Independent Auditor's Report

Independent Auditor's Report to the shareholders of M&G Investment Funds (7)

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of M&G Investment Funds (7) ("the Company") comprising each of its presented sub-funds for the year ended 31 January 2024, which comprise the Statement of Total Return, the Statement of Changes in Net Assets Attributable to Shareholders, the Balance Sheet, the related notes and the Distribution Tables, and the accounting policies of the Company, which include a summary of significant accounting policies. The financial reporting framework that has been applied in their preparation is applicable law and United Kingdom Accounting Standards including FRS 102 'The Financial Reporting Standard applicable to the UK and Republic of Ireland' (United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice).

In our opinion, the financial statements:

- give a true and fair view of the financial position of the Company comprising each of its presented sub-funds as at 31 January 2024, and of the net revenue and the net capital gains/(losses) on the scheme property of the Company comprising each of its presented sub-funds for the year then ended; and
- have been properly prepared in accordance with United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice.

Basis for opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing (UK) ("ISAs (UK)") and applicable law. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements section of our report below. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements in the UK, including the Financial Reporting Council's (the "FRC") Ethical Standard, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Emphasis of matter – financial statements prepared on a basis other than going concern

We draw attention to note 2a to the financial statements which explains that the Authorised Corporate Director ("the ACD") has closed the M&G Emerging Markets Monthly Income Fund and therefore does not consider it to be appropriate to adopt the going concern basis of accounting in preparing the financial statements. Accordingly, the financial statements for this sub-fund only, have been prepared on a basis other than going concern as described in note 2a. The financial statements for the Company as a whole remain prepared on a going concern basis. Our opinion is not modified in respect of this matter.

Conclusions relating to going concern

The financial statements for the M&G Emerging Markets Monthly Income Fund have been prepared on a basis other than going concern as disclosed in note 2a.

In auditing the financial statements of the remaining sub-funds, we have concluded that the ACD's use of the going concern basis of accounting in the preparation of the financial statements is appropriate.

Based on the work we have performed, we have not identified any material uncertainties relating to events or conditions that, individually or collectively, may cast significant doubt on the remaining sub-funds' ability to continue as a going concern for a period of 12 months from when the financial statements are authorised for issue.

Our responsibilities and the responsibilities of the ACD with respect to going concern are described in the relevant sections of this report. However, because not all future events or conditions can be predicted, this statement is not a guarantee as to the remaining subfunds' ability to continue as a going concern.

Independent Auditor's Report

Other information

The other information comprises the information included in the annual report other than the financial statements and our auditor's report thereon. The ACD is responsible for the other information contained within the annual report.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and, except to the extent otherwise explicitly stated in this report, we do not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

Our responsibility is to read the other information and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit or otherwise appears to be materially misstated. If we identify such material inconsistencies or apparent material misstatements, we are required to determine whether there is a material misstatement in the financial statements themselves or a material misstatement of the other information. If, based on the work we have performed, we conclude that there is a material misstatement of the other information, we are required to report that fact.

We have nothing to report in this regard.

Opinions on other matters prescribed by the rules of the Collective Investment Schemes Sourcebook of the Financial Conduct Authority (the "FCA")

In our opinion:

- the financial statements have been properly prepared in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice relating to Authorised Funds, the rules of the Collective Investment Schemes Sourcebook of the FCA and the Instrument of Incorporation; and
- there is nothing to indicate that adequate accounting records have not been kept or that the financial statements are not in agreement with those records; and the information given in the ACD's report for the financial year for which the financial statements are prepared is consistent with the financial statements.

Matters on which we are required to report by exception

We have nothing to report in respect of the following matter in relation to which the rules of the Collective Investment Schemes Sourcebook of the FCA require us to report to you if, in our opinion:

 we have not received all the information and explanations which, to the best of our knowledge and belief, are necessary for the purposes of our audit.

Responsibilities of the ACD

As explained more fully in the ACDs' responsibilities statement set out on page 4, the ACD is responsible for the preparation of the financial statements and for being satisfied that they give a true and fair view, and for such internal control as the ACD determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, the ACD is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless the ACD either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Auditor's responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with ISAs (UK) will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

Independent Auditor's Report

Explanation as to what extent the audit was considered capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud

Irregularities, including fraud, are instances of non-compliance with laws and regulations. We design procedures in line with our responsibilities, outlined above, to detect irregularities, including fraud. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement due to fraud is higher than the risk of not detecting one resulting from error, as fraud may involve deliberate concealment by, for example, forgery or intentional misrepresentations, or through collusion. The extent to which our procedures are capable of detecting irregularities, including fraud is detailed below. However, the primary responsibility for the prevention and detection of fraud rests with both those charged with governance of the entity and management.

Our approach was as follows:

- We obtained an understanding of the legal and regulatory frameworks that are applicable to the Company and determined that the most significant are United Kingdom Generally Accepted Accounting Practice (UK GAAP), the Investment Management Association's Statement of Recommended Practice (IMA SORP), the FCA Collective Investment Schemes Sourcebook, the OEIC Regulations, the Company's Instrument of Incorporation and the Prospectus.
- We understood how the Company is complying with those frameworks through discussions with the ACD and the Company's administrator and a review of the Company's documented policies and procedures.
- We assessed the susceptibility of the Company's financial statements to material misstatement, including how fraud might occur by considering the risk of management override, specifically management's propensity to influence revenue and amounts available for distribution. We identified a fraud risk in relation to the incomplete

- or inaccurate income recognition through incorrect classification of special dividends and the resulting impact to amounts available for distribution. We tested the appropriateness of management's classification of a sample of material special dividends as either a capital or revenue return.
- Based on this understanding we designed our audit procedures to identify non-compliance with such laws and regulations. Our procedures involved review of the reporting to the ACD with respect to the application of the documented policies and procedures and review of the financial statements to test compliance with the reporting requirements of the Company.
- Due to the regulated nature of the Company, the Statutory Auditor considered the experience and expertise of the engagement team to ensure that the team had the appropriate competence and capabilities, which included the use of specialists where appropriate, to identify non-compliance with the applicable laws and regulations.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial statements is located on the Financial Reporting Council's website at frc.org.uk/auditorsresponsibilities This description forms part of our auditor's report.

Use of our report

This report is made solely to the Company's shareholders, as a body, pursuant to Paragraph 4.5.12 of the rules of the Collective Investment Schemes sourcebook of the FCA. Our audit work has been undertaken so that we might state to the Company's shareholders those matters we are required to state to them in an auditor's report and for no other purpose. To the fullest extent permitted by law, we do not accept or assume responsibility to anyone other than the Company and the Company's shareholders as a body, for our audit work, for this report, or for the opinions we have formed.

Edinburgh 28 March 2024 Ernst & Young LLP Statutory Auditor

The financial statements for M&G Investment Funds (7) comprise the individual financial statements for each of the presented funds and the notes below.

Notes to the financial statements

1 Statement of compliance

The financial statements of M&G Investment Funds (7) have been prepared in compliance with UK Financial Reporting Standard 102 (FRS 102) and in accordance with the Statement of Recommended Practice (SORP) for Authorised Funds issued by the Investment Association in May 2014 and amended in June 2017, except in relation to the separate disclosure in note 13.

2 Summary of significant accounting policies

a. Basis of preparation

There are no material events that have been identified that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern for at least the next twelve months from the date these financial statements are authorised for issue. The ACD believes that the Company has adequate resources to continue in operational existence for the foreseeable future and they continue to adopt the going concern basis in preparing the financial statements. The ACD has made an assessment of each fund's ability to continue as a going concern which is made as at the date of issue of these financial statements and considers liquidity. declines in global capital markets, investor intention, known redemption levels, expense projections and key service provider's operational resilience.

The financial statements of M&G Investment Funds (7) are prepared on a going concern basis, under the historical cost convention as modified by the revaluation of certain financial assets and liabilities measured at fair value through profit or loss.

