Key risks: Past performance is not a guide to future performance. Investment in the Fund carries the risk of potential total loss of capital. To the extent that such hedging is successful, the performance of the hedged Classes is unlikely to move in line with the performance of the underlying assets and that investors in a hedged Class will not benefit if the Fund's investments' currency rises against the base currency. The Fund writes out of the money call options to generate additional income. These call options will be "covered". Unitholders should note that potential capital growth of the Fund would be capped if these call options are exercised against the Fund and the Fund's capital returns are likely to be lower than the market in periods of rapidly rising share prices. The Fund's expenses are charged to capital. This has the effect of increasing dividends while constraining capital appreciation. Investment decisions should not be based on short-term performance.

^^The amount of income generated for distribution after deducting all expenses.
