INVESTMENT MANAGER'S REPORT

SHORT DURATION INCOME FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 0.55%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class A accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the ICE BofA 1-3 Year U.S. Corporate Index<sup>1</sup>, which returned 1.25% over the same period.

The U.S. Treasury curve became further inverted during the period, with the 2-year yield jumping 67 basis points to 4.87% and the ten-year yield increasing by 43 basis points to 3.96%.

Fears of inflation reemerged in February, causing rates to move sharply higher and the long end of the curve to underperform. In March, turmoil in the banking sector surprised the market, starting with the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB) and spilling into Europe, bringing down Credit Suisse. Rates collapsed and the fear of recession was reintroduced.

Markets quickly recovered from an indiscriminate sell-off, and credit spreads tightened as investor concerns of contagion in the banking system settled. Other themes in April included consumer resiliency and better trends around cost controls, inventories, and supply chain normalization.

Several factors contributed to the positive sentiment in the latter part of the period. Rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected first-quarter earnings were key drivers. Also, the secular growth theme in AI acted as a bright spot and easing regional bank stress and liquidity support added to the bullish sentiment. However, amid these positive trends, there were notable concerns, largely revolving around a more aggressive Federal Reserve and global tightening cycle, and fear of a potential policy mistake.

The Fund pursues a flexible, multi-sector approach to the short maturity bond market and maintains exposures to a variety of bond market sectors in addition to the investment grade corporate bonds represented in the benchmark. This approach provides portfolio diversification and allows for the flexibility to take advantage of relative value opportunities in short maturity bonds across multiple sectors.

For the trailing six-month period, the primary detractor from relative performance was an allocation to commercial mortgage-backed securities (CMBS). Commercial real estate experienced pressure over the period from higher borrowing costs, reduced demand and declining office space values. As a result, the Fund's off-benchmark allocation to CMBS detracted from relative performance.

Given the Fund's up-in-quality and up-in-liquidity positioning, the Fund maintained a modest allocation to U.S. Treasuries. As Treasuries underperformed investment grade corporate bonds, this allocation detracted from relative performance.

While the Fund's underweight allocation to investment grade corporate bonds marginally detracted from performance, security selection within the asset class significantly contributed to relative returns and more than offset this. Specifically, allocations to the Financial and Utility sectors drove positive performance. Within the Financial sector, holdings of large money center banks led to a positive impact on relative returns.

The portfolio's exposure to high yield corporates also led to a positive impact on relative returns given their outperformance relative to investment grade corporates amid continued signs of economic strength and easing inflationary pressures.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries.

<sup>1</sup>The ICE BofA 1-3 Year U.S. Corporate Index is an unmanaged index comprised of U.S. dollar-denominated investment grade corporate debt securities publicly issued in the U.S. domestic market with between one and three years remaining to final maturity. ### HIGH YIELD FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 2.31%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class I accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the ICE BofA U.S. High Yield Constrained Index<sup>1</sup>, which returned 2.94% over the same period.

During the six-month period ending 31 July 2023, markets were broadly positive. Rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected first quarter earnings were key drivers of improved investor sentiment over the period. Also, the secular growth theme in AI acted as a bright spot and easing regional bank stress and liquidity support added to the bullish sentiment. However, amid these positive trends, there were notable concerns, largely revolving around a more aggressive U.S. Federal Reserve and global tightening cycle, and fear of a potential policy mistake.

Despite positive returns over the period, markets were still faced with several periods of heightened volatility. Fears of inflation reemerged in February, causing rates to move sharply higher and the long end of the curve underperformed. In March, markets faced turmoil in the banking sector, starting with the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB), spilling into Europe, bringing down Credit Suisse. Rates collapsed and the fear of recession was reintroduced. Markets quickly recovered in April following the events surrounding SVB and investor concerns of contagion in the banking system settled. There was also more support for the soft-landing narrative seen in healthy household spending and modest softening in labor markets.

For the trailing six-month period, the Fund underperformed its benchmark due primarily to security selection within several key sectors such as Healthcare and Leisure. In Healthcare, the Fund was underweight several issuers in the index that outperformed, mainly issuers in lower credit quality tiers that benefited from the improved fundamental and economic landscape. Within Leisure, the Fund was underweight several issuers in the cruise line subsector that benefited from resilient consumer travel demand. Underweight positions in Theaters also detracted from relative performance as resilient consumer spending and improved box office demand were tailwinds for this sector. There were also several off benchmark positions in convertible bonds and Emerging Market bonds that dragged on relative returns. Both of these modest allocations underperformed high yield bonds for the period, driven mostly by idiosyncratic issues.

Underweight allocations to Media and Telecommunications sectors, which continued to be two of the primary active underweights in the Fund throughout the period, contributed to relative performance. Specific to Media, the Fund was underweight select issuers within the Media Content and Cable and Satellite subsectors that underperformed due to a combination of recession concerns and idiosyncratic issues. In the fourth quarter, we further reduced the Fund's allocation in the Media Content subsector partially due to slowing advertisement revenues which tend to be more exposed to these recession headwinds. In Telecommunications, the Fund benefited from avoiding several issuers that meaningfully underperformed, specifically lower-rated issuers that were affected by persistent volatility in the first months of the year. An off-benchmark allocation to bank loans also contributed to returns as loans benefited from lower sensitivity to rate volatility relative to high yield bonds.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries.

GLOBAL MULTI-SECTOR BOND FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 1.31%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class A accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the Bloomberg Global Aggregate Bond Index (USD Hedged),<sup>1</sup> which returned 0.68% over the same period.

During the six-month period ending 31 July 2023, markets were broadly positive. Rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected first quarter earnings were key drivers of improved investor sentiment over the period. Also, the secular growth theme in AI acted as a bright spot and easing regional bank stress and liquidity support added to the bullish sentiment. However, amid these positive trends, there were notable concerns, largely revolving around a more aggressive U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) and global tightening cycle, and fear of a potential policy mistake.

Despite positive returns over the period, markets were still faced with several periods of heightened volatility. Fears of inflation reemerged in February, causing rates to move sharply higher and the long end of the curve underperformed. In March, markets faced turmoil in the banking sector, starting with the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB), spilling into Europe, bringing down Credit Suisse. Rates collapsed and the fear of recession was reintroduced. Markets quickly recovered in April following the events surrounding SVB and investor concerns of contagion in the banking system settled. More support for the soft-landing narrative was seen in healthy household spending and modest softening in labor markets.

Themes prevalent in the U.S. mirrored European markets, with lower-rated bonds in Europe initially outperforming due to dovish statements from the Bank of England and European Central Bank. However, sentiment changed in March, favoring higher quality European bonds, with notable underperformance from CCCs. Despite this pivot, European HY spreads ended narrower than at the start of the year. However, persistent inflation in the UK led to a significant rate hike by the Bank of England in June. This, combined with concerns over European economic data, pushed rates up in European credit markets towards the end of the period. Emerging Market (EM) high yield bonds lagged behind U.S. and European markets, with wider spreads due to escalated global recession concerns, even as China continued reopening. However, EM bonds improved as the period progressed, with tighter spreads and slightly reduced yields, despite challenges like dropping commodity prices and revised growth projections for China.

The Fund maintains a flexible, multi-sector approach with the ability to have exposure to a broad range of sectors beyond what is included in its benchmark, the Bloomberg Barclays Global Aggregate Bond Index. Primary sector allocations include investment grade and high yield corporate bonds, sovereign debt, mortgage-backed securities, and asset-backed securities.