The M&G Emerging Markets Monthly Income Fund closed on 13 July 2023. As a result, the financial statements of this fund have been prepared on a basis other than going concern. Under this basis, assets are recorded at their recoverable value and liabilities are recorded at their expected settlement value. Any additional costs in respect of the termination of the fund will be borne by the ACD.

On 19 January 2024, the M&G Global Corporate Bond Fund was launched as a fund of M&G Investment Funds (7). In accordance with the Collective Investment Schemes Sourcebook (COLL 6.8.2.R(4)), M&G Global Corporate Bond Fund has adopted an extended first accounting period ending 31 January 2025. Therefore the M&G Global Corporate Bond Fund is not presented within the 31 January 2024 annual report and audited financial statements of M&G Investment Funds (7).

b. Functional and presentational currency

Where the functional and presentational currency of a fund is not US dollars this is disclosed in the Financial statements and notes' of that fund.

c. Exchange rates

Transactions in currencies other than each fund's functional currency are translated at the rate of exchange ruling on the date of the transaction and where applicable assets and liabilities are translated into the fund's functional currency at the rate of exchange ruling as at 12 noon on 31 January 2024 being the last business day of the accounting period.

d. Investments - recognition and valuation

The provisions of both Section 11 and Section 12 of FRS 102 have been applied in full. All investments have been classified as fair value through profit and loss and recognised initially at fair value, which is normally the transaction price (excluding transaction costs and accrued interest).

At the end of the reporting period all investments have been measured at their fair value using the prices and the portfolio holdings determined at 12 noon on 31 January 2024, being the last valuation point of the accounting period, as this is not materially different from a valuation carried out at close of business on the balance sheet date.

Where separate bid and offer prices are available, the bid price is used for investment assets and the offer price for investment liabilities. Otherwise, the single price or most recent transaction price is used. Interest accrued is not included in the fair value. The methods of determining fair value for the principal classes of investment are:

- Equities and debt securities which are traded on an active market are included at the quoted price, which is normally the bid price, excluding any accrued interest in respect of bonds.
- Equities traded on the Alternative Investment Market (AIM), whose liquidity cannot be guaranteed, are included at their quoted bid price as this represents the most objective and appropriate method of valuation.
- Collective investment schemes operated by the ACD are included at either their cancellation price for dual priced funds or their single price for single priced funds.
- Collective investment schemes operated by another manager are included at either their bid price for dual priced funds or their single price for single priced funds.
- Other equities and debt securities which are unquoted or not actively traded on a quoted market are included at a value estimated by the ACD using an appropriate valuation technique, excluding any accrued interest in respect of bonds.
- Exchange traded futures and options are included at the cost of closing out the contract at the balance sheet date.

- Over the counter equity options, credit default swaps, interest rate swaps, asset swaps and inflation swaps are included at a value provided by Markit Valuations Limited, an independent credit derivative price provider. Their fair value excludes any accrued interest in respect of derivatives where the income is revenue in nature.
- Forward currency contracts, for share class hedging and investment, are included at a value determined by reference to current forward exchange rates for contracts with similar maturity profiles.

e. Recognition of income and expenses

- Dividends, including ordinary stock dividends, from equity investments are recognised when the security is quoted ex-dividend.
- Distributions from collective investment schemes are recognised when the scheme is priced ex-distribution.
- Interest on debt securities is recognised on an effective interest rate basis. Bank interest is recognised on an accruals basis.
- Underwriting commission is recognised when the issue takes place.
- Revenue from derivatives is recognised on an accruals basis.
- Fee rebates from investing in other collective investment schemes are recognised on an accruals basis.
- Expenses are recognised on an accruals basis.

f. Treatment of income and expenses

- Any increases or decreases in the fair value of investments and gains and losses realised on sales of investments are treated as capital and recognised in net capital gains/(losses).
- The value of any enhancement to a stock dividend is treated as capital.

- Ordinary equity dividends, including ordinary stock dividends are treated as revenue.
- Special dividends, share buy backs or additional share issues may be treated as revenue or capital depending on the facts of each particular case.
- Distributions from collective investment schemes are treated as revenue in nature, except for any element of equalisation, which represents the average amount of income included in the price paid for the collective investment scheme, which is treated as capital.
- Debt security interest comprises the coupon interest and the difference between the purchase price and the expected maturity price spread over its expected remaining life. This is treated as revenue with the difference adjusting the cost of the shares and treated as capital.
- Other interest income, such as bank interest is treated as revenue.
- Underwriting commission is treated as revenue, except where the fund is required to take up all or some of the shares underwritten, in which case a proportion of the commission received is deducted from the cost of the shares and treated as capital.

- The treatment of the income on derivative contracts depends upon the nature of the transaction. Both motive and circumstances are used to determine whether the returns should be treated as capital or revenue. Where positions are undertaken to protect or enhance capital, and the circumstances support this, the returns are recognised in net capital gains; similarly where the motives and circumstances are to generate or protect revenue, and the circumstances support this. the returns are included within net revenue before taxation. Where positions generate total returns it will generally be appropriate to apportion such returns between capital and revenue to properly reflect the nature of the transaction.
- Expenses relating to the purchase and sale of investments are treated as capital; all other expenses are treated as revenue.
- Rebates of charges from holdings in collective investment schemes are treated as revenue or capital in accordance with the underlying scheme's distribution policy.

g. Operating charges

Operating charges include payments made to M&G and to providers independent of M&G:

• Annual charge: Charge paid to M&G covering the annual cost of M&G managing and administering the fund and the costs of third parties providing services to the fund. For every £1 billion of a fund's net asset value, a discount of 0.02% will be applied to that fund's annual charge (up to a maximum of 0.12%).

- Extraordinary legal and tax expenses: Costs that specifically relate to legal or tax claims that are both exceptional and unforeseeable. Such expenses are uncommon, and would not be expected in most years. Although they result in a short-term cost to the fund, generally they can deliver longer term benefits for investors.
- Ongoing charges from underlying funds:
   Ongoing charges from underlying funds
   (excluding Investment Trust Companies and Real Estate Investment Trusts) will be rebated.

These charges do not include portfolio transaction costs or any entry and exit charges (also known as initial and redemption charges). The charging structures of share classes may differ, and therefore the operating charges may differ.

Operating charges are in line with the ongoing charges shown in the Key Investor Information Document, other than where there have been extraordinary legal or tax expenses, or an estimate has been used for the ongoing charge because a material change has made the operating charges unreliable as an estimate of future charges.

h. Portfolio transaction costs

Portfolio transaction costs are incurred by funds when buying and selling investments. These costs vary depending on the types of investment, their market capitalisation, country of exchange and method of execution. They are made up of direct and indirect portfolio transaction costs:

- Direct portfolio transaction costs: Broker execution commission and taxes.
- Indirect portfolio transaction costs: 'Dealing spread' the difference between the buying and selling prices of the fund's investments; some types of investment, such as fixed interest securities, have no direct transaction costs and only the dealing spread is paid.

Investments are bought or sold by a fund when changes are made to the investment portfolio and in response to net flows of money into or out of the fund from investors buying and selling shares in the fund.

To protect existing investors, portfolio transaction costs incurred as a result of investors buying and selling shares in the fund are recovered from those investors through a 'dilution adjustment' to the price they pay or receive.

i. Tax

Dividends and similar income receivable are recognised at an amount that includes any withholding tax but excludes irrecoverable tax credits. Any withholding tax suffered is shown as part of the tax charge.

Tax is accounted for at the appropriate rate of corporation tax with relief for double taxation taken where appropriate. The tax accounting treatment follows the principal amounts involved.

Deferred tax is recognised in respect of temporary timing differences that have originated but not reversed by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax is measured on a non-discounted basis, at the average rate of tax expected to apply in the period in which it expects the deferred tax to be realised or settled. A deferred tax asset is only recognised to the extent that it is more likely than not that the asset will be recovered.

