Yield Definitions

The distribution yield reflects the amounts that may be expected to be distributed over the next 12 months. The underlying yield reflects the annualised income net expenses of the Fund as a percentage (calculated in accordance with the relevant accounting standards). Both these yields are calculated as a percentage of the mid-price of the Fund as at the date shown and are month end snap shots and do not include any preliminary charges. Investors may be subject to tax on distributions.

Fund Commentary

Polls suggested that Boris Johnson is heading for a strong parliamentary majority, helped by the Brexit Party's decision not to contest a significant number of seats. However, these projections are based on thin margins and pollsters are reluctant to make strong forecasts after the 2017 election result. The first-ever UK 'flash PMI' disappointed at 48.5, a 40-month low, reflecting the unwinding of Brexit preparations and political uncertainty.

Very short-dated rates were little changed, with SONIA unmoved at 0.71% and ICE three-month LIBOR dipping slightly from 0.81% to 0.79%. ICE six month-LIBOR moved from 0.88% to 0.86%, and one-year LIBOR from 0.97% to 0.94%. The increase in gilt yields and slight tightening in credit spreads meant that short-dated corporate bonds (ICE BofA Merrill Lynch 1-5 Year Sterling Non-Gilt Index) returned 0.02% while short-dated gilts returned -0.12% for the month (FTSE Actuaries 0-5-year Gilt Index).

We continued to look for attractively priced money market instruments, rolling exposure where paper had matured, generally in short-duration instruments given current uncertainty over interest rates, but also looking to extend beyond the year end to avoid lower liquidity conditions in December. Examples included short-dated CDs from preferred names such as OCBC and Svenska. In covered bonds, we bought a new issue from Yorkshire Building Society at an attractive premium over SONIA, as well as Nationwide covered bonds in the secondary market.

The fund has returned 1.16% year to date*, and its running yield is now 1.00% p.a., which equates to a monthly accrual of 0.08% based on current market conditions. This compares to SONIA at 0.71% p.a., or an accrual of 0.06% per month.
