Schroder International Selection Fund – Sustainable Finance Disclosure Regulation (“SFDR”)

Dear Shareholder,

We are writing to advise you that the investment objectives and policies of the following funds of Schroder International Selection Fund (the “Company”) (each a “Fund” and collectively the “Funds”) have been updated in order to comply with new requirements imposed by the SFDR:

- Euro Corporate Bond
- Euro Equity
- European Dividend Maximiser
- European Large Cap
- Global Climate Change Equity
- Global Credit Income
- Global Sustainable Growth
- Japanese Equity
- QEP Global Quality

The SFDR rules require that sustainable funds are classified under one of two new categories:

Article 8 – funds which have binding environmental and/or social characteristics

Article 9 – funds which have the objective of sustainable investment

The Appendix to this letter shows the updated investment objective and policy wording in respect of the Funds which are Article 8 funds under the SFDR rules.

The changes are intended to clarify the way in which the Funds are currently managed. All other key features of the Funds will remain the same.

There is no change in the Funds’ investment style, investment philosophy, investment strategy, and the operation and/or manner in which the Funds are being managed following these clarifications.

For the avoidance of doubt, only Global Climate Change Equity and Global Sustainable Growth are currently classified as environmental, social and governance (“ESG”) funds in Hong Kong. Funds other than Global Climate Change Equity and Global Sustainable Growth are not currently classified and will not be classified as ESG funds in Hong Kong following the updates to investment objectives and policies of these Funds.

The prospectus of the Company will be revised to further indicate that where a Fund’s investment policy states that the Fund will achieve a certain sustainability score (whether overall, or in relation to a particular measure such as carbon intensity) compared to a named benchmark, this does not mean that the Fund is constrained by, or seeks to achieve a financial return relative to that benchmark unless otherwise stated. Any benchmark named in this context should not be treated as a reference benchmark for the Fund.

For any Fund that has environmental or social characteristics, details of how the Fund attains those characteristics will be disclosed in the relevant Fund Details section of the prospectus, in the Fund’s investment policy and under a new section “Sustainability Criteria” in the Fund Characteristics section, as further disclosed in the Appendix.

For funds other than the Article 8 and Article 9 funds under the SFDR rules, references to the consideration of material environmental, social and governance factors have been removed from the investment policies of the relevant funds of the Company for consistency with the requirements of the SFDR as they fall under the scope of Article 6 of the SFDR. Instead, a more detailed explanation will be added to the prospectus to explain how we take sustainability risks into account in the management of all funds. Please note that we in any case take environmental, social or governance criteria (alongside other factors) into consideration in the overall risk management process. The funds of the Company that fall under the scope of Article 6 of SFDR and for which references to material environmental, social and governance factors have been removed from their investment policies are set out below:

- BRIC (Brazil, Russia, India, China)
- Emerging Europe
- Emerging Markets
- European Value
- Frontier Markets Equity
- Global Dividend Maximiser
- Global Emerging Market Opportunities
- Global Equity
- Global Equity Alpha
- Global Equity Yield
- Latin American
- Middle East
- QEP Global Active Value
- US Large Cap

The Hong Kong offering documents of the Company will be revised to reflect the changes above.

Costs of making these changes including regulatory and shareholder communication costs will be borne by Schroder Investment Management (Europe) S.A..

		The Fund may use derivatives with the aim of reducing risk or managing the Fund more efficiently. Sustainability Criteria The Investment Manager applies sustainability criteria when selecting investments for the Fund. Companies are assessed and rated against a set of questions covering issues such as respect for the environment; fair and equitable treatment of employees, suppliers and customers; corporate citizenship; capital allocation and governance. The Investment Manager will decide on a case by case basis whether a company is eligible for inclusion in the investible universe, taking into account these ratings. While all companies are assessed against all questions, the Investment Manager’s decision will focus on those areas that are most relevant to the particular business of that company. In these areas, the company should generally be appraised as at least “strong” in order to be accepted into the investible universe. The eligibility of each company in the Fund’s portfolio is then reviewed at least annually. The primary sources of information used to perform the analysis are Schrodgers’ proprietary sustainability tools, third-party research, unconventional data sourced by our Data Insights Unit, NGO reports and expert networks. The Investment Manager also scrutinises company sustainability reports and other disclosures, which may be complemented by direct engagement with the company during the assessment process. The Investment Manager ensures that at least 90% of companies in the Fund’s portfolio are rated against the sustainability criteria. As a result of the application of sustainability criteria, at least 20% of the Fund’s potential investment universe is excluded from the selection of investments.

