III Operations of the Fund Custody Business

As a pioneer in China in providing custody services, ICBC has been the first provider in custodianship since 1998 by adhering to the tenet of “Honesty, Diligence” and coupled with reliance on a rigorous system of scientific risk management and internal control, standardized management, advanced operating system and professional service team, strict compliance with the duties of an asset custody manager in providing safe, highly efficient, professional custody services for numerous domestic and foreign investors, financial assets management institutions and corporate clients, characterized by its excellent market image and influence. It has established the most experienced and matured product range amidst domestic banks offering custody services. It has a custody product system of comprehensive varieties, which includes securities investment funds, trust assets, insurance assets, social security funds, basic endowment insurance, corporate pension funds, QFII assets, QDII assets, equity investment funds, collective asset management plans of securities companies, targeted asset management plans of securities companies, credit asset securitization of commercial banks, asset management for specific clients of fund companies, client-directed QDII asset accounts, and escrow. It is the pioneer in China to carry out value-added services such as performance evaluation and risk management, thus providing personalized custody services for different types of customers. As at the end of 2017, ICBC provided custody services to a total of 815 securities investment funds. Since 2003, ICBC has for 14 consecutive years received 54 awards for the best custodian bank rated by domestic and overseas authoritative financial media, such as “Asia Money” from Hong Kong, “Global Custodian” from the UK, “The Asset Magazine” from Hong Kong, “Global Finance” from the USA, “Securities Times” and “Shanghai Securities News” from Mainland China. It has received the most awards amidst domestic custodian banks in China and its superior customer services have been persistently recognized and extensively acclaimed by domestic and overseas financial sectors.

IV Fund Custodian's Internal Control System

Since its inception, ICBC Asset Custody Division has undergone rapid development in its various types of business and has maintained its superior position in the asset custody business. It has been achieved by its practice of “undergoing business expansion while building internal control”. The Asset Custody Division emphasizes great importance to improvement and strengthening of internal risk prevention and control, exquisite nurturing of a culture for internal control, optimization of the risk control mechanism and strengthening of business projects as a full-range risk management process of vitality, while proactively expanding various types of custody business. It has passed the most authoritative ISAE3402, which assesses the internal control and security measures of an organization, for eleventh times in 2005, 2007, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, and 2017, and received a “no reservations” report on its internal control and effectiveness. It fully shows an independent third party’s full recognition of the soundness and effectiveness of the risk management and internal control of our custody services. It also proves that the risk control capability of ICBC in terms of custody services is in line with the major international custodian banks, and up to the advanced international standard. Currently, ISAE3402 examination has become an annualized and standardized measure for internal control.

1. Objective for Internal Risk Control

To ensure that the business operation is in strict compliance with the relevant laws and regulations in China as well as the regulatory rules of the industry, in order to strengthen and establish the operational concept and style of law-abiding and standardized operations to create an internal control system with standardized operations, scientific management and systematic regulation; to prevent and resolve operational risks and ensure the safety and integrity of the assets under custody; to secure the interests of the holders; and to safeguard the safe, effective and stable operations of asset custody business.

2. Organizational Structure of Internal Risk Control

The organizational structure of the ICBC Internal Risk Control for its asset custody business is jointly formed by ICBC Audit Department (Internal Control Compliance, Internal Audit) and the risk control office and various business offices under asset custody division. The Audit Department of the head office is responsible for formulating the risk management policy of the entire bank, and for the supervision and guidance of the risk management activities of each business department. The Asset Custody Division has set up a dedicated internal risk control team for auditing with specialized auditors, so as to carry out independent auditing of the business under the leadership of the General Manager and in accordance with the relevant Laws and Regulations. Each business office, within its respective scope of duty, implements specific risk control measures.

3. Internal Risk Control Principles

- (1) Principle of Legality. The internal control system shall meet the regulatory requirements of the national Laws and Regulations and regulatory agencies, and be applied to all operation and management activities of custody business.
- (2) Principle of Integrity. The various operation and management activities of the custody business must be governed by appropriate regulatory procedures and supervision; supervision shall be applied to the entire process and each operational link of custody business covering all departments, positions and personnel.
- (3) Principle of Timeliness. Custody business activities must be accurately and timely recorded as they occur. In accordance with the principle of “internal control on priority”, the relevant rules and regulations must have already been established by the time new organizations or new business varieties are created.
- (4) Principle of Prudence. All business activities must be guarded against risks and must be prudently managed, ensuring security and integrity of the fund assets and other entrusted assets.
- (5) Principle of Effectiveness. Internal control system must be improved and modified promptly in accordance with national policies, laws and operational needs, and be assured of full implementation without any exceptions for space, time and personnel.
- (6) Principle of Independence. Set up a dedicated management department to carry out the duties of a custodian; direct operational personnel and control personnel must be relatively independent from each other and properly separated; the department responsible for checking and reviewing the internal control system must be independent from the department which develops and implements the internal control system.

4. Implementation of Internal Risk Control Measures

- (1) Strict segregation system. Asset custody business and traditional business are strictly segregated; a series of rules and regulations such as clear job responsibilities, scientific business processes, detailed operational manuals, and strict normalization for personnel conducts are established; good firewall segregation system is set up to ensure independence for assets, environment, personnel, business system, management and network.
- (2) Checking by senior management. As the one who designs and manages ICBC custody business policies and strategies, the bank leadership and the senior management of departments require timely reports from subordinate departments on the operational management and special circumstances, so as to inspect the actual progress of realizing the objectives of internal control, and to propose internal control measures according to inspection results, to supervise the function management departments to improve.
- (3) Personnel control. The Asset Custody Division strictly implements the system of position accountability and establishes the three defensive lines of control: “self-control”, “mutual control” and “supervisory control”, in order to improve the performance evaluation and incentive mechanism, so as to build a “people oriented” internal control culture, enhance the sense of responsibility and honour of the staff, and foster team work and core competitiveness. Through regular and targeted business and occupational ethics training and the signing of the letter of undertaking, the staff will have the concept for prevention and control of risks.

- (4) Operational control. In order to optimize use of resources and maximize efficiency, the Asset Custody Division launches all sorts of business marketing activities and deals with all sorts of work through planning and budgeting to effectively control, allocate and organize resources.
- (5) Internal risk management. Through auditing, monitoring, risk assessment and other means of enhancing internal risk management, the Asset Custody Division carries out regular or irregular inspection and monitoring on the business operations, and provides guidance for the business department on risk identification and assessment, to develop and implement risk control measures, coupled with investigation for hidden risks.
- (6) Data security control. We achieve data security by means of the relative independence of business operating zones, data and fax encryption, backup of data transmission circuit, application of monitoring facilities and other means of security for data safety.
- (7) Emergency preparedness and Response. The Asset Custody Division has set up a specialized Disaster Recovery Centre and developed a comprehensive disaster recovery program based on four levels - data, applications, operation, and environment to organize the personnel for regular drills. In order to make the drills more similar to the actual emergency, the Asset Custody Division has continuously upgraded the standard of the drills from organizing scheduled drills initially to “doing random drills” currently. Judging from the outcome of the drills, the Asset Custody Division is fully capable of resuming business operations within 2 hours after any disastrous incidents.

5. Internal risk control situation of the Asset Custody Division

- (1) The Asset Custody Division has set up a specialized audit and supervision department with specialized audit inspectors. Under the leadership of the General Manager, the department implements the practical concept of complete supervision process in accordance with the relevant Laws and Regulations to ensure a healthy and stable development of asset custody business.
- (2) Optimize the organizational structure, and implement the entire staff risk management. A robust risk management system requires joint participation of every senior and junior employee, which is the only way to bring about the comprehensive and effective risk control mechanism and measures. The Asset Custody Division imposes risk management on all of its employees, with the responsibility of risk control rests with the specific business departments and business positions. Each employee bears responsibility for the risk control within his/her scope of work through the establishment of an internal organizational structure featuring the vertical two-men system and the horizontal multi-departments system to form an organizational structure of mutual inspection and balance among different departments and different positions.

- (3) Establish a robust system of policies and rules. The Asset Custody Division emphasizes the importance of constructing internal control system with consistent adherence to risk prevention and control philosophy integrating into various job responsibilities, policy setting and the workflow. After years of efforts, the Asset Custody Division has established a set of internal risk control system, which includes job responsibilities, business operating process, audit monitoring system, information disclosure system, covering all departments, job positions and business processes, and creates mutual checks and balances among all business links.
- (4) Internal risk control has always been one of the top priorities of the Asset Custody Division, and as important as business development. The asset custody business is an emerging intermediate business for commercial banks. Since its inception, the Asset Custody Division has placed emphasis on standardized operation, and has put the creation of a systematic and highly effective risk prevention and control system on top priority. Following the changes in the market environment and the rapid development of the asset custody business, new problems and new situations have continued to crop up. The Asset Custody Division has always placed equal importance to risk control and business development, and considered risk prevention and risk control as the lifeline forth survival and development of the asset custody business.

V Methods and Procedures for the Fund Custodian to Supervise Fund Manager's Operation

Pursuant to the Funds Law, the Fund Contract, the Custodian Agreement and relevant fund regulations, the Fund Custodian shall supervise and verify legality and compliance concerning the investment scope and target investment of the Fund, the proportion of investment and financing of the Fund, prohibited activities regarding the investment of the Fund, the bond market among the participating banks of the Fund, calculation of the Fund's net asset value, calculation of the net asset value per Fund Unit, the availability of receivables, the confirmation of expenses and income of the Fund, distribution of the Fund's income, the disclosure of relevant information, and the publication of performance data of the Fund in the marketing materials of the Fund. In particular, supervision and inspection of the proportion of the Fund's investment starts after six months from the effective date of the Fund Contract.

In the event of discovering that the Fund Manager has violated the Funds Law, the Fund Contract, the Custodian Agreement of the Fund or any relevant fund regulations, the Fund Custodian shall promptly notify the Fund Manager in writing for rectification within a time limit. Upon receipt of the notification, the Fund Manager shall promptly verify and reply to the Fund Custodian in writing for acknowledgement. The Fund Custodian reserves the right within the time limit to review the incident at any time, supervise and urge the Fund Manager to make rectification. Should the Fund Manager fail to redress the non-compliant issue as informed by the Fund Custodian within the time limit, the Fund Custodian shall report the matter to the CSRC.

The Fund Custodian shall immediately report to the CSRC, in the event of discovering any significant non-compliant misconduct committed by the Fund Manager and inform the Fund Manager simultaneously for the purpose of rectification within a time limit.

Section VI Effective Fund Contract

I. Effective Date of the Fund Contract

The Fund Contract is effective from November 23, 2010 and has been under the management of the Fund Manager since that date.

II. Number of Fund Unitholders and Size of Assets for the Duration of the Fund

After the Fund Contract becomes effective, if it continues for 20 consecutive business days that the number of Fund Unitholders falls below 200 or the NAV of the Fund falls below RMB 50 million, the Fund Manager shall disclose the situation to the CSRC. If such situation continues for 20 consecutive business days, the Fund Manager shall explain with reasons and provide a resolution plan to the CSRC.

Where the applicable Laws and Regulations provide otherwise, such provisions shall prevail.

Section VII Subsequent Subscription, Redemption and Switching of Fund Units

I. Venues of Subsequent Subscription and Redemption

Sales Institutions for the Fund include the Fund Manager and the Sales Institutions appointed by the Fund Manager.

Investors shall process the Subsequent Subscription and Redemption of fund units at the place of business of which the Sales Institutions deal with the sales of the Fund or by other means provided by the Sales Institutions. The Fund Manager may change, add or reduce the number of Sales Institutions under different circumstances and may announce accordingly

1. Direct Sales Institutions of the Company;
2. Sales Institutions: Business outlets of commercial banks or other institutions which are qualified for offering the Fund. (Please see Section V of the Prospectus for details.)

II. Business Day and Business Hours for Subsequent Subscription and Redemption

The Fund Contract has become effective on November 23, 2010, and has commenced the routine businesses, such as Subsequent Subscription and Redemption, etc. since January 24, 2011.

Investors shall apply for Subsequent Subscription and Redemption of Fund Units on a Business Day. The Business Day for Class “A” Fund Units is the trading day of Shanghai Stock Exchange and Shenzhen Stock Exchange; the Business Day for Class “H” Fund Units is the simultaneous trading day of Shanghai Stock Exchange, Shenzhen Stock Exchange, and Hong Kong Stock Exchange (except when the Fund Manager announces a suspension of Subsequent Subscription and Redemption). The specific business hours of a Business Day is set out in the Prospectus, or otherwise announced.

If there are any new securities trading market or any changes in the trading hours of the exchange or needs in actual situation, the Fund Manager may adjust the hours for Subsequent Subscription and Redemption, but an announcement relating to such adjustment shall be made on the Designated Media at least 2 days before the implementation day of such adjustment.

III. Limitation on the Amount of Subsequent Subscription and Redemption

1. The minimum amount of the initial Subsequent Subscription shall be RMB 10 for each fund account opened with Sales Institutions or for each fund account via the online trading system of the Fund Manager (currently accessible to individual investors only). For details on the minimum Subsequent Subscription amount of additional Subsequent Subscription and the differential investment amounts, please see the announcements at the outlets of Sales Institutions. Where the Sales Agencies have different requirements, Investors shall observe the relevant business requirements of the Sales Institution when they carry out the above business at the Sales Institution.
2. The minimum number of fund units redeemed, switched/switched out and held by the Fund Unitholders at the Sales Institutions is adjusted to 1 unit. If the reduction of holding of fund units of an investor on one day may result that the number of fund units retained in the same trading account at the Sales Institution is less than 1 unit, the Registrar has the right to enable an automatic Redemption on all remaining fund units. Where the Sales Agencies have different requirements, Investors shall observe the relevant business requirements of the Sales Institution when they carry out the above business at that Sales Institution.
3. When accepting a Subsequent Redemption application poses a potentially significant adverse impact on the interests of Fund Unitholders, the Fund Manager shall set a ceiling for the single investor's Subsequent Subscription amount or a single day's net Subsequent Subscription ratio of the Fund, reject Substantial Subsequent Subscription, suspend Subsequent Subscription of the Fund or adopt other measures to effectively protect the legitimate rights and interests of Fund Unitholders. The Fund Manager may adopt the above measures to control the size of the Fund based on the needs of investment operation and risk control. Please refer to relevant announcements for specific provisions.
4. The Fund Manager may, according to the market situation and to the extent permitted by the Laws and Regulations, adjust the limitations on amount of Subsequent Subscription and the quantity of redeemed fund units as stated above. The Fund Manager must, prior to the adjustment becomes effective, make an announcement on at least one of the Designated Media according to the relevant provisions of Measures on Information Disclosure and report to the CSRC for record.

IV. Principles of Subsequent Subscription and Redemption

1. The principle of “forward pricing” means the prices for Subsequent Subscription or Redemption are calculated on the basis of the NAV per Fund Unit calculated after the closing on the date of application;
2. The principle of “Subsequent Subscription by Amount and Redemption by Unit” means the applications for Subsequent Subscription are made by amount, while the applications for Redemption are made by unit;
3. The principle of “first in, first out” which applies to Redemption means Redemption shall be processed in the order of priority of the Subsequent Subscription and Redemption made by Investors;
4. Any application for Subsequent Subscription or Redemption may be canceled on the same day within a period of time specified by the Fund Manager;
5. The Fund Manager may adjust the above principles according to the actual situation of the operation of the Fund without prejudice to the substantial interests of the Fund Unitholders.
6. The currency used for the Subsequent Subscription and Redemption of both Class “A” and Class “H” Fund Units is RMB. The Fund Manager may however accept Subsequent Subscription and Redemption in other currencies on conditions that no laws or regulations are breached and an agreement has been made with the Custodian.

The Fund Manager must make an announcement on the Designated Media pursuant to the relevant provisions in the Measures on Information Disclosure before the new rules become effective and shall report to CSRC for the record.

V. Procedures for Subsequent Subscription and Redemption

1. Application for Subsequent Subscription and Redemption

Investors shall, according to the procedures specified by Sales Institutions of the Fund, submit the applications for Subsequent Subscription or Redemption to the Sales Institutions of the Fund during the business hours on a Business Day.

Full payment shall be made by the Investors for Subsequent Subscription of the Fund. The Investors must have sufficient balance of fund units when they submit the application of Redemption. Otherwise, the applications for Subsequent Subscription and Redemption submitted will be invalid and shall not be processed.

2. Confirmation of Applications for Subsequent Subscription and Redemption

For applications accepted during the time specified on T Day, under normal circumstances, the Registrar of the Fund shall confirm the validity of the transactions of the Investors within T+1 Day.

Investors may enquire the transaction status of the Subsequent Subscription or Redemption from the Sales Institutions or by other means specified by the Sales Institutions after T+2 Day (inclusive).

The acceptance of applications for Subsequent Subscription or Redemption by Sales Institutions of the Fund does not mean that such applications must be successful, but only means that such applications for Subsequent Subscription or Redemption have been indeed received by the Sales Institutions. The confirmation of the applications shall be subject to the result of confirmation from the Registrar.

3. Payment for Subsequent Subscription and Redemption

The payment for Subsequent Subscription monies shall be made in full. If the Subsequent Subscription fund is not paid in full within the specified time, the Subsequent Subscription is deemed to be unsuccessful or invalid, the Subsequent Subscription monies shall be refunded to the Investor's account.

When the Investor's application for Redemption is successful on T Day, the Fund Manager will transfer the Redemption monies transfer to the accounts of the Fund Unitholders through the Registrars of the Fund and their relevant Sales Institutions of the Fund within T +7 Day (inclusive). In case of Substantial Redemption, the payment shall be made according to the relevant provisions of the Fund Contract.

