This document is for use in the UK, Ireland and Switzerland only, and for Professional Investors and Qualified Clients as specified in the Important Information section. It is not for consumer use in other countries. Please do not redistribute.

This factsheet contains a summary of the Invesco EURO STOXX 50 UCITS ETF Acc<sup>1</sup>, an exchange traded fund (ETF), and is for discussion purposes only. Please consult the Key Investor Information Document and prospectus and note the additional important information overleaf.

Investment objective

The Invesco EURO STOXX 50 UCITS ETF Acc aims to provide the performance of the EURO STOXX 50® Total Return (Net) Index, less fees.

Key advantages

- The synthetic structure of the fund allows an effective replication of the benchmark
- Transparent fees and costs

Key risks

- No capital protection: you may not get back the amount you invested
- No guarantee that the ETF will track the index exactly
- Swaps are used to achieve the investment objective: this introduces counterparty risk
- Changes in the exchange rate between base currency and trading currency may affect returns

About the index

The EURO STOXX 50® Total Return (Net) Index is a financial index designed to reflect the performance of supersector leaders across the Eurozone. It comprises 50 stocks from 12 countries. Constituents are weighted by free float market capitalisation, subject to a 10% cap.

Sector exposure

Geographic exposure

Portfolio weightings and allocations may change.

Performance

The table shows performance over the past five years to the most recent month end. ETF performance is in the fund's base currency and includes reinvested dividends. ETF performance is based on Net Asset Value after management fees and other ETF costs but does not consider any commissions or custody fees payable when buying, holding or selling the ETF. The ETF does not charge entry or exit fees. Each period starts at the end of the indicated month. The first indicated month may not represent a full month and may start only on the launch/restructuring date indicated in this factsheet. Past performance (actual or simulated) is not a reliable indicator of future performance.

The value of your investment may go down as well as up. As a result, you may not get back the amount of capital you invest.

What are ETFs?

ETFs are open-ended UCITS funds. Unlike traditional open-ended funds, ETFs can be bought and sold on a stock exchange like ordinary shares.

How does this ETF achieve its investment objective?

The ETF employs a synthetic replication method; it owns a diversified portfolio of equities that may differ from the benchmark index. To achieve the investment objective, the ETF contracts with one or more banks (each a counterparty), which agree to pay any difference between the portfolio performance and the index performance, less any applicable fees. These contracts are known as swaps. Using swaps ensures accurate index tracking but introduces counterparty risk: if a counterparty failed to pay the index performance due under the swap contract, the ETF would instead rely on the performance of its portfolio of equities, which could be lower than the index performance. An ETF's exposure to a swap counterparty is limited by the UCITS regulation, and further limited by measures that we impose.