		For the purposes of this test, the potential investment universe is the core universe of issuers that the Investment Manager may select for the Fund prior to the application of sustainability criteria, in accordance with the other limitations of the Investment Objective and Policy. What is this product?

This is a sub-fund of Schroder International Selection Fund, a mutual fund domiciled in Luxembourg and its home regulator is Commission de Surveillance du Secteur Financier.

Objectives and investment strategy

Investment Objective

The fund aims to provide capital growth in excess of the MSCI European Monetary Union (Net TR) index after fees have been deducted over a three to five year period ^{Note} by investing in equity and equity related securities of companies in countries participating in the European Monetary Union.

Investment Policy

The fund is actively managed and invests at least 75% of its assets in equity and equity related securities of companies that are incorporated in the European Economic Area. The fund invests at least two-thirds of its assets in equity and equity related securities of companies in countries whose currency is the Euro.

The fund is managed with reference to material environmental, social and governance factors. This means issues such as climate change, environmental performance, labour standards or board composition that could impact a company's value may be considered in the assessment of companies.

The fund is not subject to any limitation on the portion of its net asset value that may be invested in any country in the European Economic Area or sector. The fund is not subject to any limitation on the market capitalisation of the companies that it may invest in.

The fund may also invest up one-third of its assets directly or indirectly in other securities (including other asset classes), countries, regions, industries or currencies, investment funds, warrants and money market investments, and hold cash.

Under exceptional circumstances (e.g. market crash or major crisis), the fund may be invested temporarily up to 100% of its net asset value in liquid assets such as bank deposits, certificates of deposit, commercial paper and treasury bills for cash flow management.

The fund may use derivatives with the aim of reducing risk or managing the fund more efficiently. Derivatives can be used for instance to create market exposures through equity, currency, volatility or index related financial derivative instruments and include over-the-counter and/or exchange traded options, futures, contracts for difference, warrants, swaps, forward contracts and/or a combination of the above.

The fund will have no or limited Renminbi (RMB) denominated underlying investments.

^{Note} For clarification purpose, this means to exceed a medium to long term return of the stated index after fees have been deducted. The three to five year period is considered as a medium to long term period, and is the period over which an investor should assess the fund's performance.

Benchmark

The fund's performance should be assessed against its target benchmark being to exceed the MSCI European Monetary Union (Net TR) index ("Target Benchmark") and compared against the Morningstar Eurozone Large Cap Equity Category ("Comparator Benchmark"). The fund's investment universe is expected to overlap materially with the components of the Target Benchmark. The Comparator Benchmark is only included for performance comparison purposes and does not have any bearing on how the investment manager invests the fund's assets.

Use of derivatives / investment in derivatives

The fund's net derivative exposure may be up to 50% of the fund's net asset value.

What are the key risks?

Investment involves risk. Please refer to the offering document for details including the risk factors.

1. Equity investment risk

Investment in equity securities is subject to the risk that the market value of the stocks may go down as well as up due to numerous factors such as changes in investment sentiment, political environment, economic environment, issuer-specific factors, regional or global economic instability, currency and interest rate fluctuations. If the market value of the stocks go down the net asset value of the fund may be adversely affected.