VI. Subsequent Subscription Fee and Redemption Fee Rate

1. Subsequent Subscription Fee Rate

- (1) The Fund applies differential subscription fee rates. Where an investor applies for multiple Subsequent Subscriptions in one day, the applicable fee rate shall apply on every single transaction of Subsequent Subscription separately. The specific fee rates are as follows:

Subsequent Subscription Amount (M)	Subsequent Subscription Fee Rate
$M < \text{RMB } 1 \text{ million}$	1.5%
$\text{RMB } 1 \text{ Million} \leq M < 5 \text{ million}$	0.9%
$\text{RMB}5 \text{ million} \leq M < 10 \text{ million}$	0.3%
$M \geq 10 \text{ million}$	RMB 100 per transaction

- (2) The Subsequent Subscription fee of the Fund shall be borne by the subsequent subscribers of the Fund. Such Subsequent Subscription fees shall not be credited to the property of the Fund, and are primarily used to cover various fees incurred by the marketing, sales, registration, etc.
- (3) Reduction or exemption on some of the Fund Unitholders' fees offered by the Fund Manager does not constitute the same obligations to other Investors.

2. Redemption Fee Rate

The Redemption fee of the Fund shall be charged when Redemption of the units of the Fund is made by Investors. The remaining amount after deducting the costs of marketing, registration fee and other handling charges shall be credited to the property of the Fund. A Redemption fee of not less than 1.5% shall be charged for the shares of the Fund sold in Mainland China that have a sustained holding period of less than 7 days, and the full amount of the above Redemption fees shall be credited to the property of the Fund; for the shares of the Fund with a sustained holding period of 7 days or more, the Redemption fee credited to the property of the Fund shall not be less than 25% of the total Redemption fee. The Redemption fee rate shall be diminished against the increase of the number of years of holding of the redeemed fund units, and the specific fee rates are as follows:

Duration of Redemption (N)	Redemption Fee Rate
$N < 7$ days	1.5%
$7 \text{ days} \leq N < 1 \text{ year}$	0.5%
$1 \text{ year} \leq N < 2 \text{ years}$	0.3%
$N \geq 2 \text{ years}$	0

3. Class C fee charging mode was enabled for the Fund on the online trading platform of the Company on May 23, 2014.

(1) Under the Class C fee charging mode, no Subsequent Subscription fee is applied, but Redemption fee is charged on the basis of length of time of holding, and a sales service fee is also charged. The specific fee rates are as follows:

Short Name of the Fund	Code	Sales Service Fee	Subsequent Subscription Fee	Class C Redemption Fee
GF Industry Leaders Mixed Assets Fund	270025	0.6%/year	0	Redemption fee rate at 1.5% for holding for less than 7 days; redemption fee rate at 0.5% for holding for more than 7 days (inclusive) but less than 30 days (inclusive); redemption fee rate at 0 for holding for more than 30 days

(2) Under the Class C fee charging mode launched for the Fund by the Company, the Redemption fee rates are charged on the following basis: 1. No Redemption fee rate for holding for more than 30 days from the date of confirmation of the Fund; 2. A Redemption fee rate of not less than 1.5% shall be charged to the Investors who hold the fund units continuously for less than 7 days, and the full amount of the above Redemption fees shall be credited to the property of the Fund; a Redemption fee rate of not less than 0.5% shall be charged to the Investors who hold the fund units continuously for more than 7 days

(inclusive) but less than 30 days (inclusive), and no Redemption fee rate shall be charged for holding for more than 30 days.

(3) Sales service fee is not disbursed from the fund assets. Instead, the sales service fee accrued on a daily basis in respect of Class C assets of each client is booked in each client's account in the registration system of the Company. The sales service fees shall be deducted from the Redemption or Switching monies of the clients when the clients make the Redemption or Switching.

4. The Company launched the Class C fee charging mode for its online trading platform on May 9, 2014. Switching between fund units under the Class C fee charging mode and those under the front-end fee charging mode is allowed, subject to GF Fund Management Co., Ltd Online Direct Sales Fund Switching Business Rules. For details on rules of Switching of fund units in respect of Class C fee charging, please refer to the Announcement on the Addition of Class C Fee Charging Mode on the Company's Online Trading of Some Funds of GF Fund Management Co., Ltd issued on May 9, 2014.

5. The Fund Manager may adjust the fee rates or the charging methods according to the relevant agreed provisions of the Fund Contract. The Fund Manager shall make an announcement on at least one of the Designated Media not later than 2 days prior to implementation of a new rates or charging methods.

6. The Fund Manager may establish some promotion schemes and launch some promotion activities for the Investors who conduct transactions of the Fund through specific trading modes (such as online trading and trading by phone, etc.) on a regular or irregular basis according to the market conditions, without any violation to the Laws and Regulations and the agreed provisions in the Fund Contract. .

VII. Basic Information on Newly Added Class “H” Fund Units

The original fund units of the Fund sold in Mainland China are renamed Class “A” Fund Units and the newly added type for the Fund Units to be sold in Hong Kong is named Class “H” Fund Units. Investors should be aware that the Class “H” Fund Units are sold in Hong Kong only. In case of subsequent subscription for the Fund, the investors in Mainland China shall select the subsequent subscription for Class “A” Fund Units.

Basic Information on Class “H” Fund Units:

1. Sales Territory and Sales Channel

Class “H” Fund Units are sold in Hong Kong only but not Mainland China. Only the intermediary authorized by the Hong Kong Securities and Futures Committee shall take charge of selling Class “H” Fund Units in Hong Kong in compliance with the applicable laws and regulations in Hong Kong

2. Sales Currency

Renminbi.

3. Subsequent Subscription, Redemption Business Days and Business Hours

The investor shall proceed with the subsequent subscription and redemption of the Fund Units on the business days, the business days of Class “A” Fund Units (that is, the type of fund units selling in Mainland China) refer to the trading days of Shanghai Stock Exchange and Shenzhen Stock Exchange. The business days of Class “H” Fund Units refer to the trading days in common of Shanghai Stock Exchange, Shenzhen Stock Exchange and Hong Kong Stock Exchange (other than the suspended subsequent subscription or redemption according to the announcement of the Fund Manager). The specific hours for proceeding with the subsequent subscription and the redemption refer to the business hours of the normal trading days of Shanghai Stock Exchange and Shenzhen Stock Exchange. The acceptance of the investor’s subsequent subscription and redemption of the Fund Units confirmed by the Registrars on the days and during the hours other than those agreed in the Fund Contract shall be subject to the respective prices for the subsequent subscription and the redemption of the same type of fund units on the following business day.

4. Confirmation on Subsequent Subscription and Redemption

For the application accepted during the time specified on the T Day, the Registrar of the Fund shall, under normal circumstances, confirm the validity of the investor’s transaction within T+1 Day.

5. Rate of Subsequent Subscription Fee and Redemption Fee

For Class “H” Fund Units, the maximum rate of the subsequent subscription fee shall not exceed 5% of the subsequent subscription amount and the rate of the redemption fee shall be 0.13%. The redemption fee shall be entirely credited to the property of the Fund.

VIII. Calculation of Subsequent Subscription Units and Redemption Amount

1. Calculation of Subsequent Subscription Units of the Fund:

Subsequent Subscription amount of the Fund consists of Subsequent Subscription fee and net Subsequent Subscription amount.

Net Subsequent Subscription amount = Subsequent Subscription amount / (1 + Subsequent Subscription fee rate)

Subsequent Subscription fee = Subsequent Subscription amount — Net Subsequent Subscription amount

Subsequent Subscription Units = Net Subsequent Subscription amount / NAV per Fund Unit on the day of Subsequent Subscription

For example, in the event that an Investor invests 10,000 Yuan for the Subsequent Subscription of the Fund and assuming that the NAV per Fund Unit on the day of Subsequent Subscription is 1.050 Yuan, Subsequent Subscription fee rate is 1.5%, the Subsequent Subscription units that the Investor can obtain will be:

Net Subsequent Subscription amount = $10,000 / (1 + 1.5\%) = 9,852.22$ Yuan

Subsequent Subscription fee = $10,000 - 9,852.22 = 147.78$ Yuan

Subsequent Subscription Units = $9,852.22 / 1.050 = 9,383.07$ units

That is, in the event that an Investor invests 10,000 Yuan for the Subsequent Subscription of the Fund, the corresponding Subsequent Subscription fee rate is 1.5% and assuming that the NAV per Fund Unit on the day of Subsequent Subscription is 1.050 Yuan, the Investor can obtain 9,383.07 units.

2. Calculation of Redemption Amount of the Fund:

The “Redemption by Unit” method is adopted. The Redemption price is calculated based on the NAV per Fund Unit on T Day and the formula is:

Total Redemption amount = redeemed Units × NAV per Fund Unit on T Day

Redemption fee = Total Redemption amount × Redemption fee rate

Net Redemption amount = Total Redemption amount – Redemption fee

For example, in the event that an Investor redeems 100,000 fund units that have been held for 100 days, the corresponding Redemption fee rate is 0.5% and assuming that the NAV per Fund Unit on the day of Redemption is 1.213 Yuan, the Redemption amount that the Investor can obtain is:

Total Redemption amount = $100,000 \times 1.213 = 121,300.00$ Yuan

Redemption fee = $121,300.00 \times 0.5\% = 606.50$ Yuan

Net Redemption amount = 121,300.00 — 606.50 = 120,693.50 Yuan

That is, in the event that an Investor redeems 100,000 fund units that have been held for 100 days and assuming that the NAV per Fund Unit on the day of Redemption is 1.213 Yuan, the net Redemption amount that the Investor can obtain is 120,693.50 Yuan.

3. Calculation of the NAV per Fund Unit of the Fund

The NAV per Fund Unit on T Day is calculated after closing of the market and published within T+1 Day. Under special circumstances, such calculation or announcement may be postponed as appropriate upon the consent of the CSRC is obtained. When calculating the NAV per Fund Unit of the Fund, the result shall be rounded at the fourth decimal place to the third decimal place. Any differences arising from such rounding shall be credited to the property of the Fund.

4. Method of Handling Subsequent Subscription Units and the Balance of Subsequent Subscription Units

The valid number of Subsequent Subscription units is calculated from Subsequent Subscription amount (net of corresponding fees) which is actually confirmed on the basis of the NAV per Fund Unit on the same day. The calculation result of Subsequent Subscription units shall be rounded to the second decimal place. Any differences arising from such rounding shall be credited to the property of the Fund.

5. Method of Handling Redemption Amount

The Redemption amount is calculated from the number of valid units redeemed which are actually confirmed on the basis of the NAV per Fund Unit on the same day and the corresponding fees are deducted. The calculation result of the Redemption amount shall be rounded to the second decimal place. Any differences arising from such rounding shall be credited to the property of the Fund.

IX. Registration of Subsequent Subscription and Redemption

After an Investor has made a successful Subsequent Subscription, the Registrar of the Fund will register the interests of the Investor and proceed the registration procedure on T+1 Day and the Investor will have the right to redeem the said fund units from T+2 Day (inclusive).

After an investor has made a successful Redemption, the Registrar of the Fund will proceed with the registration procedures of deducting the interests of the Investor on T+1 Day.

To the extent permitted by the applicable Laws and Regulations, the Fund Manager may adjust the above registration dates, but shall not affect in substance the legitimate interests of Investors, and make an announcement on at least one of the Designated Media no later than three Working Days before implementation.

X. Circumstances and Handling of Rejection or Suspension of Subsequent Subscription

Except under the following circumstances, the Fund Manager shall not suspend or reject the applications of Subsequent Subscription from the Investors of the Fund:

- (1) The Fund fails to operate normally due to reasons of Force Majeure;
- (2) The calculation of the NAV of the Fund for the day cannot be carried out due to the abnormal closure of stock exchanges during the trading hours;
- (3) The size of the fund assets shall be too large that results in the Fund Manager may fail to find any appropriate types of investment or may have adverse effect on the performance of the Fund and thus harm the interests of existing Fund Unitholders;
- (4) The quota for Mutual Recognition of Funds is insufficient for the Investors' Subsequent Subscription of Class "H" Fund Units;
- (5) If more than 50% of Net Asset Value of the Fund on the preceding Valuation Date does not have any active market price as reference and the use of valuation techniques would still cause significant uncertainty in the fair value, after consultation and confirmation with the Fund Custodians, the Fund Manager shall suspend accepting the Subsequent Subscription application of the Fund;
- (6) Other circumstances of possible suspension of Subsequent Subscription as stipulated by the provisions of Laws and Regulations or regulatory authorities;
- (7) A particular Subsequent Subscription on which the Fund Manager believes that it will or be harmful to the interests of existing Fund Unitholders, or accepting certain Subsequent Subscription application or some Subsequent Subscription applications may result in the proportion of the Fund Units held by a single investor reaching or exceeding 50%, or avoiding 50% concentration in a disguised form.

Upon any of the circumstances above, where the Fund Manager decides to reject or suspend accepting the Subsequent Subscription application of the investor, the Subsequent Subscription monies will be returned in full to the Investor. In the event of a suspension of Subsequent Subscription set out in the above paragraph (1) to (6), the Fund Manager shall make an announcement for such suspension of Subsequent Subscription on at least one Designated Media.

XI. Circumstances and Handling of Suspension of Redemption or Deferral Payment of Redemption Monies

Except upon the following circumstances, the Fund Manager shall not reject or suspend the applications for Redemption of either class of Fund Units from the Fund Unitholders or defer the payment of Redemption monies:

- (1) The Fund Manager is unable to pay the Redemption monies due to reasons of Force Majeure;
- (2) The calculation of the NAV of the Fund for the day cannot be carried out due to the abnormal closure of stock exchanges during the trading hours;
- (3) The occurrence of Substantial Redemption for two or more consecutive Business Days due to severe market fluctuations or other reasons which results in difficulties on cash payment by the Fund;

(4) If more than 50% of Net Asset Value of the Fund on the preceding Valuation Date does not have any active market price as reference and the use of valuation techniques would still cause significant uncertainty in the fair value, after consultation and confirmation with the Fund Custodians, the Fund Manager shall defer the payment of Redemption amounts or suspend accepting the Redemption application of the Fund;

(5) Other circumstances as stipulated by the provisions of Laws and Regulations or regulatory authorities.

Upon any of the above circumstance, the Fund Manager shall immediately report to the CSRC on the same day for record. For the Redemption applications that have already been accepted, the Fund Manager shall make full payment. If the full payment cannot be made for the time being, the Fund Manager may make a deferred and partial payment of Redemption monies which will be allocated to the applicants according to the ratio of the amount of accepted application of Redemption made from each applicant of Redemption to the total amount of accepted application of Redemption. The outstanding portion of Redemption monies shall be paid by the Fund Manager on the subsequent Business Day according to the corresponding handling measures established on the basis of different circumstances.

Meanwhile, upon the occurrence of the circumstances specified in paragraph (3) above, the payment of Redemption monies for the accepted Redemption applications may be deferred for not more than 20 Working Days, and an announcement shall be made on at least one Designated Media. When applying for Redemption, the Investors may choose in advance to withdraw the portion of Redemption that has not been accepted on that day.

In the event of a suspension of Redemption, the Fund Manager shall make an announcement for such suspension in a timely manner on at least one Designated Media.

When there is no such circumstances of suspension of Redemption, the Fund Manager shall resume the Redemption business on a timely basis and shall make an announcement on at least one Designated Media according to relevant provisions.

XII. Circumstances and Handling of Substantial Redemption

1. Determination of Substantial Redemption

If the net Redemption application of the Fund (i.e. the balance resulting from the total amount of Redemption application plus the total amount of units of switching-out in Fund switching, and minus the total amount of Subsequent Subscription application and the total amount of units of switching-in in Fund switching) on a single Business Day of the Fund is more than 10% of the total fund units on the day, it shall be deemed as a Substantial Redemption.

2. Handling of Substantial Redemption

In the case of a Substantial Redemption, the Fund Manager may decide, based on the prevailing status of the asset portfolio of the Fund, to accept the Redemption in full or to defer part of the Redemption.

(1) Full Redemption: If the Fund Manager believes it is able to pay for all of the Redemption application of the Investors, the Redemption shall be executed according to the normal redemption procedure.

(2) Partial Deferred Redemption: When the Fund Manager believes there are difficulties in the payment for all of the Redemption applications of the Investors, or believes that the payment for all of the Redemption applications of Investors may cause a relatively great fluctuation to the NAV of the Fund, the Fund Manager may defer payment for the remaining Redemption applications, provided that Redemptions accepted on that day shall not be less than 10% of the total fund units on the preceding day. For the Redemption applications of an individual Fund Unitholder, the Fund Manager shall determine the units of Redemption to be accepted of that individual Fund Unitholder based on the ratio of his/her units of Redemption application to the total number of units of Redemption applications. For the portion which the Investors is unable to redeem, apart from the unaccepted portion that the Investor may choose to withdraw when submitting the application for Redemption, such portion shall be proceeded on the next Business Day and the Redemption price shall be the price on the next Business Day. The Redemptions that have been carried forward to the next Business Day as required above are not entitled with priority, and so on and so forth until all the fund units have been redeemed. Partial deferred Redemption is not subject to the minimum number of units for a single Redemption.

(3) If there is Substantial Redemption in the Fund and the Redemption application of a single Fund Unitholder exceeds 20% of the total fund units on the preceding open day, the Fund Manager shall have the right to defer the handling of Redemption applications of such single Fund Unitholder exceeding such proportion (the Fund Unitholder may choose to withdraw the unprocessed part of the day when submitting the Redemption application), the remaining part of the Redemption application of such single Fund Unitholder and the Redemption applications of other accounts shall be handled according to the above-mentioned terms.

(4) Substantial Redemption announcement: When there is Substantial Redemption and deferred Redemption, the Fund Manager shall make an announcement on the Designated Media, the Fund Manager's company website or the Sales Outlets of the Sales Institution within two days, and shall submit it to the CSRC and the representative institution of the CSRC in which the Fund Manager's principal place of business is located for record on the date of public disclosure, and also give a notice stating the relevant treatment ways to the Fund Unitholders via mail, fax or other methods specified in the Prospectus.