Marginal tax relief has not been taken into account in respect of expenses offset against capital.

j. Allocation of returns to share classes

The annual charge is directly attributable to individual share classes. All other returns are apportioned to each fund's share classes pro-rata to the value of the net assets of the relevant share class on the day that the income or expenses are recognised.

All available net revenue accounted for in accordance with the above policies and adjusted where relevant by any specific distribution policies set out in the notes to that fund's financial statements, is distributed to holders of Income shares or retained and reinvested for holders of Accumulation shares. Should expenses and taxation together exceed revenue, there will be no distribution and the shortfall will be met from capital.

Distributions which have remained unclaimed by shareholders for more than six years are credited to the capital property of the fund.

3 Risk management policies

The ACD is responsible for establishing, implementing and maintaining an adequate and documented risk management policy for identifying, measuring and managing all risks to which funds are or might be exposed.

The Company's investment activities expose it to various types of risk which are associated with the financial instruments and markets in which it invests; market risk, credit risk and liquidity risk.

These financial statements are designed to enable users to evaluate the nature and extent of those risks and how they are managed.

The following risk management policies are applicable to the funds, with specific risk disclosures set out in the notes to the financial statements of each fund.

a. Market risk

Market risk is the risk of loss resulting from fluctuations in the market value of positions in a fund's portfolio attributable to changes in market variables, such as interest rates, exchange rates, equity and commodity prices or an issuer's creditworthiness.

In relation to market risk, processes are applied that take account of the investment objective and policy of each fund. All funds are subject to an investment oversight process in accordance with the type and nature of the fund. In addition all funds are monitored for compliance within regulatory limits.

In measuring and monitoring market risk, the global exposure of a fund may be calculated using a 'commitment' approach or 'Value at Risk' (VaR) approach.

b. Commitment approach

The commitment approach is applied for funds investing only in traditional asset classes, namely equities, fixed income, money market instruments and collective investment schemes.

In addition, the approach is applied for funds which use or intend to use derivatives or instruments embedding derivatives, but only for efficient portfolio management purposes, or in a simple way not necessarily restricted to efficient portfolio management.

Under the commitment approach the global exposure of funds is measured and monitored using a commitment (adjusted notional) methodology.

Market risk is considered on a daily basis and forms the foundation of investment oversight analysis. This can include for each fund (but is not limited to) the analysis of factors such as fund concentration; style, geographical, industry and market capitalisation biases; active, systematic and specific risk measurements; active money; and beta characteristics.

c. Value at Risk approach

The Value at Risk (VaR) approach is a methodology for estimating the maximum potential loss due to market risk based on historic market volatilities and correlations. More particularly, the VaR approach gives a broad indication of the maximum potential loss at a given confidence level (probability), over a specific time period under normal market conditions.

When VaR is used, it may be calculated using the Absolute VaR approach or the Relative VaR approach.

Absolute VaR is the VaR expressed as a percentage of the Net Asset Value of a fund which must not exceed an absolute limit. Under the Absolute VaR approach, the VaR limit is set as a percentage of the Net Asset Value of the relevant fund. The absolute 20-day VaR based on a 99% confidence interval must not exceed 20% of the fund's Net Asset Value.

Under the Relative VaR approach, the VaR limit for a fund is set as a multiple of the VaR of the fund's reference portfolio. The 20-day VaR of the fund based on a 99% confidence interval must not exceed twice the VaR of the fund's reference portfolio. The Investment Manager monitors this limit by ensuring that the VaR of the fund divided by the VaR of the reference portfolio is not greater than 200%.

The table below shows funds using the 'commitment' approach and those using either the Absolute or Relative 'Value at Risk (VaR)' approach:

| Fund   | Global exposureapproach |
|--|-----------------------------|
| M&G Emerging Markets MonthlyIncome Fund (closed) | Absolute VaR                |
| M&G Global Convertibles Fund                         | Relative VaR*               |
| M&G Global Emerging MarketsFund                  | Commitment                  |
| M&G Global Floating Rate HighYield Fund          | Relative VaR*               |

With effect 6 March 2023 the fund changed from an Absolute to a Relative VaR approach.

d. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that a fund's holdings cannot be sold, liquidated or closed out at limited cost in an adequately short time frame and that the ability of the scheme to comply at any time with its obligation to sell and redeem shares is thereby compromised.

The overall liquidity profile for each fund is reviewed and updated regularly. The liquidity profile takes into account investment, cashflow and market liquidity considerations.

Investment liquidity considerations include an assessment of asset class liquidity conditions, liquidity of underlying holdings, portfolio construction and concentration, the scale of individual stock ownership and the nature of the investment strategy.

Cashflow liquidity is managed in each fund on a daily basis using reports that include subscription and redemption information as well as the impact of trading, derivative lifecycle events and corporate action activity. In addition to the daily reporting, the fund managers are provided with reporting that highlights the impact of reasonably predictable events in the portfolio, including an allowance for the potential future exposures that might result from derivative exposures.

Market (or distribution-related) considerations include an assessment of asset demand, fund growth, client concentration and the persistency of the client base. Supplementary to this, market liquidity stress tests are carried out on a monthly basis for all funds.

Liquidity in funds is independently assessed and challenged through the internal governance process at M&G. Fund liquidity is modelled and compared against potential liability scenarios such as severe redemption or collateral calls and any funds with liquidity issues are flagged to the internal committee. Funds flagged to the internal committee are escalated and remedial action agreed. None of the funds have been escalated for remedial action.

e. Credit risk

For funds exposed to credit risk, the credit rating, yield and maturity of each interest bearing security is considered to determine if the yield fully reflects the risk. The capital value of interest-bearing securities within the funds will fall in the event of the default or perceived increased credit risk of an issuer.

The capital value of interest-bearing securities within a fund may also be affected by interest rate fluctuations such that when interest rates rise, the capital value of the interest-bearing securities is likely to fall and vice versa.

Funds investing in derivatives are exposed to counterparty risk. This is the risk that the other party to the transaction fails to fulfil their obligations, either by failing to pay or failing to deliver securities. To minimise this risk, carefully selected, financially strong and well-established counterparties are selected following a thorough due diligence review and collateral is posted daily (in the form of cash or high-quality government bonds). Derivative positions are valued on a markto-market basis (revalued to reflect prevailing market prices) daily and collateral moves from one counterparty to the other to reflect movements in the unrealised profit or loss. As a result, the maximum loss to the fund would be limited to that day's price movements in affected derivatives contracts.

For funds in which they are used, credit default swaps are bought and sold in response to detailed credit research to take advantage of anticipated movements in credit spreads on individual stocks and baskets of securities. When a fund buys a credit default swap the default risk associated with the underlying security transfers to the counterparty. When a fund sells a credit default swap the fund assumes the credit risk of the underlying security.

Performance against objective

The fund was closed on 13 July 2023. Between 1 February 2023 (the start of the review period) and 13 July 2023 (the fund closure date), all share classes of the M&G Emerging Markets Monthly Income Fund produced a negative total return (the combination of income and growth of capital).

The fund aimed to provide an annual yield of 4-6% and capital growth, net of the ongoing charge figure, over any five-year period. The fund's distributions over the period amounted to a yield of just over 5% for all share classes. The fund has therefore achieved its aim to provide an annual yield of between 4% and 6%. It is not possible to state whether the fund has met the capital growth element of its objective, as the fund closed before it was five years old.

For the performance of each share class, please refer to the 'Long-term performance by share class' table in the 'Financial highlights' section of this report.

