What is this product?

BEA Union Investment China A-Share Equity Fund (the "Sub-Fund") is a sub-fund of BEA Union Investment Series (the "Fund"), which is a unit trust established as an umbrella fund under the laws of Hong Kong.

Objective and Investment Strategy
Objective

The investment objective of the Sub-Fund is to seek long-term capital growth by investing primarily in a diversified portfolio of securities of companies which have their principal place of business or key assets located in China or which derive a substantial part of their revenue from China.

Strategy

The Sub-Fund will invest at least 70% of its Net Asset Value in China A-Shares listed on the Shanghai Stock Exchange or the Shenzhen Stock Exchange ("Equity Securities"), and not more than 30% of its Net Asset Value in Renminbi denominated government and corporate bonds ("RMB Bonds"), China B-Shares, China H-Shares, securities investment funds or collective investment schemes, warrants listed and traded on a stock exchange, initial public offerings, money market instruments and cash or cash equivalents in accordance with applicable investment restrictions. Equity Securities may be listed on main boards, ChiNext market and/or Small and Medium Enterprise board and/or the Science and Technology Innovation board of the respective stock exchanges in mainland.

Currently it is intended that the Sub-Fund will obtain exposure to Equity Securities and RMB Bonds primarily by using the qualified foreign institutional investor (“QFII”) quotas of the Manager. In addition to the use of the QFII quotas of the Manager, the Sub-Fund may have direct exposure to certain eligible China A-Shares via the Stock Connects (as further described in Annex A of the Explanatory Memorandum) or other similar programs as approved by the relevant regulators from time to time.

The securities that may be invested by the Sub-Fund will be primarily equity securities and equity linked securities, including common stocks, preferred stocks, warrants, including but not limited to China A-Shares. The Sub-Fund may invest in equity securities of companies of any industry and any market capitalisation. The Sub-Fund may also invest up to 10% of its Net Asset Value in equity funds (in compliance with 7.11 to 7.11D of the Code) for purposes consistent with the investment objective of the Sub-Fund. In normal market conditions, the Sub-Fund may also hold less than 30% of its Net Asset Value in cash or cash equivalents. Under exceptional circumstances (e.g. market crash or major crisis), this percentage may be temporarily increased to up to 100% for cash flow management. In seeking to achieve its investment objective, the Sub-Fund will focus on active management by stock selection, timing, management of exposure and sector allocation.

The Sub-Fund will not invest in any urban investment bonds (城投債), bonds which are rated BB+ or below designated by PRC credit agencies or unrated bonds, or asset backed securities (including asset backed commercial papers).

The Manager currently does not intend to enter into any securities financing transactions on behalf of the Sub-Fund.

The Sub-Fund may acquire financial derivative instruments for hedging and investment purposes.

Use of derivatives / investment in derivatives

The Sub-Fund’s net derivative exposure may be up to 50% of its Net Asset Value.

What are the key risks?

Investment involves risks. Please refer to the Explanatory Memorandum for details including the risk factors.

1. Investment risk

- The Sub-Fund’s investment portfolio may fall in value and therefore your investment in the Sub-Fund may suffer losses. There is no guarantee of the repayment of principal.

2. Equity market risk

- The Sub-Fund’s investment in equity securities is subject to general market risks, whose value may fluctuate due to various factors, such as changes in investment sentiment, political and economic conditions and issuer-specific factors.

3. Concentration risk / China market risk

- The Sub-Fund’s investments are concentrated in China. The value of the Sub-Fund may be more volatile than that of a fund having a more diverse portfolio of investments.
- The value of the Sub-Fund may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event affecting the China market.

4. Risks associated with Stock Connects

- The relevant rules and regulations on Stock Connects are subject to change which may have potential retrospective effect. The programme is subject to quota limitations. Where a suspension in the trading through the Stock Connects is effected, the Sub-Fund’s ability to invest in China A-Shares or access the PRC market through the programme will be adversely affected. In such event, the Sub-Fund’s ability to achieve its investment objective could be negatively affected.

5. Risks associated with the Small and Medium Enterprise board (“SME board”) and/or ChiNext board and/or Science and Technology Innovation board (“STAR board”)

- The Sub-Fund may invest in the SME board and/or the ChiNext board of the Shenzhen Stock Exchange and/or the STAR board of the Shanghai Stock Exchange. Investments in the SME board and/or ChiNext board and/or STAR board may result in significant losses for the Sub-Fund due to additional risks including higher fluctuation on stock prices, over-valuation risk, delisting risk and risk associated with less stringent listing rules when compared to those of the main board.

6. QFII risk

- The Sub-Fund is subject to restrictions under QFII regulations, such as investment restrictions. The capacity of the Sub-Fund to make investments, and thus the value of the Sub-Fund, may be affected.
- The Manager’s QFII status could be suspended or revoked, in which case the Sub-Fund may be required to dispose of its securities holdings. Further, the laws and regulations applicable to a QFII in China are subject to change which may take retrospective effect. These factors may adversely affect the liquidity and performance of the Sub-Fund.
- There can be no assurance that a QFII will continue to make available its QFII quota, or the Sub-Fund will be allocated a sufficient portion of QFII quota from the Manager to meet all applications for subscription to the Sub-Fund. The Sub-Fund’s performance may therefore be affected due to limited investment capabilities, or the Sub-Fund may not be able to fully implement or pursue its investment objective or strategy.