In the event that there are Substantial Redemptions on the Fund on more than two consecutive days, the Fund Manager may suspend the acceptance of Redemption applications when it deems necessary. Payment of Redemption monies for the Redemption applications which have been accepted may be deferred for not more than 20 Working Days and the Fund Manager shall make an announcement on at least one Designated Media.

XIII. Announcement for Re-Opening of Subsequent Subscription or Redemption

If the suspension lasts for one day, the Fund Manager shall, on the day of re-opening, make an announcement about the re-opening of Subsequent Subscription or Redemption on at least one Designated Media and shall publish the NAV per Fund Unit on the latest Business Day.

If such suspension lasts for more than one day but less than two weeks, the Fund Manager shall make an announcement about the re-opening of Subsequent Subscription or Redemption on at least one Designated Media two Working Days in advance when the suspension concludes and the Subsequent Subscription and Redemption are re-opened, and shall publish the NAV per Fund Unit on the latest Working Day on the Business Day on which the Subsequent Subscription and Redemption are re-opened.

If such suspension lasts for two weeks or more, the Fund Manager shall publish an announcement of the suspension repeatedly at least once every two weeks during the suspension period. When the suspension concludes and the Subsequent Subscription or Redemption of the Fund are re-opened, the Fund Manager shall publish an announcement about the re-opening of Subsequent Subscription or Redemption consecutively on at least one Designated Media two Working Days in advance, and shall publish the NAV per Fund Unit on the latest Working Day on the day of re-opening of Subsequent Subscription and Redemption.

XIV. Fund Switching

For facilitating the Fund Unitholders and when all technical conditions and preparations are ready in the future, the Fund Manager may, in accordance with the relevant requirements of the Fund Manager, choose to proceed fund switching between the Fund and other funds managed by the Fund Manager. The specific provisions, such as restrictions on the amount for Fund Switching, and the Redemption fee rate, etc. shall then be otherwise provided and published by the Fund Manager. The Switching of the Fund's Class "H" Fund Units is temporarily not available. The Fund Manager may commence Fund Switching service for Class "H" Fund Units as soon as conditions are ripe, without the necessity of calling for a general meeting of the Fund Unitholders.

XV. Agency Transfer

The Fund has implemented the trading system of units custody. The Fund Unitholders may transfer the fund units they hold in one trading account into another trading account for trading. The specific procedures shall refer to the relevant provisions in Business Rules and the business rules governing the Sales Institutions of the Fund.

XVI. Regular Investment Plan

The Fund Manager can carry out a periodic investment plan for Investors, and specific rules shall be determined by the Fund Manager in the announcement published at that time and the updated Prospectus.

XVII. Non-trading Transfer of the Fund

The non-trading transfer refers the transfer of a certain number of fund units by trading means, such as Subsequent Subscription or Redemption, etc. from a fund account of an Investor to a fund account of another Investor in accordance with the relevant provisions.

The Registrars shall only accept non-trading transfers which are arising from inheritance, donation and judicial enforcement and are under other circumstances which are recognized by the Registrars. Where “inheritance” refers to the situation where a Fund Unitholder deceased and his/her fund units are inherited by the legal heir(s); “donation” refers to the situation where a Fund Unitholder donates his/her legally held fund units to any charity foundation or social groups; “judicial enforcement” refers to the situation where a judicial authority compulsorily transfers the fund units held by a Fund Unitholder to another natural person, legal person, social group or other organizations according to a valid judicial document. Regardless of any of the above-mentioned circumstances, the subject transferee shall comply with the requirements of Investors who hold units of the Fund as stipulated by the relevant Laws and Regulations and the Fund Contract. To process non-trading transfer, the relevant materials required by the Registrar of the Fund must be provided.

The Registrar of the Fund accepts the non-trading transfer under the above circumstances. Other Sales Institutions shall not proceed with such business.

Those applications for non-trading transfer that satisfy the conditions of application will be dealt in accordance with the relevant provisions in Business Rules.

XVIII. Freezing and Defrosting of the Fund

The Registrars of the Fund only accept the freezing and defrosting of fund units as required by competent authorities of the State in compliance with laws and the freezing and defrosting under other circumstances recognized by the Registrars. In the case that the fund units are frozen, whether the interests arising from the frozen fund units shall be frozen, it shall be decided pursuant to the Laws and Regulations of the State, regulatory rules and the requirements of the competent authorities of the State. Prior to the decision is made by the competent authorities of the State, the interests arising from the frozen fund units shall be firstly frozen together. The frozen fund units shall still participate in the income distribution and payment.

Section VIII Investments of the Fund

I. Investment Objectives

Through the macroeconomic cycle and the development trend of industry lifecycle, the Fund strives to achieve long-term stable and steady growth of its asset value by exploring and investing in leading enterprises in industries that possess good development prospects or are in the recovery phase.

II. Investment Scope

The investment scope of the Fund covers financial instruments with high liquidity including stocks, bonds and warrants that are issued and listed in the PRC according to law, and other financial instruments which are permitted for fund investment by the Laws and Regulations or by the CSRC. For any investment categories that are permitted for the Fund's investment by the Laws and Regulations or the regulators in the future, the Fund Manager can incorporate such investment categories into the investment scope of the Fund after fulfilling appropriate procedures.

The Fund is a mixed assets fund. The Fund's investment portfolio is in the following proportions: stock investment covers 60% - 95% of the Fund's assets, while cash, bonds, warrants and other securities permitted for the Fund's investment by the CSRC cover 5% - 40%. The market value of the warrants held by the Fund shall not be more than 3% of the NAV of the Fund, and the proportion of cash and government bonds with maturity less than one year in aggregate shall not be less than 5% of the NAV of the Fund, among which the cash shall exclude settlement provisions, guarantee deposits and Subsequent Subscription proceeds receivable etc.. More than 80% of the Fund's equity assets are invested in leading enterprises in industries with good development prospects or industries that are in the recovery phase.

III. Investment Philosophy

Due to the imbalance between supply and demand, economic growth undergoes a depression – recovery – boom – recession cycle. Cyclical fluctuations in the economy can have a profound impact on the fundamentals of industries, and the valuation of industries at different stages of the economic cycle will therefore change accordingly.

The Fund believes the price of stocks will eventually return to their intrinsic values. The Fund will therefore focus on industries with good development prospects or industries in the recovery stage, and invest in enterprises with good fundamentals that are leaders in these industries. Active stock selection strategy is used to achieve the objective of increasing the value of the Fund's assets.

IV. Investment Strategy

(1) Asset Allocation Strategy

1, Allocation of primary asset categories

The Fund is a mixed assets fund. The Fund's investment portfolio is in the following proportions: stock investment covers 60% - 95% of the Fund's assets, while cash, bonds, warrants and other securities authorized by the CSRC for the Fund's investment cover 5% - 40%. The market value of the warrants held by the fund shall not be more than 3% of the NAV of the Fund, and the proportion of cash and government bonds with maturity less than one year in aggregate shall not be less than 5% of the NAV of the Fund. More than 80% of the Fund's equity assets are invested in leading enterprises in industries with good development prospects or are in the recovery phase.

For any investment categories that are permitted for the Fund's investment by the Laws and Regulations or the regulators in the future, the Fund Manager can incorporate such investment categories into the investment scope of the Fund after fulfilling appropriate procedures.

The Fund uses the following methods in asset allocation:

- (a) Research on the macroeconomic situation carried out by integrated macroeconomic researchers, research on market trends carried out by strategy researchers and research on the value of industry investment carried out by industry researchers together constitute the "Asset Allocation Recommendations". The main indicators taken into consideration in asset allocation include: quarterly GDP and its constitution, consumers spending and income, industrial increase in value, import and export data and other macroeconomic indicators; national fiscal, monetary, industrial and other policies; cash requirement indicators such as IPO, issuance, placement, and cash supply indicators such as the people's incremental demand in security investment, funds and security dealers.
- (b) The investment committee holds regular and ad hoc meetings to determine the proportions of stocks, bonds and cash in the Fund's portfolio through considering the Fund's investment objectives, market trends, risk control requirements and other factors in accordance with the "Asset Allocation Recommendations".

2, Sector Allocation Strategy

Different industries at different stages of the economic cycle exhibit different operational states. The Fund, utilizing the "GF industry-leaders evaluation system", combines industry qualitative and quantitative analysis with domestic and international macroeconomic environment and national policies when choosing industries with good development prospects or are in the recovery phase as a major focus in asset allocation.

The Fund's leading industries include those with good development prospects or those in the recovery phase. The Fund Manager will convene investment research joint meetings on a regular basis. At such meetings, based on quantitative analysis indicators such as industry life cycles and liquidity and qualitative analysis of competitions between industries etc., as well as weightings for different indicators under different macroeconomic environments and economic cycles, the Fund Manager will evaluate and rank the development prospects and investment value of various industries. Based on the results of the assessment, the Fund selects the top 60% of industry ranking as the Fund's main leading industries.

"GF industry-leaders evaluation system" mainly uses the qualitative and quantitative indicators for its assessment:

- (a) Quantitative analysis: ①Life cycle identification indicators, including industry sales growth, industry output value proportional to GDP, and industry profit margin; ② Liquidity indicators, including industry average inventory turnover rate, industry average accounts receivable turnover rate, etc.
- (b) Qualitative analysis: ①Analysis of impact of macroeconomic factors on industries; ② Analysis of impact of scientific and technological progress on industries; ③Analysis of industries competitive structure.

(2) Stocks Investment Strategy

The Fund adopts a framework of alternative pools for stock investment. The alternative pools of the Fund include the Primary Pool and the Secondary Pool. The Primary Pool is a unified investment scope of stocks for the funds managed by the Fund Manager. The selection criteria is mainly on the basis of the corporate valuation system of GF, and through study and research, stocks with excellent fundamentals will be selected and added into the Primary Pool.

The Secondary Pool is the stylish pool of the Fund. Based on the sector scope constituted during the sector allocation stage, and qualitative analysis of stocks in leading industries based on their status and position in the industry, governance structure, business performance, competitive advantage and innovation which, when combined with (P/E)/G, predicts primary business revenue growth rate and profit rate and other quantitative indicators, the Fund selects stocks of listed companies of high quality and relatively fair valuation in various industries which constitute the Secondary Pool of the Fund.

The specific indicators are as follows:

1. Qualitative analysis

In terms of qualitative analysis, the Fund is particularly interested in listed companies that: are representative of companies in the industry. This includes being representative of indicators such as output, revenue and profit, as well as being representative of growth trends.

have a sound governance structure, market-oriented operational mechanism and well-defined and realistic development strategy;

are capable of consistent and effective management;

hold good growth potential in its business performance;

enjoy a unique competitive advantage (for example, in products, costs or technologies) and possess patented technologies or monopolize certain resources; are innovative companies with innovative products, services, business processes, business model, management that are not easily imitated by competitors.

2. Quantitative analysis

The Fund uses (P/E) / G ratio as the main indicator for quantitative analysis. This indicator is a ratio derived from the price-earnings ratio and is obtained by dividing the price-earnings ratio by the growth rate in annual earnings per share (EPS). In general, the lower the (P/E) / G value, the greater the likelihood that the stock was undervalued.

The basic meaning of (P/E) / G ratio is: a relatively high P/E value is only acceptable if it is supported by sufficiently high growth potential, i.e., it can be used to identify stocks with a relatively low P/E ratio when compared to their profit growth rate.

The Fund uses the expected primary business revenue growth rate and the expected primary business profit rate as indicators to supplement quantitative analysis.

The reasons for using primary business revenue growth rate as supplement indicators for quantitative analysis are: ①primary business revenue growth rate is usually a leading indicator of a company's profit growth and an important indicator used in the analysis of investment value of a company; ②rapid growth in primary business revenue is usually indicative of an increase in market share, which is an important indicator of improvement in the competitiveness of the company that reflects the company's ability to grow continuously;; ③the analysis of expected primary business revenue growth rate is primarily based on the historical figures of primary business revenue, which has higher objectivity.

The expected primary business profit rate is another supplement indicator. This indicator reflects the profitability of the primary business and is an important indicator for evaluating the ability of the business. A high and stable index is indicative of high competitiveness and profitability in the company's primary business.

(3) Bond investment strategy

In respect of bond investment, the Fund adheres to the principle of prudent investment to control the risk in its bond investment. Specific strategies include interest rate forecasts, yield curve models, bond asset class allocation and bond analysis.

On the basis of reasonable interest rate expectations, the Fund will invest in bonds and control the risk in bond investment by means of duration management. When interest rates are expected to rise, the bond portfolio is held for a shorter duration so as to lower bond investment risk; when interest rates are expected to fall, the duration of bond investments may be lengthened as appropriate (subject to risk evaluation) to achieve higher investment return.

(4) Warrant investment strategy

Warrant is an ancillary investment instrument of the Fund, the investment principle of which is to favour the tightening of risk control and benefit the asset appreciation of the Fund.

In accordance with relevant rules, warrant investment by the Fund is currently subject to the following restrictions on investment proportions:

- 1, The total amount of warrants bought by the Fund on any trading day must not exceed 0.5% of the NAV of the Fund on the preceding trading day;
- 2, The market value of all warrants held by the Fund is capped at 3% of the NAV of the Fund;
- 3, All funds managed by the Fund Manager may together hold a maximum of 10% interest in any single warrant.

Where the Laws and Regulations or the regulators enact any new rules in the future, the latest rules shall apply to the Fund.

V. Basis for Investment Decisions and Investment Process

(i) Basis for Investment Decisions

In accordance with the provisions under Funds Law, the Fund Contract, Articles of Association and relevant Laws and Regulations, with safeguarding the interests of the Fund Unitholders as the highest standard.

(ii) Investment Decision Process

1. The Investment Decision Committee devises overall investment strategies.
2. The Department of Research and Development structures the alternative pools of stocks based on its own research findings or those of other institutes, tracks and studies prospective investment targets on a continuous basis and provides support to the decision-making in respect of each individual stock; the bonds research group of the Department of Fixed-Income Products provides support to bonds research;
3. The fund manager's team prepares the investment plan specific to each fund under its management, including asset allocation, sector mix and investment plan for heavyweight stocks, based on the investment strategies devised by the Investment Decision Committee and the resolutions passed by the joint meeting of the investment and research groups, combined with an analysis of the securities market, listed companies and investment timing.
4. The Investment Decision Committee debates over and analyzes the plan submitted by the fund manager's team and formulates a summary of decisions.
5. According to the summary of decisions, the fund manager's team structures the investment portfolio and details an operational plan, which is then submitted to the Central Trading Unit for implementation.
6. The Central Trading Unit acts in accordance with the applicable trading rules and gives feedback to the fund manager's team.
7. The performance assessment and risk management team of the Compliance Department focuses on the control of market risk and liquidity risk associated with the investment portfolio, assesses the performance of the Fund on a regular basis and submits a summary of comments and proposals for improvement based on the assessment to the Investment Decision Committee.

VI. Investment Restrictions

(1) Prohibited activities

To protect the lawful interests of the Fund Unitholders, the Fund may not conduct the following activities:

- 1, Security underwriting;
- 2, Granting loans or providing guarantee to other parties;
- 3, Making investments which are subject to unlimited liability;
- 4, Trading units of other funds, unless otherwise specified under the Laws and Regulations or by the CSRC;

- 5, Contributing capital to or trading stocks or bonds issued by the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian;
- 6, Trading securities issued by shareholders with which the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian has a shareholding relationship or by companies in which the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian has other material interests, or securities underwritten within the underwriting period;
- 7, Engaging in insider dealing, manipulation of security prices or other improper security trading activities; and
- 8, Other activities that are prohibited by the Laws and Regulations in force at the time, the CSRC or the provisions in the Fund Contract.

If the Laws and Regulations or the regulators abolish the provisions regarding the above prohibited activities, the Fund Manager may not be subject to the above restrictions after appropriate procedures are fulfilled.

(2) Investment Portfolio Restrictions

The investment portfolio of the Fund is subject to the following restrictions:

1. The market capitalization of shares of any single listed company held by the Fund may not exceed 10% of the NAV of the Fund;
2. All funds managed by the Fund Manager (including the Fund) may not together hold more than 10% interest in securities issued by a single company;
3. All open-end funds managed by the Fund Manager holding outstanding shares issued by a listed company shall be not more than 15% of the outstanding shares of such listed company; all portfolios managed by the Fund Manager holding outstanding shares issued by a listed company shall be not more than 30% of the outstanding shares of such listed company;
4. The balance of the Fund's capital invested in repurchase of bonds in the interbank market may not exceed 40% of the NAV of the Fund;
5. The total amount of warrants bought by the Fund on any trading day may not exceed 0.5% of the NAV of the Fund on the preceding trading day; The market capitalization of all warrants held by the Fund may not exceed 3% of the NAV of the Fund; All funds managed by the Fund Manager may not together hold more than 10% interest in any single warrant. Where the Laws and Regulations or the CSRC provide otherwise, such provisions shall prevail;
6. Cash or government bonds maturing in less than one year shall not be at a level less than 5% of the NAV of the Fund, among which the cash shall exclude settlement provisions, guarantee deposits and Subsequent Subscription proceeds receivable etc.;

7. The market capitalization of all Asset-Backed Securities (ABS) held by the Fund may not exceed 20% of the NAV of the Fund;

9. The proportion of the various types of ABS of the same original holder held by the Fund may not be more than 10% of the NAV of the Fund;
10. Various types of ABS of the same original holder invested in by all funds managed by the Fund Manager may not exceed 10% of the aggregate size of its various types of ABS;
11. Where the properties of the Fund are involved in the subsequent subscription of share issuance, the subscription amount reported may not exceed the total assets of the Fund, and the number of subscribed shares reported may not exceed the total number of shares to be offered by the issuer for this issuance;
12. The Fund may not violate the terms stipulated in the Fund Contract pertaining to investment scope and the investment proportions of the Fund;
13. The period to align the investment proportions of the Fund with the Fund Contract is 6 months;
14. The total market value of the Fund's active investment in liquidity restricted assets must not exceed 15% of the NAV of the Fund. Where the Fund is not compliant with the limitation of the proportion due to factors other than the Fund Manager such as fluctuations in the securities market, suspension of securities of listed companies and changes in fund size, the Fund Manager shall not take the initiative to increase the investment in liquidity restricted assets;
15. If the Fund and the private equity asset management products and other entities recognized by the CSRC are transaction counterparties which carry out reverse repurchase transactions, the qualification requirements for acceptable pledges shall be consistent with the scope of investment agreed in the Fund Contract;
16. Other restrictions on investment imposed by the Laws and Regulations and the regulators.

