Investment commentary

The top three contributors to returns this month were holdings in Roche Holding, Hargreaves Lansdown and Rio Tinto. Roche's stock rose as a peer released positive results from its anti-Alzheimer's disease drug. Roche is due to release results from its gantenerumab drug study in November. Hargreaves held up well during the month as a high weighting to U.S. equities and weak sterling proved supportive, and Rio Tinto was flat during the month with no stock-specific news of note. The biggest detractors this month were holdings in Alliance Pharma, Ryanair Holdings and Aker BP. Alliance fell as H1 results showed some brands had faced headwinds relating to distribution, supply chains and online competition, but that the company was on track to meet full-year expectations. The ongoing CMA investigation also weighs on the stock. Ryanair fell along with the wider market over recessionary concerns and its impact on travel demand, and, after strong recent performance, Aker's stock dropped as global oil prices retreated on the back of concerns over growth and oil demand globally.

Sector/country attribution results are calculated over a trailing 12 month period. Attribution is intended to demonstrate trends in performance due to security selection and sector/country allocation and is calculated from the underlying segregated asset positions and may not add up to the total portfolio return calculated using the NAV of the fund. Fund sector/country weights in the attribution table are based on beginning market values, adjusted for purchases and sales activities during the year.

Important risk considerations

Large Shareholder Risk: Investors holding a large portion of issued and outstanding shares of a Sub-Fund are likely to incur transaction costs in case of redemptions.

Market Risk: The market value of a Sub-Fund's investments will fluctuate based on specific company developments, broader equity or fixed-income market conditions, economic and financial conditions.

Specialization Risk: Sub-Funds specializing in a particular sector may lead to underperformance relative to less specialized investments.

Currency Hedging Risk: Hedging currency risks may protect investors against a decrease in the value of the Reference Currency relative to the Hedged Share Class, but it may also preclude investors from benefiting from an increase in the value of such currencies. All costs and gains/losses of hedging transactions are borne by the relevant Hedged Share Classes.

Currency Risk: Sub-Funds are invested in securities denominated in different currencies other than the Reference Currency. As a result, changes in the value of the Reference Currency compared to other currencies will affect the value in the Reference Currency of any securities denominated in another currency.

Derivative Risk: Derivative instruments are highly sensitive to changes in the value of the underlying asset that they are based on. Certain derivatives may result in losses greater than the amount originally invested.

International Investment Risk: Investments on an international basis are subject to uncertainties, including; changes in government policies, taxation, fluctuations in foreign exchange rates, accounting and financial reporting standards, and fluctuations in value due to discrepancy of currency.

Further details of the risks that apply to the fund can be found in the funds prospectus.

The expenses of your investment may increase or decrease as a result of currency fluctuations if your investment is made in a currency other than that used in the past performance calculation. Fees and other expenses will have a negative effect on investment returns. The typical fees and expenses charged to a strategy will offset the strategy's trading profits.

Past performance does not predict future returns. With all investments there is a risk of loss of all or a portion of the amount invested. Where return estimates are shown, these are provided for illustrative purposes only and should not be construed as a prediction of returns; actual returns may be higher or lower than those shown and may vary substantially, especially over shorter time periods. It is not possible to invest directly in an index.

Exchange rate movement could increase or decrease the value of underlying investments/holdings. The Sub-Fund may be invested in securities denominated in a number of different currencies other than the Reference Currency. As a result, changes in the value of the Reference Currency compared to other currencies will affect the value, in the Reference Currency, of any securities denominated in another currency. While it is the intention of the Sub-Fund to achieve its investment objective, there can be no assurance that it will.

Index returns are for illustrative purposes only, do not represent actual fund performance and do not reflect any management fees, transaction costs or expenses. Indexes are unmanaged and one cannot invest directly in an index.

The value of the Sub-Fund can change from day to day because the value of the securities in which it invests can be affected by changes in interest rates, the general financial market and economic conditions or individual company news. As a result, at the time of redemption, Sub-Fund Shares may be worth more or less than the original purchase price. There can be a number of risk factors that impact the value of an investment in a Sub-Fund. Investors should refer to the section called "Risk Factors" in the Prospectus before investing.

None of the Shares of the Sub-Funds has been or will be registered for sale or distribution in Canada or in the United States.

Copies of the Articles of Incorporation of the SICAV, the current Prospectus, the KIIDs and the latest financial reports may be obtained free of charge during normal office hours at the registered office of the SICAV in Luxembourg: 14, Porte de France, L- 4360 Esch-sur-Alzette, Grand Duchy of Luxembourg, or at rbcgam.lu. The Prospectus is available in the English and French languages. The KIIDs are available in the local language(s) of the jurisdictions in which the Sub-Fund(s) are registered.