Performance review

Emerging market (EM) equities recorded negative performance in US dollar terms over the past 12 months. Concerns over the health of the Chinese economy, along with sentiment over the direction of developed market interest rates, hindered performance, despite the rebound towards the end of 2023. Slowing inflation in core economies, combined with dovish rhetoric from the US Federal Reserve (Fed), fuelled hopes that global interest rates may have reached their peak. More recently, however, investors scaled back hopes of imminent rate cuts following robust economic growth in the US and a slight re-acceleration in inflation in developed economies. EM bonds delivered mixed returns with EM Europe and large parts of Latin America posting positive returns and with China and Asia recording negative performance in US dollar terms over the review period. Concerns around rising inflation caused volatility over the spring and summer months, however, as inflation started to drop towards the end of 2023 sentiment turned more positive and EM debt recorded strong positive returns in November and December.

Fund performance was driven by gains from our government bond and cash holdings, which outweighed losses from our exposure to equities and corporate bonds.

Within equities, the three most profitable positions were all based in Brazil. These comprised transport infrastructure group CCR, sugar and ethanol producer Raizen and Banco Bradesco. Technology was among the best-performing sectors and holdings in South Korean chipmakers Samsung Electronics and SK Hynix made strong gains.

Asia ex-Japan was the biggest drag on performance among the fund's equity baskets. South Korean banks Shinhan Financial and Hana Financial both weighed on returns after the government criticised industry profits and advocated greater competition.

Among our bond holdings, the positions in debt issued by Swedish cosmetics firm Oriflame and Mexican telecommunications company Total Play were notable detractors.

The fund closed on 13 July 2023.

Specific share class performance

The following comparative tables show the performance of each share class. All 'Performance and charges' percentages represent an annual rate except for the 'Return after operating charges' which is calculated as a percentage of the opening net asset value per share (NAV per share). 'Dilution adjustments' are only in respect of direct portfolio transaction costs.

'Operating charges' and 'Direct portfolio transaction costs' are calculated as a percentage of average net asset value. Where there is a change in the charging structure, you may see variances in the 'operating charges' between the comparative and current year figures.

The closing NAV per share shown may diverge from the highest and lowest share prices (used for dealing purposes) as at the balance sheet date due to accounting and valuation adjustments.

Financial statements and notes

Notes to the financial statements

1 Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the 'Summary of significant accounting policies' set out on pages 9 to 13.

2 Distribution policy

In order to conduct a controlled dividend flow to shareholders, interim distributions will be at the fund manager's discretion, up to the maximum of the distributable income available for the period.

In determining the amount available for distribution, ordinary stock dividends have been transferred to capital, reducing the amount available.

In determining the amount available for distribution to Income shares, the annual charge is offset against capital, increasing the amount available for distribution whilst restraining capital performance to an equivalent extent.

20 Leverage risk

Funds using VaR approaches are required to disclose the level of leverage employed during the financial reporting

Derivatives can be used by the fund to generate market exposure to investments exceeding the net asset value. As a result of this exposure, the size of any positive or negative movement in markets may have a more significant effect on the net asset value of the fund.

The lowest, highest and average level of leverage employed and utilisation of the leverage level calculated during the financial years ended 31 January 2024 and 31 January 2023 are disclosed in the table below. Leverage has been calculated using the Gross Sum of Notional Approach for derivative positions only (including forward currency contracts) and excludes all physical holdings. Percentages are expressed with reference to fund valuation.

The following tables set out for each distribution the rates per share for both Group 1 and Group 2 shares.

Group 1 shares are those purchased prior to a distribution period and therefore their income rate is the same as the distribution rate.

Group 2 shares are those purchased during a distribution period and therefore their distribution rate is made up of income and equalisation. Equalisation is the average amount of income included in the purchase price of all Group 2 shares and is refunded to the holders of these shares as a return of capital. Being capital it is not liable to Income Tax. Instead, it must be deducted from the cost of shares for Capital Gains Tax purposes. The tables below show the split of the Group 2 rates into the income and equalisation components.

For the purposes of these financial statements, the Prospectus dated 19 January 2024 has been used.

Investment objective

The fund aims to provide a higher total return (the combination of capital growth and income), net of the ongoing charges figure, than the Refinitiv Global Focus Convertible Bond Index over any five-year period.

Investment policy

At least 70% of the fund is invested in the convertible securities of companies across any sector and market capitalisation that are domiciled in any country, including emerging markets. Exposure to these securities is achieved, either directly or indirectly, through various combinations of corporate bonds, equities and derivatives.

The convertible securities may be denominated in any currency.

The fund may also invest in other transferable securities directly or via collective investment schemes (including funds managed by M&G).

The fund may also hold cash and near cash for liquidity purposes.

Derivatives may be used for investment purposes, efficient portfolio management and hedging.

Investment approach

The fund employs a disciplined approach to investment which concentrates on the selection of convertible securities based upon fundamental analysis of individual companies, and their bond and equity characteristics.

The fund manager focuses on convertible securities that provide the best risk-reward features in their view. For these convertible securities, the fund manager expects that the potential gain from the option on the underlying share price exceeds the potential loss from the share price falling.

Benchmark

Benchmark: Refinitiv Global Focus Convertible Bond Index.

The benchmark is a target which the fund seeks to outperform. The index has been chosen as the fund's benchmark as it best reflects the scope of the fund's investment policy. The benchmark is used solely to measure the fund's performance and does not constrain the fund's portfolio construction.

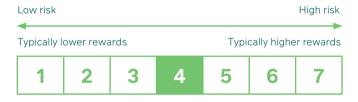

The fund is actively managed. The fund manager has complete freedom in choosing which investments to buy, hold and sell in the fund. The fund's holdings may deviate significantly from the benchmark's constituents.

For unhedged share classes, the benchmark is shown in the share class currency. For currency hedged share classes, the benchmark is hedged to the share class currency.

Investment review

Performance against objective

Over the reporting period, the M&G Global Convertibles Fund delivered modest positive total returns (the combination of income and growth of capital) across its hedged share classes. The unhedged share classes posted modest negative returns over the same period.

The fund's unhedged share classes outperformed their benchmark, the Refinitiv Global Focus Convertible Bond Index, which returned -1.7% over the reporting period.

However, the fund's hedged share classes underperformed their benchmark, the Refinitiv Global Focus Convertible Bond Index (Hedged), which posted a return of +2.9% over the reporting period.

Over five years, the fund registered positive returns across all share classes. With the exception of the 'A' share class, the unhedged share classes met their objective of delivering a higher total return (the combination of capital growth and income), net of the ongoing charge figure, than the Refinitiv Global Focus Convertible Bond Index, which returned +3.0% per annum over this period.

Over five years, all of the hedged share classes did not meet their objective of delivering a higher total return (the combination of capital growth and income), net of the ongoing charge figure, than the Refinitiv Global Focus Convertible Bond Index (Hedged), which returned +3.0% per annum over this period.

For the performance of each share class, please refer to the 'Long-term performance by share class' table in the 'Financial highlights' section of this report.

Performance review

The 12-month period under review saw varied performance across global financial markets, with equities (company shares) largely posting positive returns, whilst fixed income assets (also known as bonds) delivered mixed returns.

What was of particular note was an intense rally in both equities and bonds from late-October, until the end of 2023, as investors grew more confident that central banks would cut interest rates meaningfully in 2024.

Over the review period as a whole, global equities were led higher by the US, driven in large part by the strength of the so-called "magnificent seven" stocks – Apple, Microsoft, Alphabet, Amazon, Tesla, Meta and Nvidia. Japanese shares also featured strongly, partially helped by a weak currency. Europe also performed well overall, with the main exception being the UK.

However, other markets did not fare so well, most notably China and Hong Kong. Some investors continue to be concerned by the lacklustre growth of the Chinese economy and problems in its property sector.

Within bonds, performance was mixed. Shorter-dated developed market sovereign bonds, delivered modest positive total returns, but performance of longer-dated bonds (particularly in the UK and US) was hurt by the ratcheting up of interest rates in 2023.

Elsewhere, emerging market sovereign bonds and investment grade and high yield corporate bonds recorded gains. In general, these bonds benefited from their higher yields and a tightening of spreads and lower duration versus government bonds.

