The charges you pay are used to pay the costs of running the Compartment, including the costs of marketing and distributing it. These charges reduce the potential growth of your investment.

The entry, conversion and exit charges shown are maximum figures. In some cases you might pay less - you can find this out from your financial adviser or fund distributor. The ongoing charges figure is based on expenses for the period ending on December 31st, 2014. This figure may vary from year to year. It excludes performance fees and portfolio transaction costs, except in the case of an entry/exit charge paid by the Compartment when buying or selling units/shares in another collective investment undertaking. For more information about charges, please see section "Fund expenses" of the Fund prospectus, which is available at www.pictetfunds.com

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE

The Compartment seeks long term capital growth in a set of terms with a strong focus on capital preservation by following a set of Asian equities long/short strategies which are generally market neutral. Long positions are coupled with short positions achieved through the use of financial derivative instruments.

RISK CONSIDERATIONS

- The risk category shown is based on historical data and may not be a reliable indication for the future risk profile of the Share class.
- The risk category shown is not a target or a guarantee and may change over time.
- The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.
- This Compartment is likely to use leverage and invests in equity instruments that are subject to high price volatility (variations in net asset value of the Share class), which is why this Share class is in this risk category.
- This value is affected by various factors, including: The Compartment offers no capital guarantee or asset protection measures. The Compartment may invest in emerging markets. This asset class is subject to political and economic risks which may have a significant impact on the Compartment's performance and volatility. The Compartment makes use of derivatives. The Compartment is actively managed; therefore stock picking risk is high. Because of our investment approach, the Compartment may be exposed to currency risk.
- The Compartment's performance may benefit from long and short equity positions in the event of, respectively, rising or falling stock markets. The long/short strategy should result in lower performance volatility than that of the market. This relation might not hold under all scenarios.
- Investments in mainland China are subject to restrictions by the local regulators, and include among other things: daily and market aggregate trading quotas, restricted classes of shares, capital restrictions and ownership restrictions.
- The Share class also bears the following risks that are not explained by the synthetic risk indicator: Liquidity risk: when market conditions are unusual or a market is characterized by particularly low volumes, the Compartment may encounter difficulties in valuing and/or trading some of its assets, particularly to satisfy large redemption requests. Operational risk: the Compartment is subject to the risk of material losses resulting from human error or system failures or incorrect valuation of the underlying securities. Counterparty risk: the use of derivatives in the form of contracts with counterparties may imply significant losses if a counterparty defaults and cannot honour its liabilities.
