions with whom deposits are invested:

Interest rate risk is the risk that the value of the sub-funds' investments will fluctuate as a result of changes in interest rates.

The Company's interest-bearing financial assets and liabilities expose it to risks associated with the effects of fluctuations in the prevailing levels of market interest rates on its financial position and cash flows. Details of interest rates applicable at 31 December 2019 are outlined in the Portfolio of Investments. Interest receivable on bank deposits and payable on bank overdrafts will be affected by fluctuations in interest rates, as will Floating Rate Bonds. All other assets and liabilities of the sub-funds are non-interest bearing.

(f) Currency Risk

Currency risk is the risk that the value of a financial instrument will fluctuate due to changes in foreign exchange rates. The Company invests in securities and other investments that are denominated in currencies other than the sub-funds functional currency. Accordingly, the value of the Company's assets may be affected favourably or unfavourably by fluctuations in currency rates and therefore the Company will necessarily be subject to foreign exchange risks. Equally movements in exchange rates can impact income received by the sub-funds and can impact shareholders whose shares are denominated in currencies other than the operating currency of the sub-fund.

The sub-funds may use foreign currency economic hedging activities to protect against the volatility described above. The Company primarily utilises currency exchange contracts to hedge foreign-currency-denominated financial instruments. Increases or decreases in the fair values of the Company's foreign-currency-denominated financial assets and financial liabilities are partially offset by gains and losses on the economic hedging instruments. Foreign exchange hedging is utilised for the benefit of hedged share classes, transactions will be clearly attributable to that class and the cost and related liabilities and/or benefits shall be for the account of that class only. Accordingly, such costs and related liabilities and/or benefits will be reflected in the net asset value per share for shares of any such class.

(g) Fair Value of Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities

Fair Value Estimation

The Company is required to classify fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significant of the inputs used in making the measurements. The standard requires an entity to provide a quantitative and qualitative analysis of those instruments recognised at fair value based on a three-level measurement hierarchy. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

Level 1 – Quoted prices (unadjusted) in active markets for identical assets or liabilities.

Level 2 – Inputs other than quoted prices included within Level 1 that are observable for the asset or liability, either directly (that is, as prices) or indirectly (that is, derived from prices).

Level 3 – Inputs for the asset or liability that are not based on observable market data (that is, unobservable inputs).

Furthermore, for those instruments which have significant unobservable inputs (Level 3), the amendment requires disclosures on the transfers into and out of Level 3, a reconciliation of the opening and closing balances, total gains and losses for the period, purchases, sales issues and settlements. The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined on the basis of the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety.

For this purpose, the significance of an input is assessed against the fair value measurement in its entirety. If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on unobservable inputs, that measurement is a Level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the asset or liability.

The determination of what constitutes 'observable' requires significant judgement by the sub-funds. The sub-funds consider observable data to be that market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

The inputs or methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities. The table below provides a summary within the fair value hierarchy of the sub-funds' financial assets and financial liabilities measured at last traded prices at 31 December 2019.

The financial instruments at 31 December 2019 and 31 December 2018 are classified as follows:

Investment Type	Level
Equities	1
Future Contracts	1
Rights	1
Warrants	1
Government Bonds	2
Corporate Bonds	2
Convertible Securities	2
Municipal Bonds	2
Asset Backed Securities	2

Sensitivity to changes in inputs

Although the Investment Manager believes that its estimates of fair value are appropriate, the use of different methodologies or assumptions could lead to different measurements of fair value. For fair value measurements in Level 3, in changing one or more of the assumptions used to reasonably possible alternative assumptions by decreasing or increasing by 5% with all other variables held constant, the impact on valuation is shown in the table below:

Fair value as at 31 December 2019	Sensitivity	Change in valuation
USD 58,961,202	5%	2,948,060

Fair value as at 31 December 2018	Sensitivity	Change in valuation
USD 103,281,194	5%	5,164,060

Level 3 Valuation Techniques

The following table shows the valuation techniques used for Level 3 fair values, as well as the significant unobservable inputs used for Level 3 items.

Valuation technique	Significant unobservable inputs	Inputs used
Comparable Company Multiples	EV/Revenue, Last 12 months revenue multiples, Discounts for illiquidity	Unaudited Accounts (Statement of Operations / Statement of Financial Position), Comparable Company data (enterprise value, market cap, LTM revenue, LTM EBITDA, LTM EBITDA, LTM revenue growth), Recent market transactions, Relevant post IPO valuations for similar companies
Last transacted value	The fair value of the Company's last transaction is considered to be un-observable	Recently executed purchase price

(h) Leverage

Many derivative instruments have a leverage component, adverse changes in the value or level of the underlying asset, rate or index can result in a loss substantially greater than the amount invested in the derivative itself. Certain derivative instruments have the potential for unlimited loss regardless of the size of the initial investment.