2. Risk of investment in Europe

The fund may invest in securities which may include a substantial investment in European securities. In light of the current fiscal conditions and concerns on sovereign debt of certain European countries, the fund may be subject to an increased amount of volatility, liquidity, price, default and currency risk should there be any adverse credit events, such as credit downgrade of a sovereign or exit of EU members from the Eurozone, in the European region. Notwithstanding the governments of the European countries have adopted measures to address these problems, it is possible that these measures may not work and may adversely affect the value of the fund's investment in European securities. If these adverse economic or financial events in Europe continue, they could have additional unfavourable effects on the economies and financial markets of other parts of the world thereby affecting the value of the fund's investment.

3. Derivatives

The fund may use derivatives to meet its specific investment objective. There is no guarantee that the performance of derivatives will result in a positive effect for the fund. Derivative exposure may lead to a high risk of significant capital loss. Risks associated with derivatives include credit risk and counterparty risk, liquidity risk, valuation risk, volatility risk, over-the-counter transaction risks and hedging risk. The leverage element/component of derivatives can result in a loss significantly greater than the amount invested in the derivatives by the fund. There is no guarantee that the desired hedging instruments will be available or hedging techniques will achieve their desired result. In adverse situations, the use of hedging instruments may become ineffective in hedging and the fund may suffer significant losses.

4. Concentrated geographical locations

The fund investing in concentrated geographical locations may be subject to a higher level of risks comparing to a fund investing in a more diversified portfolio/strategy. The value of the fund may be more susceptible to adverse economic, political, policy, foreign exchange, liquidity, tax, legal or regulatory event affecting the relevant geographical locations.

5. Smaller companies risk

Fund invests in smaller companies may fluctuate in value more than other funds and may be more vulnerable to adverse developments than those in larger companies. During periods where markets are falling, securities of smaller companies may become less liquid and experience short-term price volatility and wide spreads between dealing prices.

6. Risks relating to distributions

- For distribution share classes with a general dividend policy, expenses will be paid out of capital rather than out of gross income. The amount of distributable income therefore increases and the amount so increased may be considered to be dividend paid out of capital; capital growth will be reduced and in periods of low growth capital erosion may occur.
- Distribution share classes with a fixed dividend policy will distribute the dividends based on a fixed amount or fixed percentage of the net asset value per share. This may result in share classes with fixed distributions either paying out both income and capital in distribution payments, or not substantially distributing all the investment income which a share class has earned.
- You should note that in the circumstances where the payment of distributions are paid out of capital, this represents and amounts to a return or withdrawal of part of the amount you originally invested or capital gains attributable to that and may result in an immediate decrease in the net asset value of shares.
- The distribution amount and net asset value of the currency hedged share class may be adversely affected by differences in the interest rates of the reference currency of the currency hedged share classes and the fund's base currency, resulting in an increase in the amount of distribution that is paid out of capital and hence a greater erosion of capital than other non-currency hedged share classes.

7. Risks relating to hedging and the hedged classes

- In respect of the share classes which the management company of the fund has the ability to fully hedge the shares of such share classes in relation to the fund currency, currency exposures or currency hedging transactions within the fund's portfolio will not be considered. The aim of a currency hedged share class is to provide you with the performance returns of the fund's investments by reducing the effects of exchange rate fluctuations between the fund currency and the reference currency. However there is no assurance that the hedging strategies employed will be effective in fully eliminating the currency exposure to the reference currency thereby delivering performance differentials that are reflective only of interest rate differences adjusted for fees.
- Where undertaken, the effects of this hedging will be reflected in the net asset value and, therefore, in the performance of such share class. Similarly, any expenses arising from such hedging transactions will be borne by the share class in relation to which the expenses have been incurred.
- It should be noted that, where relevant, these hedging transactions may be entered into whether the reference currency is declining or increasing in value relative to the relevant fund currency and so, where such hedging is undertaken it may substantially protect investors in the relevant share class against a decrease in the value of the fund currency relative to the reference currency, but it may also preclude investors from benefiting from an increase in the value of the fund currency.