In this context, the Fund's underweight to developed-market sovereign debt was the main contributor to relative performance over the period. In addition to being underweight, the Fund maintained a lower duration profile within sovereigns across currencies, which benefitted the portfolio as yields rose across the globe amid tighter monetary policy. An allocation to high yield bonds also aided relative performance as credit spreads compressed amid improved macroeconomic data across multiple regions.

Although the Fund outperformed its benchmark over the period, the Fund's allocation to TIPS and CMBS were two of the main detractors of relative performance. TIPS underperformed broader fixed income securities as inflation expectations moderated which led to a decline in valuations. With respect to CMBS, the Fund's performance was impacted by idiosyncratic single-asset/single-borrower (SASB) deals that performed poorly. Some commercial real estate fundamentals continue to remain under pressure given rising vacancy in certain geographical markets.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries.

CLIMATE FOCUSED BOND FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 0.95%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class A accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the ICE BofA Green Bond Index Hedged  $(USD)^1$ , which returned 0.90% over the same period.

The U.S. Treasury curve became further inverted during the period, with the 2-year yield jumping 67 basis points to 4.87% and the ten-year yield increasing by 43 basis points to 3.96% as fears of inflation reemerged, causing rates to move sharply higher and the long end of the curve to underperform. In March, turmoil in the banking sector surprised the market, starting with the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB) and spilling into Europe, bringing down Credit Suisse. Rates fell significantly and the fear of recession was reintroduced.

Markets quickly recovered from an indiscriminate sell-off, and credit spreads tightened as investor concerns of contagion in the banking system settled. Other themes in April included consumer resiliency and better trends around cost controls, inventories, and supply chain normalization.

Several factors contributed to the positive sentiment in the latter part of the period. Rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected first-quarter earnings were key drivers.

Global ESG bond supply from corporate issuers totaled $193bn during the first half of 2023, approximately 11% below the $218bn issued in the same period in 2022. Demand was positive for ESG bond funds throughout the period. Specifically, flows into all ESG bond funds through the end July totaled $21bn, which compares to $7bn recorded in the same period in 2022.

The Fund invests in the securities of issuers we believe have, or will have, a positive impact on the climate through an issuer's operations, products, or services. Our investment process focuses on five key climate-related themes, including: clean energy, energy efficiency, low carbon transportation, clean water and resource management, and other environmental areas such as recycling and waste management.

The primary contributor to relative performance was the Fund's duration positioning relative to the benchmark. As rates rose over the period, particularly in the latter half amid stronger-than-expected economic data releases, the Fund's shorter duration relative to the benchmark led to a positive impact on relative returns.

Our allocation to high yield corporates also contributed positively to relative returns. Given the asset class's greater carry and significant spread compression amid the increasing probability of a soft landing, high yield corporate bonds outperformed and contributed to relative performance.

The portfolio's underweight to emerging market corporate bonds, as well as security selection in this space, led to a negative impact on relative performance. In particular, various holdings within the Utility sector experienced selling pressures over the period.

Lastly, our modest, off-benchmark allocation to convertible bonds detracted slightly from relative performance, primarily driven by various holdings of renewable energy technology issuers that underperformed.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries.

<sup>1</sup>The ICE BofA Green Bond Index tracks securities issued for qualified green purposes that promote climate change mitigation or adaption. Qualifying bonds must have a clearly designated use of proceeds that is solely applied toward projects or activities that promote climate change mitigation or adaptation or other environmental sustainability purposes as outlined by the ICMA Green Bond Principles. The index referenced in this report is unmanaged, does not reflect the deduction of fees or expenses, and is not available for direct investment.

INVESTMENT MANAGER'S REPORT

EMERGING MARKETS CORPORATE DEBT FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned -0.82%, reflecting performance at the net asset value ("NAV") of Class A accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the J.P. Morgan Corporate Emerging Markets Bond Index Broad Diversified<sup>1</sup>, which returned 1.57% during the same period.

Global markets were broadly positive during the period. Rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected corporate earnings were key drivers of improved investor sentiment over the period. Also, the secular growth theme in AI acted as a bright spot and easing regional bank stress and liquidity support added to the bullish sentiment. However, amid these positive trends, there were notable concerns, largely revolving around a more aggressive U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) and global tightening cycle, and fear of a potential policy mistake. Other concerns included narrow market leadership, earnings risk due to weakened operating leverage, and valuation.

Emerging market (EM) bond markets underwent substantial changes throughout the period. Core markets faced pronounced volatility, primarily spurred by banking sector uncertainties, though a broader crisis was avoided. Despite market fluctuations, EM broadly demonstrated resilience, thanks to central bank interventions. However, there was good deal of dispersion within emerging markets, with some countries relatively stable while others experienced substantially higher yields. China's impressive first quarter economic growth was also a tailwind for EM bonds. Notably, this upturn was attributed to swift initial housing recovery and solid infrastructure investments. Even with a predicted slowdown, China's growth trajectory appeared set to propel global expansion. However, concerns arose regarding a potential technical recession in the U.S. and Europe's modest growth forecast for 2023.

Uncertainty grew in the second quarter due to market unrest caused by banking sector issues in the U.S. and Europe. While initial investor confidence was shaky, awaiting clarity on potential Fed actions, it was bolstered later in April by robust U.S. bank earnings. Still, May saw concerns about a potential U.S. debt default due to prolonged debt ceiling negotiations. Despite tepid growth figures from China, the quarter concluded positively for EMs, with stabilized volatility and declining credit spreads. The likelihood of further Fed rate hikes rose, even though they paused in June. This pause, however, did not significantly alter the policies of most EM central banks, which were more influenced by domestic inflation trends. Weakened growth numbers from China reduced demand for commodities, especially industrial metals. Also, declining commodity prices affected some commodity-reliant Latin American EM economies.

For the trailing six-month period, the Fund underperformed its benchmark. In terms of the Fund's performance, rates positioning was the primary detractor from relative returns over the period. At the start of the fiscal year, the Fund's modestly longer duration led to performance headwinds, given the heightened rate volatility over the period.

From a sector perspective, the Fund held an overweight allocation to the China Real Estate sector that detracted from relative performance. Moving into 2023, growth outlooks became more positive in the region leading to better recovery prospects in the sector after underperforming in 2022. Additionally, the government announced that it would drop nearly all COVID-19 travel restrictions, effectively loosening the country's incredibly tight protocols, which was expected to provide an added boost to the region. However, growth prospects in China stalled and expectations for stimulus disappointed as regulators continue to prioritize economic deleveraging. We responded by trimming the Fund's exposure to these positions. An overweight allocation to Brazil Energy sector also detracted from relative performance. Certain issuers faced idiosyncratic headwinds highlighted by a lower expectation of future cash flows, which led to downgrades on key holdings in the Fund.

Conversely, several holdings contributed to relative performance over the period. More broadly, the Fund's overweight to select issuers in the Utilities sector aided performance, led by several positions in Saudi Arabia, China and Malaysia. Additionally, the Fund's holdings in the Financial Services sector also contributed to relative returns. This was primarily attributed to several positions across multiple regions, including Asia, Middle East and Eastern Europe. An underweight to Communications sector, particularly within the Western European region, also contributed to relative returns.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries.

MULTI-SECTOR INCOME FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 0.43%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class A accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the Bloomberg U.S. Aggregate Bond Index<sup>1</sup>, which returned -1.02% over the same period.

