Calamos Emerging Markets Fund

A sub-fund of Calamos Global Funds plc (the "Company")

Class C U.S. $ Accumulating IE00B537DN67

Objectives and Investment Policy

The Fund seeks a long term gain on the amount invested.

The Fund will invest primarily in Convertibles, Equities and Debt Securities of issuers participating in the growth of emerging market countries.

Usually at least 35% of the Fund's assets will be invested in securities of issuers in emerging markets countries. At least an additional 45% will be invested in securities of issuers with 20% or more of their assets or revenue attributable to emerging market countries. Remaining assets will be invested primarily in securities of non-US issuers.

The assets will be diversified by currency denominations, issuer locations, industries and sectors to reduce risk.

The Fund may invest up to 100% of its assets in Debt Securities of below investment grade credit rating. The Fund may also invest in Rule 144A Securities and Structured Notes that are traded on a regulated market.

The Fund may use Derivatives to achieve the investment objective, to hedge against currency exposure, to reduce risk or manage the Fund more effectively. The Fund may use Convertibles that contain a Derivative which permits the conversion or exchange into Equities.

For Accumulating classes, any income or gains of the Fund net of expenses will be accumulated and reinvested into the net assets of the Fund. For Distributing classes, any income less expenses earned will be distributed in accordance with the distribution policy in the Prospectus.

The Fund uses the MSCI Emerging Markets Index (the "Comparator Benchmark") to compare performance. The Fund is actively managed and is not constrained by any benchmark.

For full investment objective and policy details as well as subscription and redemption policies please refer to the prospectus.

Investors can redeem shares in the Fund on a weekday that is not a public holiday in Ireland or New York.

Risk and Reward Profile

The Fund is in category 5 as it mostly invests in Equities, Convertibles and Debt Securities of emerging market issuers which typically experience higher levels of price fluctuations than similar securities of issuers in developed markets. The categorisation is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indicator of the future.

The risk profile of the Fund may change due to unusual market conditions or unpredictable events which could result in losses or fluctuations in price significantly greater than the rating may indicate.

In pursuing its investment objective, the Fund will be exposed to additional risks including without limitation:

- > investments in emerging markets may expose the Fund to more social, political, regulatory and currency risks than securities in developed markets;
- > there may be insufficient buyers or sellers to allow the Fund to sell or buy certain types of securities readily;

Recommendation: investment in the Fund may not be appropriate for investors planning to withdraw their money within 3 to 5 years.

Equity(ies): securities that represent an ownership stake in a company (e.g. stocks), including those which may be traded on an exchange outside of the country of which the issuing company is domiciled.

Debt Securities: securities that provide money to the issuer in exchange for set terms of the timing of repayment and interest payments (which may be fixed or variable) made to the purchaser.

Convertibles: Debt Securities and preferred stock (shares that provide a higher claim on the assets and earning of the issuing company than common stock) that can be exchanged at a predetermined price for the issuing company's common stock. Some Convertibles may include an underlying derivative, warrant (no more than 5%) or structured note.

Derivatives: instruments whose value is based on the performance of another financial asset, index or investment such as forward contracts (agreeing to buy or sell an asset at certain dates and prices) and Options.

Rule 144A Securities: securities that are not registered for retail sale with the US authorities that can only be traded between qualified institutions.

Structured Note: a security whose value on expiry or interest rate is linked to the performance of a currency, interest rate, equity, financial index or other financial performance indicator.

Options: a Derivative that represents a contract sold by one party to another. The contract offers the buyer the right, but not the obligation to buy or sell a security or other financial asset at an agreed upon price during a certain period of time.

> Convertibles expose the Fund to the risk the issuer of the debt security portion of the security may fail to meet its obligations as well as the performance of the underlying stock into which it can be converted;

> Derivatives may fluctuate in value rapidly and certain derivatives may introduce leverage which may result in losses that are greater than the original amount invested;

> a party with whom the Fund contracts for securities may fail to meet its obligations or become bankrupt which may expose the Fund to a financial loss; and > Structured Notes expose the Fund to the market risk of the underlying security and Counterparty Risk.

For more information in relation to these other risks, please refer to the "Investment Risks" section of the prospectus.

For non-US Dollar classes, including those set out below in the "Representative Share Classes" section, while the Fund may attempt to hedge against currency fluctuations, there can be no guarantee that the value of such classes will not be affected by the fluctuations in the US Dollar against the relevant currency.