The fund's relative performance was supported by holdings in convertibles from telecommunications company Bharti Airtel and technology companies Seagate Technology, a data storage provider, and CyberArk Software. Technology stocks were seen as benefiting from their growth prospects and potentially lower interest rates in 2024. The fund's equity holding in Uber Technologies, a platform that connects consumers with providers of ride and delivery services, also added value.

Conversely, holdings in convertibles from Box and Japanese pharmaceutical company Sosei held back relative returns. Disappointing results weighed on US content management company Box, while the shares of Japanese drug developer Sosei fell sharply when Pfizer discontinued development of a drug made using Sosei's technology, thus weighing on the group's convertible.

Given the profound weakness of the Chinese stockmarket, relative performance was also hurt by holdings in some China names, including a convertible from hotel group H World and a straight bond (without any convertible options) and equity holding in property company Longfor. Investor sentiment towards both companies has been hurt by weakness in the Chinese economy and in the case of Longfor, concerns about the property sector. So far as H World is concerned, profitability remains strong.

Investment activities

Throughout the review period, we were active in adjusting the positioning of the portfolio, buying what we believed were attractively priced convertibles, while reducing or selling those that no longer satisfied our selection criteria.

Early on in the review period, we structured a synthetic convertible in Chinese property group Longfor, by buying shares and straight bonds in the company (straight bonds have no convertible options).

We added Dutch brewer Heineken and a balanced convertible from Japanese car park operator Park24, as we had formed positive views on these companies (a balanced convertible trades within a certain range, provides equity-like returns while having limited downside risks).

Other additions included German bonds converting into residential housing company LEG Immobilien and industrial group Duerr. Also, we switched into a longer-dated bond converting into Evonik from a shorter one and we sold convertibles from Palo Alto Networks, NRG Energy, Carrefour, IWG and Spie as well.

In the second half of 2023, the primary market for convertible bonds was very active in terms of issuance. We bought a convertible from SolarEdge Technologies, after the underperformance of renewable energy companies made the shares look better value to us. We also purchased a bond from Trip.com converting into hotel group H World (formerly Huazhu).

We bought a new convertible from Italian oil services group Saipem and we accepted an offer from another German online retailer, Global Fashion, to buy back its convertible. Also, we invested in four recently issued US convertibles, from data storage provider Seagate Technology, precision power equipment supplier Advanced Energy Industries, medical device manufacturer Shockwave Medical and Amphastar Pharmaceuticals. To make room for these, we disposed of convertibles from Qiagen, ESR, Snap, Airbnb, Nova and ON Semiconductor.

In the latter stages of the review period, we sold an equity stake in Palo Alto Networks after strong performance and bought three new, in our opinion attractively priced issues – from Uber Technologies and Spirit AeroSystems and an existing issue from Lenovo. To make room for these we sold a bond converting into Sanofi as it had low equity sensitivity, and a shorter-dated convertible plus equity position in Uber Technologies, which were replaced by the new issue.

We also sold an equity holding in Airbnb, taking advantage of a significant rally in its share price and began a holding in a convertible from Merit Medical Systems. In addition, we closed the fund's positions in bonds exchangeable into Mercedes-Benz and Siemens and reinvested into shares of auto components manufacturer Aptiv, which we think is attractively valued.

This activity has resulted in the portfolio increasing its exposure to Asia, while marginally reducing exposure to the US over the review period. In terms of sectors, the weighting of technology, consumer discretionary and healthcare have been reduced, while holdings in the industrial, financials and consumer staples sectors have increased.

Outlook

In our opinion, current market conditions continue to offer attractive entry points to the convertibles market, with large pockets of the convertibles universe appearing well valued. In particular, what we find interesting is that many convertibles still trade on high yields relative to, for example, other corporate bonds. In our opinion, this is unjustified by the issuers' business and credit quality and gives us the opportunity to invest in what we consider to be profitable, high-quality businesses with robust credit quality. Of course, a market where many opportunities are driven by yield means that investors have to be highly selective and perform rigorous credit analysis.

The new issues market was active in 2023, much busier than 2022, and we believe convertible issuance will remain of heightened interest to companies and investors. As many corporate bonds become repayable over the next couple of years, we expect many companies to have to refinance. Since the issuance of convertibles is generally cheaper than straight bonds, these companies could turn to the convertibles market in greater numbers. If interest rates stay higher for longer, the incentives for companies to save interest costs by issuing lower coupon convertibles will be even more powerful. This could well mean an increased variety of issuers coming to the convertibles market. In an environment of greater financing needs we expect increasingly advantageous terms for investors, with coupons rising and premiums falling.

We have a broad universe from which to identify investment opportunities and we consider both existing and new issues when seeking convertibles with attractive risk-reward characteristics but, as ever, we will remain selective. We also create opportunities by maintaining flexibility in the way we invest, sometimes, for example, combining a low delta but high yielding convertible with an equity stake.

Overall, we have tried to construct a portfolio that should be able to navigate all possible scenarios, remaining agile should the background change significantly, one way or the other.

Fund performance

Please note past performance is not a guide to future performance and the value of investments, and the income from them, will fluctuate. This will cause the fund price to fall as well as rise and you may not get back the original amount you invested.

As different share classes have different attributes, for example charging structures and minimum investments, please be aware that their performance may be different.

Specific share class performance

The following comparative tables show the performance of each share class. All 'Performance and charges' percentages represent an annual rate except for the 'Return after operating charges' which is calculated as a percentage of the opening net asset value per share (NAV per share). 'Dilution adjustments' are only in respect of direct portfolio transaction costs.

'Operating charges' and 'Direct portfolio transaction costs' are calculated as a percentage of average net asset value. Where there is a change in the charging structure, you may see variances in the 'operating charges' between the comparative and current year figures.

The closing NAV per share shown may diverge from the highest and lowest share prices (used for dealing purposes) as at the balance sheet date due to accounting and valuation adjustments.

Financial statements and notes

Notes to the financial statements

1 Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the 'Summary of significant accounting policies' set out on pages 9 to 13.

2 Distribution policy

In determining the amount available for distribution, ordinary stock dividends have been transferred to capital, reducing the amount available.

In determining the amount available for distribution to Income shares, the annual charge is offset against capital, increasing the amount available for distribution whilst restraining capital performance to an equivalent extent.

20 Leverage risk

Funds using VaR approaches are required to disclose the level of leverage employed during the financial reporting period.

Derivatives can be used by the fund to generate market exposure to investments exceeding the net asset value. As a result of this exposure, the size of any positive or negative movement in markets may have a more significant effect on the net asset value of the fund.

The lowest, highest and average level of leverage employed and utilisation of the leverage level calculated during the financial years ended 31 January 2024 and 31 January 2023 are disclosed in the table below. Leverage has been calculated using the Gross Sum of Notional Approach for derivative positions only (including forward currency contracts) and excludes all physical holdings. Percentages are expressed with reference to fund valuation.

21 Exchange rate risk for hedged share classes

This fund contains hedged share classes. These share classes operate currency hedges designed to reduce the impact of exchange rates in certain circumstances. As a result, profit and loss on the currency hedges may impact the liquidity of the overall fund. On a day to day basis this is monitored using reporting from the outsourced provider of the hedged share class service. On an ongoing basis the size of the hedged share classes is monitored to ensure that unforeseen exchange rate volatility can be adequately managed without significantly impacting all shareholders. The exposure to forward currency contracts for share class hedging at the year-end accounting date is disclosed in the portfolio statement on pages 52 and 53.

Financial statements and notes

The following tables set out for each distribution the rates per share for both Group 1 and Group 2 shares.

Group 1 shares are those purchased prior to a distribution period and therefore their income rate is the same as the distribution rate.

