Witan’s Annual Report for the year to 31 December 2023 was released on 18 March and is available on the Company’s website at www.witan.com. A video interview with Andrew Bell, Witan’s Chief Executive Officer, discussing the results and the current outlook is available on the Company’s website at www.witan.com/witan-full-year-results-2023.

We encourage shareholders to attend our AGM, which will be held on Wednesday 1 May at 12.30, at the Merchant Taylors’ Hall, 30 Threadneedle Street, London EC2R 8JB. Separately, also on 18 March, the Board announced a Review of its future Investment Management Arrangements. This announcement is as follows:

The Board of Witan Investment Trust plc (“Witan”) has been informed by Witan’s CEO, Andrew Bell, that he intends to retire from his current role during the coming year.

The Board has decided to take this as an opportunity to conduct a review of Witan’s investment management arrangements and is inviting proposals for the future management of the Company’s portfolio.

Andrew Ross, Chairman of Witan Investment Trust, said:

“In 2004, in a major strategic shift, Witan adopted a multi-manager approach to investing in global equities, at the same time becoming independent of any single investment management group. For much of the subsequent period, the approach proved successful and, although the volatile conditions in recent years have eroded earlier outperformance, Witan’s performance remains in line with its equity benchmark in net asset value total return terms and ahead in share price total return terms since making that strategic shift.

However, in more recent years the asset management and investment trust sectors have seen considerable changes in markets, competition, governance, and regulation. These pose new investment and communication challenges for independently managed investment trusts to address successfully and cost-effectively.

In view of these structural changes, Andrew Bell’s forthcoming retirement after over 14 years as our CEO is an appropriate opportunity for Witan to review proposals for the future management of the Company’s portfolio.”

The process of considering proposals will take place over the coming months and a further announcement will be made when a preferred option has been chosen. Andrew Bell will continue in his current role until the completion of the review and during any required transitional period. In the meanwhile, Witan’s portfolio will continue to be managed by him and the rest of the Executive Team, in accordance with the current investment approach.

Important information

This marketing communication is provided for informational purposes only and should not be construed as constituting an offer or a solicitation to buy or sell interests or investments in Witan Investment Trust plc. Any reference to individual securities does not constitute a recommendation to purchase, sell or hold the investment.

Please remember that past performance is not a guide to future performance. Witan Investment Trust is an equity investment. The value of an investment and the income from it can fall as well as rise as a result of currency and market fluctuations and you may not get back the amount originally invested. Investment trusts can borrow money to make additional investments on top of shareholders' funds (gearing). If the value of these investments falls gearing will magnify the negative impact on performance. If an investment trust incorporates a large amount of gearing the value of its shares may be subject to sudden and large falls in value and you could get back nothing at all. The share price may trade above and below the NAV per share representing either a premium or discount to the share price respectively.