During the six-month period ending 31 July 2023, markets were broadly positive. Rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected first quarter earnings were key drivers of improved investor sentiment over the period. Also, the secular growth theme in AI acted as a bright spot and easing regional bank stress and liquidity support added to the bullish sentiment. However, amid these positive trends, there were notable concerns, largely revolving around a more aggressive U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) and global tightening cycle, and fear of a potential policy mistake.

Despite positive returns over the period, markets were still faced with several periods of heightened volatility. Fears of inflation reemerged in February, causing rates to move sharply higher and the long end of the curve underperformed. In March, markets faced turmoil in the banking sector, starting with the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB), spilling into Europe, bringing down Credit Suisse. Rates collapsed and the fear of recession was reintroduced. Markets quickly recovered in April following the events surrounding SVB and investor concerns of contagion in the banking system settled. More support for the soft-landing narrative was seen in healthy household spending and modest softening in labor markets.

Themes prevalent in the U.S. mirrored European markets, with lower-rated bonds in Europe initially outperforming due to dovish statements from the Bank of England and European Central Bank. However, sentiment changed in March, favoring higher quality European bonds, with notable underperformance from CCC-rated bonds. Despite this pivot, European high yield spreads ended narrower than at the start of the year. However, persistent inflation in the UK led to a significant rate hike by the Bank of England in June. This, combined with concerns over European economic data, pushed rates up in European credit markets towards the end of the period. Emerging Market (EM) high yield bonds lagged behind U.S. and European markets, with wider spreads due to escalated global recession concerns, even as China continued reopening. However, EM bonds improved as the period progressed, with tighter spreads and slightly reduced yields, despite challenges like dropping commodity prices and revised growth projections for China.

The Fund takes a flexible, multi-sector approach to fixed income, which emphasizes credit sensitive sectors of the market compared to its benchmark, which is largely comprised of U.S. Treasuries and government-related securities. The allocations to high yield credit sectors, namely BB and B-rated securities, were significant contributors to relative returns for the period. High yield bonds outperformed for the period as spreads compressed in response to more positive developments in macroeconomic data. The Fund's exposure in high yield credit was primarily in sectors such as Leisure and Capital Goods, which demonstrated strong returns highlighted by strong consumer travel demand. Security selection within investment grade bonds also contributed to relative performance as the Fund was focused on BBB-rated credits that received a boost from both tighter spreads and declining yields. An allocation to sovereign bonds also contributed to relative performance, specifically to countries such as Sri Lanka and Dominican Republic.

Several allocations ultimately detracted from relative performance for the period. The Fund's exposure to convertible bonds dragged on returns primarily from several companies that faced idiosyncratic issues. These positions were primarily in sectors such as Biotech, Semiconductors and Retail. Security selection within mortgage-backed securities (MBS) also detracted from relative performance as the Fund held longer duration MBS that were affected by higher interest rate volatility.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries.

INNOVATION GROWTH FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 18.25%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class A accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the Russell 1000® Growth Index<sup>1</sup>, which returned 23.10% over the same period.

In the first half of 2023, U.S. equities experienced strong performance, with the Nasdaq making a remarkable comeback, surging more than 10.5% in January and rallying nearly 17% in the second quarter. Growth stocks consistently outperformed value stocks, and large cap stocks led the way over small cap stocks. This upward trend was supported by various factors, including rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected earnings. The secular growth theme with artificial intelligence acted as an additional bright spot, with easing regional bank stress and liquidity support adding to the bullish sentiment.

Thematically, the Fund's underweight to prominent mega cap companies detracted from relative performance as narrow, tech-focused leadership was a dominant theme throughout the period amid general optimism surrounding generative artificial intelligence.

Within the Information Technology sector, the Fund's position in Enphase Energy, Inc., a developer and manufacturer of solar micro-inverters, battery energy storage, and electric vehicle charging stations, weighed on performance over the period. Entering 2023, Enphase was one of the Fund's largest active overweights, though the Fund reduced the portfolio's position at the beginning of the first quarter amid falling natural gas prices. The stock continued to face additional headwinds as demand within the California residential solar market began to slow. As a result, the Fund exited the position entirely over the course of the first quarter.

Conversely, the Fund's position in NVIDIA Corporation, a manufacturer of computer graphics processors, chipsets, and related multimedia software, was a standout contributor to relative performance over the period. Shares of NVIDIA experienced strong price momentum following its exceptionally strong earnings report earlier in the year. The stock has also benefitted from the general excitement surrounding the potential of generative artificial intelligence. As of the end of the period, NVIDIA was the Fund's largest active overweight.

The Fund's position in MercadoLibre, Inc., Latin America's largest e-commerce company, was also a notable contributor over the period. MercadoLibre has a commanding market presence in Brazil, Argentina, and Mexico. The company has been able to attract more users and merchants to its platform, creating a virtuous cycle of growth and increased market share. #### GLOBAL HIGH YIELD FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 1.97%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class A accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the ICE BofA Global High Yield USD Hedged Index<sup>1</sup>, which returned 2.69% over the same period.

During the six-month period ending 31 July 2023, markets were broadly positive. Rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected first quarter earnings were key drivers of improved investor sentiment over the period. Also, the secular growth theme in AI acted as a bright spot and easing regional bank stress and liquidity support added to the bullish sentiment. However, amid these positive trends, there were notable concerns, largely revolving around a more aggressive U.S. Federal Reserve and global tightening cycle, and fear of a potential policy mistake.

Despite positive returns over the period, markets were still faced with several periods of heightened volatility. Fears of inflation reemerged in February, causing rates to move sharply higher and the long end of the curve underperformed. In March, markets faced turmoil in the banking sector, starting with the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB), spilling into Europe, bringing down Credit Suisse. Rates collapsed and the fear of recession was reintroduced. Markets quickly recovered in April following the events surrounding SVB and investor concerns of contagion in the banking system settled. There was also more support for the soft-landing narrative seen in healthy household spending and modest softening in labor markets.

Themes prevalent in the U.S. mirrored European markets, with lower-rated bonds in Europe initially outperforming due to dovish statements from the Bank of England and European Central Bank. However, sentiment changed in March, favoring higher quality European bonds, with notable underperformance from CCCs. Despite this pivot, European HY spreads ended narrower than at the start of the year. However, persistent inflation in the UK led to a significant rate hike by the Bank of England in June. This, combined with concerns over European economic data, pushed rates up in European credit markets towards the end of the period. Emerging Market (EM) high yield bonds lagged behind U.S. and European markets, with wider spreads due to escalated global recession concerns, even as China continued reopening. However, EM bonds improved as the period progressed, with tighter spreads and slightly reduced yields, despite challenges like dropping commodity prices and revised growth projections for China.

For the trailing six-month period, the Fund underperformed its benchmark. Security selection within several key sectors such as Healthcare and Basic Industry were detractors from relative performance. In Healthcare, the Fund was underweight several issuers in the index that outperformed, mainly in lower credit quality tiers that benefited from the improved fundamental and economic landscape. Within Basic Industry, the Fund was overweight several issuers in the Metals and Mining subsector that underperformed amid declining commodity prices which affected top line revenues. Security selection in Emerging Market (EM) bonds was also a detractor, primarily from overweight positions in China real estate development companies that underperformed due to slowing growth prospects from regulators that continued to prioritize overall economic deleveraging. There were also several off benchmark positions in convertible bonds that dragged on relative returns. The Fund's convertible bond allocation underperformed high yield bonds for the period, driven mostly by idiosyncratic issues.