Group 2 shares are those purchased during a distribution period and therefore their distribution rate is made up of income and equalisation. Equalisation is the average amount of income included in the purchase price of all Group 2 shares and is refunded to the holders of these shares as a return of capital. Being capital it is not liable to Income Tax. Instead, it must be deducted from the cost of shares for Capital Gains Tax purposes. The tables below show the split of the Group 2 rates into the income and equalisation components.

Financial statements and notes

23 Events after the balance sheet date

There were no events after the balance sheet date to disclose.

Authorised Corporate Director's Report

For the purposes of these financial statements, the Prospectus dated 19 January 2024 has been used.

Investment objective

The fund aims to provide a higher total return (the combination of capital growth and income), net of the ongoing charge figure, than that of the MSCI Emerging Markets Index over any five-year period.

Investment policy

At least 80% of the fund is invested directly in equity securities and equity-related securities of companies across any sector and market capitalisation that are incorporated, domiciled or do most of their business in emerging market countries.

The fund may also invest in other transferable securities directly and via collective investment schemes (including funds managed by M&G).

The fund may also hold cash and near cash for liquidity purposes.

Derivatives may be used for efficient portfolio management and hedging.

Investment approach

The fund employs a bottom-up stock picking approach to identify companies whose long-term prospects are, in the fund manager's opinion, being undervalued.

The fund's approach incorporates three elements: return on capital, valuations and corporate governance.

It is the core belief of the fund manager that company-specific factors, in particular their profitability (which is measured in terms of return on capital), drive share prices over the long run.

The fund's country and sector exposure is not influenced by top-down views.

Benchmark

Benchmark: MSCI Emerging Markets Index.

The benchmark is a target which the fund seeks to outperform. The index has been chosen as the fund's benchmark as it best reflects the scope of the fund's investment policy. The benchmark is used solely to measure the fund's performance and does not constrain the fund's portfolio construction.

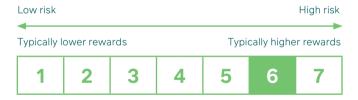

The fund is actively managed. The fund manager has complete freedom in choosing which investments to buy, hold and sell in the fund. The fund's holdings may deviate significantly from the benchmark's constituents.

For unhedged and hedged share classes, the benchmark is shown in the share class currency.

Risk profile

For details of the risks associated with this fund, please refer to the Prospectus. For details of the risk management policies, please refer to pages 13 to 15.

The following table shows the risk number associated with the fund and is based on Sterling Class 'A' shares.

The above number:

- is based on the rate at which the value of the fund has moved up and down in the past and is based on historical data so may not be a reliable indicator of the future risk profile of the fund.
- is not guaranteed and may change over time and the lowest risk number does not mean risk free.
- has not changed during this period.

Investment review

Performance against objective

Over the reporting period the fund delivered negative returns across all share classes. However, it finished ahead of its benchmark, the MSCI Emerging Markets Index, which returned -5.8% over the same period.

Over five years, the fund has achieved its objective, which is to provide a higher total return (the combination of capital growth and income), net of the ongoing charge figure, than the average of the MSCI Emerging Markets Index over any five-year period. The index returned 2.0% pa over the period.

For the performance of each share class, please refer to the 'Long-term performance by share class' table in the 'Financial highlights' section of this report.

Performance review

Emerging market equities recorded negative performance in US dollar terms over the past 12 months. Concerns over the health of the Chinese economy, along with sentiment over the direction of developed market interest rates, hindered performance before the rebound towards the end of 2023. Slowing inflation in core economies, combined with dovish rhetoric from the US Federal Reserve (Fed), fuelled hopes that global interest rates may have reached their peak. More recently, however, investors scaled back hopes of imminent rate cuts following robust economic growth in the US and a slight re-acceleration in inflation in developed economies. Over the review period, the Chinese market was the key underperformer and while this impacted the likes of Thailand and Malaysia, some of the other Asian markets delivered solid returns on their exposure to technology stocks. Many Latin American markets posted strong gains on signs of disinflation - with the exception of Chile which was hurt by falling metal prices. Emerging European, Middle Eastern and African (EEMEA) markets generally performed well. Emerging Europe was the standout performer on political developments while the Middle East was supported by a strong oil price for much of the review period.

Against this backdrop, the fund finished ahead of the benchmark over the period. Country and sector allocation were positive for relative returns however this was partially offset by unfavourable security selection. Our underweight position and favourable security selection in China was beneficial. By contrast, the below-benchmark exposure to the strongly performing Indian market was a detractor. With regards to industry sectors, our underweight exposure to communication services was positive for relative returns as this sector posted deeply negative performance. The overweight position in financials was another top contributor while overweight exposure to real estate was the main laggard on nervousness over the beleaguered Chinese property market and concerns around interest rate rises in developed markets.

Exposure to select Chinese stocks dominated relative performance. For instance, zero-weights in high profile consumer-orientated stocks, such as Tencent and Meituan, were among the largest contributors to relative performance. By contrast, above-benchmark exposure to Chinese consumer giant Alibaba, Ping An Insurance and biotech firm BeiGene, were key detractors.

Investment activities

We took advantage of the market weakness and entered several new positions at what we felt were attractive prices. We initiated a holding in global diversified miner Teck Resources on company plans to exit coal and focus on industrial metals. Later in the year, Teck Resources received a bid to sell its coal business to a consortium led by Glencore. Other sizeable new positions included Inchcape, JD.com, Anglo American and 3R Petroleum. Meanwhile, we trimmed the overweight holding in Samsung Electronics, although the electronics giant remains our largest exposure. We sold our position in Hollysys Automation Technologies on bid activity and we also exited a number of energy names.

With regards to current positioning, our biggest overweight remains in financials. Amongst our key holdings are South Korea's Hana Financial and Fibra

Authorised Corporate Director's Report

Uno Administracion, a Mexican real estate investment company (REIT), which represent our two largest active positions.

Outlook

Emerging markets have struggled more recently on disappointment that US interest rate cuts may not happen as quickly as investors had hoped. However, we remain positive on the asset class as global interest rates have more than likely peaked and we expect earnings growth to recover. The fragility of the Chinese economy has also weighed on sentiment. However, the emerging market complex as a whole remains undervalued and under-owned, which has led to attractive valuations, in our view.

The priorities and actions driven by the global focus on climate change remain a key structural theme. Emerging market equities offer divergent opportunities with regards to energy transition but the investment winners and losers from the energy transition are neither obvious nor static. For example, China has been a key facilitator through heavy investment in solar and battery manufacturing, but such capital intensity has led to poor returns. We prefer construction and mining companies with exposure to green metals, such as copper and nickel, which are invaluable for energy transition projects. We also see many legacy utility operators, especially those with large renewable operations, in a good position to benefit from such exposures as the cost of carbon inevitably rises via taxation or other policy measures.

As different share classes have different attributes, for example charging structures and minimum investments, please be aware that their performance may be different.

Specific share class performance

The following comparative tables show the performance of each share class. All 'Performance and charges' percentages represent an annual rate except for the 'Return after operating charges' which is calculated as a percentage of the opening net asset value per share (NAV per share). 'Dilution adjustments' are only in respect of direct portfolio transaction costs.

'Operating charges' and 'Direct portfolio transaction costs' are calculated as a percentage of average net asset value. Where there is a change in the charging structure, you may see variances in the 'operating charges' between the comparative and current year figures.

The closing NAV per share shown may diverge from the highest and lowest share prices (used for dealing purposes) as at the balance sheet date due to accounting and valuation adjustments.

Notes to the financial statements

1 Accounting policies

The financial statements have been prepared in accordance with the 'Summary of significant accounting policies' set out on pages 9 to 13.

2 Distribution policy

In determining the amount available for distribution, ordinary stock dividends have been transferred to capital, reducing the amount available.

In determining the amount available for distribution to Income shares, the annual charge is offset against capital, increasing the amount available for distribution whilst restraining capital performance to an equivalent extent.