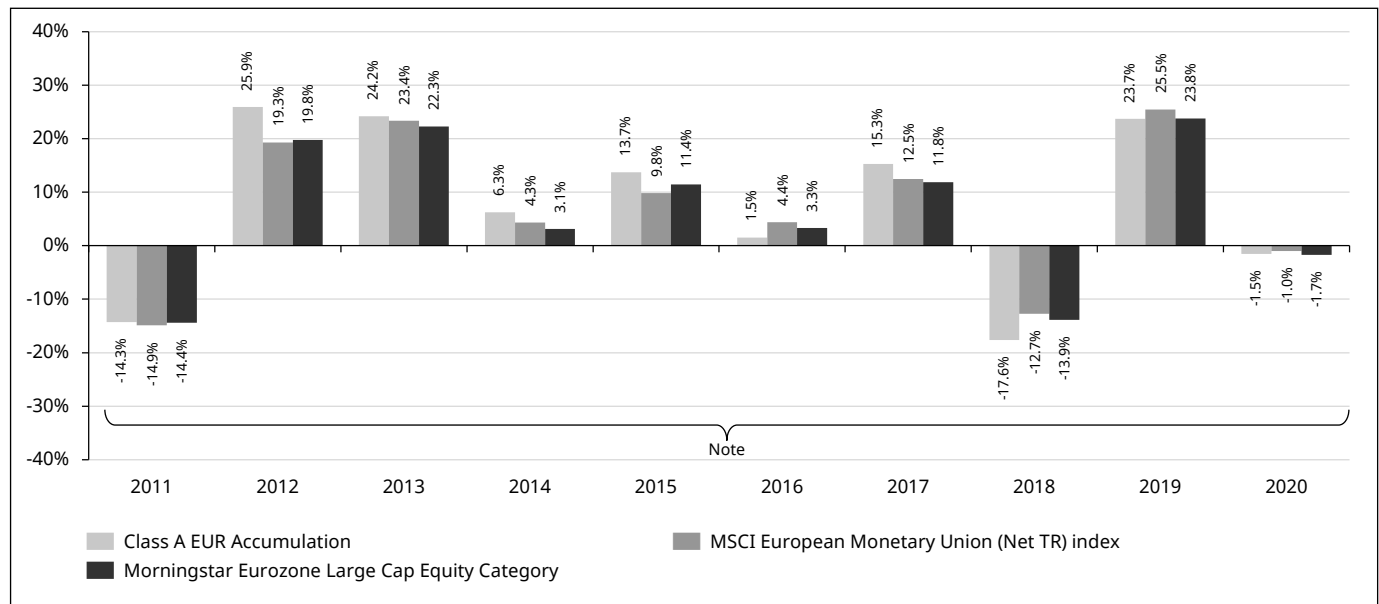

8. Currency risks

Assets and share classes may be denominated in currencies other than EUR and some may not be freely convertible. The fund may be adversely affected by changes in foreign exchange rates and exchange rate controls of the currencies in which securities are held, the reference currencies of the share classes and EUR. This exposes all share classes of the fund to exchange rate fluctuations and currency risk. It may not be practicable or possible to hedge against such foreign exchange/currency risk exposure.

9. RMB Currency Risk and RMB share classes related risk

- RMB is currently not freely convertible and is subject to foreign exchange control policies and restrictions.
- There can be no assurance that RMB will not be subject to depreciation. Any depreciation of RMB could adversely affect the value of investor's investment in share classes denominated in RMB.
- Share classes denominated in RMB will be valued with reference to offshore RMB ("CNH") rather than onshore RMB ("CNY"). While CNH and CNY represent the same currency, they are traded at different rates. Any divergence between CNH and CNY may adversely impact investors.
- Non-RMB based investors in share classes denominated in RMB may have to convert HK dollar or other currency(ies) into RMB when investing in share classes denominated in RMB and subsequently convert the RMB redemption proceeds and/or dividend payment (if any) back to HK dollar or such other currency(ies). Investors will incur currency conversion costs and you may suffer losses depending on the exchange rate movements of RMB relative to HK dollar or such other currencies.
- Under exceptional circumstances, payment of redemptions and/or dividend payment in RMB may be delayed due to the exchange controls and restrictions applicable to RMB.
