New benchmark index since 31/01/2014. Before 31/01/2014 : Exane ECI Eurozone. Yields are given for information purposes only and do not represent any yield guarantee. Rates are gross of fees, excluding any case of default.

(1) Risk/return scale in a range from 1 (lowest risk) to 7 (highest risk). This indicator is not constant and is updated if the risk/reward profile of the fund changes over time. The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment. Historical data, such as is used to calculate the risk/return ratio, may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. There is no guarantee that the management objectives in terms of risk and return will actually be met.

Portfolio manager comment

Despite a backdrop of persistent economic uncertainty, the equity markets rallied in June (+4.3%/+14% YTD for the STOXX 600 and +6.9%/+17.4% YTD for the S&P 500), boosted by both hopes of a lull in the trade war between the United States and China, and above all by the dovish tone adopted by central banks on both sides of the Atlantic. In terms of bonds, this context led to a drop of 12 bps in the US 10-year yield (2.0%) and 13 bps in the German 10-year yield (-0.331%). The latter ended the month close to its lowest-ever level (-0.331%), which it reached on 25 June. On the credit side, the iTraxx Main tightened by 19 bps to 52.5 bps and the X-Over by 55 bps to 255 bps. The convertible bond market ended the month in the black (+0.92% for our benchmark), as did our fund. The fund slightly outperformed its benchmark because of its higher delta, and was also boosted by its exposure to several positions that were not part of the benchmark (ST Microelectronics, Sika, Michelin, LVMH, Total, Soitec, Glencore) as well as its overweight on the aerospace sector (MTU, Safran). Conversely, it was hampered by not having exposure to Takeaway, by its exposure to Genfit and by its underweight on Telecom Italia and Technip. June was another busy month on the primary market, with six issues (EUR 1.62 billion). We participated in the Cellnex 2028 issue (EUR 850 million), on the basis of our fundamental conviction in this company, which was already in the portfolio (Cellnex 2026). However, we steered clear of Petropavlovsk (issuer rated CCC), DT Industrie (illiquid issue), Geely/Volvo (poor issuer transparency), and Derwent and PHP (both 100% exposed to UK real estate) because of the need to choose securities extremely selectively in the prevailing market environment. On the secondary market, we added to our positions in LVMH, Grand City Properties, Adidas, Glencore, Deutsche Post and Orpea. We also continued to replace part of our Airbus 2022 position with options because of the convertible bond's exceptionally high price. Lastly, we reduced our exposure to Tag Immobilien and closed our positions in Aurelius and Leg 2021 (after it was removed from the benchmark). Our fund maintains a dynamic positioning, with delta above that of the benchmark. Convertible bond prices continued to fall this month, with implied volatility of 28.1% at end-June (down 0.7 points since end-May).

The fund is exposed to the following risks : risk of capital loss, interest rate risk, credit risk, risk associated with discretionary management, risk associated with commitments on forward financial instruments, counterparty risk, liquidity risk of underlying assets, risk associated with high yield bonds, risk associated with convertible bonds, risk associated with holding small and medium capitalisations, emerging markets risk, risks associated with securities financing transactions and collateral management, volatility risk and on an ancillary basis equity risk, currency risk
