KEY INVESTOR INFORMATION

This document provides you with key investor information about this fund. It is not marketing material. The information is required by law to help you understand the nature and the risks of investing in this fund. You are advised to read it so you can make an informed decision about whether to invest.

OBJECTIVE AND INVESTMENT POLICY

Objectives

The fund's objective is total return, measured in U.S. dollars.

Investment Policies

The fund invests in a combination of equity securities and debt instruments of issuers located in developed and emerging market countries. Historically the fund has invested approximately 60% of its assets in equity securities and 40% of its assets in debt instruments, but these allocations may vary generally between 50% and 75% in equity securities and 25% and 50% in debt instruments. The fund generally focuses its equity investments in larger value companies, and normally invests a portion of its assets in income-producing equity securities. A segment of the fund's equity investments is selected based on blending the results of fundamental analysis and quantitative research to create a blended rating for an issuer. The fund generally focuses its debt investments in corporate, government, and mortgage backed debt instruments. The fund invests substantially in investment grade debt instruments. The fund will promote an environmental characteristic under Article 8 of Regulation (EU) 2019/2088 of 27 November 2019 on sustainability-related disclosures in the financial sector ("SFDR") (see the fund's Prospectus and website for more information). The Investment Manager may also consider environmental, social and governance (ESG) factors in its fundamental analysis alongside other factors. The fund may use derivatives for hedging and/or investment purposes but will not extensively or primarily use derivatives to achieve the fund's investment objective.

The fund's custom blended benchmark is indicated for performance comparison only. Although the fund's investments will generally be represented in the benchmark, components are likely to be weighted differently from the benchmark and the fund is likely to invest outside of the benchmark to take advantage of attractive investment opportunities. The fund is actively managed within its objective and the investment strategy will not restrict the extent to which portfolio holdings may deviate from the benchmark. It is expected that the fund's deviation from the benchmark will be significant.

Distributions. Income will not be distributed to shareholders but reflected in the assets of the fund.

Redeeming Shares. You may sell your shares on each business day when banks in Luxembourg are open for normal business and the New York Stock Exchange is open for trading.

Terms to Understand.

Equity securities represent an ownership interest, or the right to acquire an ownership interest, in a company or other issuer.

Debt instruments represent obligations of corporations, governments, and other entities to repay money borrowed.

Derivatives are financial contracts whose value is based on the value of one or more underlying indicators or the difference between underlying indicators.

RISK AND REWARD PROFILE

This rating system is based on how much the returns of the class have varied over the past 5 years compared to the fund's current asset mix. Where 5 years' performance history is not available the data consists of historical returns representative of the fund, benchmark returns or returns for another class with the same currency as appropriate. Past returns may not be a reliable indicator of the future risk and reward profile of the class, and the rating may change over time based on the more recent returns. A fund in the lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

Lower risk

Typically lower rewards

Higher risk

Typically higher rewards

The fund is in category 5 because there has been medium high fluctuations in the fund's return historically.

Equity Risk: Prices of equity securities can vary significantly in response to issuer, market, economic, industry, political, geopolitical, public health, cybersecurity and regulatory conditions. This risk may be higher where the fund invests in a specific country or region. The fund invests in larger value companies, which may underperform the broader market during certain stages of the market cycle.

Debt Instruments Risk: Prices of debt instruments can vary significantly in response to changes in interest rates and the credit quality of the issuers of its investments, and to issuer, market, economic, industry, political, geopolitical, public health, cybersecurity and regulatory conditions. In addition, the prices of mortgage-backed instruments can vary in response to changes in the credit quality of underlying mortgages and the timing of payment of principal and interest.

Emerging Markets Risk: Emerging markets can be more volatile and less liquid than more developed markets.

Derivatives Risk: Derivatives can be highly volatile and can involve leverage. Gains or losses from derivatives can be substantially greater than the derivatives' original cost.

Currency Risk: Changes in currency rates can significantly affect the value of your investment, and may also affect the financial condition of the issuers in which the fund invests.

Strategy Risk. The fund's strategy to blend fundamental and quantitative research for a segment of its equity investments may not produce the intended results. Quantitative models may not produce the intended results due to various factors used in the models and technical issues in the use of the models. In addition, the Investment Manager's fundamental research is not available for all issuers.

Other Risks

The rating does not reflect the risk that these factors, as well as other factors such as liquidity, counterparty, and operational risks change over time and can affect the fund's returns differently in the future.