An active underweight allocation to the Media sector was one of the primary contributors to relative performance. Specific to Media, the Fund was underweight select issuers within the Media Content and Cable and Satellite subsectors that underperformed due to a combination of recession concerns and idiosyncratic issues. In the fourth quarter, we further reduced the Fund's allocation in the Media Content subsector partially due to slowing advertisement revenues which tend to be more exposed to these recession headwinds. Security selection within Consumer Goods also contributed to relative returns. The Fund benefited from an overweight in several Ukrainian companies that improved performance after coming under pressure with the onset of the military conflicts with Russia. Relative performance was also boosted by an overweight allocation and security selection within the Transportation sector, which was supported by record air travel bookings in 2023. An off-benchmark allocation to bank loans also contributed to returns as loans benefited from lower sensitivity to rate volatility relative to high yield bonds.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries.

GLOBAL EQUITY FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 9.35%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class A accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the MSCI All Country World Index (Net)<sup>1</sup>, which returned 10.20% over the same period.

The six-month period ending 31 July 2023 was relatively positive for global equity markets. Despite heightened uncertainty and market volatility, global equity markets largely generated strong returns. Rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation in most global economies, and better-than-expected first quarter earnings were key drivers of improved investor sentiment over the period. Also, the secular growth theme in AI acted as a bright spot and easing regional bank stress and liquidity support added to the bullish sentiment. However, amid these positive trends, there were notable concerns, largely revolving around a more aggressive U.S. Federal Reserve (Fed) and global tightening cycle, and fear of a potential policy mistake. Other concerns included narrow market leadership, earnings risk due to weakened operating leverage, and valuation.

Throughout March, the U.S. regional banking sector faced turmoil as Silicon Valley Bank and Signature Bank were shut down due to rapid deposit flight, prompting the Fed, Federal Deposit Insurance Company, and U.S. Treasury to support depositors and stabilize contagion fears. Consequently, the Fed raised interest rates by 25 basis points, maintaining expectations of further rate hikes for the year. In the Eurozone, economic indicators were positive, with the Composite Purchasing Managers' Index (PMI) showing strong business activity expansion and the European Central Bank (ECB) raising interest rates to 3.5%. Meanwhile, China exhibited mixed economic performance with its manufacturing PMI highlighting concerns about the nation's recovery momentum and the People's Bank of China maintaining its lending rates. In Japan, inflation declined to 3.3% in February, with manufacturing remaining in contraction and the Bank of Japan keeping interest rates steady, reiterating its commitment to further easing if required.

During the period, the Fund's underperformance relative to its benchmark was driven by stock selection, particularly within the Consumer Discretionary and Financials sectors. Within the Consumer Discretionary sector, an underweight in Tesla detracted most as the company exhibited better than anticipated earnings in the first quarter. The Fund also held an overweight to PDD Holdings, a multinational commerce group in China that was affected by broader macroeconomic pressures in the region over the period. In Financials, exposure to BAWAG Group AG, an Austrian-based company that engages in savings lending and investment products, was a primary detractor from returns.

Conversely, stock selection within the Communication Services and Energy sectors contributed to relative performance over the period. Meta Platforms was one of the top overweights in the Fund and was a meaningful contributor to relative performance. The company noted that in the new year it was focused on efficiency and being nimbler, which led to effective earnings beats and appreciation in share value. In Energy, our underweight to Exxon Mobil Corporation also contributed to returns as the company was affected by falling oil prices during the period.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries. Indexes are unmanaged, do not reflect the deduction of fees or expenses, and are not available for direct investment.

ULTRA SHORT BOND FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 2.17%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class A accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the ICE BofA U.S. Treasury Bill Index<sup>1</sup>, which returned 2.37% over the same period.

The U.S. Treasury curve became further inverted during the period, with the 2-year yield jumping 67 basis points to 4.87% and the ten-year yield increasing by 43 basis points to 3.96%.

Fears of inflation reemerged in February, causing rates to move sharply higher and the long end of the curve underperformed. In March, turmoil in the banking sector surprised the market, starting with the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB) and spilling into Europe, bringing down Credit Suisse. Rates collapsed and the fear of recession was reintroduced.

Markets quickly recovered from an indiscriminate sell-off, and credit spreads tightened- as investor concerns of contagion in the banking system settled. Other themes in April included consumer resiliency and better trends around cost controls, inventories, and supply chain normalization.

Several factors contributed to positive sentiment in the latter part of the period. Rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected Q1 earnings were key drivers. Also, the secular growth theme in AI acted as a bright spot and easing regional bank stress and liquidity support added to the bullish sentiment. However, amid these positive trends, there were notable concerns, largely revolving around a more aggressive Federal Reserve and global tightening cycle, and fear of a potential policy mistake.

The Fund maintains exposure to a variety of short maturity, investment grade bond market sectors beyond the U.S. Treasury Bills represented in the benchmark. This structure allows for the flexibility to take advantage of the opportunity for higher income and potential total return versus money market funds or other short-term government related securities.

The primary contributor to the Fund's relative performance during the period was an allocation to commercial paper. Commercial paper benefitted from a relatively low duration profile, which helped mitigate interest rate volatility, and maturing commercial paper was able to be reinvested at higher short-term yields on newly issued paper.

Also contributing to relative performance was an allocation to corporate floating rate bonds, which outperformed fixedrate securities over the period.

The only detractor to performance over the period was an allocation to asset-backed securities (ABS). ABS on the short end underperformed corporate credit with shorter tenures.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries.

HIGH YIELD CORE FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 2.62%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class I accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the ICE BofA U.S. High Yield Constrained Index<sup>1</sup>, which returned 2.94% over the same period.

During the six-month period ending 31 July 2023, markets were broadly positive. Rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected first quarter earnings were key drivers of improved investor sentiment over the period. Also, the secular growth theme in AI acted as a bright spot and easing regional bank stress and liquidity support added to the bullish sentiment. However, amid these positive trends, there were notable concerns, largely revolving around a more aggressive U.S. Federal Reserve and global tightening cycle, and fear of a potential policy mistake. Other concerns included narrow market leadership, earnings risk due to weakened operating leverage, and valuation.

Despite positive returns over the period, markets were still faced with several periods of heightened volatility. In March, we faced turmoil in the banking sector, starting with Silicon Valley Bank (SVB), that surprised market participants, spilling into Europe and bringing Credit Suisse over the brink. Rates collapsed and the fear of recession was reintroduced. Markets quickly recovered in April following the events surrounding SVB and investor concerns of contagion in the banking system settled. There was also more support for the soft-landing narrative was seen in healthy household spending and modest softening in labor markets.

For the trailing six-month period, the Fund underperformed its benchmark due primarily to security selection within several key sectors such as Healthcare and Leisure. In Healthcare, the Fund was underweight several issuers in the index that outperformed, mainly issuers in lower credit quality tiers that benefited from the improved fundamental and economic landscape. Within Leisure, the Fund was underweight several issuers in the cruise line subsector that benefited from resilient consumer travel demand. Underweight positions in Theaters also detracted from relative performance as resilient consumer spending and improved box office demand were tailwinds for this sector.

The Fund benefited from underweight allocations to Media and Telecommunications sectors, which continued to be two of the primary active underweights in the Fund throughout the period. Specific to Media, the Fund was underweight select issuers within the Media Content and Cable and Satellite subsectors that underperformed due to a combination of recession concerns and idiosyncratic issues. In the fourth quarter, we further reduced the Fund's allocation in the Media Content subsector partially due to slowing advertisement revenues which tend to be more exposed to these recession headwinds. In Telecommunications, the Fund benefited from avoiding several issuers that meaningfully underperformed, specifically lower-rated issuers that were affected by persistent volatility in the first months of the year.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries.