22 Exchange rate risk for hedged share classes

This fund contains hedged share classes. These share classes operate currency hedges designed to reduce the impact of exchange rates in certain circumstances. As a result, profit and loss on the currency hedges may impact the liquidity of the overall fund. On a day to day basis this is monitored using reporting from the outsourced provider of the hedged share class service. On an ongoing basis the size of the hedged share classes is monitored to ensure that unforeseen exchange rate volatility can be adequately managed without significantly impacting all shareholders. The exposure to forward currency contracts for share class hedging at the year-end accounting date is disclosed in the portfolio statement on page 84.

23 Dividend distribution tables

This fund pays annual ordinary distributions and the following table sets out the distribution period.

Annual distribution period

|       | Start    | End      | Xd       | Payment  |
|-------|----------|----------|----------|----------|

The following tables set out for each distribution the rates per share for both Group 1 and Group 2 shares.

Group 1 shares are those purchased prior to a distribution period and therefore their income rate is the same as the distribution rate.

Group 2 shares are those purchased during a distribution period and therefore their distribution rate is made up of income and equalisation. Equalisation is the average amount of income included in the purchase price of all Group 2 shares and is refunded to the holders of these shares as a return of capital. Being capital it is not liable to Income Tax. Instead, it must be deducted from the cost of shares for Capital Gains Tax purposes. The tables below show the split of the Group 2 rates into the income and equalisation components.

M&G Global Emerging Markets Fund

Financial statements and notes

24 Events after the balance sheet date

There were no events after the balance sheet date to disclose.

For the purposes of these financial statements, the Prospectus dated 19 January 2024 has been used.

Investment objective

The fund aims to provide a higher total return (the combination of capital growth and income), net of the ongoing charge figure, than that of the ICE BofAML Global Floating Rate High Yield Index (3% constrained) USD Hedged over any five-year period.

Investment policy

At least 70% of the fund is invested, directly or indirectly, in below investment grade corporate and government floating rate notes. These securities can be issued or guaranteed by governments and their agencies, public authorities, quasi-sovereigns, supranational bodies and companies from anywhere in the world, including emerging markets. These securities can be denominated in any currency.

The fund's indirect exposure to floating rate notes is achieved by investing through a combination of instruments. These include the combination of government bonds or corporate bonds with credit derivatives, such as credit default swaps, to create synthetic positions.

Other investments may include:

- below investment grade, investment grade and unrated corporate debt securities;
- debt securities issued or guaranteed by governments and their agencies, public authorities, quasi-sovereigns, supranational bodies:
- asset backed securities; and/or
- other transferable securities, cash, and near cash, directly or via collective investment schemes (including funds managed by M&G).

There are no credit quality restrictions applicable to the fund's investments.

Derivatives may be used for investment purposes, efficient portfolio management and hedging.

Investment approach

The fund is globally diversified across a range of below investment grade (high yield) debt securities from a variety of sectors and geographies, focusing on floating rate notes.

If interest rates rise, the fund will benefit from a higher income as floating rate note coupons are automatically adjusted upwards (equally, should interest rates fall, then the coupons will be adjusted downwards). This has the effect of providing a natural hedge against rising interest rates.

The fund manager has the flexibility to adjust the fund's credit exposure, sector positioning and regional allocations depending on the assessment of current market valuations and the macroeconomic environment, including the likely path of economic growth, inflation and interest rates.

Individual credit selection is carried out with the assistance of an in-house team of credit analysts to complement the fund manager's views.

Benchmark

Benchmark: ICE BofAML Global Floating Rate High Yield Index (3% constrained) USD Hedged.

The fund is actively managed. The benchmark is a target which the fund seeks to outperform. The index has been chosen as the fund's target benchmark as it best reflects the scope of the fund's investment policy. The target benchmark is used solely to measure the fund's performance and does not constrain the fund's portfolio construction.

Risk profile

For details of the risks associated with this fund, please refer to the Prospectus. For details of the risk management policies, please refer to pages 13 to 15.

The following table shows the risk number associated with the fund and is based on Sterling Class 'A-H' shares.

The above number:

- is based on the rate at which the value of the fund has moved up and down in the past and is based on historical data so may not be a reliable indicator of the future risk profile of the fund.
- is not guaranteed and may change over time and the lowest risk number does not mean risk free.
- has not changed during this period.

Investment review

Performance against objective

Over the 12 months ending 31 January 2024, the fund delivered strong positive returns (the combination of capital growth and income) across all its sterling share classes. Performance lagged its benchmark, the ICE BofAML Global Floating Rate High Yield Index (3% constrained) USD hedged, which returned 14.1% over the period.

Over five years, the fund delivered positive returns across its share classes, but did not achieve its objective of providing a higher total return, net of the ongoing charge figure, over any five-year period versus the benchmark, which returned 6.3% pa over the period.

For the performance of each share class, please refer to the 'Long-term performance by share class' table in the 'Fund performance' section of this report.

Performance review

The M&G Global Floating Rate High Yield Fund is designed to provide an attractive level of income, along with a natural hedge against rising interest rates, by investing mainly in floating rate notes (FRNs). These are securities whose interest payments, or coupons, are periodically adjusted depending on the change in a reference interest rate.

If interest rates rise, investors in FRNs will benefit from a higher income as coupons are automatically adjusted upwards (equally, should interest rates fall, then the coupons will be adjusted downwards).

The fund invests predominantly in FRNs issued by high yield (HY) companies, so called because they generally pay relatively high rates of interest to compensate investors for the greater risk that they might fail to repay the money they have borrowed.

Global bonds delivered solid returns in the period under review, as inflation moderated and major central banks reached the end of their tightening cycle. Sentiment improved significantly amidst a broad market rally at the end of 2023. Indications of a dovish pivot in monetary policy (interest rate cuts) from the US Federal Reserve sparked a powerful two-month rally in core government bonds, benefiting all segments of the fixed income market. Global high yield bonds outperformed investment grade credit and government bonds during the period under review.

For most of 2023, government bond yield curves were inverted (short-term bond yields were higher than longer-term bond yields) because of the steep rate hikes and the possibility of a higher-for-longer interest rate scenario. FRNs, which are pegged to the front (shorter) end of the yield curve, were an effective way to exploit the carry pick-up available at the front-end of the sovereign yield curves. A carry trade involves borrowing at a lower interest rate and simultaneously investing in instruments that pay a higher interest rate. By late 2023, FRNs were delivering a yield advantage of more than one percentage point as compared to longdated bonds, while being exposed to much lower duration risk (sensitivity to changes in interest rates) than their longer-dated counterparts.

As a result, HY FRNs were the standout performer, with double-digit returns. Their floating rate coupons have enabled them to withstand the heightened volatility in government bond markets, while benefiting from an attractive level of carry and a benign default environment.

The fund underperformed its benchmark, with defensive credit positioning being the main drag on relative performance. Both asset allocation and security selection detracted.

Having no exposure to banking and below-benchmark exposure to financial services weighed on performance. In contrast, our off-benchmark credit default swap (CDS) index position, held for diversification and liquidity purposes, contributed positively to returns. The below-benchmark position in leisure also added to relative returns, but this was offset by belowbenchmark exposure to higher risk securities, which detracted in the strong rally in riskier assets that took place in the fourth quarter of 2023.

Our choices in financial services, leisure and capital goods detracted the most, while selections within services, automotive and healthcare contributed positively.

Relative to the benchmark, top contributors included vending machine operators Selecta and EVOCA, as well as Leather 2, parent of premium leather brand Pasubio. Leading detractors were Germany-based PrestigeBidCo, Danish logistics firm SGL and auto-parts manufacturer Novafives.

Investment activities

We maintained a high level of physical FRN exposure, which we felt offered better value than synthetic equivalents. The fund is more defensively positioned than its benchmark, avoiding distressed names and favouring sectors with resilient cashflow and low inflation sensitivity. We remain underweight in financial services and hold no exposure to banking or real estate.