(i) Global Derivative Exposure

Sensitivity Analysis for Sub-Funds through Commitment Approach

The risk is managed through the commitment approach to quantitatively measure the sub-funds' global exposure through the use of financial derivative instruments in line with UCITS Directives and Central Bank of Ireland regulations for sub-funds listed in the tables below.

VaR is a statistically based estimate of the potential loss on the current portfolio from adverse market movements. The VaR measure captures both “general” and “idiosyncratic” market risks. General market risk factors are variables which are driven by macroeconomic, geopolitical and other market-wide considerations, independent of any instrument or single name. They include movements in interest rates, widening or tightening of general spread levels and directional movements in equity market indices, exchange rates, and energy, metal and commodity prices. Changes in associated volatilities and correlations between these risk factors – some of which may be unobservable or only indirectly observable – are also general market risks. Idiosyncratic components are those that cannot be explained by general market movements – broadly, changes in the prices of debt and equity instruments and derivatives linked to them, resulting from factors and events specific to individual names.

VaR expresses potential loss, but only to a certain level of confidence and holding period of 1 and 20 days depending on the sub-fund, and there is therefore a specified statistical probability (1%) that actual loss could be greater than the VaR estimate.

A sub-fund must ensure that its global exposure relating to FDI does not exceed its total Net Asset Value. A sub-fund using the commitment approach to measure its positions in FDI may not therefore be exposed in excess of 100% of its Net Asset Value.

Global exposure is calculated by the Administrator by extracting information from the sub-fund accounting system relating to the full exposure on FDIs. This information is passed to the Compliance Monitoring Services Division (CMS) for the purposes of calculating the global exposure and comparing the results against the overall value of the sub-fund. In 2019, FDI global exposure was calculated under the commitment approach as described, while the market risk is calculated utilising the VaR methodology described.

13. Post Statement of Financial Position Events

On 17 February 2020, Jupiter Asset Management ("Jupiter"), a UK listed firm announced that it agreed to acquire Merian Global Investors Group. The proposed acquisition, which is subject to regulatory and Jupiter shareholder approval, is expected to complete in the second half of 2020.

In early 2020, after the end of the sub-funds' reporting period, health officials became aware of the existence of a new coronavirus, which subsequently became known as COVID-19. First detected in China, COVID-19 rapidly spread throughout a large number of countries worldwide. In order to stem, or at least to slow, the spread of the virus, many governments advised citizens to remain at home or reduce travel.

Given the inherent uncertainties and complexities, it is not practical at this stage to provide a sub-fund by sub-fund analysis of the investment impact of COVID-19. However, it is clear that the global economy has suffered a sharp, exogenous shock. Many national economies are expected to slow, though the depth and duration of that slowing is currently unclear.

Expectations of a substantial economic slowdown have been reflected in a fall in the prices of equities worldwide, as well as of emerging market currencies and higher-yielding bonds. The US dollar, in contrast, has rallied as investors sought a historically perceived 'safe haven'. It should also be noted that the response of central banks and governments to mitigate the knock-on economic effects of COVID-19 has already been significant, and there could be more support to come.

The managers of all the sub-funds of the Company have thoroughly reviewed their portfolios in the light of the coronavirus outbreak. They have taken the measures they consider prudent to protect long-term risk-adjusted returns and to ensure diversification. They continue to monitor the situation closely and to work with the risk departments to ensure that all sub-funds are managed within their investment and risk parameters. With regard to any outflows, the Company does not believe that they have had any material effect on the investment performance of the sub-funds.

As with any market event, the Company has robust procedures to support fund management teams in their ongoing investment activities. The Company is confident of its continued ability to meet our business and regulatory commitments during this period and envisage no disruption to fund management operations. Portfolio management teams have remote access to all systems and there is no change to our dealing, compliance and risk monitoring processes.

During April 2020, there were some large redemptions, including redemptions approximating 70% of the sub-fund value of Merian Asian Equity Income Fund and redemptions approximating 39% of the sub-fund value of Merian Europe (ex UK) Smaller Companies Fund. As at date of signing of the financial statements, both sub-funds continue to operate as going concerns and no decision has been made to close these sub-funds.

