Past performance is not a guide to future returns. Ordinary share price performance figures have been calculated using daily closing prices with dividends reinvested. NAV performance figures have been calculated using daily NAV with dividends reinvested. The NAV used includes current period revenue and values debt at fair. All performance figures are in sterling as at 31 March 2024 except where otherwise stated. Standardised past performance figures are updated on a quarterly basis. Source: Morningstar.

¹ The business of the Company was originally launched in 1991. It has been maintained through two corporate reconstructions, the most recent of which was in 2012 when the business was transferred to the current corporate entity in Jersey. The performance data shown in the factsheet incorporates the performance of the predecessor entity for the period to 31 March 2012 as well as the current Company from 2 April 2012.

² The total declared and prospective dividends for the current financial year, expressed as a percentage of the trust's value calculated at the month end close price. The yield is indicative only and is not guaranteed.

- AJ Bell Investment Awards 2023: The AJ Bell Fund and Investment Trust Awards were launched in 2017 and rebranded this year to The AJ Bell Investment Awards 2023. It is the chance for AJ Bell customers to vote for their pick of active and passive funds as well as stocks in 39 award categories. The aim of the awards is to recognise and reward the funds, trusts and listed companies who are, in the eyes of investors that use AJ Bell platforms, simply the best. The first stage in the awards process was to narrow down the choice from the many thousands of investment funds, trusts and stocks available. To do this AJ Bell assembled an expert panel of investment professionals who selected their preferred nominations in each of the categories. In each category there were 6 finalists and AJ Bell customers then picked the overall winner for each category. For more information on the awards and the categories, please visit the website: <http://investmentawards.ajbell.co.uk/>

As at 31 March 2024

Investment risks

The value of investments and any income will fluctuate (this may partly be the result of exchange rate fluctuations) and investors may not get back the full amount invested.

The portfolio has a significant proportion of high-yielding bonds, which are of lower credit quality and may result in large fluctuations in the NAV of the product.

The product may invest in contingent convertible bonds which may result in significant risk of capital loss based on certain trigger events.

The use of borrowings may increase the volatility of the NAV and may reduce returns when asset values fall.

The product uses derivatives for efficient portfolio management which may result in increased volatility in the NAV.

reputation. The initial fund analysis takes each Investment Association (IA) sector and looks at a range of performance and risk measures that are appropriate to that sector. Funds and investment trusts that display attractive performance and risk characteristics may then be taken forward for further analysis. RSMR's quantitative analysis includes review of performance, risk statistics, ongoing charges and fees and fund size and their qualitative analysis includes review of the fund manager/management team background, manager resources, fund philosophy, fund management processes, risk controls and environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors. Selecting funds and investment trusts is only part of the process - the ongoing monitoring of the lists and the procedure for making changes is equally important.