CONVERTIBLE FUND

For the six-month period ended 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 0.13%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class I accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the ICE BofA All Convertibles Index<sup>1</sup>, which returned 5.51% over the same period.

In the first half of 2023, U.S. equities experienced strong performance, with the Nasdaq making a remarkable comeback, surging more than 10.5% in January and rallying nearly 17% in the second quarter. Growth stocks consistently outperformed value stocks, and large cap stocks led the way over small cap stocks. This upward trend was supported by various factors, including rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected earnings. The secular growth theme with artificial intelligence acted as an additional bright spot, with easing regional bank stress and liquidity support adding to the bullish sentiment.

Over the period, security selection generally detracted from relative performance. As an example, within the Communication Services sector, the Fund's position in Sea Ltd., a consumer internet company, was a notable detractor. Shares faced downward pressure after the company reported a quarterly earnings miss, driven in part by a $118 million goodwill impairment charge.

Security selection within the Health Care sector detracted from relative performance over the period. Within the sector, the Fund's position in Apellis Pharmaceuticals, Inc., a biopharmaceutical company, which engages in the discovery, development, and commercialization of novel therapeutic compounds to treat diseases with high unmet needs, detracted from relative performance as the company faced a disappointing clinical trial readout, where a small population of candidates being treated for eye disease experienced blindness. While the investigation as to the cause of this continues, the stock price plummeted.

Within the Consumer Discretionary sector, the Fund's position in Royal Caribbean Cruises Ltd., an international cruise line, was a standout contributor over the period. Shares of the stock rallied on the back of the company reporting a much narrower-than-expected quarterly loss. Management also raised its full-year profit outlook.

The Fund's position in MercadoLibre, Inc., Latin America's largest e-commerce company, was also a notable contributor over the period. MercadoLibre has a commanding market presence in Brazil, Argentina, and Mexico. The company has been able to attract more users and merchants to its platform, creating a virtuous cycle of growth and increased market share. After suffering losses in recent years due to investments in fulfilment and distribution capabilities, the company has begun to see the benefits of those investments as profitability returned in recent quarters. Bottom line results have also been positively impacted by strength in the company's credit and advertising segments.

SHORT DURATION HIGH YIELD FUND

The Fund was incepted on 16 May 2023. For the period of 16 May 2023 through 31 July 2023, the Fund returned 2.80%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class IF accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the ICE BofA High Yield U.S. Corporate Cash Pay BB-B (1-5yrs) USD Index<sup>1</sup>, which returned 2.80% over the same period.

During the period ending 31 July 2023, markets were broadly positive. Rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected first quarter earnings were key drivers of improved investor sentiment over the period. Also, the secular growth theme in AI acted as a bright spot and easing regional bank stress and liquidity support added to the bullish sentiment. However, amid these positive trends, there were notable concerns, largely revolving around a more aggressive U.S. Federal Reserve and global tightening cycle, and fear of a potential policy mistake.

Despite positive returns over the period, markets were still faced with several periods of heightened volatility. Fears of inflation reemerged in February, causing rates to move sharply higher and the long end of the curve underperformed. In March, markets faced turmoil in the banking sector, starting with the collapse of Silicon Valley Bank (SVB), spilling into Europe, bringing down Credit Suisse. Rates collapsed and the fear of recession was reintroduced. Markets quickly recovered in April following the events surrounding SVB and investor concerns of contagion in the banking system settled. There was also more support for the soft-landing narrative seen in healthy household spending and modest softening in labor markets.

With respect to performance, security selection within the Single B rating tier was a primary detractor of relative performance. The Fund was underweight certain issuers in sectors in this credit tier like Telecommunications, Leisure and Retail sectors that outperformed. An underweight allocation to and security selection within the Media sector also detracted from relative performance as the Fund was underweight select Media Content issuers that exhibited resilient returns. Security selection in Financial Services and Banking sectors also dragged on relative returns throughout the period.

The Fund's overweight exposure to lower-rated credit compared to the benchmark was a meaningful contributor to relative performance. This was represented by a meaningful underweight to BB credit while being overweight CCC bonds. As spreads compressed and macroeconomic data improved over the period, this led to outperformance in CCCs over higher-rated bonds. From a sector perspective, security selection within the Energy and Automotive sectors contributed to relative performance and the Fund was overweight issuers that outperformed the benchmark.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries.

GLOBAL HEALTH CARE FUND

The Fund was incepted on 20 June 2023. For the period of 20 June 2023 through 31 July 2023, the Fund returned -2.10%, reflecting performance at the net asset value (NAV) of Class A accumulating shares (USD), compared to its benchmark, the MSCI ACWI Health Care Index<sup>1</sup>, which returned 1.69% over the same period.

In the first half of 2023, global equities rallied off the challenging prior year, with the MSCI All Country World Index<sup>2</sup> rising 10.20% during the reporting period. Growth stocks consistently outperformed value stocks, and large cap stocks led the way over small cap stocks. This upward trend was supported by various factors, including rising expectations of a soft economic landing, evidence of disinflation, and better-than-expected earnings. The secular growth theme with artificial intelligence acted as an additional bright spot, with easing regional bank stress and liquidity support adding to the bullish sentiment.

The Global Health Care Fund focuses primarily on idiosyncratic opportunities but will make adjustments due to industry and macroeconomic environment shifts. During the recent period, the Fund's underperformance was driven by a few notable disappointments. First, the Fund's position in Apellis Pharmaceuticals, Inc., a biopharmaceutical company, which engages in the discovery, development, and commercialization of novel therapeutic compounds to treat diseases with high unmet needs, detracted from relative performance as the company faced a disappointing clinical trial readout, where a small population of candidates being treated for eye disease experienced blindness. While the investigation as to the cause of this continues, the stock price plummeted. Additionally, the Fund's position in Karuna Therapeutics, Inc., which operates as a clinical-stage biopharmaceutical company, detracted from relative performance as the stock faced headwinds after the company filed a $400M common stock offering that was below the market value of the stock at the time of the filing.

Conversely, the Fund's position in arGEN-X SE, a global immunology company committed to improving the lives of people suffering from severe autoimmune diseases, contributed to relative performance. Shares rallied after the company announced it raised $1.1 billion in new funds to support its operations. The fundraise followed an earlier announcement that arGEN-X's Vyvgart Hytrulo met its primary endpoint in a phase 2 study in adults with chronic inflammatory demyelinating polyneuropathy (CIDP). Lastly, the Fund's position in TransMedics Group, Inc., which operates as a commercial stage medical technology company, also contributed to relative performance as the company had strong performance over the period following solid fourth quarter earnings results and an increase in forward-looking guidance.

The Fund's portfolio is actively managed and, therefore, its holdings and the weightings of a particular issuer or particular sector as a percentage of portfolio assets are subject to change. Sectors may include many industries.

CONDENSED NOTES TO THE UNAUDITED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS AT 31 JULY 2023

1. Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

The principal accounting policies applied in the preparation of these financial statements are consistent with the accounting policies adopted for the year to 31 January 2023 as detailed in the audited financial statements. There has been no significant change to any accounting policy or estimation techniques during the period.

a) Basis of Presentation

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards ("IFRS"), as adopted by the European Union ("EU"), Irish statute comprising the Companies Act 2014 and the UCITS Regulations.