There have been no other material events affecting the sub-funds subsequent to 31 December 2019, which require amendment to or disclosure in, these financial statements.

14. Financial Statements

These financial statements were approved by the Board of Directors on 24 April 2020.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION (unaudited)

Cybersecurity Risk

Cybersecurity breaches may occur allowing an unauthorized party to gain access to assets of the sub-funds, Shareholder data, or proprietary information, or may cause the Company, the Manager, the Investment Manager, the Distributor, the Administrator or the Depositary to suffer data corruption or lose operational functionality.

The sub-funds may be affected by intentional cybersecurity breaches which include unauthorized access to systems, networks, or devices (such as through "hacking" activity); infection from computer viruses or other malicious software code; and attacks that shut down, disable, slow, or otherwise disrupt operations, business processes, or website access or functionality. In addition, unintentional incidents can occur, such as the inadvertent release of confidential information (possibly resulting in the violation of applicable privacy laws).

Notwithstanding the existence of policies and procedures designed to detect and prevent such breaches and ensure the security, integrity and confidentiality of such information as well as the existence of business continuity and disaster recovery measures designed to mitigate any such breach or disruption at the level of the Company and its delegates, such a cybersecurity breach could result in the loss or theft of Shareholder data or sub-funds, the inability to access electronic systems, loss or theft of proprietary information or corporate data, physical damage to a computer or network system, or costs associated with system repairs.

Such incidents could cause the Company, the Manager, the Investment Manager/the Distributor, the Administrator, the Depositary, or other service providers to incur regulatory penalties, reputational damage, additional compliance costs, or financial loss. Consequently, Shareholders may lose some or all of their invested capital. In addition, such incidents could affect issuers in which a sub-fund invests, and thereby cause a sub-fund's investments to lose value, as a result of which investors, including the relevant sub-fund and its Shareholders, could potentially lose all or a portion of their investment with that issuer.

The Company

Merian Global Investors Series Plc (the "Company") is authorised by the Central Bank of Ireland (the "Central Bank") as an Undertaking for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities ("UCITS") pursuant to the European Communities (Undertakings for Collective Investment in Transferable Securities) Regulations, 2011 as may be amended, consolidated or substituted from time to time (the "UCITS Regulations").

The Company is managed by Merian Global Investors (Europe) Limited ("the Manager"). The Manager is authorised and regulated as both an UCITS Management Company and as Alternative Investment Fund Manager ("AIFM"), effective 29 November 2018. The Manager's affairs are supervised by its Board of Directors.

The Company's affairs are supervised by its Board of Directors. For details on each of the Directors please refer to the Prospectus of the Company.

1. The Policy

Both the Company and the Manager have established a remuneration policy in accordance with the requirements of Directive (Directive 2009/65/EC), as amended (the "UCITS Directive") to the extent that is appropriate to its size, internal organisation and the nature, scope and complexity of its activities.

Each remuneration policy applies to certain identified staff whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profile of the relevant entity.

It is both the Company's and the Manager's policy to maintain remuneration arrangements that (i) are consistent with and promote sound and effective risk management, (ii) do not encourage risk-taking that is inconsistent with the risk profile of the Company, (iii) do not impair compliance with the Company's duty to act in the best interests of its shareholders and (iv) are consistent with the principles outlined in the remuneration policy. The Company's remuneration policy is designed to ensure that any relevant conflicts of interest can be managed appropriately at all times.

The remuneration policy of the Company is adopted by the non-executive members of the Board of Directors in their supervisory function, who have expertise in risk management and remuneration and any revisions to the remuneration policy require approval of such members. As at 31 December 2019 the Company did not have any employees and the Company's remuneration policy applies only to the members of the Company's management body (i.e. board of directors).

The remuneration policies of each of the Company and the Manager are reviewed on an annual basis by the members of the relevant Boards of Directors in their supervisory function, who have expertise in risk management and remuneration. Following the review of the remunerations policies of both the Company and the Manager, no material changes were identified.

As at 31 December 2019, the Manager had 8 employees (including the Board of Directors) and the Manager's remuneration policy applies only to members of the Manager's management body (i.e. board of Directors) and staff whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profile of the Manager (together "Identified Staff").

The remuneration policies are subjected to central and independent review at least annually to ensure compliance with and adherence to the policy.

The remuneration policy of the Manager was put in place to coincide with the Manager's authorisation as a UCITS management company pursuant to the UCITS Regulations on 29 November 2018. The remuneration policy of the Company was amended to take account of the appointment of an external management company, i.e. the Manager, effective 31 October 2019.