Primary market activity was subdued early in the review period. Nevertheless, we participated in new deals from Italmatch (chemicals), and refinancings by Limacorporate (orthopaedics) and iQera (debt recovery). Following the March banking failures, we took advantage of market weakness to switch half of our CDS index holdings into more attractively priced instruments.

With the primary FRN market picking up, we participated in various new deals, including Travelodge (hotels), Monitchem 3 (chemicals), Bormioli Pharma (pharmaceutical packaging), Cheplapharm Arzneimittel (pharmaceuticals), Cedacri Mergeco (software), Lottomatica (lotteries), Assemblin (building systems) and Cirsa Finance International (gaming). We also took part in some refinancing deals such as Iceland Bondco (supermarket) and topped up larger holdings including EVOCA, Cedacri Mergeco, United (media and telecommunications) and TeamSystem (software).

After a guiet summer period, we continued to add to existing holdings, including Parts Europe (auto parts), Cerved (technology), Q-park (car parks), Kapla (construction machinery), 888 (gambling) and Novafives in the secondary market.

Towards the end of the review period, we participated in several new FRN issues including Kapla, United, Cirsa Finance International and Goldstory (jewellery). We also trimmed our exposure to Multiversity (higher education), EVOCA and Stonegate (pub) after good performances, while reducing our holdings in Pfleiderer (wood products) and Garfunkelux Holdco (financial services) on refinancing concerns.

We believe the risk-reward profile of HY FRNs remains compelling, as interest rates are likely to stay elevated for longer than previously anticipated. Continued strength in the US economy and labour market lends weight to the argument of delayed interest rate cuts.

HY corporate issuer fundamentals have, so far, held up reasonably well. This is largely thanks to buoyant consumption and pre-emptive corporate refinancings that have enabled issuers to lengthen their maturity profile at attractive rates.

Nevertheless, as developed economies slow and the impact of higher interest rates starts biting into corporate balance sheets, we would expect to see an uptick in default rates. Our base case scenario remains that of a mild default cycle, which would not be too damaging for the corporate sector. However, should default rates increase more aggressively, HY FRNs can play an important role towards capital protection thanks to their senior-secured status in a company's capital structure, meaning that they take precedence over other instruments in being repaid to investors in case the company cannot pay all its debts.

With attention turning to the likelihood of a slowdown, fundamental credit research will prove critical to capital preservation. From a sector perspective, we maintain our focus on more defensive and less cyclical parts of the economy.

Specific share class performance

The following comparative tables show the performance of each share class. All 'Performance and charges' percentages represent an annual rate except for the 'Return after operating charges' which is calculated as a percentage of the opening net asset value per share (NAV per share). 'Dilution adjustments' are only in respect of direct portfolio transaction costs.

'Operating charges' and 'Direct portfolio transaction costs' are calculated as a percentage of average net asset value. Where there is a change in the charging structure, you may see variances in the 'operating charges' between the comparative and current year figures.

The closing NAV per share shown may diverge from the highest and lowest share prices (used for dealing purposes) as at the balance sheet date due to accounting and valuation adjustments.

b Prior to 31 March 2016 the benchmark was the ICE BofAML Global Floating Rate High Yield (GBP Hedged) Index. Thereafter it is the ICE BofAML Global Floating Rate High Yield 3% Constrained (GBP Hedged) Index.

18 Market risk sensitivity and exposure

The VaR limit set during the period to 5 March 2023 was 20% (2023: 20%).

The VaR limit set during the period from 6 March 2023 was two times the benchmark.

The lowest, highest and average VaR, as well as utilisation of VaR with reference to the limit above, are calculated during the financial years ended 31 January 2024 and 31 January 2023.

20 Leverage risk

Funds using VaR approaches are required to disclose the level of leverage employed during the financial reporting period.

Derivatives can be used by the fund to generate market exposure to investments exceeding the net asset value. As a result of this exposure, the size of any positive or negative movement in markets may have a more significant effect on the net asset value of the fund.

The lowest, highest and average level of leverage employed and utilisation of the leverage level calculated during the financial years ended 31 January 2024 and 31 January 2023 are disclosed in the table below. Leverage has been calculated using the Gross Sum of Notional Approach for derivative positions only (including forward currency contracts) and excludes all physical holdings. Percentages are expressed with reference to fund valuation.

21 Exchange rate risk for hedged share classes

This fund contains hedged share classes. These share classes operate currency hedges designed to reduce the impact of exchange rates in certain circumstances. As a result, profit and loss on the currency hedges may impact the liquidity of the overall fund. On a day to day basis this is monitored using reporting from the outsourced provider of the hedged share class service. On an ongoing basis the size of the hedged share classes is monitored to ensure that unforeseen exchange rate volatility can be adequately managed without significantly impacting all shareholders.

Financial statements and notes

The exposure to forward currency contracts for share class hedging at the year-end accounting date is disclosed in the portfolio statement on page 115.

22 Interest distribution tables

This fund pays quarterly interest distributions and the following table sets out the distribution periods.

Quarterly distribution periods

|                | Start    | End      | Xd       | Payment  |
|----------------|----------|----------|----------|----------|
| First interim  | 01.02.23 | 30.04.23 | 02.05.23 | 30.06.23 |
| Second interim | 01.05.23 | 31.07.23 | 01.08.23 | 30.09.23 |
| Third interim  | 01.08.23 | 31.10.23 | 01.11.23 | 31.12.23 |
| Final          | 01.11.23 | 31.01.24 | 01.02.24 | 31.03.24 |

The following tables set out for each distribution the rates per share for both Group 1 and Group 2 shares.

Group 1 shares are those purchased prior to a distribution period and therefore their income rate is the same as the distribution rate.

Group 2 shares are those purchased during a distribution period and therefore their distribution rate is made up of income and equalisation. Equalisation is the average amount of income included in the purchase price of all Group 2 shares and is refunded to the holders of these shares as a return of capital. Being capital it is not liable to Income Tax. Instead, it must be deducted from the cost of shares for Capital Gains Tax purposes. The tables below show the split of the Group 2 rates into the income and equalisation components.

Remuneration

The below disclosure is made in accordance with Undertakings for Collective Investments in Transferable Securities ('UCITS') V and the Guidelines on sound remuneration policies under the UCITS issued by the European Securities and Markets Authority ('ESMA Guidelines').

M&G Securities Limited (the 'UCITS Management Company') is subject to a remuneration policy which is consistent with the principles outlined in the ESMA Guidelines.

The remuneration policy is designed to ensure that any relevant conflicts of interest can be managed appropriately at all times and that the remuneration of employees is in line with the risk policies and objectives of the UCITS funds managed by the UCITS Management Company. Further details of the remuneration policy can be found here: mandgplc.com/ our-business/mandg-investments/mandg-investmentsbusiness-policies

The remuneration policy and its implementation is reviewed on an annual basis, or more frequently where required, and is approved by the M&G plc Board Remuneration Committee. The most recent review found no fundamental issues with no material changes made to the policy.

M&G Securities Limited is required under UCITS to make quantitative disclosures of remuneration. These disclosures are made in line with M&G's interpretation of currently available guidance on quantitative remuneration disclosures. As market or regulatory guidance evolves, M&G may consider it appropriate to make changes to the way in which quantitative disclosures are calculated.

The 'Identified Staff' of M&G Securities Limited are those who could have a material impact on the risk profile of M&G Securities Limited or the UCITS funds it manages and generally includes senior management, risk takers and control functions. 'Identified Staff' typically provide both UCITS and non-UCITS related services and have a number of areas of responsibility. Therefore, only the portion of remuneration for those individuals' services which may be attributable to UCITS is included in the remuneration figures disclosed. Accordingly the figures are not representative of any individual's actual remuneration. The information needed to provide a further breakdown of remuneration is not readily available and would not be relevant or reliable.

The amounts shown below reflect payments made in respect of the financial year 1 January 2022 to 31 December 2022.
