MARKET COMMENT (BASED ON THE SICAV REFERENCE CURRENCY)

In August, Japanese equities bounced back strongly after the underperformance in July and in spite of the rapid surge of Delta variant infections forcing the government to declare a new state of emergency in Osaka and three prefectures near Tokyo. Expectations for the Bank of Japan to keep providing stimulus regardless of the upcoming Japanese elections or any US Federal Reserve tapering moves remained unchanged. Among sectors moves, Health Care and Technology sectors posted high single-digit performance whereas Energy was the main laggard. In terms of styles, Quality and Low Volatility outperformed whereas Value underperformed.

In August, the fund increased by 3.25% (in JPY terms), slightly outperforming its benchmark by 8bp (in JPY terms). The MSCI Japan Total Return Net ended the month up by 3.17%. The fund records a positive YTD performance of 6.64%, underperforming its benchmark by 303bp.

From an industry group point of view, our stock selection made a positive contribution while allocation detracted from performance. Our stock selection in Telecommunication (33bp) and Consumer Durables (28bp) generated relative gains. On the other hand, our stock selection in Media & Entertainment (-29bp) and Retailing (-11bp) underperformed. The overweight in Consumer Services (8bp) and the underweight in Automobiles (9bp) were the largest contributors to excess returns. The overweight in Retailing (-31bp) and the underweight in Pharmaceuticals (-18bp) detracted the most from relative performance.

With a positive contribution of 27bp, SOFTBANK GROUP CORP (not held in portfolio) was the top contributor to excess portfolio returns. With a negative contribution of 22bp, DAIKIN INDUSTRIES LTD (not held in portfolio) was the largest detractor from excess portfolio returns.