7. RMB currency and conversion risks

- The Sub-Fund is denominated in US dollars and subscriptions monies and redemptions proceeds will be paid in US dollars. However, investments will be made through a QFII in RMB. The performance of the Sub-Fund may therefore be affected by movements in the exchange rate between US dollars and RMB.
- RMB is currently not freely convertible and is subject to foreign exchange controls and restrictions.
- Non-RMB based (e.g. Hong Kong) investors are exposed to foreign exchange risk and there is no guarantee that the value of RMB against the investors’ base currencies (for example HKD) will not depreciate. Any depreciation of RMB could adversely affect the value of investor’s investment in the Sub-Fund.
- Although offshore RMB (CNH) and onshore RMB (CNY) are the same currency, they trade at different rates. Any divergence between CNH and CNY may adversely impact investors.
- Under exceptional circumstances, payment of redemptions and/or dividend payment in RMB may be delayed due to the exchange controls and restrictions applicable to RMB.

8. Custodial risk and brokerage

- Securities investments made through a QFII will be maintained by a custodian bank appointed by the QFII pursuant to PRC regulations. The Manager in its capacity as a QFII has appointed Industrial and Commercial Bank of China Limited as the custodian in respect of the QFII securities. In addition, the execution and settlement of transactions or the transfer of any funds or securities may be conducted by brokers appointed by the QFII. If the QFII Custodian or the PRC Brokers default, the Sub-Fund may suffer substantial losses.

9. China tax risk

- There are risks and uncertainties associated with the current Chinese tax laws, regulations and practice (which may have retrospective effect). Any increased tax liabilities on the Sub-Fund may adversely affect the Sub-Fund's value.
- The Manager currently does not intend to withhold any amount of realised and/or unrealised capital gains on investments in China A-Shares.
- The Manager currently intends to make provisions for any PRC taxes payable by the Sub-Fund on dividends derived from PRC Equity Securities (including China A-Shares acquired through the Stock Connects), at a rate of 10% (or as otherwise advised by the Sub-Fund's tax adviser), if the relevant WIT is not withheld at source. Any shortfall between the provision and actual tax liabilities, which will be debited from the Sub-Fund's assets, will adversely affect the Sub-Fund's asset value. The actual tax liabilities may be lower than the tax provision made. Depending on the timing of their subscriptions and/or redemptions, investors may be disadvantaged as a result of any shortfall of tax provision and will not have the right to claim any part of the overprovision (as the case may be).

10. Emerging market risk

- The Sub-Fund invests in emerging markets which may involve increased risks and special considerations not typically associated with investment in more developed markets, such as liquidity risks, currency risks/control, political and economic uncertainties, legal and taxation risks, settlement risks, custody risk and the likelihood of a high degree of volatility.

11. Derivative risk

- Risks associated with derivative instruments include counterparty/credit risk, liquidity risk, valuation risk, volatility risk and over-the-counter transaction risk. The leverage element/component of a derivative instrument can result in a loss significantly greater than the amount invested in the derivative instrument by the Sub-Fund. Exposure to derivative instruments may lead to a higher risk of significant loss by the Sub-Fund.
- The Sub-Fund may use derivative instruments for hedging purposes which may not achieve the intended purpose. In an adverse situation, the Sub-Fund's use of derivative instruments may become ineffective in achieving hedging and may result in significant losses.

12. Currency hedging risk

- Adverse exchange rate fluctuations between the base currency of the Sub-Fund and the class currency of the currency hedged class units may result in a decrease in return and/or loss of capital for unitholders. Over-hedged or under-hedged positions may arise and there can be no assurance that these currency hedged class units will be hedged at all times or that the Manager will be successful in employing the hedge.
- The costs of the hedging transactions will be reflected in the net asset value of the currency hedged class units and therefore, an investor of such currency hedged class units will have to bear the associated hedging costs, which may be significant depending on prevailing market conditions.
- If the counterparties of the instruments used for hedging purpose default, investors of the currency hedged class units may be exposed to currency exchange risk on an unhedged basis and may therefore suffer further losses.
- While hedging strategies may protect investors in the currency hedged class units against a decrease in the value of the Sub-Fund's base currency relative to the class currency of the currency hedged class units, it may also preclude investors from benefiting from an increase in the value of the Sub-Fund's base currency.

How has the Sub-Fund performed?

- Past performance information is not indicative of future performance. Investors may not get back the full amount invested.
- The computation basis of the performance is based on the calendar year end, NAV-to-NAV, with dividend reinvested.
- These figures show by how much Class A Units increased or decreased in value during the calendar year being shown. Performance data has been calculated in US$ including ongoing charges and excluding subscription fee and redemption fee you might have to pay.
- Where no past performance is shown there was insufficient data available in that year to provide performance.
- Sub-Fund / Class A Units launch date: 2010

Is there any guarantee?

The Sub-Fund does not have any guarantees. You may not get back the full amount of money you invest.