Where any of the abovementioned restrictions is lifted under the Laws and Regulations or by the regulators, the Fund will no longer be subject to the said restriction after the Fund Manager has fulfilled the appropriate procedures.

In addition to the provisions of items 6, 14 and 15 above, should the investment portfolio of the Fund become incompliant with the preceding restrictions owing to factors other than the Fund Manager, such as security market fluctuations, merger of listed companies or change in the size of the Fund etc., the Fund Manager shall make adjustments within 10 trading days to meet the relevant standard. Where the Laws and Regulations provide otherwise, such provisions shall prevail.

VII. Performance Comparison Benchmark

The performance comparison benchmark of the Fund is $80\% \times \text{CSI 300 Index} + 20\% \times \text{CSI Aggregate Bond Index}$.

If CSI Co. Ltd. ceases to compute these indices or changes the name of these indices, the Fund may change the performance comparison benchmark following filing with the CSRC and announce such change in a timely manner.

In case of any changes to the Laws and Regulations, or any other performance benchmark that is more authoritative and more widely accepted by the market is launched in the future, the Fund may change the performance comparison benchmark after the fulfilling the appropriate procedures and announce such change in a timely manner.

This benchmark is selected primarily for the following considerations:

1. As indices provided by a professional index provider, the CSI series provided by CSI Co. Ltd. enjoys certain competitive edge and influence in the market;
2. Among the CSI series, the CSI 300 Index is a representative index in the market and is ideal to serve as a comparison benchmark against for the stock investments of the Fund, while the CSI Aggregate Bond Index is able to better reflect the full picture of the bond market and is well suited to serve as a comparison benchmark for the bond investments of the Fund.

VIII. Risk-Return Profile

With its expected returns and risks higher than those of money market funds and bond funds but lower than equity funds, the Fund is a mixed assets fund that features relatively higher risks and higher returns among offer securities investment funds.

IX. Principles and methods pertaining to the Fund Manager's exercise of shareholders' rights

1. Does not seek shareholdings in listed companies and does not participate in the business management of listed companies;
2. Conducive to the safety and appreciation of the Fund's assets;
3. The Fund Manager exercises its shareholder's rights independently in accordance with the relevant national requirements, protecting the interests of the Fund Unitholders;
4. The Fund Manager exercises its creditor's rights independently in accordance with the relevant national requirements, protecting the interests of the Fund Unitholders.

X. Margin Facilities and Securities Borrowing of the Fund

The Fund may participate in margin facilities and securities borrowing in accordance with the relevant Laws and Regulations and policies in force at the time.

Section X Property of the Fund

I. Total Asset Value of the Fund

The Total Asset Value of the Fund is the sum total of the value of all securities and notes, the principal and interest of all bank deposits, the receivables from subsequent subscriptions of fund units and the value derived from other investments.

The main components are:

1. Bank deposits and receivables from interest;
2. Settlement provisions and accrued interest;
3. Payment of security deposit as per relevant regulations and interest receivables;
4. Receivables from settlement of securities transactions;
5. Receivables from subsequent subscription monies;
6. Equity investments and valuation adjustments of the same;
7. Bond investments and valuation adjustments of the same and accrued interest;
8. Warrants investment and valuation adjustments of the same;
9. Other investments and valuation adjustments of the same;
10. Other assets.

II. NAV of the Fund

The Net Asset Value (NAV) of the Fund is the Total Asset Value of the Fund net of all liabilities.

III. Fund Asset Account

The Fund shall open in the name of the Fund Custodian a cash settlement account and an custody designated account for cash settlement business of the Fund, and in the joint name of the Fund Custodian and the Fund a securities account. It shall also open in the name of the Fund an interbank bond custody account and report to the People's Bank of China for filing. The Fund accounts must be independent from those asset accounts owned by the Fund Manager, the Fund Custodian, the Fund Sales Agency and the Registrar, as well as the asset accounts of other funds.

IV. Custody and Disposal of Fund Assets

The property of the Fund is segregated from the property of the Fund Manager, the Fund Custodian and the Fund Sales Agency, and is under the custody of the Fund Custodian. The Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian cannot assume ownership of the property of the Fund. Any property and gains derived from the management and operations of the Fund and from other circumstances by the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall belong to the property of the Fund. The Fund Manager, the Fund Custodian, the Registrar and the Fund Sales Agency shall assume legal liability to the extent of their own assets. Their creditors shall not request to freeze, detain or exercise other rights on the assets of the Fund. The fund assets shall not be disposed of unless required by the Laws and Regulations and the Fund Contract.

Claims arising from management and operations of the property of the Fund by the Fund Manager shall not be used to offset against the debts arising from the property owned by the Fund Manager. Claims and debts arising from assets of different funds managed by the Fund Manager shall not be offset against each other.

Section XI Valuation of Fund Assets

I. Purpose of Valuation

The purpose of valuation of fund assets is to objectively and accurately reflect if there is preservation or appreciation of fund assets. The NAV per Fund Unit which is calculated on the basis of the NAV of the Fund determined after the valuation of the fund assets, is the basis of calculating the prices of Subsequent Subscription and Redemption of the Fund.

II. Valuation Day

The Valuation Day of the Fund refers to a normal business day of any related securities exchange and a non-business day on which the net value of the Fund is required to be disclosed in accordance with the Laws and Regulations of the State.

III. Valuation Objects

Assets and liabilities, such as stocks, bonds, warrants, principal and interest of bank deposits, etc.

IV. Valuation Procedures

The routine valuation of the Fund is conducted by the Fund Manager. After the valuation is completed by the Fund Manager, the valuation result shall be sent to the Fund Custodian by means that has been agreed by both parties. The Fund Custodian shall verify the valuation according to the Laws and Regulations, the valuation methods, time and procedures specified in the Fund Contract. If the valuation result is verified and is without any errors, the Fund Custodian shall send the valuation result to the Fund Manager by means that has been agreed by both parties. The review on the month-end, half-year-end and year-end valuations shall be conducted simultaneously with the checking of fund accounting records.

V. Valuation Methods

1. Valuation of equity securities which are listed on stock exchange

The equity securities (such as stocks, warrants, etc.) which are listed on stock exchange shall be valued by their market prices (closing prices) quoted on securities exchanges on the valuation day. In case there is no trading on the valuation day and no material changes on the economic environment and no major events of the securities issuers which might affect the prices of securities on the last trading day, those securities shall be valued by the market prices (closing prices) on the latest trading day. If there are material changes on the economic environment and there are major events on the securities issuers which might affect the prices of securities after the latest trading day, the latest trading market prices may be adjusted and the fair prices may be determined with reference to the prevailing market prices and material changes of similar types of investment.

2. Equity securities before listing shall be treated separately as follows:

(1) Stocks that are issued through bonus issue, capitalization issue, placement issue and secondary public offering of new shares shall be valued in the same way as the same stocks quoted on the stock exchanges on the valuation day or shall be valued at the market prices (closing prices) on the latest trading day if there is no trading on the valuation day;

(2) In case of unlisted stocks and warrants that are initially issued, valuation techniques shall be adopted to determine the fair value. In the event that it is difficult to calculate the fair value by valuation techniques in a reliable manner, such stocks shall be valued at cost;

(3) The stocks that are initially offered with definite locked-in period shall be valued in the same way as the same stocks listed on the stock exchanges after the listing of the same stock on the stock exchange. For the stocks that are not publicly offered and have definite locked-in period, they are valued at the fair values determined in accordance with the relevant provisions of the regulatory authorities or industry associations.

3. Valuation of fixed income products which are traded in stock exchange

(1) The fixed income products which are listed and traded or quoted or transferred in stock exchange shall be valued at the valuation net prices of the corresponding products on that day provided by a third party valuation agency (unless otherwise specified);

(2) The convertible bonds which are listed and traded in stock exchange are valued at the net prices which result from deducting the accrued interest of bonds included in the closing prices of convertible bonds from the closing prices on the valuation day;

(3) For the asset-backed securities and privately placed bonds which are quoted and transferred on stock exchange, valuation techniques shall be adopted to determine the fair value. In the event that it is difficult to calculate the fair value by valuation techniques in a reliable manner, such securities and bonds shall be valued at cost;

4. The fixed income products which are traded in the interbank market are valued at the valuation net prices of the corresponding products on that day provided by a third party valuation agency. If the bonds are not listed in the interbank market and the valuation prices have not been provided by any third party valuation agency, the bonds shall be valued cost.

5. Where the same securities are traded in two markets or more at the same time, they shall be valued respectively at the market where they are traded.

6. In case of the rights that are entitled by holding of stocks, valuation techniques shall be adopted to determine the fair value. In the event that it is difficult to calculate the fair value by valuation techniques in a reliable manner, such rights shall be valued at cost.

7. The stock index futures contracts invested by the Fund are in general valued at the settlement price on the day of valuation. If there is no settlement price on the day of valuation and there is no material change on the economic environment after the latest trading day, the settlement price on the latest trading day shall be adopted for valuation.

8. Treasury bond futures contracts are valued at the settlement price on the valuation day. If there is no settlement price on the day of valuation and there is no material change on the economic environment after the latest trading day, the settlement price on the latest trading day shall be adopted for valuation. Where provisions are otherwise stipulated in the Laws and Regulations in the future, such provisions shall be observed.

9. Should any conclusive evidence prove that valuation made by the aforesaid methods cannot objectively reflect the fair values, the Fund Manager may, pursuant to the specific circumstances and after consultation with the Fund Custodian, conduct a valuation at a price which better reflects the fair value.

10. Where mandatory provisions are stipulated in the Laws and Regulations and by the regulators, such provisions shall be observed. Where any new clauses are added, the valuation shall be made pursuant to the latest provisions of the State.

Where the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian discovers that the valuation of the Fund is in breach of the valuation methods and procedures stated in the Fund Contract and the provisions in relevant Laws and Regulations, or fails to provide sufficient protection to the interests of Fund Unitholders, the other party shall be informed immediately and both parties shall jointly investigate the reasons and shall negotiate for settlement.

In accordance with the relevant Laws and Regulations, the obligations of the calculation of the NAV of the Fund and the accounting and auditing of the Fund shall be assumed by the Fund Manager. The responsibility for the accounting of the Fund shall be assumed by the Fund Manager. Hence, for the accounting issues related to the Fund, if both parties cannot reach a consensus after full discussion on the principle of equality, the calculation result of the NAV of the Fund made by the Fund Manager shall be published.

VI. Confirmation of the NAV per Fund Unit and Handling of Valuation Errors

The calculation of the NAV per Fund Unit shall be round from the fourth decimal place to the third decimal place. When errors actually occur in the valuation and the calculation of the NAV per Fund Unit, the Fund Manager shall rectify immediately, and take reasonable measures to prevent further losses. If the error amounts to or exceeds 0.25% of the NAV of the Fund, the Fund Manager shall report to the CSRC for record. If the error amounts to 0.5% of the NAV per Fund Unit, the Fund Manager shall make an announcement, and report to the CSRC for record. Any losses caused to Investors by valuation errors of the Fund shall be borne by the Fund Manager. The Fund Manager shall have the right to claim faulty parties for the liabilities which shall not be borne by the Fund Manager.

For handling of errors, the parties to the Fund Contract agree as follows:

1. Types of Errors

In the course of operation of the Fund, if the Fund Manager, Fund Custodian, Registrars, Sales Institutions or Investors makes an error due to their own fault and causes any loss to other parties, the responsible party for the error shall be liable for and indemnify the party involved (“Impaired Party”) for its loss incurred by such error based on the following “Principles of Handling Error”.

The main types of the aforesaid errors include but are not limited to errors in declaration of information, errors in data transmission, errors in data calculation, errors from system failure and errors in placing instructions; errors arisen from technical reasons that cannot be foreseen, avoided or defied at the existing technical level of the industry shall be considered as Force Majeure and shall be treated pursuant to the following provisions.

Where any event of Force Majeure results in the loss or false treatment of the Investor’s trading information or other errors, the party who errs due to Force Majeure shall not be liable to indemnify other parties, provided that the party who obtains improper gains due to such errors shall be liable to return the improper gains.

2. Principles of Handling Errors

(1) In the event that an error has occurred, but has not caused any loss to the party concerned, the responsible party for the error shall coordinate with other parties in a timely manner to correct in time and the fees incurred in the process of rectifying the error shall be borne by the responsible party for the error. If any party suffers a loss the error not rectified in time, the loss incurred by parties involved shall be borne by the responsible party for the error. If the responsible party for the error has actively coordinating and an obliged party who has enough time to rectify but fails to do so, this party shall be liable for the corresponding compensation. The responsible party for the error shall confirm the corrections with the parties involved and shall ensure the error has been corrected.

(2) The responsible party for the error shall be liable for direct losses rather than indirect losses which may be caused to the parties involved, and shall only be liable to the direct parties involved with the error rather than any other third party.

(3) The party who obtains improper gains due to errors shall be obliged to return the improper gains. However, the responsible party for the errors shall be liable for the errors. If the party which obtains the improper gains does not return the improper gains in whole or in part and therefore incurring any loss of interests to other parties (“Impaired Party”), the responsible party for the valuation errors shall compensate the loss of the Impaired Party and shall be entitled to request the party who has obtained the improper gains to return the improper gains to the extent of the compensation amount paid by the responsible party for the errors. If the party who obtains the improper gains has returned this portion of improper gains to the Impaired Party, the Impaired Party shall return to the responsible party for the errors the exceeding amount which results from deducting its actual losses from the sum of the compensation amount received and the improper gains.

(4) The errors shall be adjusted to the correct situation as if the errors had not occurred.

(5) Where the responsible party for the error refuses to make compensation, the Fund Custodian shall claim the Fund Manager for the interests of the Fund and is entitled to require for indemnification or compensation of the fees and losses suffered thereby, if the loss of fund assets is attributable to the Fund Manager's fault. The Fund Manager shall claim the Fund Custodian for the interests of the Fund if the loss of fund assets is attributable to the Fund Custodian. Where a third party other than the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian causes the loss of fund assets and refuses to compensate, the Fund Manager shall be liable to claim the responsible party for the error.

(6) Where the party making errors does not compensate the Impaired Party in accordance with relevant provisions and, pursuant to Laws and Regulations, administrative regulations, the Fund Contract or other provisions, the Fund Manager shall indemnify the Impaired Party on its own or in accordance with the judgment and arbitral award from the court, the Fund Manager is entitled to claim the parties who make the errors and is entitled to require such party to indemnify or compensate the Fund Manager for the fees and losses incurred thereby.

(7) The errors shall be handled based on other principles as provided by Laws and Regulations.

3. Procedures of Handling Errors

After the errors are identified, the concerned parties shall promptly rectify such error according to the following procedures:

(1) Identify the reasons for the errors, list all the concerned parties and determine which party is responsible for the error according to such reasons;

(2) Evaluate the losses incurred by the errors according to Principles of Handling Errors or in the manner as agreed by the concerned parties;

(3) The responsible party for the error shall make correction and compensate for the losses in accordance with the Principles of Handling Errors or a method agreed upon by the concerned parties through negotiations;

(4) Where the trading data of the Fund at the Registrars of the Fund is required to be modified according to the methods for handling errors, the Registrars of the Fund shall rectify and confirm the same with the concerned parties.

(5) Where the deviation of errors from the NAV per Fund Unit calculated by the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian amounts to 0.25% of the NAV per Fund Unit, the Fund Manager shall report to the CSRC; and where the deviation of errors from the NAV per Fund Unit calculated by the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian amounts to 0.5% of the NAV per Fund Unit, the Fund Manager shall make an announcement and report to the CSRC for record.

VII. Circumstances of Suspension of Valuation

1. The securities trading markets exchange relating to the Fund's investment is closed for business because of festive holidays or other reasons;

2. The Fund Manager cannot accurately evaluate the value the fund assets due to Force Majeure or other circumstances;

3. If more than 50% of the NAV of the Fund on the preceding valuation day does not have any active market price as reference and the use of valuation techniques would still cause significant uncertainty in fair value, after consultation and confirmation with the Fund Custodian, the Fund Manager shall suspend the valuation of the Fund;

4. Other circumstances identified by the CSRC.

VIII. Treatment of Extraordinary Circumstances

1. Where the Fund Manager conducts the valuation in accordance with Item 9, the valuation errors shall not be regarded as valuation errors in respect of the Fund;

2. Due to the mistakes in the data transmitted by the stock exchanges and its registration and clearing companies or due to other events of Force Majeure, although the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian have taken necessary, appropriate and reasonable measures to check, no valuation error on the fund assets caused by such mistakes is found, the Fund Manager and Fund Custodian may be exempted from the liability for the compensation. However, the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall actively take necessary measures to mitigate or eliminate the impact of such mistakes.

IX. Net Value of Fund Units of the Newly Added Class “H” Units

1. Class “A” Units and Class “H” Units are subject to separate valuation. Respective net values for units of both types are calculated separately on each valuation day of the Fund and announced as required. Dividing the net asset value of a type of fund units by the balance of the quantity of its units on the same day equals the net value of its units. The calculated net value of the fund units is rounded up to three decimal places (4 out of 5 in for the fourth decimal digit).

Section XII Fund Income and Distribution

I. Composition of Fund Income

Fund income is the balance of interest income, gains from investments, gains from changes in fair value and other income less relevant expenses. Realized income of the Fund refers to the balance of the Fund income less the gains from changes in fair value.

II. Fund Income Available for Distribution

Fund income available for distribution refers to the lower of retained profit and realized income of retained profit of the Fund as of the base day of income distribution.

