Portfolio Manager Commentary

The Trust's latest annual results were recently released. The revenue breakdown shows that dividends from the unquoted investment in Lindsell Train Limited ('LTL') generated the lion's share – 78% – of total revenues of the Trust in the financial year to 31 March 2024. It's clear that the fall in LTL's AUM and the drip feed of sales of the LTL holding to LTL employees could result in revenues from this source declining further, continuing the trend of the last two years. It's worth considering the extent to which revenues - largely dividends - from the Trust's quoted investments can offset this potential decline. Currently, at just 22% of total revenues, the imbalance means that the quoted investments are unlikely to offset any reduction from the unquoted investment in the short term. Longerterm however, the record of revenues (net of any borrowing expenses) from our quoted holdings (which last year included some interest income thanks to the rise in interest rates on cash) is encouraging, rising more than 10% per annum over the last 10 years – the fastest pace in the history of the Trust. This of course reflects the dividend growth progression of the Trust's equity holdings, mirroring the experience of our Global Equity Fund, where annualised dividend growth over the last 10 years has been roughly the same.

Long-term shareholders of the Trust may remember that there was, for a number of the Trust's early years, an allocation to long-term fixed interest to take advantage of the fall in long-term bond yields in the first two decades of the 21st century. Income from these investments was, by definition, fixed and did not grow. Those investments were sold in 2014, resulting in the ex-LTL portion of the Trust being solely invested in equities for the past 10 years. In turn, holders of the Trust have benefited from the growth and compounding of the dividends from those companies. Non-LTL revenues were £965,000 in the year to 31 March 2014 and have grown c.2.5 fold to £2,595,000 in the year just ended. A similar growth rate over the next 10 years would propel this contribution to nearer £7,000,000, which would likely comprise a much higher proportion of total revenues than is the case today.

Michael Lindsell, 26th June 2024

The top three absolute contributors to the Trust's performance in May were Nintendo, A.G. Barr and London Stock Exchange Group, and the top three absolute detractors were Lindsell Train Limited, Diageo and Mondelez.