2. Persons subject to the Policy

The Company and the Manager will apply the provisions of their respective policies for their 'Identified Staff' being "those categories of staff, including senior management, risk takers, control functions and any employee receiving total remuneration that falls within the remuneration bracket of senior management and risk takers whose professional activities have a material impact on the risk profiles of the management companies or of the UCITS that they manage".

The Company and the Manager have determined that the following staff members would fall within the definition of "Identified staff", as applicable:

- Members of the Board of Directors
- Designated Persons responsible for the monitoring of certain management functions.

Pursuant to the ESMA Guidelines, the UCITS remuneration principles are not required to be applied to delegates performing investment management functions when such delegates are subject to regulatory requirements on remuneration that are "equally as effective" as the UCITS remuneration principles.

It is noted that the ESMA Guidelines provide that entities that are subject to the remuneration rules under AIFMD or MiFID/CRD IV (Directive 2013/36/EU) can be considered to meet this condition.

Based on prior guidance issued by the Central Bank on the corresponding and identical requirement in the context of the AIFMD remuneration principles and in the absence of further specific guidance or legal clarification from the European Commission, ESMA or the Central Bank in the context of the UCITS remuneration requirements, the Fund considers that the following categories of delegate entities also meet this condition:

- (i) CRD/MiFID firms (including firms still subject to CRD III and which have availed of the CRD IV exemptions); and
- (ii) non-EU firms which are subject to group remuneration policies that are equally as effective as MiFID or CRD.

This approach will be reviewed and reassessed, as necessary for subsequent financial periods following the issuance of any further regulatory guidance or legal clarification that conflicts with this current position.

3. Remuneration of Identified Staff

With the exception of those Company Directors who are employed by Merian Global Investors (UK) Limited (the Investment Manager, Distributor and Promoter) up to 31 October 2019, and Merian Global Investors (Europe) Limited (the Manager and Distributor) from 31 October 2019, the Company's Directors accept a fee in accordance with the Company's Articles of Association and as outlined in the 'Directors' Fees' section of the Prospectus. This is a fixed fee with no variable component. Any remaining Director, who is employed by the Investment Manager or the Manager, will waive this fee.

The Directors of the Company receive a fixed fee only and do not receive performance-based remuneration, thereby avoiding a potential conflict of interest. The basic fee of a Board member is set at a level that is on par with the rest of the market and reflects the qualifications and contribution required in view of the Company's complexity, the extent of the responsibilities and the number of board meetings. No pension contributions are payable on Board members' fees.

Designated Persons

Duff & Phelps Financial Services (Ireland) Limited receives an annual fixed fee for providing the relevant 'Designated Persons' services, which fee is set at a level that is considered on par with the rest of the market for such services and does not include any variable or performance related element. Duff & Phelps were remunerated for their services in relation to Designated Persons up to 30 November 2019.

On 31 October 2019 Merian Global Investors (Europe) Limited became the new Manager and Distributor of the Company, and as Manager it has four Identified Staff. Directors who are employees of the Manager are not paid any fees for their services as Directors.

4. Proportionality Principle

As noted above, the Company and the Manager must comply with the UCITS Directive remuneration principles in a way and to the extent that is appropriate to their size, their internal organisation and the nature scope and complexity of their activities. Accordingly, some UCITS can determine to meet the remuneration requirements through very sophisticated policies whereas others can do so in a simple and less burdensome way.

The Company does not pay any variable remuneration to any of its Identified Staff. Accordingly, the principles in respect of variable remuneration as outlined in the UCITS Directive are not applicable for the Company.

The Manager's variable remuneration policy is linked to the achievement of business objectives, to deliver performance in the best interests of clients and in line with all regulatory requirements as well as individual performance as measured in employees' annual appraisal. The variable remuneration scheme allows the Manager to pay no variable remuneration if it is believed that the employee has taken excessive risks.

With respect to the remuneration committee, the Board of the Company and the Board of the Manager has determined the remuneration committee requirement does not apply taking into account the below factors:

- (a) all of the above proportionality criteria (i.e. the size, internal organisation nature, the scope and complexity of its activities); and
- (b) Article 14b(4) of UCITS V outlines a remuneration committee will be, where appropriate, set up in accordance with the ESMA.

As detailed in the Manager's remuneration policy, the Manager has dis-applied the Pay-out Process Rules in relation to its UCITS business on grounds of proportionality.
