Ranges that have successfully gone through the RSMR's rigorous and robust methodology will be awarded their Rated Fund Range designation. In giving this rating, RSMR are confirming that their research shows Janus Henderson Investors to have a sound investment process for the fund range, and that their analysis of the performance and risk of the range of funds is in line with their expectations. One of the primary reasons for separating out ranges from the sector funds that form RSMR's usual reviews is to provide a simpler process for advisers and provide analysis and guidance from a more practical perspective. By assessing the core processes against objectives and targets rather than emphasising the peer group, RSMR feel they can identify those fund ranges in a way that advisers can then utilise across a range of clients or risk profiles more effectively and consistently. All the fund ranges that have been awarded a rating will be listed on the RSMR website, where you will also find a factsheet for each range. All this information should enable you to understand the fund ranges that are available, and the key differences between them, meaning you can then determine which, if any, is most suitable for you.

Past performance is not a guide to future performance. The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise and you may not get back the amount originally invested.

What are the risks specific to this fund?

- Shares can lose value rapidly, and typically involve higher risks than bonds or money market instruments. The value of your investment may fall as a result.
- Shares of small and mid-size companies can be more volatile than shares of larger companies, and at times it may be difficult to value or to sell shares at desired times and prices, increasing the risk of losses.
- If a Fund has a high exposure to a particular country or geographical region it carries a higher level of risk than a Fund which is more broadly diversified.
- This fund is designed to be used only as one component in several in a diversified investment portfolio. Investors should consider carefully the proportion of their portfolio invested into this fund.
- This Fund may have a particularly concentrated portfolio relative to its investment universe or other funds in its sector. An adverse event impacting even a small number of holdings could create significant volatility or losses for the Fund.
- The Fund may use derivatives with the aim of reducing risk or managing the portfolio more efficiently. However this introduces other risks, in particular, that a derivative counterparty may not meet its contractual obligations.
- The Fund could lose money if a counterparty with which it trades becomes unwilling or unable to meet its obligations to the Fund.
- Some or all of the Annual Management Charge and other costs of the Fund may be taken from capital, which may erode capital or reduce potential for capital growth.
- If the Fund or a specific share class of the Fund seeks to reduce risks (such as exchange rate movements), the measures designed to do so may be ineffective, unavailable or detrimental.

General risks

- Past performance is not a guide to future performance.
- The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise and you may not get back the amount originally invested.
- Tax assumptions and reliefs depend upon an investor's particular circumstances and may be subject to change.
