Investment Strategy:

KraneShares ICBCCS S&P China 500 Index UCITS ETF (ticker: CHIN) is a passively managed, index tracking UCITS ETF that seeks to measure the performance of the S&P China 500 Index. The S&P China 500 Index comprises 500 of the largest, most liquid Chinese companies listed on all Chinese stock exchanges, including Mainland China, Hong Kong, and the United States. Companies available for inclusion must be headquartered in China and meet the market capitalization and liquidity minimums required by S&P's index methodology.

CHIN Features:

- Strategic ownership of China as an asset class.
- Exposure to companies benefitting from increasing domestic consumption by China's growing middle class.
- Exposure to Chinese companies listed in the United States, Hong Kong, and Mainland China.

China Broad Equity Highlights:

- The increased availability of Chinese equities to foreign investors over the past few years has brought about the rise of China as an asset class.
- China has the world's second largest economy and equity market, with a capitalization of over $9 trillion<sup>1</sup>.
- Only 7% of Mainland China's stock market is owned by foreigners<sup>2</sup>.

1.) Data from MSCI as of 31 December 2022. In order to capture the entire China opportunity, we added together the full market caps of the Shenzhen and Shanghai Stock Exchanges and then added the MSCI China Index market capitalization to arrive at the market cap for each year.