III. Principles of Income Distribution of the Fund

1. Subject to the conditions for dividend payment applicable to the Fund, income distribution of the Fund may take place up to a maximum of six times a year. The amount distributed each time may not be lower than 10% of the amount available for distribution on the base day of income distribution. Where the Fund Contract has been in effect for less than three months, no income distribution will be arranged;
2. There are two options for income distribution: cash dividends and reinvestment of dividends. Investors may choose cash dividends or automatic reinvestment of dividends to acquire more Fund units; if the investor has not indicated his choice, the default option by the Fund shall be cash dividends. Investors may choose different means of income distribution in different Sales Institutions, but can only choose one means of income distribution in the same Sales Institution. The Registrar will use the means of income distribution that the investor has last selected as the chosen means;
3. After income distribution of the Fund, the NAV per unit of the Fund must not be lower than the face value, that is, the NAV per unit on the base day of income distribution less the amount distributed for each unit must not be lower than the face value;
4. Each fund unit of the Fund within the same class enjoys equal right in income distribution;
5. If otherwise provided for under the Laws and Regulations or by the regulators, such provisions shall prevail.

IV. Income Distribution Plan

The income distribution plan of the Fund shall specify the income available for distribution, the recipients of the income, time of distribution, amount and proportion to be distributed, and means of distribution, etc. as of the base day of income distribution.

V. Finalization, Announcement and Implementation of the Income Distribution Plan

The income distribution plan of the Fund shall be proposed by the Fund Manager and reviewed by the Fund Custodian, and then posted on the Designated Media within two days and reported to the CSRC for record.

The interval between the dividends payment day and the base day of income distribution of the Fund (i.e. the cut-off date for the calculation of income available for distribution) must not be longer than 15 working days.

VI. Expenses Incurred During Income Distribution of the Fund

Cost of bank transfer or other handling charges incurred during income distribution of the Fund shall be borne by investors. Where the cash dividends payable to an investor is below a certain amount and not enough to cover bank transfer cost or other handling charges, the Registrar may convert the cash dividends payable to the Fund Unitholder into Fund units. Reinvestment of dividends shall be calculated as per the Business Rules.

Section XIII Expenses and Taxes of the Fund

I. Types of Expenses of the Fund

1. Management fee payable to the Fund Manager;
2. Custody fee payable to the Fund Custodian;
3. Information disclosure expenses relating to the Fund under the effective the Fund Contract;
4. Accountant's fee, attorney's fee and legal costs relating to the Fund under the effective Fund Contract;
5. Expenses pertaining to general meetings of the Fund Unitholders;
6. Expenses arising from trading of securities;
7. Bank charges for remittance of the Fund;
8. Other fees which may be charged to the fund assets according to the relevant provisions of the State and the agreed provisions in the Fund Contract.

Expenses incurred upon liquidation of the Fund shall be deducted at the actual charges from total value of the property of the Fund.

II. Accrual Methods, Accrual Standards and Payment Methods of the Expenses of the Fund

1. Management fee payable to the Fund Manager

The management fee shall be accrued at the annual rate of 1.5% of the NAV of the Fund on the preceding day. The calculation method is as follows:

$H = E \times 1.5\% \div \text{Number of days in the current year}$

H is the management fee accrued every day

E is the NAV of the Fund on the preceding day.

The management fee is calculated daily and is accrued daily to the end of each month, and is payable monthly. The Fund Manager will send payment order for Fund's management fee to the Fund Custodian, and the Fund Custodian will pay a lump-sum to the Fund Manager from the fund assets within 2 Working Days before next month after its verification. In case of statutory festive holiday and public holiday, etc., the date of payment shall be postponed.

2. Custody fee payable to the Fund Custodian

The custody fee shall be accrued at the annual rate of 0.25% of the NAV of the Fund on the preceding day. The calculation method of the custody fee is as follows:

$H = E \times 0.25\% \div \text{Number of days in the current year}$

H is the custody fee accrued every day

E is the NAV of the Fund on the preceding day.

The custody fee is calculated daily and is accrued daily to the end of each month, and is payable monthly. The Fund Manager will send payment order for Fund's custody fee to the Fund Custodian, and the Fund Custodian will withdraw a lump-sum from the fund assets within 2 Working Days before next month after its verification. In case of statutory festive holiday or public holiday, the date of payment shall be postponed.

3. The management fee as well as the custody fee and their methods of calculation for Class "H" units of the Fund are same as Class "A" units. The annual rate of management fee is 1.5% and the annual rate of custody fee is 0.25%.

Pursuant to the provisions of the regulations and the corresponding agreements, the aforesaid expenses mentioned in Item 3-7 in I. Types of Expenses of the Fund shall be included in the current expenses at their actual amount of charges and shall be disbursed by the Fund Custodian from the property of the Fund.

III. Items Not Included in the Expenses of the Fund

Expenses that are not included in expenses of the Fund are as follows:

1. The expenses or the losses of the fund assets incurred due to the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian fail to perform or fail to fully perform their obligations;
2. The expenses incurred when the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian deal with the not related to the operations of the Fund;
3. Relevant expenses incurred before an effective Fund Contract, which include, but not limited to, capital verification fee, accountant's fee and lawyer's fee, information disclosure expenses, etc. ;
4. Other items that shall not be included in the expenses of the Fund as stipulated by the relevant provisions of the Laws and Regulations or the CSRC.

IV. Adjustments to the Expenses

After reaching an agreement by negotiation, the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian may adjust the relevant fee rates, such as fund management fee rate, custody fee rate, etc. according to the development conditions of the Fund.

A general meeting of Fund Unitholders must be convened for deliberating the increase of fee rates, such as fund management fee rate, fund custody fee rate, etc. A general meeting of Fund Unitholders is not required to convene for the purpose of reducing fee rates, such as the fund management fee rate, the fund custody fee rate, etc.

The Fund Manager must announce on at least one of the Designated Media no later than two Working Days before the implementation date of new fee rates.

V. Taxes of the Fund

All subject taxpayers involved in the course of business of the Fund shall perform their obligations of tax payment pursuant to the taxation Laws and Regulations of the State.

Section XIV Accounting and Audit of the Fund

I. Accounting Policy of the Fund

1. The Fund Manager is the responsible party for the accounting of the Fund;
2. The accounting year of the Fund commences on January 1 of a calendar year and ends on December 31 of the same calendar year. The accounting year for the initial offering of the Fund shall be based on the following principle: if the Fund Contract has been effective for less than two months, it shall commence in the next accounting year;
3. RMB shall be used as the accounting currency for the accounting of the Fund and as the accounting unit of the Fund;

The Fund Manager shall publish the NAV of the Fund, the NAV per Fund Unit and the cumulative NAV per Fund Unit on the Designated Media on the next day following the aforementioned Business Day.

(v) Subsequent Subscription Price and Redemption Price of Fund Units

The Fund Manager shall specify the calculation and the rate of the Subsequent Subscription price and Redemption price of the fund units in information disclosure documents such as the Fund Contract and the Prospectus, and ensure investors are able to view or copy the said information at any distribution outlets of the Fund.

(vi) Periodic Reports, including Quarterly Reports, Semi-Annual Reports and Annual Reports

The Fund Manager shall complete the annual report of the Fund within 90 days after the end of a fiscal year. The Fund Manager shall post the full text of the report on the website and an extract of the report on the Designated Media. Financial statements contained in the annual report of the Fund must be audited.

The Fund Manager shall complete the semi-annual report of the Fund within 60 days after the end of the first half of a fiscal year. The Fund Manager shall post the full text of the report on the website and an extract of the report on the Designated Media.

The Fund Manager shall complete the quarterly report of the Fund within 15 Working Days after the end of each quarter, and publish the report on the Designated Media.

If the Fund Contract has been effective for less than two months, the Fund Manager needs not to prepare quarterly report, semi-annual report or annual report for the period.

Periodic reports of the Fund, in both electronic form and written form, shall be submitted to the CSRC and the local offices of the CSRC in the place where the head office of the Fund Manager is located for the record on the second Working Day following public disclosure.

The Fund Manager shall disclose the portfolio assets of the Fund and liquidity risk analysis in the annual report and semi-annual report of the Fund.

If a single Investor holds fund units reaching or exceeding 20% of the total fund units during the reporting period, the Fund Manager shall disclose the category of such Investor, the amount and proportion of fund units held by such Investor at the end of the reporting period, the changes in the units held during the reporting period, and the risks specific to the products in the periodic reports such as quarterly report, semi-annual report and annual report, except for the special circumstances recognized by the CSRC.

(vii) Interim Reports

Upon the occurrence of a major event in relation to the Fund, the parties bound by information disclosure obligations shall prepare and publish an interim report within two days, and submit the report to the CSRC and the local offices of the CSRC in the place where the head office of the Fund Manager is located for the record on the day of public disclosure.

The major event mentioned above is defined as any event that may significantly impact on the interests of the Fund Unitholders or the price of the fund units, and includes:

1. A general meeting of Fund Unitholders;
2. Termination of the Fund Contract;
3. Change of the operation of the Fund;
4. Replacement of the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian;
5. Change of the legal name or address of the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian;
6. Change of the Fund Manager's shareholders and their shareholdings;
7. Extension of the Initial Offer Period of the Fund;
8. Replacement of Chairman of the Board, General Manager and other senior management members or fund managers, or replacement of the head of the Fund Custody Department at the Fund Custodian;
9. Replacement of more than 50% of the directors of the Fund Manager within the same year;
10. Replacement of more than 30% of the key personnel of the Fund Manager or the Fund Custody Department of the Fund Custodian within the same year;

11. Lawsuits involving the Fund Manager, the property of the Fund or the custody of the Fund;
12. Investigation of the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian by the regulators;
13. Major administrative penalties imposed on the Fund Manager or any of its Directors, General Manager, other senior management members or fund managers, or on the Fund Custodian or the head of the Fund Custody Department;
14. Material related-party transactions;
15. Income distribution of the Fund;
16. Change of the accrual standards, method and fee rates used in the calculation of management fee and custody fee, among others;
17. A NAV per Fund Unit valuation error of the Fund which amounts to 0.5% of the NAV per Fund Unit;
18. Replacement of the accounting firm;
19. Change of Fund Sales Agency;
20. Replacement of the Registrar;
21. Commencement of Subsequent Subscription and Redemption of the Fund;
22. Change of the rate and payment method of Subsequent Subscription and Redemption;
23. Occurrence of Substantial Redemption and deferral of Redemption payment;
24. Continuous occurrence of Substantial Redemptions and temporary suspension of accepting applications for Redemption;
25. Lifting of the suspension of accepting applications for Subsequent Subscription and Redemption after the temporary suspension of the same;
26. In case of major events involving the adjustment to the Subsequent Subscription and Redemption of the Fund or potential impact on Redemption of investors;
27. Other events specified by the CSRC.

(viii) Clarification Announcement

Throughout the duration of the Fund Contract, if there is any news on any public media or any rumors circulating in the market that may have a misleading effect on or cause sharp fluctuations to the price of the fund units, the parties bound by information disclosure obligations must release a clarification to the public as soon as they become aware of such news or rumors, and report the situation to the CSRC without delay.

(ix) General Meeting of Fund Unitholders

All matters resolved in a general meeting of Fund Unitholders must be reported to the CSRC for approval or for record and must be announced to the public. The convener shall inform the Fund Unitholders the meeting time, meeting format, matters to be discussed and considered, proceedings, voting, and other matters, at least 40 days before the meeting.

In the event that a Fund Unitholder convenes a Fund Unitholders' general meeting in his own initiative in accordance with the law, and the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian did not thereafter disclose the information pertaining to the decisions made in the Fund Unitholders' general meeting in fulfillment of their information disclosure obligations, the convener shall fulfill his information disclosure obligations.

(x) Other information required by the CSRC.

VI. Management of Information Disclosure Affairs

The Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall establish a comprehensive information disclosure management system and assign staff members to specifically take charge of information disclosure affairs.

Information disclosure of the Fund by the parties bound by information disclosure obligations must comply with the rules of the CSRC on the contents and format of information disclosure.

The Fund Custodian shall, in accordance with the applicable Laws and Regulations, the rules of the CSRC and the terms under the Fund Contract, review and examine the publicly disclosed information prepared by the Fund Manager that is in relation to the Fund, such as the NAV of the Fund, NAV per unit, Subsequent Subscription price and Redemption price per Fund Unit, periodic reports and regularly updated Prospectus. A written or a stamped document will be given to the Fund Manager as confirmation.

The Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall select the newspaper for information disclosure among the Designated Media.

Besides the obligatory information disclosure on the Designated Media in accordance with the law, the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian may also disclose information on other public media if they deem necessary, provided that such disclosure does not take place prior to the information disclosure on the Designated Media. Moreover, the information disclosed on different media must be consistent.

Professional agencies that furnish the parties bound by information disclosure obligations with Auditors' Report and legal opinions regarding the information disclosure of the Fund shall prepare working papers, and the related files must be preserved for a minimum of 10 years following the termination of the Fund Contract.

VII. Preservation and Review of Documents pertaining to Information Disclosure

After the Prospectus has been released, a copy must be kept at the domicile of the Fund Manager, the Fund Custodian and Sales Institutions of the Fund respectively for the public to view and copy.

After the periodic report of the Fund has been released, a copy must be kept at the domicile of the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian respectively for the public to view and copy.

Section XVI Risk Disclosure

I. Key Risks in Investment in the Fund

1. Market risk

Prices in the securities market are influenced by various factors such as economic factors, political factors, investment psychology and trading system, leading to changes in the Fund's yield level and thus giving rise to risks. Key risk factors include:

- (1) Policy risk. Changes in national macroeconomic policies such as monetary policies, fiscal policies, industry policies and regional development policies, etc. will lead to fluctuations in market prices and thus give rise to risks.
- (2) Economic cycle risk. As the economy changes cyclically, the yield level of the securities market will also exhibit cyclical changes. If the Fund invests in bonds, its yield level will change accordingly, which will give rise to risks.
- (3) Interest rate risk. Fluctuations of interest rates in the financial market will lead to changes in securities market prices and yield levels. Interest rates directly affect the prices and return rates of bonds, thus influencing the financing costs and profits of enterprises. If the Fund invests in bonds, its yield will also be affected by changes in interest rates.
- (4) Operational risk of listed companies. The quality of operation of listed companies depends on a variety of factors, such as management capability, financial position, market prospects, competition of the industry and competency of employees. All these factors could trigger changes in the profit of an enterprise. If the listed company in which the Fund invests is poorly operated, the price of its shares may fall, or its profit available for distribution may decrease, resulting in a decline in the yield of the investment of the fund. Although the Fund can spread this non-systematic risk by means of investment diversification, it cannot avoid such risk completely.
- (5) Liquidity risk of the bond market. Given the limited depth and breadth of the interbank bond market, trading is relatively less active. This may increase the difficulty in realizing interbank bonds, causing risks in the ability of the Fund to realize its assets.
- (6) Purchasing power risk. The profits of the Fund will be distributed mainly in cash, and the purchasing power of cash may reduce due to inflation. This would in turn decrease the actual yield of the Fund.
- (7) Reinvestment risk. Reinvestment risk is reflective of the impact of falling interest rates on the return on reinvestment of interest income derived from fixed-income securities. This is counter-balanced by the price risk (i.e. interest rate risk) brought about by rising interest rates. Specifically, when interest rates are falling, the reinvestment yield of interest income derived from fixed-income securities the Fund invests in will be reduced.

(8) Credit risk. If the issuers of bonds in which the Fund has invested are in default or fail to repay any principal or interest that falls due, or if there is a fall in bond prices due to a downgrade of the credit rating of such issuers, the Fund's assets will suffer a loss.

2. Management risk

In the course of the operations of the Fund, operational errors or internal control failures may occur as a result of investment strategies, human factors or improper management systems. These may give rise to losses. Management risks include:

(1) Decision-making risk: this refers to the possibility of losses of the fund assets due to improper decision making in the course of the Fund's investment strategy formulation, implementation of investment decisions and supervision and review of investment performance;

(2) Operational risk: this refers to the possibility of losses due to human factors such as ambiguous investment instructions and operational mistakes in transactions in the course of the implementation of investment decisions;

(3) Technical risk: this refers to the possibility of losses due to factors such as improper installation of management information systems;

3. Ethical risk: this refers to the possibility of losses due to the staff's non-compliance with the code of conduct or acts in breach of Laws and Regulations.

4. Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk refers to the risk that the Fund Manager may not realize the Fund assets at a reasonable price in time for payment of the Redemption monies of the Investors during the operation of the open-ended fund.

The Fund is a mixed assets Fund. Under normal circumstances, 60%-95% of the Fund's assets are invested in stocks; the investment target is financial instrument with good liquidity; the Fund will apply the principle of diversified investment and continuous optimization to establish a portfolio for investment operation, maintain the liquidity of the portfolio and prevent liquidity risks. The Fund has good liquidity.

(1) Arrangements of Subsequent Subscription and Redemption of Fund

For details, please refer to "Section V Subsequent Subscription and Redemption of Fund Units" of the Fund Contract to learn more about the arrangements of Subsequent Subscription and Redemption of the Fund. When there is any liquidity risk in the Fund, the Fund Manager may comprehensively use alternative liquidity risk management tools to mitigate or cope with the liquidity risk of the Fund. Investors may be subject to Redemption applications being suspended for acceptance, Redemption monies being deferred for payment, short-term Redemption fees being charged, valuation of the Fund being suspended or other risks. Investors should understand their liquidity preferences and assess whether they match the liquidity risk of the Fund.

(2) Liquidity risk management measures under Substantial Redemption

Substantial Redemption may occur during transactions of the Fund. Substantial Redemptions may cause difficulties in position adjustment of the Fund, resulting in liquidity risks or even an impact on the NAV of the Fund. When there is Substantial Redemption in the Fund, the Fund Manager may decide on such measures as full Redemption, partial deferred Redemption or suspension of Redemption, depending on the current asset portfolio of the Fund. In the case that the Redemption application is deferred or the payment of Redemption monies is deferred, the Investors may face the risk of being unable to make full Redemption or to obtain Redemption funds in time. In the case of deferral of Redemption applications for Investors of the Fund, the fund units that Investors cannot redeem will also face the risk of fluctuations in the net value.

