Fund management commentary

Market context: European Markets enjoyed a huge growth during July with +5.2% for the Eurostoxx50. This performance can be explained by a stabilization of the Greek situation thanks to the agreement between Alexis Tsipras and the euro group (and the new bailout plan). Both default risk and a Grexit are currently out of the scope. Thanks to the monetary policy implemented by the ECB and the huge fall in oil prices, following the agreement with Iran, the Eurozone seems to benefit from an economic renewal as underlined by increasing firms' profits. Quarterly results are good, especially for big players which take advantage of a weaker euro. The net monthly over performance of consumer goods (especially in the luxury industry) highlights this phenomenon. The dollar appreciation towards euro also explains the good performance of the healthcare sector (best monthly performance) which makes most of its revenues in the United-States. The United-States economic health is solid with a growth for the second quarter of 2.3% (annualized rhythm) pushed by an increase in private consumption (from 1.7% to 2.9%). Inflation remains low (with a consumption deflator of 0.3% in annualized sliding; 1.3% for the underlying) but this element should not be taken into account given that inflation expectations remain stable. As economic expectations are good, the Federal Reserve Bank confirmed its will to increase rates before the end of the year. There's no predetermined path for the rate increase and the committee estimates that rates could remain for a given time below a "normal" level. From a monetary viewpoint, the dollar goes went appreciating underlying the investor's confidence towards the American economy. However excepting some high tech firms, firms' results disappointed investors.

Performances : In this context, the Alternative Index HFR Equity Hedge displays a negative performance while the HFR Equity Market Neutral Index displays a positive performance. The Theam Quant Equity GURU Long/Short Fund has been over performing its two benchmarks since the beginning of the year.

Exposures: the July over performance can be explained by the fact the US long strategy over performed its benchmarks, the European Long strategy performed in line and short strategies significantly underperformed: performance of +0.66% for EU Guru short vs +4.01% for stoxx600 and performance of +5.2% for Guru short US vs +2.06% for S&P500. Globally sectorial allocation remains stable. The biggest changes are on European side financial services at 5.6 % (+1.18%), Utilities at 5.01%(-1.02%), Leisure and Travel at 14.25% (-0.90%), Industrial Goods and services at 8.29%(-0.73%). On US side, the biggest changes are Food and Beverage at 2.32% (-0.81%), followed by Household goods at 8.39 % (+0.78%) and Construction & Materials at 3% (+0.47%). On the Short side, Bank and Energy remain strong bets with respectively -28.16% and -14.83% for Europe. For the US, Energy and Real Estate remain the strongest ones with respectively 36.39% and -16.63%. The « long » bias remains unchanged at 20% in Europe and goes to 30% in the US.

Please be informed that it has been decided to review some characteristics of the Sub-fund : the Subscription Cut-Off Time and the Redemption Cut-Off Time are now standardized and brought to 12.00 pm (CET) at the latest on the relevant Valuation Day and will be effective on the 6th of July 2015.
