Risk and reward profile

This indicator reflects the volatility of the Fund's share price over the last five years. See Key Investor Information Document (KIID) for details.

Key risks

- The value of investments and the income from them can fall and investors may get back less than the amount invested.
- The fund invests in equity and equity related securities. These are sensitive to variations in the stock markets which can be volatile and change substantially in short periods of time.
- The fund invests in securities which are subject to the risk that the issuer may default on interest or capital payments.
- The fund price can go up or down daily for a variety of reasons including changes in interest rates, inflation expectations or the perceived credit quality of individual countries or securities.

- (e) The use of derivatives carries the risk of reduced liquidity, substantial loss and increased volatility in adverse market conditions, such as a failure amongst market participants. The use of derivatives may result in the fund being leveraged (where market exposure and thus the potential for loss by the fund exceeds the amount it has invested) and in these market conditions the effect of leverage will be to magnify losses.
- (f) The fund invests in emerging market equities and / or bonds. Investing in emerging markets involves a greater risk of loss than investing in more developed markets due to, among other factors, greater political, tax, economic, foreign exchange, liquidity and regulatory risks.
- (g) The fund invests in high yielding bonds which carry a greater risk of default than those with lower yields.

Derivative usage

- The fund will make extensive use of derivatives to reduce risk, reduce cost and / or generate extra income or growth consistent with the risk profile of the fund (often referred to as 'Efficient Portfolio Management'). Derivatives can be used to generate growth, consistent with the Fund's risk profile, if market prices are expected to rise ('long positions') or fall ('short positions'). Leverage in the fund arises as a result of the use of derivatives. Examples of investment strategies implemented through derivatives are:
 - An assessment of the expected level of a given stock market index;
 - An assessment of one currency relative to another;
 - An assessment of the direction of interest rates.

Individual strategy contributions are based on gross returns. These are calculated on a best endeavours basis using close-of-business market prices. As the fund's unit price is determined intra-day there can be minor differences between unit price performance and the attribution to individual strategies presented above. Such differences do not accumulate so cancel out over time. In addition, table totals are calculated using actual (unrounded) returns which are then rounded for presentation purposes
