FUND COMMENTARY

A sharp rally in Indian equities over the past few months led the Sensex benchmark to an all-time high at the end of June. Your portfolio kept pace, outperforming its reference benchmark, the MSCI India index, in H1'23.

Indian market fundamentals appear to remain strong with robust macro data. GDP growth surprised positively in the March 2023 quarter, at 6.1% versus market expectations of closer to 5%. Consensus estimates do not expect 6%+ GDP growth in FY'24 (year ending March). Headline CPI inflation slowed to 4.3% in May (its lowest level in 25 months) while core inflation moderated to 5.1% (its lowest level since July 2020). This led the Reserve Bank of India (RBI) to pause rate hikes in its April policy meeting. India's external account also surprised positively, with current account deficit of 0.2% of GDP in 4QFY'23 compared to 2% for the full year FY'23.

The government remains investment focused with its FY'24 budget forecasting a 15% year-on-year increase in adjusted government capex spending, while the fiscal deficit is to be decreased by 0.5% of GDP to 5.9%. There were no populist measures despite this being the last budget ahead of the upcoming national elections in 2024.

The recent meeting between the US President and Indian Prime Minister was also positive, with significant agreements signed in the fields of defense, technology, and business. Meanwhile, Micron Technology announced plans to build a $2.7bn semiconductor testing and packaging unit in India thereby adding to government efforts to boost manufacturing in the country.

The first half of 2023 has been encouraging for the portfolio with the majority of sectors contributing positively to performance. Financials and consumer discretionary were among the largest contributors while industrials, communication services and information technology lagged.

A few financial services stocks, which had not performed well previously, finally contributed with REC Ltd and Shriram Finance among the portfolio's top contributors to performance in H1'23. Both stocks are inexpensive and continue to deliver good earnings growth. Furthermore, REC Ltd benefits as the government allows it to invest in infrastructure-related projects along with its earlier mandate of investing in power sector projects. Shriram performed well over the past month as private equity investors sold their remaining stake, thereby lifting the supply overhang.

Varun Beverages, the bottler for Pepsi in India, continued its stellar performance and was among the top five portfolio contributors in the first half of the year. The company has reported strong results and seen consistent earnings upgrades. Varun recently received the Bottler of the Year award from Pepsi, raising the possibility of additional territory awards to the company.

Infosys' performance was weak in H1'23 as the company faces slowdown from its key clients in the US. While we continue to monitor the company's performance, we are comfortable with its longer-term quality and growth characteristics and remain a holder of the stock.

PVR, India's largest multiplex operator, continues to remain weak as a lack of good content has impacted the company's earnings while valuations have also come down. We continue to believe that as new content is released in H2'23, the performance of the company should turn around.

Cipla, a generic pharmaceutical company in India, underperformed due to adverse observations made by the US Food and Drug Administration (FDA) which could impact its exports to the country. While this is a short-term negative, and we have accordingly adjusted our position, we believe that the management could take corrective action which should return the company to its growth trajectory.

New positions initiated in the first half of 2023 included JB Chemicals, VIP Industries and Axis Bank. JB Chemicals, a manufacturer of pharmaceuticals and chemicals products, has seen its domestic business expand along with increased utilisation for contract manufacturing and steady growth in exports which should result in high-teens growth for the company. VIP Industries, a luggage manufacturer in India, is launching new products and working to improve its online presence which we believe should lead to strong growth going forward. Lastly, we expect Axis Bank's valuations to catch up with other private bank stocks, with consistent performance on asset quality and growth in coming quarters.

SBI Life Insurance and UltraTech were increased over the period. We believe SBI Life should exhibit consistent growth on the back of improving penetration of life insurance products. We believe UltraTech should benefit from a recovery in the residential real estate market and infrastructure spending in the country.

The portfolio's position in Max Financial Services (a life insurance company) was sold as we switched to SBI Life, whilst Larsen & Toubro was exited due to ESG concerns. Housing Development Finance Corporation was reduced for risk management reasons in light of the pending merger with portfolio holding HDFC Bank. Shriram Finance was also reduced following strong performance.

The Indian economy has navigated the volatility of the last four years well. The government has kept its strong focus on improving the business climate in the country through business-friendly policies, investments in infrastructure and targeted incentives. Geopolitics are also supportive with India benefitting from the diversification of supply chains. Going forward, an increase in capex by the private sector and an improvement in sentiment towards residential real estate could be two key factors which may lead to multi-year earnings growth for the market.

Another factor to watch would be the fight against inflation by the Indian and global central banks. Inflation in India seems to be under control and the RBI has paused its rate hikes. This bodes well for the cyclical part of the economy and especially for the portfolio's investments in financials. Risks here could come more from external factors such as a sudden jump in crude oil prices or events such as El Niño impacting agricultural production in India.

Lastly, India will have various state elections over the next 12 months followed by a general election in the summer of 2024, in which current opinion polls signal for the re-election of Prime Minister Modi. A continuity of the government could be another positive for the market.

Valuations of Indian equities are not cheap, however they are backed by consensus expectations of strong earnings growth for the next two years. Our strategy remains bottom up and focused on picking what we consider to be high quality companies with robust earnings growth and reasonable valuations.
