Risk Considerations

Past performance is not indicative of future results. For details of the investment risks, see the current prospectus.

Please note that any dividends which the Fund may receive are subject to a 30% withholding tax in the US. The benchmark does not take into account the effects of tax and the deduction is therefore not reflected in the benchmark return illustrated herein. The investment objective and performance benchmark is a target only and not a guarantee of the Fund performance. The index is unmanaged and cannot be invested in directly. Index returns assume reinvestment of dividends and capital gains and unlike fund returns do not reflect fees or expenses. Adverse movements in currency exchange rates can result in a decrease in return and a loss of capital. Investments of each portfolio may be fully hedged into its base currency potentially reducing currency risks but may expose the portfolio to other risks such as a default of a counterparty.

Small cap companies carry greater risk and are less liquid than larger companies. High Yield Bonds carry a higher level of default risk and can be less liquid than government bonds and investment grade corporate bonds.

The Neuberger Berman Diversified Currency Fund may invest more than 35% of its net assets in transferable securities and money market instruments issued by an OECD government. Economies in Emerging Markets are generally less well regulated and may be adversely affected by trade barriers, exchange controls, protectionist measures and political / social instability. There is a risk of volatility due to lower liquidity and the availability of reliable information.

Real estate investments are subject to greater potential risks and volatility than a more diversified portfolio, and the share values may decline due to events affecting the real estate industry. The properties held by REITs could fall in value for a variety of reasons, such as declines in rental income, poor property management, environmental liabilities, uninsured damage, increased competition, or changes in real estate tax laws. There is also a risk that REIT stock prices overall will decline over short or even long periods because of rising interest rates.

Monthly and weekly Distributing Classes will distribute out of income and may also pay out of capital which will be eroded; investors in these classes should be aware that the payment out of capital may have different tax implications to distributions of income and should seek tax advice. For C shares a 1% contingent deferred sales charge will be payable in respect of all shares redeemed less than 365 days of their issue.
