

Global Bond Absolute Return Fund

USD I Accumulating Class

29 April 2016

FUND OBJECTIVE

To achieve over a full market cycle a return in excess of +4% above the Bank of America Merrill Lynch 3-Month Treasury Bill Index (USD total return gross of fees). It aims to achieve this return by investing in long and short positions in sovereign and corporate bonds (debt securities) worldwide.

Investments may be in both investment grade and high yield bonds. Investment grade refers to sovereign and corporate issuers with a higher credit rating. High yield bonds have a lower credit rating because they carry a higher risk of not being paid back and typically offer a higher income to make them attractive to investors.

Investments may be in developed and emerging market economies and may be denominated in local currencies.

Barclays generic quality rating based on the conservative average of Moody's, S&P, and Fitch. If Moody's, S&P and Fitch all provide a credit rating, the rating is the median of the three agency ratings. If only two agencies provide ratings, the rating is the more conservative rating. If only one agency provides a rating, then the rating reflects that agency's rating.

RISK CONSIDERATIONS

Fixed income securities are subject to the risk of an issuer's ability to meet principal and interest payments on the obligation (credit risk) and may also be subject to price volatility due to such factors as interest rate sensitivity, market perception of the creditworthiness of the issuer and general market liquidity (market risk). Fixed income securities are also exposed to the risk that their or their issuers' credit ratings may be downgraded, which can cause a significant drop in the value of such securities.

Lower rated or unrated (i.e. non-investment grade or high yield) securities are more likely to react to developments affecting market and credit risk than are more highly rated securities, which primarily react to movements in the general level of interest rates. Investors should carefully consider the relative risks of investing in high yield securities and understand that such securities generally are not meant for short-term investing.

Debt securities of Emerging Market Countries may be subject to greater risk of loss of principal and interest than debt securities issued by obligors in developed countries and may be considered to be predominantly speculative with respect to the issuer's capacity to pay interest and repay principal.

The investment objective of an Absolute Return Fund is to achieve a positive return over a specified period. However, there is no guarantee that will be achieved over the stated, or indeed, any, period: capital invested is at risk.

Investors who subscribe in a currency other than the base currency of the Fund are exposed to currency risk. Fluctuations in these exchange rates may affect the return on investment.