(3) Circumstances and procedures of and potential impact on Investors from implementing alternative liquidity risk management tools

After negotiating with the Fund Custodian, the Fund Manager may comprehensively use various types of liquidity risk management tools to make appropriate adjustments to the Redemption applications, in accordance with the provisions of laws, regulations and Fund Contract, on the premise of ensuring that Investors are treated fairly, as an aid to the liquidity risk of Fund Managers under specific circumstances, including but not limited to:

1) Suspension of accepting Redemption applications

For details, please refer to “X. Circumstances and Handling of Suspension of Redemption or Deferral Payment of Redemption Monies” and “XI. Circumstances and Handling of Substantial Redemption” in “Section V. Subsequent Subscription and Redemption of Fund Units” of the Fund Contract to learn more about the circumstances and procedures for suspension of accepting Redemption applications by the Fund.

Under this circumstance, part or all of the Redemption applications of the Investors may be rejected, and the net value of the Fund units when the Investors have completed the Redemption of the Fund may be different from the net value of the Fund units when the Redemption application is submitted.

2) Deferred payment of redemption monies

For details, please refer to “X. Circumstances and Handling of Suspension of Redemption or Deferral Payment of Redemption Monies” and “XI. Circumstances and Handling of Substantial Redemption” in “Section V. Subsequent Subscription and Redemption of Fund Units” of the Fund Contract to learn more about the circumstances and procedures for deferred payment of redemption monies by the Fund.

Under this circumstance, the time for the Investors to receive the Redemption monies may be delayed as compared with the normal circumstance, which may adversely affect the Investors’ funding arrangement.

3) Charging of short-term Redemption fees

A Redemption fee of not less than 1.5% shall be charged to the Investors of Class A units who have a holding period of less than 7 days, and the full amount of the above Redemption fees shall be credited to the property of the Fund. Charging short-term Redemption fees will make the Investors of Class A units to bear a higher Redemption fee when the sustained holding period is less than 7 days.

4) Suspension of valuation of the Fund

For details, please refer to “VII. Circumstances of Suspension of Valuation” in “Section XIII Valuation of Fund Assets” of the Fund Contract to learn more about the circumstances and procedures for suspension of valuation of the Fund.

Under this circumstance, there is no net value of the fund units available for reference to investors on the one hand, and on the other hand, the Fund will suspend the acceptance of Redemption applications for Subsequent Subscription of the Fund. Suspending the acceptance of Redemption applications for Subsequent Subscription of the Fund will result in Investors being unable to make Subsequent Subscription or Redemption of the Fund.

5) Other measures recognized by CSRC.

5. Compliance Risk

Compliance risk refers to the risk associated with any breach of the provisions under the Laws and Regulations of the country in the course of the management or operations of the Fund, or the investments of the Fund being in breach of the relevant provisions of the regulations or the Fund Contract.

6. Investment management risks: (1) With its expected returns and risks higher than those of money market funds and bond funds but lower than equity funds, the Fund is a mixed assets fund that features relatively higher risks and higher returns when compares with securities investment funds; (2) The risk associated with stock selection method and model; (3) The risk of incorrect subjective judgment of the fund managers; and (4) Other risks.

7. Other risks

(1) With the emergence and development of new investment instruments that are in line with the investment philosophy of the Fund, investment in such instruments may result in risks particular to these instruments

(2) Risks arising from technical factors, such as the risk of an unreliable computer system;

(3) Risks arising from deficiencies in institutional development, staffing and establishment of internal control system due to the rapid development of the Fund’s business;

(4) Risks caused by human factors, such as insider dealing or fraud;

(5) Risks associated with overdependence on key personnel, such as the fund managers;

(6) Any Force Majeure, such as wars or natural disasters, that may cause a loss in the Fund’s assets and affect the yield of the Fund, and thus give rise to associated risks; and

(7) Risks caused by other accidents.

II. Disclaimer

1. Investors investing in the Fund at their own risk;
2. Apart from being sold directly by the Fund Manager, the Fund is also sold by agency via its Sales Institutions such as ICBC. Neither the Fund Manager nor the Sales Institutions can guarantee the Fund's income or the safety of principal.

- (6) To report the results of liquidation to the CSRC for record and to make an announcement;
 - (7) To allocate the remaining property of the Fund.
5. The liquidation period for the property of the Fund is six months.

III. Liquidation Expenses

Liquidation expenses mean all reasonable fees and expenses incurred during the liquidation process of the Fund carried out by the liquidation team of the Fund's property, which shall be disbursed from the Fund's property by the liquidation group team of the Fund's property with priority.

IV. Allocation of Remaining Property after Liquidation of the Fund

In accordance with the allocation plan of the liquidation of the Fund's property, all remaining assets after liquidation of the Fund's property (net of liquidation expenses of liquidation of the Fund's property, payment of taxes in arrears and repayment of the Fund's debts) shall be allocated to the Fund Unitholders in proportion to the fund units held by the Fund Unitholders.

V. Announcement of Liquidation of the Fund

Any material matters in the liquidation process shall be announced in a timely manner. The liquidation report of the Fund's property which have been audited by an accounting firm and have been issued with legal opinion by a law firm, shall be reported to the CSRC and an announcement shall be made. The announcement of liquidation of the Fund's property shall be published by the liquidation team of the Fund's property within 5 Working Days after the termination of the Fund Contract and has been reported to the CSRC for record.

VI. Keeping of Account Books and Documents of Liquidation of the Fund

The Fund Custodian shall keep the account books and documents of the liquidation of the Fund's property for more than 15 years.

Section XVIII Summary of Fund Contract

I. Rights and Obligations of Fund Unitholders, Fund Manager and Fund Custodian

(i) Rights and Obligations of Fund Unitholders

If the convener is the Fund Unitholders, they shall otherwise notify the Fund Manager and Fund Custodian, in writing, to supervise the counting of the written voting opinions at the specified venue. The refusal of the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian to appoint any representative(s) to supervise the counting of the written voting opinions will not affect the validity of the counting of votes and the result of voting.

(iv) Method of Attending Meeting by Fund Unitholders

The general meeting of Fund Unitholders may be convened by forms of onsite meeting or communication meeting.

The forms for convening meeting shall be confirmed by the convener of the meeting, but the meeting for replacement of the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall be convened in form of onsite meeting.

1. Onsite meeting: The Fund Unitholder attends in person or appoints a proxy with a letter of authorized proxy for voting to attend the meeting. The authorized representatives of the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall attend the general meeting of Fund Unitholders when the on-site meeting is held. If the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian does not appoint any representative to attend the meeting, the voting validity will not be affected. The agenda of the general meeting of Fund Unitholders shall only be proceeded if the onsite meeting has satisfied all of the following conditions:
 - (1) The certificates of holdings of the Fund Unitholders who attend the meeting in person, the certificates of holdings of the principals as presented by their proxies and the letter of authorized proxy for voting of the principals shall meet the requirements of the Laws and Regulations, the Fund Contract and the notice of meeting. The evidence of holding fund units shall be consistent with the registration information held by the Fund.

- (2) According to the verified and consolidated certificates on the fund units held by the attendees as of the date of registration of interests, the corresponding fund units reflected in the valid certificates represent more than 50% (inclusive) of the total fund units on the date of registration of interests.
2. Communications meeting: Communications meeting refers that the Fund Unitholders deliver their votes on voting matters in writing to an address specified by the convener before the deadline of voting. Voting of communications meeting shall be taken place in writing.

A communications meeting is deemed to be valid if all of the following conditions are satisfied:

- (1) After publishing the notice of meeting in accordance with the provisions in the Fund Contract, the convener of the meeting shall consecutively publish the relevant reminding announcement within 2 Working Days;
- (2) The convener shall notify the Fund Custodian (the Fund Manager, if the Fund Custodian is the convener) to go to the specified venue to supervise the counting of written voting opinions. Under the supervision of the Fund Custodian (the Fund Manager, if the Fund Custodian is the convener) and the notary institution, the convener of the meeting collects the written voting opinions from the Fund Unitholders by the means stated in the notice of meeting. If the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian notified refuses to participating in the collection of the written voting opinions, the voting validity will not be affected;
- (3) If the Fund Unitholders submit written opinions directly by their own or via their authorized representatives, the fund units held by the Fund Unitholders shall not be less than 50% (inclusive) of the total number of fund units as at the registration date of interests;
- (4) The certificates of holdings of fund units which are submitted by the Fund Unitholders who submit the written voting opinions directly or by the representatives appointed by the Fund Unitholders on their behalf to submit the written opinions as mentioned in item (3) above, the certificates of holdings of the principals which are presented by their proxies who submitted the written opinions and the letter of authorized proxy for voting shall meet the requirements of the relevant Laws and Regulations, the Fund Contract and the notice of meeting notice, and shall conform to records in the Registrars of the Fund;
- (5) The notice of meeting shall be reported to the CSRC for record before it is published.

If the voting process is carried out by means of communication, unless there are sufficient evidences to the contrary, the Investors who have submitted the verification documents of identification of Investors which are in compliance with the requirement stated in the notice of meeting shall be deemed as valid attendees, the written voting opinions which apparently comply with the relevant Laws and Regulations and the notice of meeting notice shall be deemed as valid votes. Any vague or contradictory voting opinions shall be deemed as abstaining from voting; however, they shall be included in the total number of fund units represented by the Fund Unitholders who submitted the written voting opinions.

(v) Contents and Procedure of Discussion

1. Contents of discussion and proposal right

Contents of discussion are the major matters which are related to the interests of Fund Unitholders, such as material amendments to the Fund Contract, decision on termination of the Fund Contract, replacement of the Fund Manager, replacement of the Fund Custodian, merger with other funds, other matters provided for under the Laws and Regulations and the Fund Contract and other matters that the convener of meeting deems necessary to be discussed at a general meeting.

The Fund Manager, the Fund Custodian and the Fund Unitholder who individually or jointly hold more than 10% (inclusive) of the total fund units on the date of registration of interests may submit a proposal that will be deliberated and voted on at the general meeting of Fund Unitholders to the convener before the notice of meeting has been sent by the convener; they may also submit a temporary proposal to the convener after the meeting notice has been sent and such proposal shall be submitted to the convener 35 days prior to the date of the meeting and shall be announced by the convener.

After the convener of the general meeting of Fund Unitholders has sent out the notice of meeting, any amendments to the original proposals shall be announced 30 days before the meeting convenes.

For the content of discussion that has not been announced in advance, no voting shall be taken at the general meeting of Fund Unitholders.

The convener shall review the temporary proposals submitted by the Fund Manager, Fund Custodian and the Fund Unitholders. If such temporary proposals have satisfied the conditions, they shall be announced 30 days before the meeting is convened. The convener shall review the proposals on the following principles:

- (1) Relevance – For the proposals which involve the matters directly relating to the Fund and within the scope of the authority of the general meeting of Fund Unitholders as specified by the Laws and Regulations and the Fund Contract, the convener shall present the same to the meeting for deliberation; for those which do not meet the aforesaid requirements, the convener shall not present the same to the general meeting of Fund Unitholders for deliberation. If the convener decides not to present any proposal of the Fund Unitholders to the meeting for voting, he/she shall explain and illustrate his/her decision at that general meeting of Fund Unitholders.
- (2) Procedural – The convener of the meeting may make decision on the procedural issues involved in the proposals. The proposals may be split up or combined for voting with the consent of the original proposers; if the original proposers disagree with such change, the host of the meeting may submit a request to the general meeting of Fund Unitholders for making decision in respect of the procedural issues and have relevant deliberation in accordance with the procedures as determined by the general meeting of Fund Unitholders.

With regard to the proposals which are submitted by the Fund Unitholders who individually or jointly hold more than 10% (inclusive) of the total fund units on the date of registration of interests and the proposals which are submitted by the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian to the general meeting of Fund Unitholders for deliberation, if such proposals are not adopted at the general meeting of Fund Unitholders after deliberation the same proposals shall be presented again to the general meeting of Fund Unitholders for deliberation, at the interval of no less than six months. Unless otherwise as specified by the Laws and Regulations.

After the notice of meeting is given by the convener of the general meeting of Fund Unitholders, if it is required to make amendment to an original proposal, an announcement shall be made no later than 30 days prior to the convening date of the general meeting of Fund Unitholders. Otherwise, the convening date of meeting shall be postponed and shall assure there is an interval of at least 30 days between the convening date of meeting and the announcement date.

2. Discussion procedures

II. Supervision and Verification of Operations between the Fund Custodian and the Fund Manager

(I) Exercise of Right of Supervision over the Investment Behavior of the Fund Manager by the Fund Custodian

1. The Fund Custodian shall supervise the investment scope and investment object of the Fund mentioned below in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract:

The Fund shall invest in the following financial instruments:

The investment scope of the Fund covers financial instruments with high liquidity, including stocks, bonds and warrants that are issued and listed in the PRC according to law, and other financial instruments permitted for fund investment by the Laws and Regulations or by the CSRC. For any investment categories that are permitted to be invested by funds by the Laws and Regulations or the regulators in the future, the Fund Manager may incorporate such investment categories into the investment scope of the Fund after fulfilling proper procedures.

The Fund shall not invest in financial instruments which are prohibited by the relevant laws, regulations, departmental rules and regulations and the Fund Contract.

2. The Fund Custodian shall supervise the proportion of investment and financing of the Fund mentioned below in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract:

(1) According to the provisions of the Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract, the Fund's proportions of investment asset allocation are as follows:

The Fund is a mixed assets Fund. The Fund's investment portfolio is in the following proportions: equity assets cover 60%-95% of the Fund's assets, while cash, bonds, warrants and other securities categories permitted for the fund investment by the CSRC cover 5%-40% of the Fund's assets. The market value of the warrants held by the Fund shall not be more than 3% of the NAV of the Fund, and the proportion of cash and government bonds with maturity less than one year in aggregate shall not be less than 5% of the NAV of the Fund, among which the cash shall exclude settlement provisions, guarantee deposits and Subsequent Subscription proceeds receivable etc.. More than 80% of the Fund's equity assets are invested in leading enterprises in industries with good development prospects or industries that are in the recovery stage.

If due to the factors such as the size of the Fund or the changes of market conditions, the investment portfolio does not meet the above-mentioned requirements, the Fund Manager shall adjust the Fund's investment portfolio within a reasonable period of time in order to meet the above-mentioned proportion limits. Where the Laws and Regulations provide otherwise, such provisions shall prevail.

For any investment categories that are permitted to be invested by funds by the Laws and Regulations or the regulators in the future, the Fund Manager may incorporate such investment categories into the investment scope of the Fund after fulfilling proper procedures.

(2) According to the provisions of the Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract, the investment portfolio of the Fund is subject to the following investment restrictions:

- a. The market value of shares of any single listed company held by the Fund may not exceed 10% of the NAV of the Fund;
- b. All funds managed by the Fund Manager (including the Funds) may not together hold more than 10% interest in the securities issued by a single company;
- c. The balance of the Fund's capital invested in repurchase transactions of bonds in the interbank bank market may not exceed 40% of the NAV of the Fund;
- d. The total amount of warrants bought by the Fund on any trading day may not exceed 0.5% of the NAV of the Fund on the preceding trading day; the aggregate market value of all warrants held by the Fund may not exceed 3% of the NAV of the Fund; all funds managed by the Fund Manager may not together hold more than 10% interest in any

- single warrant. Where the Laws and Regulations or the CSRC provide otherwise, such provisions shall prevail;
- e. Cash and government bonds with maturity less than one year shall not be maintained at a level less than 5% of the NAV of the Fund, among which the cash shall exclude settlement provisions, guarantee deposits and Subsequent Subscription proceeds receivable etc..;
 - f. The market value of all asset-backed securities held by the Fund may not exceed 20% of the NAV of the Fund;
 - g. The proportion of a single (i.e. of the same credit rating) asset-backed security held by the Fund may not be more than 10% of the size of such asset-backed security;
 - h. The proportion of the various types of asset-backed securities of the same original holder held by the Fund may not be more than 10% of the NAV of the Fund;
 - i. Various types of asset-backed securities of the same original holder by all the funds managed by the Fund Manager may not exceed 10% of the aggregate size of its various types of asset-backed securities;
 - j. Where the properties of the Fund are involved in subsequent subscription of share issuance, the subscription amount reported may not exceed the total assets of the Fund, and the number of subscribed shares reported may not exceed the total number of shares to be offered by the issuer for this issuance;
 - k. The market value of the securities with restricted circulation held by a fund issued by one company shall not exceed 2% of the net asset value of the fund; the market value of all securities with restricted circulation held by a fund shall not exceed 10% of the net asset value of the fund. After fulfilling appropriate procedures, the above proportions may be adjusted;
 - l. The Fund shall not violate the stipulations in the Fund Contract pertaining to the investment scope and the investment proportions;
 - m. The total market value of the Fund's active investment in liquidity restricted assets must not exceed 15% of the NAV of the Fund;
 - n. Other investment restrictions imposed by the relevant Laws and Regulations and regulatory bodies.

If the Funds Law and other relevant Laws and Regulations or regulatory bodies lift the above-mentioned restrictions, after fulfilling appropriate procedures, the Fund will not be subject to the above-mentioned restrictions.

(3) Adjustment Period of the Fund's Investment Proportion Permitted by Regulations:

In addition to the provisions of items e and m above, should the investment portfolio of the Fund do not comply with the proportions stipulated above owing to factors not attributable to the Fund Manager, such as fluctuations in securities market, merger of listed companies or change in the size of the Fund, this is not restricted, but the Fund Manager shall make adjustments within 10 trading days in order to meet the prescribed requirements for restrictions on investment portfolio. Where the Laws and Regulations provide otherwise, such provisions shall prevail.

