Additional information

- Exchange rate risks versus the fund currency euro is hedged using derivative instruments.
- The fund will mature on 17 December 2018.

Risks

The fund invests in bonds and may therefore be subject to fluctuations in value. This requires corresponding risk tolerance and capacity. The value of a unit upon maturity is uncertain and depends on the repayment of the investments as well as on their reinvestment or new investment. The value of a unit may fall below the purchase price. Changes in interest rates have an effect on the value of the portfolio. Due to transaction costs, extension costs and mismatches between the maturity of bonds and the duration of the fund, currency hedging has an impact on the yield to maturity of the fund and the effective return for investors. Pronounced fluctuations in price are among the characteristics of emerging economies. Others include specific risks such as lower market transparency, regulatory hurdles, illiquidity of markets as well as political and social challenges. Bonds from emerging economies are usually considered as carrying significant credit risk. The fund may use derivatives which can reduce investor risks or give rise to additional risks (inter alia the counterparty risk). Every fund exhibits specific risks, a description of these risks can be found in the prospectus.

Please note that additional fees (e.g. entry or exit fees) may be charged. Please refer to your financial adviser for more details. Investors should read the Key Investor Information Document (KIID), Prospectus and any applicable local offering document prior to investing. For a definition of financial terms refer to the glossary available at www.ubs.com/glossary.