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the pronouncements on IAS 34 "Interim Financial Reporting" issued by the International Accounting Standards Board. The unaudited financial statements and condensed notes should be read in conjunction with the audited financial statements for the year ended 31 January 2023. The financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of financial assets and financial liabilities held at fair value through profit or loss.

b) Determination of Fair Value

Under IFRS 13 fair value is the amount for which an asset could be exchanged or a liability settled, between knowledgeable willing parties in an arm's length transaction. The fair value of an investment which is quoted, listed or normally dealt in on more than one Regulated Market shall be the last traded price (or if no last traded price is available, the last mid-market price). If an asset or a liability measured at fair value has a bid price and an ask price, the standard requires valuation to be based on a price within the bid-ask spread that is most representative of fair value and allows the use of mid-market or last traded price.

The value of any investment which is not quoted, listed or normally dealt in on a Regulated Market shall be the probable realisable value estimated with care and in good faith by a competent person, firm or association (including Lord, Abbett & Co. LLC, (the "Investment Manager")) appointed by the Directors and approved for the purpose by the Depositary.

The value of exchange traded Financial Derivative Instruments ("FDIs") shall be based on the settlement price, as determined by the market in question, provided that where it is not the practice for the relevant market to quote a settlement price or such settlement price is not available for any reason as at the Valuation Point, such value shall be the probable realisation value thereof estimated with care and in good faith by a competent person, firm or association (including the Investment Manager) appointed by the Directors and approved for the purpose by the Depositary.

Swaps are valued using independent pricing sources or quotations from brokers/dealers to the extent available.

The value of open forward foreign currency exchange contracts which are dealt on a Regulated Market shall be calculated by reference to freely available market prices at which a new forward contract of the same size, currency and maturity could be effected at the Valuation Point. Open forward foreign currency exchange contracts are valued using daily forward exchange rates. Where an alternative valuation is used (i.e., a valuation that is provided by a competent person, firm of association (including the Investment Manager) appointed by the Directors and approved for that purpose by the Depositary, the valuation principals employed will follow international practice established by bodies such as IOSCO (International Organisation for Securities Commission) and AIMA (the Alternative Investment Management Association)).

Forward Foreign Currency Exchange Contracts

The Company may use forward foreign currency exchange contracts to hedge the risk to the portfolio of exchange price movements or for share class hedging purposes. Under some circumstances, the Company may commit a substantial portion or the entire value of its portfolio to the completion of forward foreign currency exchange contracts. Generally, these instruments allow the Company to lock in a specified exchange rate for a period of time. Net gains or losses on forward foreign currency exchange contracts which have been settled are included in the Statement of Comprehensive Income of each relevant Fund. Unrealised gains or losses on open forward foreign currency exchange contracts are reported as financial assets or liabilities at fair value through profit or loss as appropriate in the Statement of Financial Position of each relevant Fund.

Realised and change in unrealised gains or losses during the period are included in "Net Gains/(Losses) on Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities at Fair Value through Profit or Loss" in the Statement of Comprehensive Income of each relevant Fund.

Futures Contracts

The Company may enter into futures contracts, which involve the purchase or sale of a contract to buy or sell a specified security, index or other financial instrument at a specific future date and price on an exchange or the Over-the-Counter ("OTC") Market. The Company may enter into such contracts as a substitute for taking a position in an underlying asset or to increase returns.

Upon entering into a futures contract, the Company is required to deposit with its futures broker, an amount of cash in accordance with the initial margin requirements of the broker or exchange. Futures contracts are valued using quoted daily settlement prices established by the exchange on which they trade. The Company and the broker agree to exchange an amount of cash equal to the daily fluctuations in the value of the futures contract ("variation margin").

For open futures, changes in the value of the contract are recognised as unrealised gains or losses by "marking-tomarket" the value of the contract at the Statement of Financial Position date. When the contract is closed, the difference between the proceeds (or cost) of the closing transactions and the original transaction is recorded as a realised gain or loss in the Statement of Comprehensive Income.

Swap Contracts

The Company may enter into interest rate, equity index, credit default, currency and total return swap agreements, and swaptions (options on swaps) and similar transactions. The Company may enter into these swap transactions for hedging purposes or in an attempt to obtain a particular return when it is considered desirable to do so. A swap transaction involves an agreement between two parties to exchange different cash flows based on a specified or "notional" amount. The cash flows exchanged in a specific transaction may be, among other things, payments that are the equivalent of interest on a principal amount, payments that would compensate the purchaser for losses on a defaulted security or basket of securities, or payments reflecting the performance of one or more specified currencies, securities or indices.

Unrealised gains or losses on open swap contract and initial upfront payment received or made upon entering into a swap contract are included in the fair value of the swap in the Statement of Financial Position. Investment interest payable on swap contract is recorded as "Interest Payable on Swaps" in the Statement of Financial Position.

Changes in unrealised gains or losses on swap contracts at the reporting period end are reported in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. A liquidation payment received or made at the termination of the swap contract is recorded as realised gain or loss in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. Investment interest expense on swap contract is included in "Net Gains/(Losses) on Financial Assets and Financial Liabilities at Fair Value through Profit or Loss" in the Statement of Comprehensive Income. Collateral in the form of cash or securities may be required to be held with the Depositary or broker in accordance with the swap agreement.

A portion of the dividend distribution above and included within the Statement of Comprehensive Income for Class AM, IM, and ZM Shares was paid out of capital. The rationale for providing for payment of distributions out of capital is to allow for the ability to consistently provide distributions to investors seeking an income-oriented investment. Each of these share classes may also charge fees and expenses (including management fees), or a portion thereof, to capital. The rationale for charging fees and expenses to capital is to maximize the amount of distributions to Shareholders. The amount of distributions paid out of capital for the period ended 31 July 2023 and 31 July 2022 were as follows:

5. Financial Risk Management

Strategy in Using Financial Instruments

Each Fund aims to achieve its investment objective while spreading investment risks through investment in transferable securities or liquid financial assets or collective investment schemes or other permitted investments in accordance with the UCITS Regulations. The transferable securities and liquid financial assets in which a Fund may invest generally must be listed and/or traded on a Regulated Market except that up to 10% of the NAV of a Fund may be invested in transferable securities and liquid financial assets which are not so listed, traded or dealt. The following paragraphs outline details of the market, currency, interest, credit and liquidity risks of the Funds. These are consistent with the risks that existed as at 31 January 2023.

Market Price Risk

Market price risk is the risk of loss for the Fund resulting from fluctuation in the market value of positions in the Fund portfolio attributable to changes in market variables, such as interest rates, foreign exchange rates, equity and commodity prices or an issuer's credit worthiness. The market risk associated with the use of derivatives is assessed in the context of the risk profile of the total portfolio. Some of the strategies using FDIs will be risk reducing such as open forward foreign currency contracts used for hedging currency risk. Some strategies may add to market risk but at all times the regulatory limits for FDIs applying to UCITS funds will be adhered to.

Common stocks and other equity securities, as well as equity-like securities such as convertible debt securities, may experience significant volatility. Such securities may fall sharply in response to adverse events affecting overall markets, a particular industry or sector, or an individual company's financial condition.

Market/leverage risk is mitigated in the Funds through the global exposure and leverage limits imposed under the UCITS rules. These are monitored by the Investment Manager on a daily basis. The Investment Manager's internal risk management function utilises a range of systems to measure and monitor market risk.