Upon the occurrence of any foreseeable substantial change in the size of assets, the Fund Manager shall at least 2 Working Days in advance formally inform the Fund Custodian by a reply letter to explain the possible change in size and the responsive measures of the company so as to enable the Custodian to exercise transaction supervision.

- (4) The Fund may undertake securities margin trading in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Laws and Regulations and policies for the time being in force;
- (5) Other restrictions on proportions required by the relevant laws, regulations or departmental rules and regulations.

Apart from the investment asset allocation, the Fund Custodian shall commence the supervision and inspection over the investments of the Fund from the Effective Date of the Fund Contract.

3. The Fund Custodian shall, according to the provisions of the Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract, conduct supervision over the following investment activities which the Fund are prohibited from conducting:

- (1) Underwriting securities;
- (2) Granting loans or providing guarantees to others;
- (3) Undertaking investments which may subject the Fund to unlimited liability;
- (4) Buying and selling units of other funds, unless otherwise provided by the Laws and Regulations or by the CSRC;
- (5) Making capital contribution to the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian or trading the stocks or bonds issued by the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian;
- (6) Buying and selling securities issued by or underwritten within the underwriting period by the shareholders who have controlling power of the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian, or by the companies who have material interests with the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian;
- (7) Engaging in insider trading, manipulation of securities prices and other misconducts of securities trading;
- (8) Other activities prohibited by the provisions of Laws and Regulations, the CSRC and the Fund Contract for the time being in force;

If the Laws and Regulations or regulatory bodies cancel the above-mentioned prohibitive provisions, the Fund Manager may not be subject to the above-mentioned provisions after fulfilling appropriate procedures.

4. The Fund Custodian shall supervise the restrictions on the connected investments of the Fund pursuant to the provisions of the relevant Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract.

In accordance with the provision of the Laws and Regulations pertaining to prohibition of funds from engaging in connected transactions, the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall submit in writing in advance to each other a list of shareholders that have controlling interests in the institution or a list of companies that have other material interests in the institution with the updates thereon after sealed, and shall ensure the genuineness, completeness and comprehensiveness of the list of connected transactions provided. The Fund Manager shall be obliged to keep the genuine, complete and comprehensive list of connected transactions and be responsible for updating the list in a timely manner. Upon any update of the list, the Fund Manager shall send the same to the Fund Custodian in a timely manner. The Fund Custodian shall acknowledge the changes to the list by a reply letter within two Working Days. If the Fund Custodian has followed the supervisory procedures strictly in its operation but the Fund Manager still engages in unauthorized connected transactions and causes loss of Fund assets, the Fund Manager shall bear the liabilities.

When the Fund Custodian discovers that the Fund Manager and the connected parties on the list of connected transactions carry out connected transactions which is prohibited by the Laws and Regulations to engage by funds, the Fund Custodian shall in a timely manner remind and assist the Fund Manager in taking necessary measures to prevent the occurrence of such connected transaction. If the connected transaction cannot be prevented after taking necessary measures by the Fund Custodian, the Fund Custodian shall have the right to report to the CSRC. For unauthorized connected transactions completed on the exchange, the Fund Custodian shall settle the same according to the provisions of the relevant Laws and Regulations and the rules of the exchange and report to the CRSC at the same time.

5. The Fund Custodian shall, in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract, supervise the Fund Manager's participation in the interbank bond market.
 - (1) The Fund Custodian shall, in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract, supervise the credit risk of the counterparties arising from the Fund Manager's participation in the interbank market transactions.

The Fund Manager shall provide the Fund Custodian with a list of counterparties in the interbank market who comply with the Laws and Regulations and the industry standards, and shall stipulate on such list the settlement method of transaction applicable to each counterparty in accordance with the principle of prudent risk control. Within two Working Days after receiving the list, the Fund Custodian shall acknowledge receipt of the list by a reply letter. The Fund Manager shall update the list of counterparties for bond trading and repurchase transactions in the interbank market on a regular or ad-hoc basis. Where there is addition or deletion of counterparties in the interbank market on the list, application in writing shall be made to the Fund Custodian. After acknowledgment of receipt by a reply letter within 2 Working Days by the Fund Custodian, the list shall be updated. Upon receipt by the Fund Manager of the written confirmation from the Fund Custodian, the confirmed and adjusted list shall become effective. The unsettled transactions with the counterparties that are removed from the new list shall be settled according to the agreement so long as such transactions have been taken place before the new list takes effect.

If the Fund Custodian discovers that the Fund Manager carries out transactions with counterparties in the interbank market who are not on the list, the Fund Custodian shall in a timely manner remind the Fund Manager to cancel the transactions. If the Fund Manager still carries out the transactions and caused losses to the Fund assets despite having been reminded by the Fund Custodian, the Fund Custodian shall assume no liability. Upon occurrence of such circumstance, the Fund Custodian shall have the right to report to the CSRC.

(2) The Fund Custodian's Control over the Transaction Modes of Interbank Market Transactions conducted by the Fund Manager.

When the Fund Manager conducts bond trading and repurchase transaction in the interbank market, the transaction is required to be carried out in accordance with the settlement mode applicable to such counterparty as stipulated on the list of counterparties. If the Fund Custodian finds out that the Fund Manager has not followed the pre-agreed transaction method which is favorable to credit risk control, the Fund Custodian shall in a timely manner remind the Fund Manager to re-determine the transaction method with the counterparty. After reminding the Fund Manager, if no rectification is made and loss to the Fund assets is caused thereby, the Fund Custodian shall assume no liability.

(3) The core counterparties of the interbank market transactions which the Fund Manager participates in are the Industrial and Commercial Bank of China, Bank of China, Construction Bank of China, Agricultural Bank of China and Bank of Communications. The Fund Manager and Fund Custodian can adjust the core transaction counterparties based on the prevailing market conditions after a consensus is reached through consultations. The Fund Manager is responsible for controlling the credit risk of the counterparties. When the transactions are carried out with counterparties other than the core counterparties, any losses arising from the credit risk of the counterparties shall firstly be borne by the Fund Manager and then, the Fund Manager shall have the right to claim indemnity from the related responsible persons. If the Fund Custodian has followed the aforesaid supervisory process strictly in the course of its operation, it shall assume no liability for compensation in respect of any losses arising from the credit risk of the counterparties.

6. The Fund Custodian shall supervise the Fund Manager's selection of deposit-taking banks.

The credit risks of the bank deposit investment of the Fund mainly include risks relating to the selection of deposit-taking banks, such as credit ratings, payment capacity of the deposit-taking banks, etc. The list of core deposit-taking banks of the Fund comprises the Industrial and Commercial Bank of China, Bank of China, Construction Bank of China, Agricultural Bank of China and Bank of Communications. Where the Fund invests in bank deposits of banks other than the core deposit-taking banks, any losses arising from the credit risk of the deposit-taking banks shall firstly be borne by the Fund Manager, and then the Fund Manager shall have the right to claim indemnity from the related responsible persons. If the Fund Custodian has followed the aforesaid supervisory process strictly, it shall assume no liability for compensation. The Fund Manager and Fund Custodian can adjust the list of core deposit-taking banks based on the prevailing market conditions after a consensus is reached through consultations.

7. Supervision by the Fund Custodian over the Fund's Investment in Securities with Restricted Circulation

(1) The Fund's investment in securities with restricted circulation shall comply with the provisions of the related Laws and Regulations such as the "Emergency Notice on Regulating Fund Investment Behavior of Non-publicly Offered Securities", "Notice on Issues Concerning Fund's Investment in Securities with Restricted Circulation such as Non-publicly Offered Stocks".

(2) Securities with restricted circulation shall include the tradable securities which have a definite lock-up period specified when issued (such as the non-publicly offered stocks governed by the "Administrative Measures for the Issuance of Securities by Listed Companies" and the offline placed stocks of non-public offering), but shall not include the securities with restricted circulation such as the securities subject to a temporary suspension due to the release of material information or other reasons, the securities issued but not yet listed and the pledged securities in the repurchase transaction.

(3) Prior to the initial investment in the securities with restricted circulation by the Fund, the Fund Manager shall provide to the Fund Custodian the investment decision-making process and risk control system related to the Fund's investment in the securities with restricted circulation which have been approved by the Board of Directors of the Fund Manager. When the Fund invests in non-publicly offered stocks, the Fund Manager shall also provide the liquidity risk treatment plan approved by the Board of Directors of the Fund Manager. The above information shall include but not limited to the control over the investment quota and investment proportion with respect to the Fund's investment in the securities with restricted circulation.

The Fund Manager shall send the above information in writing to the Fund Custodian at least two Working Days before the initial execution of the investment instruction to ensure that the Fund Custodian has enough time to review. The Fund Custodian shall, within two Working Days upon receipt of the aforesaid information, acknowledge receipt of the aforesaid information in writing or in other way approved by both parties.

(4) Prior to the Fund's investment in the securities with restricted circulation, the Fund Manager shall provide to the Fund Custodian the related information in writing that meets the requirements of the Laws and Regulations, including but not limited to the CSRC approval documents of the proposed securities issuer, amount of securities to be issued, issue price, lock-up period, proposed amount to be subscribed by the Fund, price, total cost, ratio of total cost to the NAV of the Fund, ratio of market value of the securities with restricted circulation held to the NAV, money transfer schedule, etc. The Fund Manager shall ensure the authenticity and integrity of the above-mentioned information, and shall send the above-mentioned information in writing to the Fund Custodian at least two Working Days prior to the proposed execution of the investment instruction to ensure that the Fund Custodian has sufficient time to verify.

(5) The Fund Custodian shall supervise the Fund Manager's compliance with the Laws and Regulations, the investment decision-making process, risk control system, and liquidity risk treatment plan, and verify the related written information provided by the Fund Manager. If the Fund Custodian thinks that the above information may lead to any risk exposure to the Fund, it shall have the right to request the Fund Manager to provide supplementary explanation for mitigation or prevention measures against such risk in writing before investing in the securities with restricted circulation, and shall reserve the right to examine the information available for inspection, such as the risk assessment report issued by the risk management department of the Fund Manager in respect of the Fund's investment in the securities with restricted circulation. Otherwise, the Fund Custodian shall have the right to refuse to execute the related instruction. The Fund Custodian shall assume no liability for any losses of the Fund arising from the refusal of carrying out such instruction and shall have the right to report to the CSRC.

If the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian cannot reach a consensus, they shall report to the CSRC for solution. If the Fund Custodian has effectively carried out the supervisory duty, it shall assume no liability. If the Fund Custodian has not effectively carried out the supervisory duty and results in risk exposure to the Fund, the Fund Custodian shall assume joint and several liabilities.

(II) The Fund Custodian shall verify the calculation of the NAV of the Fund and the calculation of the NAV per Fund unit, the availability of receivables, the confirmation of expenses and income of the Fund, the distribution of income of the Fund, the disclosure of relevant information, and the publication of performance data of the Fund in the marketing materials of the Fund in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract.

(III) If the Fund Custodian discovers that the investment operation and other operations of the Fund Manager violate the Funds Law, the Fund Contract, the Fund Custody Agreement and other related provisions, the Fund Custodian shall in a timely manner notify the Fund Manager in writing and request to make rectifications within a specified period. Upon receipt of the notification, the Fund Manager shall verify on the following Working Day, and shall give explanations or evidence, in writing by sending a reply letter to the Fund Custodian in a timely manner.

Within the time limit, the Fund Custodian shall have the right to re-examine the notified matters at any time and urge the Fund Manager to make the correction. If the Fund Manager fails to correct the violation matters as notified by the Fund Custodian within the specified period, the Fund Custodian shall report to the CSRC. The Fund Custodian shall be obliged to require the Fund Manager to compensate the Investors for the losses suffered as a result of its violation of the Fund Contract.

If the Fund Custodian discovers that the Fund Manager's investment instruction violates the provisions of the relevant Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract, the Fund Custodian shall refuse to execute the instruction and notify the Fund Manager immediately and report to the CSRC.

If the Fund Custodian discovers that the effective instruction given by the Fund Manager in accordance with the transaction procedures violates the laws, the administrative rules and other regulations, or violates the provisions of the Fund Contract, the Fund Custodian shall immediately inform the Fund Manager and report to the CSRC.

The Fund Manager shall actively cooperate with the Fund Custodian in its supervision and verification, including but not limited to, giving replies to the Fund Custodian and making rectifications within the specified period, giving explanations or evidence regarding the doubts of the Fund Custodian, and providing relevant data information and system in case the Fund Custodian has to file a Fund supervision report to the CSRC as required by the regulations.

If the Fund Custodian discovers significant violations by the Fund Manager, it shall immediately report to the CSRC, and at the same time inform the Fund Manager and request for corrections within a time limit.

Where the Fund Manager, without proper reasons, refuses and obstructs the exercise of supervision right by the Fund Custodian according to the provisions of this agreement, or prevents the Fund Custodian from carrying out effective supervision by means of delay, fraud, etc., and where the circumstances are serious, or where the Fund Manager fails to correct despite of warning by the Fund Custodian, the Fund Custodian shall report to the CSRC.

(D) Verification of the Fund Custodian's Operations by the Fund Manager

The Fund Manager shall verify performance of custody duties by the Fund Custodian. The matters subject to verification shall include but not limited to supervision over the Fund Custodian's safekeeping of the Fund properties, opening of capital account and securities account for the Fund properties, verification of the NAV of the Fund and the NAV per Fund unit calculated by the Fund Manager, clearance and settlement according to the Fund Manager's instructions, and disclosure of relevant information, and supervision over the investment operation of the Fund.

If the Fund Manager discovers that the Fund Custodian makes unauthorized use of the Fund properties, does not manage the Fund properties in separate accounts, fails to execute or delays without any reason the money transfer instructions of the Fund Manager, discloses the Fund investment information and conducts other behaviors in violation of the Funds Law, the Fund Contract, this Custody Agreement and other relevant provisions, the Fund Manager shall in a timely manner give a notice to the Fund Custodian and request to make corrections within the specified period. Upon receiving such a notification, the Fund Custodian shall verify and confirm in a timely manner and give a reply in writing to the Fund Manager. Within the specified period, the Fund Manager shall have the right to re-examine the notified matters at any time, urge the Fund Custodian to correct and provide assistance. Where the Fund Custodian fails to correct the violation as notified by the Fund Manager within the specified period, the Fund Manager shall report to the CSRC. The Fund Manager shall be obliged to require the Fund Custodian to indemnify the Fund against the loss suffered therefrom.

If the Fund Manager discovers significant violations by the Fund Custodian, it shall immediately report to the CSRC and the banking regulatory institutions, and at the same time inform the Fund Custodian and request to make corrections within a specific period.

The Fund Custodian shall actively cooperate with the Fund Manager on its verification, including but not limited to, providing relevant information for the Fund Manager to verify the integrity and authenticity of the properties under custody, replying to the Fund Manager and making corrections within the specified time.

When the Fund Custodian, without proper reasons, refuses and obstructs the exercise of supervision right by the Fund Manager according to the provisions of this agreement, or prevents the Fund Manager from carrying out effective supervision by means of delay, fraud, etc., and where the circumstances are serious, or where the Fund Custodian fails to make corrections despite of warning by the Fund Manager, the Fund Manager shall report to the CSRC.

III. Safekeeping of Properties of the Fund

(I) Principles of Safekeeping of Properties of the Fund

- 1 The Fund properties shall be separated from the properties owned by the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian.
- 2 The Fund Custodian shall keep the Fund properties under safe custody. Unless with the proper instructions of the Fund Manager, the Fund Custodian shall not use, dispose of or distribute any properties of the Fund on its own.
- 3 The Fund Custodian shall open capital accounts and securities accounts for the properties of the Fund as required.
- 4 The Fund Custodian shall maintain separate accounts for the properties of different funds under its custody, and shall strictly implement separate account management with the Fund Custodian's other businesses and custody business of other funds, so as to ensure the integrity and independence of the Fund's properties;
- 5 With regard to the properties receivable arising from the subscription (or subsequent subscription) to the Fund and the properties receivable arising in the course of investment of the Fund, the Fund Manager shall be responsible for determining the date of the receivables with the relevant party and notify the Fund Custodian thereof. If the properties of the Fund are not delivered to the Fund Custodian on the due date, the Fund Custodian shall notify the Fund Manager in a timely manner to take measures to collect payment. In case of any loss arising therefrom, the Fund Manager shall be responsible for recovering the loss of the Fund from the relevant parties, and the Fund Custodian shall assume no liability in this regard.

(II) Verification of Raised Capital

Within the initial offer period, the Sales Institutions shall, in accordance with the provisions of the sales and service agency agreement, transfer the subscribed capital to the Fund's specialized subscription account of GF Fund Management Co., Ltd. opened with a commercial bank having the custody qualification. Such account shall be opened and managed by the Fund Manager. Upon the expiration of the Initial Offer Period of the Fund, where the total number of Fund Units offered, the amount raised by the Fund and the number of Fund Unitholders comply with the relevant provisions such as the Funds Law and the Measures on Operations, the Fund Manager shall engage an accounting firm qualified to engage in securities business to verify the capital and issue the capital verification report. The capital verification report issued shall be valid only if it is signed by two or more PRC certified public accountants participating in the capital verification. Upon completion of the capital verification, the Fund Manager shall transfer all the raised capital belonging to the properties of the Fund to the specialized asset custody account opened by the Fund Custodian for the Fund. The Fund Custodian shall issue confirmation document on the receiving day of the capital.

Upon the expiration of the Initial Offer Period of the Fund, where the conditions precedent in the Fund Contract cannot be fulfilled, the Fund Manager shall handle the refund matters as required.

(C) Opening and Management of the Fund's Bank Accounts

The Fund Custodian shall, in the name of the Fund Custodian, open a specialized asset custody account at its business establishment to keep the bank deposits of the Fund. Such specialized asset custody account means the specialized account through which the Fund Custodian shall, under the centralized custody mode, and on behalf of the funds in its custody, conduct primary settlement with China Securities Depository and Clearing Co., Ltd. The Fund Custodian shall be responsible for the opening and management of such specialized account. All the monetary payments and receipts activities of the Fund shall be conducted through the specialized asset custody account of the Fund Custodian.

