Federated High Income Advantage Fund

(the “Fund”), a sub-fund of Federated International Funds plc (the “Company”) (an umbrella fund with segregated liability between sub-funds) Class A Shares – EUR ACC (the “Series”) (ISIN: IE00B07JY418)

The Fund is managed by Federated International Management Limited, part of the Federated Investors, Inc. group of companies

Objectives and Investment Policy

- The Fund is actively managed and aims to achieve high current income and will accumulate income and gains through its portfolio of investments.
- We invest primarily in lower-rated bonds issued by U.S. companies.
- Our portfolio of mid-to-long term bonds will be rated below BBB, which is considered to be below investment-grade.
- In choosing our investments, we use a “bottom up” approach, which focuses mainly on the fundamentals of a specific company rather than on the industry in which that company operates or on the economy as a whole.
- We perform both a qualitative and quantitative analysis of the issuer. The qualitative analysis focuses on a company’s products and the markets in which the company competes, whereas the quantitative analysis focuses on free cash flow generation and free cash flow relative to overall debt.
- We enter into financial transactions (“derivatives”) for investment purposes as well as for purposes of efficient portfolio management, such as hedging (limiting the effect of changes in the value of currencies), reducing risks or costs, or for increasing capital or income returns.
- Shares of this Series are denominated in euro and are hedged in an attempt to minimise the effect of fluctuation in the exchange rate between the U.S. dollar (the Fund’s base currency) and the euro.
- You may redeem your shares on any working day the New York Stock Exchange is open for business (or such other days, such as “Special Dealing Days”, as determined by the directors) by submitting your request to your Financial Intermediary by such time as agreed with the Financial Intermediary so it can forward your request to the Fund’s Administrator before the close of the New York Stock Exchange (normally 4.00 p.m. (U.S. Eastern Time)). You should visit our website or contact the Administrator for further information regarding Special Dealing Days as defined in the Prospectus.
- This Series will accumulate income and gains arising from its investments and therefore will not pay dividends.

Risk and Reward Profile

- This Fund’s risk rating is 4 since it produces typically higher rewards than other bond funds but presents higher risk because it invests in lower-rated debt securities which may also be more volatile.
- Historical data may not be a reliable indication for the future.
- The risk category shown is not guaranteed and may shift over time.
- The lowest risk category does not mean the investment is “risk free”.

The risks materially relevant to the Fund which are not adequately captured by the indicator are as follows:

- Risk of Investing in Non-Investment Grade Securities. Lower-rated securities have increased credit risk and a higher risk of default than securities with higher ratings. They are also more sensitive to changes in interest rates, which may result in increased price volatility.
- Interest Rate Risk. The prices of debt securities that pay a fixed rate of interest rise and fall in response to changes in interest rates. Generally, when interest rates rise, the prices of debt securities fall.
- Credit Risk. Credit risk is the possibility that interest or an amount owed will not be paid when due, and therefore the Fund could lose money. The failure to receive interest or an amount owed can prevent the Fund from selling or buying other securities to implement its investment strategy. To compensate for greater credit risk, debt securities with higher credit risk will generally pay interest at a higher rate than securities with lower credit risk.
- Derivatives Risk. The Fund’s investments may include financial derivative instruments. Such instruments may be used to obtain, increase or reduce exposure to underlying assets and may create leverage. Therefore, their use may result in greater fluctuations of the NAV of the Fund.
- Risk Associated with Hedging. Hedging is intended to minimise the impact of exchange rates on the value of the Shares. Over-hedged or under-hedged positions may arise due to factors outside of the control of the Fund.