Currency Risk

Currency risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in foreign exchange rates. A portion of each Fund's assets, liabilities and income may be denominated in currencies other than the Fund's functional currency. They could, therefore be exposed to currency risk as the value of the securities denominated in other currencies will fluctuate due to changes in exchange rates. Currency exchange rates also can be affected unpredictably by intervention (or failure to intervene) by U.S. or non-U.S. governments or central banks, or by currency controls or political developments. Income denominated in foreign currencies is converted to the Fund's functional currency on receipt.

A Fund's use of currency-related transactions involves the risk that the Investment Manager will not accurately predict currency movements, and a Fund's returns could be reduced as a result. Investments in non-U.S. currencies are subject to the risk that those currencies will decline in value relative to the U.S. dollar, or, in the case of hedged positions, that the U.S. dollar will decline relative to the currency being hedged. If the Investment Manager is not accurate in its predictions of currency movements, a Fund will lose money, in addition to a Fund incurring transaction costs. Also, it may be difficult or impractical to hedge currency risk in many developing or emerging countries. The risks associated with exposure to emerging market currencies may be heightened in comparison to those associated with exposure to developed market currencies. Performance may be strongly influenced by movements in currency exchange rates because currency positions held by a Fund may not correspond with the securities positions held. In the case of unhedged Class Currencies, a currency conversion will take place on subscription, redemption, switching and payments of dividends at prevailing exchange rates. Accordingly, the value of the shares expressed in the Class Currency will be subject to exchange rate risk in relation to the Base Currency of the relevant Fund.

Interest Rate Risk

A rise in prevailing interest rates generally will cause the price of fixed income securities to fall. Generally, the longer the maturity of a security or weighted average maturity of a Fund, the more sensitive its price is to a rise in interest rates. The interest rates on certain debt securities in which a Fund invests may adjust periodically and may not correlate to prevailing interest rates during the periods between rate adjustments. The Funds may invest in futures contracts which bear the risk of interest rates moving unexpectedly, in which case the Funds may not achieve the anticipated benefits of futures contracts and realize a loss.

Credit Risk

The value of a debt security may decline based on adverse conditions of the relevant issuer, such as management performance, financial difficulties, or reduced demand for the goods and services provided by the relevant issuer. As a result, the issuer of a debt security owned by a Fund may fail to make timely payments of principal or interest, or may default on such payments. If an issuer becomes less creditworthy or is perceived to become less creditworthy, a debt security may decline in value, even when interest rates are falling. This risk is greatest for high yield debt securities, particularly those of emerging market issuers, which have lower credit ratings. Debt securities of emerging market issuers generally are subject to greater credit risk than debt securities of U.S. issuers. The risks associated with Credit Default Swaps include counterparty risk, liquidity risk (i.e., the inability to enter into closing transactions), interest-rate risk, risk of default of the underlying reference obligation and risk of disproportionate loss are the principal risks of engaging in transactions involving credit.

The Depositary must ensure that there is legal separation of non-cash assets held in depositary, that such assets are held on a fiduciary basis, and that appropriate internal control systems are maintained such that records clearly identify the nature and amount of all assets under depositary. As Depositary, Brown Brothers Harriman Trustee Services (Ireland) Limited ("BBHTS") must ensure the ownership of each asset and the location of documents of title for each asset.

All securities that BBH & Co. ("BBH") holds in depositary (as global sub-custodian for and on behalf of BBHTS for further benefit of its underlying clients) are segregated from BBH's own assets, whether they are held in BBH's vault, in segregated accounts on the books of their sub-custodians, or in an account maintained at a central securities depository. BBHTS, as Depositary to the Company, maintains segregated accounts in a manner consistent with provisions set forth in the UCITS Notices both on its own books and on the books of the global depositary including its network of sub-custodians where possible. As Depositary, BBHTS must also ensure non-cash assets are held on a fiduciary basis through BBH's network of global sub-custodians. BBH's sub-custodians are required by contract with BBH and generally by operation of law to segregate the securities of depositary clients from the general banking assets of the sub-custodian.

BBH performs both initial and ongoing due diligence reviews on the sub-custodians within its global depositary network through its Network Management group. Such reviews include an assessment of service level standards, management expertise, market information, depositary operations, reporting and technology capabilities at the sub-custodian, as well as reviews in relation to their reputation and standing in the market and their ongoing commitment to providing depositary services.

Service level agreements are put in place with each sub-custodian, as well as the usual contractual arrangements, and these are reviewed on a regular basis through service review meetings, including on-site due diligence meetings.

Regular financial analysis of all sub-custodians is carried out by BBH's Risk and Credit Group and is focused on the sub-custodian bank's capital adequacy, asset quality, earnings, liquidity and credit ratings as key indicators, amongst others. These reviews form part of BBH's routine assessment of a sub-custodian's financial strength and standing.

In addition, as the Company may invest in markets where custodial and/or settlement systems are not fully developed, the assets of the Company which are traded in such markets and which have been entrusted to sub-custodians, in the circumstances where the use of such sub-custodians is necessary, may be exposed to risk in circumstances whereby the Depositary will have no liability. While cash held by the sub-custodian is identifiable as belonging to the Company, the Company will be exposed to the credit risk of the financial institution where cash is deposited. In the event of insolvency of the financial institution, the Company will be treated as a general creditor of the financial institution in relation to cash holdings of the Company.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that an entity will encounter difficulty in meeting obligations associated with financial liabilities. The Funds are exposed to daily cash redemptions of Redeemable Participating Shares. The Funds generally retain a certain portion of their assets in cash, which is available to satisfy redemptions. In addition, in accordance with their Prospectus, only a limited portion of the assets of each Fund is invested in transferable securities or money market instruments that are not readily tradable.

The Company may invest in derivative contracts traded over-the-counter, which are not traded in an organised market and may be illiquid. As a result, the Company may not be able to liquidate quickly its investments in these instruments at an amount close to their fair value to meet its liquidity requirements or to respond to specific events such as deterioration in the creditworthiness of any particular issuer.

There may be few available buyers or sellers for a security, preventing a Fund from transacting in a timely manner or at an advantageous price, and subjecting the security to greater price fluctuations. These securities may be more difficult to sell, particularly in times of market turmoil, and may be more difficult to value. If a Fund is forced to sell an illiquid security to fund redemptions or other cash needs, a Fund may be forced to sell the security at a loss. A Fund may experience heightened redemptions during periods of market turmoil. These risks are greater for a Fund's high yield investments because the high yield market generally is less liquid than the investment grade market.

The Investment Manager has determined the assets are substantially liquid and liabilities are expected to be satisfied within 90 days or less.

Fair Value Estimation

The Company has classified fair value measurements using a fair value hierarchy that reflects the significance of the inputs used in making the measurements. The fair value hierarchy has the following levels:

- (i) Level 1: Investments whose values are based on quoted market prices in active markets, and therefore classified within level 1, include active listed equities and futures. Quoted prices for these instruments are not adjusted.
- (ii) Level 2: Financial instruments that trade in markets that are not considered to be active but are valued based on quoted market prices, dealer quotations or alternative pricing sources supported by observable inputs are classified within level 2. These generally include investment-grade corporate bonds, U.S. government obligations and certain non-U.S. sovereign obligations, listed equities and over-the-counter derivatives. As level 2 investments include positions that are not traded in active markets and/or are subject to transfer restrictions, valuations may be adjusted to reflect illiquidity and/or non-transferability, which are generally based on available market information.
- (iii) Level 3: Investments classified within level 3 have significant unobservable inputs, as they trade infrequently. Level 3 instruments may include certain common stocks, asset backed securities, corporate debt securities and floating rate loans. As observable prices are not available for these securities, the Funds have used valuation techniques to derive the fair value.