The specialized asset custody account shall only be opened and used for satisfying the Fund's business need. The Fund Custodian and the Fund Manager shall not, in the name of the Fund, open any other bank accounts, or use any bank account of the Fund to carry out activities other than the business of the Fund.

The specialized asset custody account shall be managed in accordance with the Measures for the Administration of RMB Bank Settlement Account, Interim Regulations for Cash Management, Regulations on RMB Interest Rate Management, Interim Regulations for Interest Rate Management, Measures for Payment and Settlement and other provisions of the banking regulatory bodies.

(IV) Opening and Management of the Fund's Securities Accounts and Securities Trading Capital Accounts

The Fund Custodian shall open a securities account with the Shanghai Branch / Shenzhen Branch of China Securities Depository and Clearing Company Limited in the joint names of the Fund Custodian and the Fund.

The Fund Custodian shall, in the name of the Fund Custodian, open a securities trading capital Fund account with the Shanghai Branch / Shenzhen Branch of China Securities Depository and Clearing Company Limited to be used for securities settlement purpose.

The securities account of the Fund shall only be opened and used for satisfying the Fund's business need. The Fund Custodian and the Fund Manager shall not lend and transfer any securities account of the Fund without the consent of the other party, or use any account of the Fund to carry out any activities other than the business of the Fund.

(V) Opening and Management of Bond Custody Account

- 1 After the Fund Contract takes effect, the Fund Manager shall be responsible for, in the name of the Fund, applying for and obtaining the trading qualification in the national interbank lending market and trading on behalf of the Fund; the Fund Custodian shall be responsible for, in the name of the Fund, opening a bond custody proprietary account for the interbank bond market with China Government Securities Depository Trust & Clearing Co., Ltd., and the Fund Custodian shall be responsible for the back-office matching and settlement of funds in respect of the bonds of the Fund.
- 2 The Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall be jointly responsible for signing the master repurchase agreement in the national interbank treasury bond market. The original copy shall be kept by the Fund Custodian with a duplicate copy kept by the Fund Manager.

(VI) Opening and Management of Other Accounts

After the date of execution of this Fund Custody Agreement, if the Fund is allowed to engage in investment business of other investment categories that complies with the provisions of the Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract, and where the opening and use of related accounts are involved, the Fund Manager shall assist the Fund Custodian to open the related accounts in accordance with the provisions of the relevant Laws and Regulations and the stipulations of the Fund Contract. Such accounts shall be used and managed according to relevant rules.

(VII) Safekeeping of Marketable Certificates Related to the Investment of the Fund Properties such as Physical Securities and Bank Fixed Deposit Certificates

The physical securities related to the investment of the Fund properties shall be kept by the Fund Custodian at its safe custody vault. The physical securities may also be kept in the safe custody vault of Central Securities Depository and Clearing Company Limited or the Shanghai Branch / Shenzhen Branch or the bill business centre of Central Securities Depository and Clearing Company Limited. The purchase and sale of physical securities shall be processed by the Fund Custodian according to the instructions of the Fund Manager. If the physical securities under the actual and effective control of the Fund Custodian are damaged or lost during the period in which they are kept under the custody of the Fund Custodian, any liability arising therefrom shall be borne by the Fund Custodian. With regards to securities which are under the actual and effective control of institutions other than the Fund Custodian, the Fund Custodian shall assume no liability for custody.

(VIII) Safekeeping of Major Contracts Related to the Fund Properties

The original copies of the major contracts in relation to the Fund signed by the Fund Manager on behalf of the Fund shall be kept by the Fund Custodian and the Fund Manager respectively. Unless otherwise specified in this agreement, the Fund Manager shall ensure that more than two original copies of each of the major contracts related to the Fund and signed by the Fund Manager on behalf of the Fund shall be held by the Fund as a party thereto, so that each of the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian may hold at least one original copy. Within 5 Working Days after the signing of the contract, the original copy shall be delivered in a safe manner (such as by hand or by registered post) to the Fund Custodian. The original copies of the contracts shall be kept by the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian at their respective document filing departments for over 15 years.

IV. Calculation and Review of the NAV of the Fund

(I) Calculation of the NAV of the Fund

1. Time and Procedures of Calculation and Review of the NAV of the Fund

The NAV of the Fund is the value calculated by deducting the liabilities of the Fund from the Total Asset Value of the Fund. The NAV per Fund unit is the amount resulting from the NAV of the Fund on the calculation day divided by the total number of Fund units on that calculation day. Calculation of the NAV per Fund unit shall be rounded off to three decimal places; any resulting deviation shall be included in the Fund properties.

The Fund Manager shall perform valuation of the Fund assets on each Working Day. The valuation principles shall comply with the provisions of the Fund Contract, the Accounting Measures for Securities Investment Fund, and other Laws and Regulations. The NAV of the Fund and the NAV per Fund unit used for the Fund's information disclosure shall be calculated by the Fund Manager and reviewed by the Fund Custodian. The Fund Manager shall, after the close of trading on each Working Day, calculate the NAV per Fund unit of the day, and send the same to the Fund Custodian in such manner as approved by both parties. The Fund Custodian shall review the calculation results of the net value and send the same to the Fund Manager in such manner as approved by both parties. The Fund Manager shall publish the net value of the Fund.

According to the Funds Law, the Fund Manager shall calculate and announce the NAV of the Fund; the Fund Custodian shall review and verify the NAV of the Fund calculated by the Fund Manager. Therefore, the accounting responsibility of the Fund shall be assumed by the Fund Manager, so with regard to the accounting issues relating to the Fund, if the discussion among the relevant parties on the basis of equality, leads to no consensus, the Fund Manager's calculation results of the NAV of the Fund shall be published to the public. Where the Laws and Regulations and regulatory bodies have mandatory provisions, such provisions shall prevail. Should there be any new matters, valuation shall be performed in accordance with the latest provisions of the government.

(II) Valuation Methods of the Fund Assets

1 Valuation Objects

Assets such as stocks, bonds, warrants, principal and interest of bank deposits and liabilities owned by the Fund.

2 Valuation Methods

The valuation methods of the Fund are as follows:

(1) Valuation of marketable securities listed on the stock exchange

①The marketable securities on stock exchange (including stocks, warrants, etc.), shall be valued based on the market price (closing price) quoted on the stock exchange on the relevant valuation day. If there is no transaction on the valuation day, and the economic environment experiences no major changes from the last trading day, they shall be valued based on the market price (closing price) on the last trading day. If the economic environment experiences a major change after the last trading day, the market prices of the last transactions shall be adjusted with reference to prevailing market prices of similar investment categories and the factors of the major change, so as to determine the fair price.

②The bonds that are listed on stock exchange and traded at net prices shall be valued at the closing prices on the valuation day. If there is no transaction on the valuation day and the economic environment experiences no major changes after the last trading day, the bonds shall be valued based on the closing price on the last trading day. If the economic environment experiences a major change after the last trading day, the market prices of the last transactions shall be adjusted with reference to the prevailing market prices of similar investment categories and the factors of the major change so as to determine the fair price.

③ The bonds that are listed on the stock exchange and are not traded at net prices shall be valued at net prices, which are calculated by deducting the interests receivable from the closing prices of the bonds on the valuation day. If there is no transaction on the valuation day and the economic environment experiences no major changes after the last trading day, the bonds shall be valued at net prices, which are calculated by deducting the interests receivable from the closing prices of the bonds on the last trading day. If the economic environment experiences a major change after the last trading day, the market prices of last transactions shall be adjusted with reference to the prevailing market prices of similar investment categories and the factors of the major change so as to determine the fair price.

④For the marketable securities which are listed on the stock exchange without an active market, the fair value shall be determined using valuation techniques. For the asset-backed securities which are listed on the stock exchange, the fair value shall be determined using valuation techniques. In case their fair value cannot be determined by using valuation techniques in a reliable manner, they shall be valued at cost.

(2) Marketable securities before listing shall be handled according to the following different circumstances:

①For new shares arising from bonus issue, capitalization issue, right issue and public offering of additional shares, they shall be valued at the market price (closing price) of the same stock listed on the stock exchange on the valuation day, or valued at the market price (closing price) on the latest day if there is no trading.

②For the stocks, bonds and warrants that are initially publicly offered and no yet listed, their fair value shall be determined using valuation techniques. In case their fair value cannot be determined by using valuation techniques in a reliable manner, they shall be valued at the cost.

③The stocks that are initially publicly offered with definite lock-up period shall be valued at the market price (closing price) of the same stock on the stock exchange after the listing of such stocks; for the stocks that are not publicly offered with definite lock-up period, the fair value shall be determined according to the relevant provisions of the regulatory bodies or industry associations.

(3) For the allotment options entitled by reason of holding of stocks, from the ex-rights day of allotment to the confirmation day of allotment, should the closing price be higher than the allotment price, they shall be valued at the difference between the closing price and the allotment price. Should the closing price be equal to or lower than the allotment price, they shall have nil value.

(4) For the fixed-income categories that are traded on the national interbank bond market, such as bonds and asset-backed securities, the fair value shall be determined by using valuation techniques.

(5) Where the same single bond is traded on two or more markets at the same time, it shall be valued respectively based on the market where the bond locates.

(6) Should there be conclusive evidence proving that the valuation based on the abovementioned methods cannot objectively reflect the fair value, the Fund Manager may, pursuant to the specific circumstances and after consultation with the Fund Custodian, determine the value at a price which best reflects the fair value.

(7) Where the relevant Laws and Regulations and regulatory bodies have mandatory provisions, such provisions shall prevail. If there are new matters, valuation shall be performed according to the latest provisions of the state.

(III) Handling of Valuation Errors

The loss caused to the Investors due to the valuation error of the Fund shall be assumed by the Fund Manager first. The Fund Manager shall have the right to recourse against the party responsible for the error for any liability that it shall not assume.

Where the NAV of the Fund and the NAV per Fund unit calculated by the Fund Manager are announced after being reviewed and confirmed by the Fund Custodian, compensation payment to the Investors or the Fund for losses caused thereby shall be made in accordance with the provisions of the Laws and Regulations to the investors or the Fund. In respect of the amount of compensation actually paid to the investors or the Fund, the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall assume the corresponding liability respectively in proportion to the rate of management fee and the rate of custody fee.

Due to an error in information provided by one party concerned, despite of the necessary and reasonable measures taken by the other party concerned, such error still cannot be found, which in turn leading to an error in the calculation of the NAV of the Fund and the NAV per Fund unit, thus causing a loss to the Investors or the Fund; and thereby causing a deferred error in the calculation of the NAV of the Fund or the NAV per Fund unit on the subsequent trading days, thus giving rise to a loss to the Investors or the Fund, the party concerned who has supplied the wrong information shall bear the responsibility for compensation.

Where the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian have taken all necessary, appropriate, and reasonable measures to do inspection, but still cannot discover any error due to errors in the data transmitted by stock exchange and their registration and clearing companies or due to other Force Majeure events, the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian may be exempted from the liability to compensate for the error in the Valuation of the Fund Assets arising therefrom. However, the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian, shall actively take necessary measures to mitigate the impact arising therefrom.

When there is any inconsistency between the NAV of the Fund calculated by the Fund Manager and the calculation results of the Fund Custodian, the parties concerned shall with due diligence conduct recalculation and verification. If the consistency cannot be reached at the end, the calculation results of the Fund Manager shall prevail and be published to the public. For the loss caused thereby and the loss arising out of the deferred error in the calculation of the NAV of the Fund on such trading day, the Fund Manager shall be liable for compensation, and the Fund Custodian shall assume no liability for compensation.

(IV) Establishment of the Fund's Account Books

After the Fund Contract has been effective, the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall, according to the same bookkeeping method and accounting treatment principles as agreed by the parties concerned, separately and independently establish, record, and maintain the full set of account books of the Fund. The parties concerned shall reconcile each other's account books periodically, and supervise each other, so as to ensure the safety of the Fund assets. Should there be any differences on the accounting treatment method between both parties, the treatment method of the Fund Manager shall prevail.

If the accounts of the respective parties are found to be inconsistent after reconciliation, the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian must find out the reasons and make rectifications in a timely manner, and ensure that records in the parallel accounting books posted by the parties concerned are completely consistent. If the records are found to be inconsistent after reconciliation is performed on that day, and the reasons for the incorrect accounts cannot be identified for the time being, such that the calculation and announcement of the NAV of the Fund are affected, the account books of the Fund Manager shall prevail.

(V) Preparation and Review of the Fund's Periodic Reports

Financial statements of the Fund shall be prepared separately and independently by the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian on a monthly basis. The preparation of the monthly statements shall be completed within five Working Days after end of each month.

Within 45 days following the expiration of every six months after the Fund Contract takes effect, the Fund Manager shall update the Prospectus once and post the same on the website, and shall post the summary of the updated Prospectus on the Designated Media. The Fund Manager shall, within 15 Working Days following the end of each quarter, complete the preparation and announcement of the quarterly report; within 60 days following the end of half of the fiscal year, complete the preparation and announcement of the semi-annual report; within 90 days following the end of the fiscal year, complete the preparation and announcement of the annual report.

On the date on which the preparation of the monthly statements is completed, the Fund Manager shall affix the common seal to the statements and send the relevant statements in the form of an encrypted fax to the Fund Custodian for review; the Fund Custodian shall conduct review with 3 Working Days and notify the Fund Manager in writing of the review results in a timely manner. On the date on which the preparation of the quarterly report is completed, the Fund Manager shall provide the related report to the Fund Custodian for review; the Fund Custodian shall conduct review within 7 Working Days upon receipt of it and notify the Fund Manager in writing of the review results. On the date on which the preparation of the semi-annual report is completed, the Fund Manager shall provide the related report to the Fund Custodian for review; the Fund Custodian shall conduct review within 30 Working Days upon receipt of it and notify the Fund Manager in writing of the review results. On the date on which the preparation of the annual report is completed, the Fund Manager shall provide the related report to the Fund Custodian for review; the Fund Custodian shall conduct review within 45 Working Days upon receipt of it and notify the Fund Manager in writing of the review results.

When the Fund Custodian discovers any inconsistency between the statements from the parties concerned in the course of the review, the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall jointly identify the reasons and make adjustments according to the methods of accounting treatment approved by the parties concerned. Once no errors are found in the review, the Fund Custodian shall affix the business seal on the reports provided by the Fund Manager or issue a letter of opinion on review affixed with the official seal of the Custody Department, and each of the parties concerned shall keep one copy. If the Fund Manager and Fund Custodian cannot reach an agreement on the relevant statements before the date on which the announcement shall be released, the Fund Manager shall have the right to release an announcement based on the statements it prepared. The Fund Custodian shall have the right to report such situation to the CSRC for filing.

After completing review on the financial accounting reports, semi-annual reports or annual reports, the Fund Custodian shall affix the seal to such documents for confirmation or issue a confirmation letter of review, so as to prepare for inspection of the relevant the documents by the competent authorities.

On the second Working Day following the public disclosure of the periodic reports of the Fund, the reports shall be submitted for filing to the CSRC and the local agencies of the CSRC where the Fund Manager's main office locates respectively.

V. Registration and Safekeeping of the Registers of the Fund Unitholders

The Fund Manager and Fund Custodian shall separately and properly keep the registers of the Fund Unitholders, which include the register of the Fund Unitholders on the Effective Date of the Fund Contract, the register of the Fund Unitholders on the termination date of the Fund Contract, the register of the Fund Unitholders on the interests registration day of the general meeting of the Fund Unitholders, the register of the Fund Unitholders on 30th June of each year and the register of the Fund Unitholders on 31st December of each year. The registers of the Fund Unitholders shall be prepared and kept by the registration institution of the Fund in accordance with the Fund Manager's instructions. The Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian shall separately keep the registers of the Fund Unitholders according to the current relevant rules. The registers may be kept in electronic or document form for a period of 15 years.

The Fund Manager shall timely submit to the Fund Custodian the registers of the Fund Unitholders dated as follows: the register of the Fund Unitholders on the Effective Date of the Fund Contract, the register of the Fund Unitholders on the termination date of the Fund Contract, the register of the Fund Unitholders on the interests registration day of the general meeting of the Fund Unitholders, the register of the Fund Unitholders on 30th June of each year, the register of the Fund Unitholders on 31st December of each year. The contents of the registers of the Fund Unitholders must include the names of the Fund Unitholders and the units held by the Fund Unitholders. Amongst them, the register of the Fund Unitholders on 31st December of each year shall be submitted within 10 Working Days before the next month; for the registers of the Fund Unitholders on the dates concerning the important matters of the Fund such as the Effective Date of the Fund Contract, the termination date of the Fund Contract, they shall be submitted within 10 Working Days after the occurrence of such matters.

The Fund Custodian shall properly keep the electronic versions of the registers of the Fund Unitholders, and back them up into compact disks on a regular basis, and maintain the same for a period of 15 years. The Fund Custodian shall not use the registers of the Fund Unitholders that it maintains for purposes other than the fund Custody business and shall comply with the confidentiality obligation.

If the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian as a result of its own reasons cannot keep the registers of the Fund Unitholders properly, the Fund Manager or the Fund Custodian shall assume its respective responsibilities as required by the rules and regulations.

VI. Method of Dispute Resolution

The parties concerned agree that all disputes arising from this agreement or related to this agreement, unless they can be resolved through friendly negotiations, shall be submitted to the China International Economic and Trade Arbitration Commission for arbitration according to the then effective arbitration rules of the Commission. The place of arbitration is Beijing. The arbitral award shall be final and binding on all parties concerned, with the arbitration fees to be borne by the losing party.

During the period in which the dispute is handled, all parties concerned shall abide by their duties as the Fund Manager and the Fund Custodian, continue to perform their duties prescribed in the Fund Contract and the Custody Agreement faithfully, diligently and responsibly, and safeguard the legitimate interests of the Unitholders.