The level in the fair value hierarchy within which the fair value measurement is categorised in its entirety is determined on the basis of the lowest level input that is significant to the fair value measurement in its entirety. For this purpose, the significance of an input is assessed against the fair value measurement in its entirety. If a fair value measurement uses observable inputs that require significant adjustment based on unobservable inputs, that measurement is a level 3 measurement. Assessing the significance of a particular input to the fair value measurement in its entirety requires judgement, considering factors specific to the financial asset or liability.

The determination of what constitutes 'observable' requires significant judgment by the Directors. The Directors have delegated this task to the Investment Manager. The Investment Manager, in consultation with the Administrator, considers observable data to be that market data that is readily available, regularly distributed or updated, reliable and verifiable, not proprietary, and provided by independent sources that are actively involved in the relevant market.

Changes in valuation techniques may result in transfers into or out of an assigned level within the three-tier hierarchy. All transfers between different levels within the three-tier hierarchy are deemed to have occurred as at the end of the reporting period. The inputs of methodology used for valuing securities are not necessarily an indication of the risk associated with investing in those securities.

Equity and Fixed income Instruments categorized as Level 3 are valued based on either; the probable realizable value estimated with care and in good faith by a competent person, firm or association (including the Investment Manager) appointed by the Directors and approved for the purposes by the Depositary, or; using third party pricing information without adjustment. Such valuations are based on unobservable inputs. A significant change in third party information could result in significantly lower or higher value of such Level 3 investments.

Floating Rate Loans categorised as Level 3 are valued based on a single quotation obtained from a dealer. Therefore, the Fund does not have access to unobservable inputs and cannot disclose such inputs in the valuation.

The following tables analyse the fair value hierarchy of the Funds' financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value at 31 January 2023:

Equity and Fixed income Instruments categorized as Level 3 are valued based on either; the probable realizable value estimated with care and in good faith by a competent person, firm or association (including the "Investment Manager") appointed by the Directors and approved for the purposes by the Depositary, or; using third party pricing information without adjustment. Such valuations are based on unobservable inputs. A significant change in third party information could result in significantly lower or higher value of such Level 3 investments.

Floating Rate Loans categorised as Level 3 are valued based on a single quotation obtained from a dealer. Therefore, the Fund does not have access to unobservable inputs and cannot disclose such inputs in the valuation.

6. Efficient Portfolio Management

The Company may employ investment techniques and use financial derivative instruments (such as futures contracts, forward foreign currency contracts, options and swaps) for efficient portfolio management of the assets of any Fund including hedging against market movements, currency exchange or interest rate risks subject to the conditions and within the limits laid down by the Central Bank and the Prospectus. The efficient portfolio management purposes for which the Company intends to employ financial derivative instruments and such investment techniques are the reduction of risk, reduction of cost and the generation of additional capital or income for the relevant Fund with an appropriate level of risk, taking into account the risk profile of the Fund and the general UCITS Regulations. Any such investment technique or use of financial derivative instruments must be one which is reasonably believed by the Manager to be economically appropriate in that they are realised in a cost-effective way. The Company did not employ any efficient portfolio management techniques in the form of securities lending or investment in repurchase or reverse repurchase agreements during the six months ended 31 July 2023 (year ended 31 January 2023: none).

7. Swing Pricing

A Fund may experience reductions of the Net Asset Value per Share due to investors purchasing, selling and/or switching in and out of a Fund at a price that does not reflect the dealing costs associated with the trading of the underlying assets of the Fund necessary to accommodate associated cash inflows or outflows. In order to counter this dilution effect and protect Shareholders' interests, a swing pricing mechanism has been adopted by the Company to counter the impact of such trading. Accordingly, if the aggregate of net investor transactions in Shares of a Fund on any given Valuation Day exceed a predetermined threshold for such Fund (determined as a percentage of the net assets of that Fund by the Investment Manager), then the Net Asset Value per Share may be adjusted upwards or downwards to reflect the costs attributable to such net inflows or outflows, respectively. The relevant threshold for swing pricing shall be calculated based on objective criteria and may be adjusted from time to time. The Directors have delegated responsibility for the determination of such threshold and criteria to the Investment Manager.

The Swing Pricing Policy provides that any determination to apply swing pricing will be based on the latest available information pertaining to the aggregate level of relevant transactions at the time of calculation of the Net Asset Value. The swing pricing mechanism may be applied across all Funds. The extent of the price adjustment will be revised by the Investment Manager on a periodic basis to reflect an approximation of current dealing and other relevant costs, as well as market spreads. Such adjustment may vary from Fund to Fund and will not exceed 2% of the original Net Asset Value per Share. The Net Asset Value per Share of each Share Class in a Fund will be calculated separately but any adjustment will affect the Net Asset Value per Share of each Share Class in a Fund identically in percentage terms. Details of any such price adjustments are available on request from the Company at its registered office.

During the six months ended 31 July 2023, only the Ultra Short Bond Fund utilized the swing pricing mechanism (31 July 2022: Ultra Short Bond Fund).

8. Soft Commissions

The Investment Manager may effect transactions with or through the agency of another person with whom it has arrangements under which that person will, from time to time, provide to or procure for the Investment Manager goods, services or other benefits such as research and advisory services, specialised computer hardware or software. No direct payment may be made for such goods or services but the Investment Manager may undertake to place business with that person provided that person has agreed to provide best execution with respect to such business and the services provided must be of a type which assists in the provision of investment services to the Fund.

There were no soft commission arrangements entered into by the Investment Manager, on behalf of the Company during the six months ended 31 July 2023 (six months ended 31 July 2022: none).

9. Line of Credit

Effective 17 July 2023, the Company on behalf of the Funds ("the Borrowers") entered into a credit facility agreement with Citibank N.A. ("Administrative Agent"), Brown Brothers Harriman & Co., and BNP Paribas (the "Lenders"). Each Fund is subject to a borrowing limit of 10% of Net Assets or the maximum borrowing amount allowable by the credit facility agreement of USD 130 million, whichever is lower. For the period 1 February 2023 to 16 July 2023, the Borrowers, except for Short Duration High Yield Fund and Global Health Care Fund, had a credit facility agreement with the Lenders of USD 130 million.

Geopolitical and other events (e.g., wars, terrorism, natural disasters, epidemics or pandemics) may disrupt securities markets and adversely affect global economies and markets, thereby decreasing the value of each Fund's investments. Market disruptions can also prevent the Funds from implementing their investment strategies and achieving their investment objective.

In March 2023, the shut-down of certain financial institutions raised economic concerns over disruption in the U.S. banking system. There can be no certainty that the actions taken by the U.S. government to strengthen public confidence in the U.S. banking system will be effective in mitigating the effects of financial institution failures on the economy and restoring public confidence in the U.S. banking system objective.

The impact of the COVID-19 outbreak, and the effects of other infectious illness outbreaks, epidemics, or pandemics, may be short term or may continue for an extended period of time. For example, a global pandemic or other widespread health crises could negatively affect the global economy, the economies of individual countries, and the financial performance of individual issuers, sectors, industries, asset classes, and markets in significant and unforeseen ways. Health crises caused by outbreaks of disease may also exacerbate other pre-existing political, social, and economic risks in certain countries or globally. The foregoing could disrupt the operations of each Fund and its service providers, adversely affect the value and liquidity of each Fund's investments, and negatively impact each Fund's performance and your investment in each Fund.

There were no other material events affecting the Company during the financial period end.
